Title 7—Agriculture

CHAPTER I—AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE (STANDARDS, INSPECTIONS, MARKETING PRACTICES),¹ DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

PART 26—GRAIN STANDARDS

Supervision Fees

AGENCY: Federal Grain Inspection Service (FGIS), USDA.

ACTION: Final rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This action revokes the regulations governing the payment of supervision fees to the FGIS by delegated and designated agencies. The regulations were made obsolete by recently enacted legislation.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This rulemaking is effective on October 11, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

David R. Gallart (Program Operations), USDA, FGIS, 14th and Independence Avenue SW., South Agriculture Building, Room 1628, Washington, D.C. 20250 (202-447-9164).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The U.S. Grain Standards Act of 1976 (Pub. L. 94-582), when enacted, required the payment of supervision fees by delegated and designated agencies. The fees were for use in financing the FGIS cost of supervising the inspection and weighing activities performed by the agencies. The regulations (7 CFR Part 26) implementing the supervision fee requirements generally became effective February 1, 1977 (42 FR 1019-1022).

In May 1977, supplemental funds were appropriated by the Congress for use in financing the FGIS cost of supervising the inspection and weighing activities performed by delegated and designated agencies during fiscal year 1977. In appropriating the funds, the Congress directed the FGIS to forego the charging or collection of fees from the agencies for supervision costs for the entire fiscal year 1977. In September 1977, the Act was amended to delete the supervision fee requirements and to authorize the appropriation of funds for use in financing the FGIS cost of supervising the inspection and weighing activities performed by delegated and designated agencies.

As a result of the appropriation of the supplemental funds by the Congress for fiscal year 1977, and the deletion by the Congress of the supervision fee requirements, the Part 26 regulations with respect to the payment of supervision fees by delegated and designated agencies were made obsolete and no longer applicable. Therefore, good cause is found for making the following amendments of the Part 26 regulations effective on October 11, 1977.

RULEMAKING

Pursuant to the authority in section 16 of the United States Grain Standards Act (7 U.S.C. 87e, as amended by Pub. L. 94-582 (90 Stat. 2884)), the following Part 26 regulations (7 CFR Part 26) are hereby revoked:

1. Section 26.71(b) in its entirety.
2. Section 26.73(d)(3) in its entirety.
3. The following sentence in § 26.73(e): "Bills for fees assessed to delegated State agencies, designated official agencies, and other agencies or persons under § 26.71(b), will be issued as provided in § 26.71(b)(5)."
4. The following parenthetical phrase in § 26.73(f): "(except those under paragraph (d)(3))."
5. The following wording in § 26.73(1): "or the fee assessed against any delegated State agency or any designated official agency or other agency or person under § 26.71(b)."

Dated: September 30, 1977.

Administrator.

CHAPTER IX—AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE (MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND ORDERS; FRUITS, VEGETABLES, NUTS), DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[Valencia Orange Reg. 575, Amdt 1]

PART 908—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

Limitation of Handling

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Amendment to Final Rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment increases the quantity of California-Arizona Valencia oranges that may be shipped to fresh market during the weekly regulation period September 30 to October 6, 1977. The amendment recognizes that demand for Valencia oranges has improved, since the regulation was issued. This action will increase the supply of oranges available to consumers.

DATES: Weekly regulation period September 30–October 6, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250 (202-447-3545).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Findings. (1) Pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and Order No. 908, as amended (7 CFR Part 908), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674), and upon the basis of recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the marketing agreement and order, and other available information, it is found that the limitation of handling of Valencia oranges as provided in this amendment will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) Demand in the Valencia orange markets has improved since the regulation was issued. Amendment of the regulation is necessary to permit orange handlers to ship a larger quantity of Valencia oranges to market to supply the increased demand. The amendment will increase the quantity permitted to be shipped, in the interest of producers and consumers.

(3) It is further found that it is impracticable and is contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rulemaking procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553), because the time intervening between the date when information became available upon which this amendment is based and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and this amendment relieves restrictions on the handling of Valencia oranges.

(a) Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (a)(1)(i), and (ii) of § 908.875 Valencia Orange Regulation 575 (42 FR 51603) are hereby amended to read as follows:

PART 910—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

Expenses and Rate of Assessment

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This regulation authorizes expenses and a rate of assessment for the 1977-78 fiscal period, to be collected from handlers to support activities of the Lemon Administrative Committee which locally administers the Federal marketing order covering lemons grown in California and Arizona.

EFFECTIVE DATES: August 1, 1977, through July 31, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, 202-447-3545.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On September 9, 1977, notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 45334) inviting written comments not later than September 24, 1977, on proposed expenses and rate of assessment, under Marketing Order No. 910, as amended (7 CFR Part 910), regulating the handling of lemons grown in California and Arizona. None was received. This program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674).

After consideration of all relevant matter presented, including the proposals in the notice, it is found that:

§ 910.215 Expenses and rate of assessment.

(a) Expenses that are reasonable and likely to be incurred by the Lemon Administrative Committee during the period August 1, 1977, through July 31, 1978, will amount to $396,000.

(b) The rate of assessment for said period payable by each handler in accordance with § 910.41 is fixed at $0.033 per carton of lemons.

PART 989—RAISINS PRODUCED FROM GRAPES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

Addition of Australia to the List of Countries To Which Reserve Raisins May Be Exported

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule makes Australia eligible for sales of reserve raisins under the Federal marketing order for California raisins. This would provide raisin handlers with another available export outlet for reserve raisins, additional flexibility in selling such raisins overseas, and could facilitate exports of California raisins. The rule was recommended by the Raisin Administrative Committee.

EFFECTIVE DATE: November 14, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, telephone 202-447-3545.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The September 15, 1977, issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER contained a notice of proposed rulemaking to revise the list of countries to which raisin handlers may sell reserve raisins to permit sales to Australia (42 FR 46320). This list is contained in § 989.221 of Subpart—Supplementary Regulations (7 CFR 989.201-989.231). The Subpart is operative pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 989, as amended (7 CFR Part 989; 42 FR 37200), regulating the handling of raisins produced from grapes grown in California (hereinafter referred to collectively as the "order"). The order is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674).

The notice afforded interested persons an opportunity to submit written data, views, or arguments on the proposal. None were received.

Currently, all countries outside of the Western Hemisphere except Australia are eligible outlets for reserve raisins. The Western Hemisphere is defined to exclude Greenland. Rather than preparing a list containing hundreds of countries, the countries are specified by hemisphere. Section 989.67(c) of the order requires the Committee to review the list of countries annually and recommend changes as conditions warrant. It recommended that Australia be made eligible for sales of reserve raisins to provide raisin handlers another available export outlet for reserve raisins, additional flexibility in selling such raisins overseas, and to facilitate exports of California raisins.

After consideration of all relevant matter presented, including that in the notice, the recommendation of the Committee, and other available information, it is found that to revise the list of countries to which sales of reserve raisins may be made as hereinafter set forth, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

§ 989.221 Countries to which sale in export to reserve raisins may be made by handlers.

The countries to which sale in export of reserve raisins may be made by handlers shall be all of those countries outside of the Western Hemisphere. For purposes of this section "Western Hemisphere" means the area east of the international dateline and west of 30 degrees W. longitude but excluding all of Greenland. All of the countries covered by this section to which sale in export of reserve raisins may be made shall be deemed listed in this section for the purposes of § 989.67(c).

Dated: October 5, 1977.

Rolls Royce Dart Engines

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new airworthiness directive (AD) which requires inspections for cracking and replacement, if necessary, of flame tube bridge suspensions on Rolls Royce Dart Engines. The amendment was prompted by reports of serious engine failures due to overheating and failure of the high pressure turbine disc caused by loss of flame tube suspension and subsequent burner stem failure.

DATES: Effective, November 11, 1977. Compliance schedule, as prescribed in the body of the AD.

ADDRESSES: The applicable service bulletin may be obtained from Rolls Royce, Ltd., P.O. Box 31, Derby DE 2 8BJ, England.

D. C. Jacobsen, Chief, Aircraft Certification Staff, AEU-100, Europe, Africa, and Middle East Region, Federal Aviation Administration, c/o American Embassy, Brussels, Belgium, Tel. 513.38.30.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A notice proposing to amend Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations to require inspections for cracking and replacement, if necessary, of flame tube bridge suspensions on Rolls Royce Dart Engines was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER at 42 FR 39398 on August 4, 1977. The proposal was prompted by reports of serious engine failures due to overheating and failure of the high pressure turbine disc caused by loss of flame tube suspension and subsequent burner stem failure.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the amendment. No objections were received. Accordingly, the proposal is adopted without change.

The principal authors of this document are R. E. Follensbee, Western Region, R. F. Nugent and F. H. Kelley, Flight Standards Service, and R. Lane, Office of the Chief Counsel.

ADOPTION OF AMENDMENT

Accordingly, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

ROLLS ROYCE AERO, LTD. Applies to Dart Engines Series 527, 528, 529, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 550, 542-4, 542-10, and 543-10 that have modified 1425 incorporated and are installed on, but not necessarily limited to, Nihon YS-11, Convair 600 and 640, Handley Page Herald, Fokker F27, Fairchild F27, Grumman Gulfstream I, and Hawker Siddeley 748 series aircraft.

Compliance is required as indicated.

To prevent overheating and failure of high pressure turbine discs, accomplish the following:

(a) Within the next 500 hours engine time in service after the effective date of this AD and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 1500 hours engine time in service, inspect the flame tube bridge pieces for cracking of the support legs in accordance with the instructions contained in paragraph 4.C of Rolls

(b) If, during an inspection required by this AD, flame tube bridge piece cracking is detected, replace the affected part with a serviceable part before further flight (except that the aircraft may be flown in accordance with FAR 21.197 and 21.199 to a base where the work can be performed), and continue to inspect in accordance with either paragraphs (c) or (d) of this AD, as applicable.

(c) If, during an inspection required by paragraph (a) of this AD, flame tube bridge piece leg cracking is found, establish a repetitive inspection interval for all engines in the fleet in accordance with paragraph 4.A.(3)(b) of the Bulletin or an FAA-approved equivalent and continue to inspect the fleet in accordance with paragraph (a) of this AD within the fleet repetitive inspection interval established under this paragraph.

(d) If, during a repetitive inspection conducted in accordance with this paragraph or paragraph (c) of this AD, a cracked bridge piece leg of any flame tube in the fleet is found, establish a further reduced repetitive inspection interval for all engines in the fleet in accordance with paragraph 4.B.(3) of the Bulletin or an FAA-approved equivalent and continue to inspect the fleet in accordance with paragraph (a) of this AD within the fleet repetitive inspection interval established under this paragraph.

This amendment becomes effective November 11, 1977.

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

AVCO Lycoming Engines

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final Rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new airworthiness directive (AD) applicable to AVCO Lycoming O-320-H type engines. It requires an inspection and replacement where necessary of rocker arms, tappets and cam lobes. It also requires the installation of new oversize rocker arm retaining studs. The amendment is needed to preclude engine damage and stoppage.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 12, 1977. Compliance is required within 50 hours of service.

ADDRESSES: AVCO Lycoming Service Bulletins may be obtained from the manufacturer at AVCO Lycoming Division, Williamsport, Pa. 17701. A copy of each service bulletin is contained in the docket at the Office of Regional Counsel, FAA Eastern Region, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

E. Manzi, Propulsion Section, AEA-214, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, Federal Building, J.F.K. International Airport, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430; telephone 212-995-2894.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: There have been reports of engine problems resulting from loose rocker arm retaining studs and spalling of hydraulic tappets on AVCO Lycoming O-320 type aircraft engines. These problems have resulted in engine failures and forced landings. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other aircraft engines of similar type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued which will require an inspection and replacement where necessary of rocker arms, tappets and cam lobes. It also requires the installation of new oversize rocker arm retaining studs. Since a situation exists which requires the expeditious adoption of this rule, notice or public procedure hereon are impractical and good cause exists for making the amendment effective in less than 30 days.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document are E. Manzi, Flight Standards Division, and Thomas C. Halloran, Esq., Office of the Regional Counsel.

It has been determined that the expected impact of the proposed regulation is so minimal that the proposal does not warrant an evaluation.

ADOPTION OF THE AMENDMENT

Accordingly, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, Section 39.13 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) is amended, by adding the following new airworthiness directive as follows:

AVCO Lycoming Applies to O-320-H series engines, Serial Numbers 101-76 thru 2182-76

Compliance required within the next 50 hours in service after the effective date of this AD, unless previously accomplished.

To prevent hazards in flight associated with loose rocker arm retaining nuts and failure of the hydraulic tappets, accomplish the following:

(a) Remove all rocker box covers, rocker arms, fulcrums, spacer washers, and push rods.

(b) Inspect the fulcrum seating surface in the rocker arm for wear steps in excess of .003 inches. Replace all parts found to have such indications.

(c) Remove all rocker arm retaining studs P. N. 31-16 from cylinder head and install new oversize rocker arm retaining studs in accordance with the instruction in paragraph 3 of Lycoming Service Bulletin No. 412, dated July 8, 1977, or FAA-approved equivalent.

(d) On engine Serial Numbers 191-76 thru 1976-76, remove the shroud tube springs, shroud tubes, and hydraulic tappets.

(e) Inspect the face of the tappets and the cam lobes for spalling, chipping, or loss of metal. Replace all parts found to have such indications. (AVCO Lycoming Service Bulletin No. 413 refers to this subject.)

(f) Equivalent methods of compliance may be approved by the Chief, Engineering & Manufacturing Branch, FAA Eastern Region.

(g) Upon submission of substantiating data by an owner or operator through an FAA Maintenance Inspector, the Chief, Engineering & Manufacturing Branch, FAA Eastern Region, may adjust the compliance time specified in this AD.

Effective date: This amendment is effective October 12, 1977.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, and 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423; Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act, 49 U.S.C. 1655(c); and 14 CFR 11.89.)

NOTE.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and OMB Circular A-107.

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES Piper Aircraft

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule (AD) amends AD 77-09-09 applicable to Piper PA-11, PA-12, PA-14, PA-16, PA-18, PA-20, and PA-22 type airplanes. It has been determined that Piper J-3, J-4, and J-5 type airplanes may also have the defective venting system as well as the PA-16 which had been inadvertently omitted. Therefore, the AD is being amended to include additional types.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 12, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Piper Service Bulletins may be acquired from the manufacturer at Piper Aircraft Corp., 820 East Bald Eagle Street, Lock Haven, Pa. 17745. A copy of the service bulletin is contained in the docket in the Office of Regional Counsel, FAA, Eastern Region, Jamaica, N.Y.

F. Covelli, Propulsion Section, AEA-214, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, Federal Building, J.F.K. International Airport, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430, telephone 212-995-2894.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: There had been reports of inadequate fuel flow in certain Piper airplanes which was attributable to faulty venting in the fuel tank cap. AD 77-09-09 was issued to correct that deficiency. In the interim, it has been determined that additional Piper airplanes may be subject to the same problem and thus are being added to the AD. In view of the effect on air safety, notice and public procedure hereon are impractical and good cause exists for making the rule (AD) effective in less than 30 days.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document are F. Covelli, Flight Standards Division, and Thomas C. Halloran, Esq., Office of the Regional Counsel.

It has been determined that the expected impact of the proposed regulation is so minimal that the proposal does not warrant an evaluation.

ADOPTION OF THE AMENDMENT

Accordingly, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, Section 39.13 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) is amended, by amending AD 77-09-09, as follows:

Revise applicability paragraph to read: Piper—Applies to all series J-3, J-4, J-5, PA-11, PA-12, PA-14, PA-16, PA-18, PA-20, and PA-22 type aircraft.

Effective date: This amendment is effective October 12, 1977.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The U.S. Air Force has developed a long term schedule for IFR training flights to be conducted at Greenville International Airport, Greenville, Mississippi, to begin at 0600 hours local time. Therefore, it is necessary to increase the effective hours of the control zone to accommodate the increased volume of IFR operations. Since this alteration is minor in nature, notice and public procedure hereon are not considered necessary.

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, AREA LOW ROUTES, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

PART 75—ESTABLISHMENT OF JET ROUTES AND AREA HIGH ROUTES

Alteration of Colored Federal Airways, Reporting Points and Jet Routes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: These amendments realign three colored Federal Airways and one jet route in the area of the Aleutian Island/Alaskan Peninsula. Also reporting points are designated or rescinded as required because of the route realignments. The U.S. Air Force is decommissioning seven of its air navigation aids upon which those routes are designated. These actions substitute navigation aids which permit the continuation of route structures in the same general area.

PART 73—SPECIAL USE AIRSPACE

Restricted Area Utilization Reports

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment reduces the scope and amount of information that a using agency of a restricted area must include in its annual utilization report. By eliminating the need to compile and report information that is not routinely needed by the FAA for its evaluation, this amendment will reduce the burden on using agencies in complying with the reporting requirement.

DATES: Effective date, December 11, 1977. Initial compliance required for the report covering the period ending September 30, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Director, Air Traffic Service, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

John Watterson, Airspace Regulations Branch, ACT-230, Airspace and Air Traffic Rules Division, Air Traffic Service, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591; telephone 202-426-8525.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The purpose of this amendment to Part 73 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 73) is to reduce the scope and amount of information included in the report of utilization required annually from the using agency of each restricted area designated in that part.

HISTORY

This amendment is based upon a notice of proposed rulemaking (Notice No. 76-2) published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 19, 1976 (41 FR 7516). Interested persons have been afforded the opportunity to participate in the making of this amendment, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

THE RULE

Section 73.19 of Part 73 requires each using agency to report to the FAA once a year, in duplicate, information on the utilization of each restricted area for which it is the using agency. The data required in the annual report assists the FAA in determining whether the type and amount of hazardous activity contained therein justifies the continued designation of the restricted area. The data currently required in the report is detailed and very extensive, and certain items such as geographical locations usually remain the same from year to year. It appeared that certain items of required information could be eliminated from the annual report, including the annual submission of a chart showing all details of firing patterns, bomb runs and impact areas if there is no change of activities, locations or altitudes, detailed data on the hours and altitudes used, type of equipment, and time schedules. All of this information may be obtained by further inquiry if a question arises after examining the annual report required under paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 73.19, as amended below. Paragraph (c) has been added to clarify the proposed requirement for supplementary reports.

Additionally, under § 73.19(a) a four-month period is allowed for preparation of the report between the end of the period covered by the report and the final date of receipt of the report in Washington, D.C., by the Director, Air Traffic Service. Considering the additional time needed for sending the report back to the region for review and recommendation, the data may be out of date when a final judgment is made whether to continue or alter the designation. Accordingly, the notice proposed that one copy of the report be submitted to the appropriate regional office, and the other copy sent to the Director, Air Traffic Service to eliminate the time required to send a copy of the report to the region, and back to the Director in Washington, D.C., with comments or recommendations. Six comments were received in response to the notice, and all supported adoption of the amendment, as proposed.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document are John Watterson, Air Traffic Service, and Richard W. Danforth, Office of the Chief Counsel.

ADOPTION OF THE AMENDMENT

Accordingly, Subpart B of Part 73 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 73) is amended, effective December 11, 1977 to read as follows:

Subpart B—Restricted Areas

§ 73.19 Reports by using agency.

(a) Each using agency shall prepare a report on the use of each restricted area assigned thereto during any part of the preceding 12-month period ended September 30, and transmit it by the following January 31 of each year to the Chief, Air Traffic Division in the regional office of the Federal Aviation Administration having jurisdiction over the area in which the restricted area is located, with a copy to the Director, Air Traffic Service, Federal Aviation Administration, Washington, D.C. 20591.

(b) In the report under this section the using agency shall:

(1) State the name and number of the restricted area as published in this part, and the period covered by the report.

(2) State the activities (including average daily number of operations if appropriate) conducted in the area, and any other pertinent information concerning current and future electronic monitoring devices.

(3) State the number of hours daily, the days of the week, and the number of weeks during the year that the area was used.

(4) For restricted areas having a joint-use designation, also state the number of hours daily, the days of the week, and the number of weeks during the year that the restricted area was released to the controlling agency for public use.

(5) State the mean sea level altitudes or flight levels (whichever is appropriate) used in aircraft operations and the maximum and average ordinate of surface firing (expressed in feet, mean sea level altitude) used on a daily, weekly, and yearly basis.

(6) Include a chart of the area (of optional scale and design) depicting, if used, aircraft operating areas, flight patterns, ordnance delivery areas, surface firing points, and target, fan, and impact areas. After once submitting an appropriate chart, subsequent annual charts are not required unless there is a change in the area, activity or altitude (or flight levels) used, which might alter the depiction of the activities originally reported. If no change is to be submitted, a statement indicating "no change" shall be included in the report.

(7) Include any other information not otherwise required under this part which is considered pertinent to activities carried on in the restricted area.

(c) If it is determined that the information submitted under paragraph (b) of this section is not sufficient to evaluate the nature and extent of the use of a restricted area, the FAA may request the using agency to submit supplementary reports. Within 60 days after receiving a request for additional information, the using agency shall submit such information as the Director of the Air Traffic Service considers appropriate. Supplementary reports must be sent to the FAA officials designated in paragraph (a) of this section.

(Secs. 307 and 313(a), Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. §§ 1348 and 1354(a)); and sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).)

NOTE.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document does not contain a major action requiring the preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and OMB Circular A-107.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on October 3, 1977.

Administrator.

CHAPTER II—CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

SUBCHAPTER E—ORGANIZATION REGULATIONS

[Reg. OR-122, Amdt. 64]

PART 385—DELEGATIONS AND REVIEW OF ACTION UNDER DELEGATION; NON-HEARING MATTERS

Delegation of Authority to the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights, To Act Upon Certain Interaffiliate Transactions Filed With the Board AGENCY: Civil Aeronautics Board.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule delegates to the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights, authority to act upon specified transaction agreements filed with the Board pursuant to the Air Carrier Reorganization Investigation. The Board has initiated this rule since acting on routine agreements places an undue administrative burden on the Board and its staff.

DATES: Effective: September 30, 1977. Adopted: September 30, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Simon J. Eilenberg, Rules Division, Office of the General Counsel, Civil Aeronautics Board, 1825 Connecticut Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20428, (202-673-5442).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In the Air Carrier Reorganization Investigation (ACRI), the Board adopted a Regulatory Plan in order to monitor specified intercompany transactions with, or affecting, the air carrier, among affiliates of each of three parent air carrier companies, Brantiff Airways, Inc., The Flying Tiger Line Inc., and United Air Lines, Inc. The Regulatory Plan stated that these carriers shall not engage in certain intercompany transactions except in accordance with the Transaction Agreement on file with the Board, which has not been disapproved in whole, or in part, by the Board. The Transaction Agreement itself may be amended by the carrier provided the amendment is filed with the Board thirty days prior to its effective date, and is not disapproved or deferred within that thirty-day period.

In accordance with the ACRI decision, the three air carriers have filed approximately 255 transaction agreements between March 13, 1976, and March 1, 1977, all of which have been submitted for our direct consideration. A large majority of the agreements concerned routine, uncomplicated intercompany arrangements which have little or no substantive impact on the air carrier. Examples of such routine agreements included Joint Use of Employee Time, Joint Use of Assets and Facilities, and Leases of Property and Equipment.

The volume of this type of transaction agreement, including revisions and renewals, when processed for our direct attention, places an unnecessary administrative burden on the Board staff, as well as on the Board itself. Much of this burden could be relieved by delegating authority to the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights, to act on these routine agreements, and to submit to the Board only those agreements of a substantial nature which warrant our direct consideration. Examples of agreements which would be submitted for our attention include those involving Tax Allocations, Loans and Advances, and Corporate Reorganizations and Acquisitions. This delegation would both alleviate the administrative problem as well as maintain the overview objective of the ACRI decision.

² See, ACRI, supra, Appendix A, Regulatory Plan.

Since this amendment is of an administrative nature, affecting a rule of agency organization and procedure, the Board finds that notice and public procedures are unnecessary, and that the rule may become effective immediately.

Accordingly, the Board hereby amends Part 385 of its Organization Regulations (14 CFR Part 385) as follows:

Amend § 385.13 by adding a new paragraph, "(kk)", to read as follows:

§ 385.13 Delegation to the Director, Bureau of Operating Rights.

(kk) With respect to interaffiliate transactions with or affecting the air carrier, and revisions, refilings, renewals or amendments, which have been filed pursuant to a Board order permitting such intercompany transactions unless after such filing, an order is issued disapproving or deferring action in whole or in part with respect to such filing, within a period of thirty days:

(1) By inaction permit such intercompany transaction to become effective thirty days after such filing;

(2) Issue orders disapproving in whole or in part such intercompany transaction;

(3) Issue orders deferring in whole or in part such intercompany transaction; and

(4) For good cause shown, waive the thirty-day effectiveness date of such interaffiliate transaction: Provided, however, That such waiver does not extend beyond the filing date of the intercompany transaction: And provided, further, That this authority shall not extend to interaffiliate transactions which involve dividends, loans and advances, tax allocations, and corporate reorganizations or acquisitions.

(Sec. 204(a), Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, 72 Stat. 743; (49 U.S.C. 1324). Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1961, 75 Stat. 837, 26 FR 5989; (49 U.S.C. 1324 (note)).)

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Secretary.

Title 19—Customs Duties

CHAPTER I—UNITED STATES CUSTOMS SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

PART 159—LIQUIDATION OF DUTIES

Chains and Parts Thereof, of Cast Iron or Steel From Italy

AGENCY: U.S. Customs Service, Treasury Department.

ACTION: Imposition of Countervailing Duties and Suspension of Liquidation.

SUMMARY: This notice is to inform the public that it has been determined that the Government of Italy has given benefits which constitute bounties or grants within the meaning of the Countervailing Duty Law upon the manufacture, production or exportation of chains and parts thereof, of cast iron, iron or steel. Consequently, a countervailing duty in the amount of these benefits will be set in addition to duties normally due on shipments of this merchandise. Information recently supplied by the principal Italian exporter of this product to the U.S. indicates that they may not receive bounty or grant. Pending verification of this situation, the liquidation of all entries of chains and parts thereof covered by this order shall be suspended.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 11, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Donald W. Eiss, Economist, U.S. Treasury Department, Office of Tariff Affairs, 15th Street and Pennsylvania Ave. NW., Washington, D.C. 20220 (202-566-8256).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

On April 13, 1977, a "Preliminary Countervailing Duty Determination" was published in the Federal Register (42 FR 19410). The notice stated that it preliminarily had been determined that benefits conferred by the Government of Italy upon the manufacture, production or exportation of chains and parts thereof, of cast iron, iron or steel, including terminal and connecting links, hooks, rollers, pivots and plates, constitute the payment of a bounty or grant within the meaning of section 303 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1303) referred to in this notice as "the Act".

These chains and parts are provided for in the Tariff Schedules of the United States under item numbers 652.24, 652.27, 652.30, 652.33, and 652.35.

The notice stated that these benefits have been conferred by reason of certain tax rebates under Italian Law 639.

The program involves the rebate calculated to cover customs duties, indirect taxes and a number of stamp taxes assessed on the manufacture of certain steel products, including the subject chain.

Certain portions of the Italian Law 639 rebates, which are the subject of this investigation, have been determined in previous proceedings under the Act to constitute bounties or grants within the meaning of the Act.

The preliminary notice provided interested parties 30 days from the date of publication to submit relevant data, views, or arguments, in writing, with respect to the preliminary determination.

After consideration of all information received, and on the basis of information received since the preliminary determination, it is hereby determined that bounties or grants are being paid or bestowed, directly or indirectly, on exports of certain chains and parts thereof from Italy within the meaning of section 303 of the Act.

However the principal exporter of the subject merchandise to the U.S. has informed the Treasury that although they receive rebates under Law 639, they pay customs duties and indirect taxes which are not rebated upon export in amounts greater than the 639 rebate and which offset that rebate. Further investigation will be required to investigate the validity of this manufacturer's submission.

Accordingly, notice is hereby given that chains and parts thereof, of cast iron, iron or steel, including terminal and connecting links, hooks, rollers, pivots and plates, covered under TSUS numbers 652.24, 652.27, 652.30, 652.33, 652.35, which are imported directly or indirectly from Italy, if entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after October 11, 1977, will be subject to payment of countervailing duties equal to the net amount of any bounty or grant determined or estimated to have been paid or bestowed.

In accordance with section 303 of the Act, until further notice the net amount of such bounties or grants has been estimated and declared to be 15 lire per kilo.

Effective on October 11, 1977, and until further notice, upon the entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption of such dutiable chains and parts thereof, covered under TSUS numbers 652.24, 652.27, 652.30, 652.33, 652.35, imported directly or indirectly from Italy, which benefit from these bounties or grants, there shall be collected, in addition to any other duties estimated or determined to be due, countervailing duties in the amount ascertained in accordance with the above declaration.

The liquidation of all entries for consumption or withdrawals from warehouse for consumption of such dutiable chain of iron or steel and parts thereof imported directly or indirectly from Italy which benefit from these bounties or grants and are subject to the order shall be suspended pending further declaration of the net amount of the bounties or grants paid. The estimated countervailing duty shall be required at the time of entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption.

Any merchandise subject to the terms of this order shall be deemed to have benefited from a bounty or grant if such bounty or grant has been or will be credited or bestowed, directly or indirectly, upon the manufacture, production or exportation of such chains or parts thereof from Italy.

The table in § 159.47(f) of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR 159.47(f)), is amended by inserting after the last entry from Italy the words "Certain chains and parts thereof" in the column this Treasury Decision in the column headed "Commodity," the number of this Treasury Decision in the column headed "Treasury Decision," and the words "Bounty declared—Rate" in the column headed "Action."

Pursuant to Reorganization Plan No. 26 of 1950 and Treasury Department Order 190 Revision 14, July 1, 1977, the provisions of Treasury Department Order No. 165, Revised November 2, 1954 and § 159.47(d) of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR 159.47(d)), insofar as they pertain to the issuance of a countervailing duty order by the Commissioner of Customs, are hereby waived.

[Docket No. 77N-0263]

PART 330—OVER-THE-COUNTER (OTC) HUMAN DRUGS WHICH ARE GENERALLY RECOGNIZED AS SAFE AND EFFECTIVE AND NOT MISBRANDED

Amendment of Comment Period

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule amends the regulations to extend the time within which interested persons may submit comments on proposed monographs for OTC drug products. Because of the length of most such documents, the present provision for a 60-day comment period is usually not adequate; therefore, the agency is providing for a 90-day comment period.

DATES: Effective November 10, 1977; comments on or before November 10, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

William E. Gilbertson, Bureau of Drugs (HFD-510), Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20857 (301-443-4960).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The OTC drug review regulations in § 330.10(a)(6) (21 CFR 330.10(a)(6)) provide that, after publication of a proposed monograph, interested persons have 60 days within which to file written comments. Because of the voluminous and detailed data appearing in these reports, however, the 60-day comment period has proven to be an unreasonably short time for many persons. Accordingly, the Commissioner of Food and Drugs is extending the comment period on such documents to 90 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Commissioner finds for good cause that notice and public procedure is unnecessary because the modification effected by this rule is minor and noncontroversial, and public comment on it is therefore unlikely to be received. Interested persons may, on or before the effective date, file with the Hearing Clerk, Food and Drug Administration, Room 4-65, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20857, four copies of written comments, identified with the docket number found in brackets in the heading of this document. SUBCHAPTER E—ANIMAL DRUGS, FEEDS, AND RELATED PRODUCTS

PART 546—TETRACYCLINE ANTIBIOTIC DRUGS FOR ANIMAL USE

Tetracycline Phosphate Complex and Sodium Novobiocin Capsules

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The animal drug regulations are amended to reflect approval of a supplemental new animal drug application filed by the Upjohn Co., providing revised labeling for a combination new drug used to treat certain upper respiratory tract infections in dogs.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 11, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Robert A. Baldwin, Bureau of Veterinary Medicine (HFV-114), Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20857 (301-443-3420).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In accordance with section 512(i) of the act (21 U.S.C. 360b(i)), Part 546 is amended to reflect approval of a supplemental new animal drug application (NADA 65-099V) filed by the Upjohn Co., Kalamazoo, Mich. 49001.

The original application, approved prior to the Animal Drug Amendments of 1968, was the subject of a National Academy of Science/National Research Council Drug Efficacy Review (NAS/NRC DESI 107NV), published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of August 12, 1970 (35 FR 12791). The Academy evaluated this product as probably not effective for treating bacterial infections in dogs and cats in that each disease claim was not properly qualified as to a specific pathogen, that substantial evidence was not presented to establish that each active ingredient contributes to the total effect, and that the recommended dosage regimen was not properly supported by substantial evidence of safety and efficacy. The firm responded by presenting evidence based upon adequate and well-controlled studies to support the revised conditions of use that were deemed to be effective by the Academy and the Food and Drug Administration.

In accordance with the freedom of information regulations and § 514.11(e)(2) (ii) of the animal drug regulations (21 CFR 514.11(e)(2)(ii)), a summary of the safety and effectiveness data and information submitted to support approval of this application is released publicly. The summary is available for public examination at the office of the Hearing Clerk (HFC-20), Rm. 4-65, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20857, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal Holidays.

Therefore, under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 512 (i) and (n), 82 Stat. 347 (21 U.S.C. 360b (i) and (n))) and under authority delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs (21 CFR 5.1), Part 546 is amended by adding new § 546.180g to read as follows:

§ 546.180g Tetracycline phosphate complex and sodium novobiocin capsules.

(a) Requirements for certification.—(1) Standards of identity, strength, quality, and purity. The product is a gelatin capsule containing tetracycline phosphate complex and sodium novobiocin with or without one or more suitable and harmless lubricants and fillers. Each capsule contains the equivalent activity of 60 milligrams of tetracycline hydrochloride and 60 milligrams of novobiocin. Its potency is satisfactory if it is not less than 90 percent and not more than 120 percent of the labeled amount of tetracycline hydrochloride and novobiocin. Its loss on drying is not more than 9.0 percent. The tetracycline phosphate complex used conforms to the standards prescribed by § 446.82(a)(1) of this chapter. The sodium novobiocin used conforms to the standards prescribed by § 455.51(a) of this chapter.

(2) Labeling. It shall be labeled in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section and § 510.55 of this chapter.

(3) Requests for certification; samples. In addition to complying with the requirements of § 514.50 of this chapter, each such request shall contain:

(i) Results of tests and assays on: (a) The tetracycline phosphate complex used in making the batch for potency, safety, moisture, pH, absorptivity, crystallinity, and identity.

(b) The sodium novobiocin used in making the batch for potency, safety, loss on drying, pH, residue on ignition, specific rotation, crystallinity, and identity.

(c) The batch for tetracycline hydrochloride content, novobiocin content, and loss on drying.

(ii) Samples required: (a) The tetracycline phosphate complex and sodium novobiocin used in making the batch: 10 packages each, each containing approximately 500 milligrams.

(b) The batch: A minimum of 80 capsules.

(b) Tests and methods of assay.—(1) Potency.—(i) Tetracycline content. Proceed as directed in § 436.106 of this chapter, except use test organism J in lieu of organism A and prepare the sample as follows: Place a representative number of capsules in a high-speed glass blender jar with sufficient 0.1 N hydrochloric acid to give a stock solution of convenient concentration. Blend 3 to 5 minutes. Further dilute an aliquot of stock solution with sterile distilled water to the reference concentration of 0.24 microgram of tetracycline hydrochloride per milliliter (estimated).

(ii) Novobiocin content. Proceed as directed in § 436.105 of this chapter, preparing the sample for assay as follows: Place a representative number of capsules in a high-speed blender jar containing 1.0 milliliter of polysorbate 80 and sufficient 0.1 M potassium phosphate buffer, pH 8.0 (solution 3), to obtain a stock solution of convenient concentration. Blend 3 to 5 minutes. Further dilute an aliquot of the stock solution with 10 percent potassium phosphate buffer, pH 6.0 (solution 6), to the reference concentration of 0.5 microgram of novobiocin per milliliter (estimated).

(2) Loss on drying. Proceed as directed in § 436.200(b) of this chapter.

(c) Conditions of marketing.—(1) Specifications. Meets the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) Sponsor. No. 000009 in § 510.600(c) of this chapter.

(3) Special considerations. The quantities of antibiotics refer to the activity of the antibiotic master standards.

(4) Conditions of use. It is used orally in dogs as follows:

(i) Amount. 10 milligrams of each per pound of body weight (1 capsule for each 6 pounds) every 12 hours.

(ii) Indications for use. It is used in treatment of acute or chronic canine respiratory infections such as tonsillitis, bronchitis, and tracheobronchitis when caused by pathogens susceptible to tetracycline and/or novobiocin, such as Staphylococcus spp. and Escherichia coli.

(iii) Limitations. Treatment should be continued for at least 48 hours after the temperature has returned to normal and all evidence of infection has disappeared. As with all antibiotics, appropriate in vitro culturing and susceptibility tests of samples taken before treatment should be conducted. Federal law restricts this drug to use by or on the order of a licensed veterinarian.

Effective date, October 11, 1977.

(Sec. 512 (i) and (n), 82 Stat. 347 (21 U.S.C. 360b (i), (n))).

Title 29—Labor

Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary of Labor

PART 5—LABOR STANDARDS PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO CONTRACTS COVERING FEDERALLY FINANCED AND ASSISTED CONSTRUCTION (ALSO LABOR STANDARDS PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO NONCONSTRUCTION CONTRACTS SUBJECT TO THE CONTRACT WORK HOURS AND SAFETY STANDARDS ACT)

AGENCY: Department of Labor.

ACTION: Final procedural rule.

SUMMARY: With the change in the fiscal year to October 1 through September 30, the periods covered by the semiannual enforcement reports are changed to October 1 through March 31 and April 1 through September 30. The reported material, with this change, will then continue to be submitted on a fiscal year basis, increasing its utility.

EFFECTIVE DATES: October 7, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Dorothy Come, Director, Division of Government Contract Regulations, Wage and Hour Division, Room S-3518, 200 Constitution Avenue NW.,

Washington, D.C. 20210, telephone 202-523-7541.

SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENT: Section 5.7(b) of Part 5 requires submission of semiannual reports by agencies concerning their enforcement activities. These reports covered July 1 through December 31 and January 1 through June 30, thus coinciding with the Federal fiscal year, i.e., July 1 through June 30. With the change of the fiscal year to October 1 to September 30, it was advantageous to change the semiannual reports to coincide with the new fiscal year. All Government Contracting Agencies of the Federal Government and the District of Columbia were notified by DB Memorandum No. 126 dated October 20, 1976, of the above change, and agencies were requested to submit a short report covering July 1 through September 30, 1976, in order that reports could be received without interruption.

The present document changes § 5.7 (b) of Part 5 so that it conforms to the DB Memorandum No. 126 of October 20, 1976.

As agencies have been complying with DB Memorandum No. 126, this does not result in a change in procedure, but conforms Part 5 to current practice.

This document was prepared under the direction and control of Dorothy Come, Director, Division of Government Contract Regulations, Wage and Hour Division, Room S-3518, 200 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20210, telephone 202-523-7541.

Part 5 is amended as set forth below. Section 5.7 is amended as follows:

§ 5.7 Reports to the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Semi-annual enforcement reports. To assist the Secretary in fulfilling his responsibilities under Reorganization Plan No. 14 of 1950, Federal agencies shall furnish to the Secretary by April 30 and October 31 of each calendar year semi-annual reports on compliance with and enforcement of the labor standards provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act and its related acts covering the periods of October 1 through March 31 and April 1 through September 30, respectively. Such reports shall be prepared in the manner prescribed in circular memoranda of the Secretary.

Signed at Washington, D.C., on this 30th day of September, 1977.

Administrator,
Wage and Hour Division.

Title 31—Money and Finance: Treasury

CHAPTER II—FISCAL SERVICE,

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

PART 214—DEPOSITARIES FOR FEDERAL TAXES

Federal Reserve Banks as Federal Tax Depositaries

AGENCY: Fiscal Service, Department of the Treasury.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule prescribes amendments affecting the form of payment of a Federal tax deposit being made at a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch. These amendments are intended to increase the efficiency of that segment of the Federal Tax Deposit System. These amendments do not affect regulations governing the deposit of Federal taxes at authorized commercial bank depositaries.

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. John Kilcoyne, Assistant Fiscal Assistant Secretary (Banking), Office of the Secretary, U.S. Treasury Department, Washington, D.C. 20220 (202-566-2553).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On July 29, 1977, the Fiscal Service published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 38602) for comment the proposed amendments to 31 CFR Part 214. A number of telephone inquiries were received in response to the proposal requesting clarification as to whether the proposed amendments affect deposits of Federal taxes made at authorized commercial bank depositaries. The proposed amendments affect only the regulations governing the deposit of Federal taxes at Federal Reserve Banks and Branches, and accordingly, do not affect deposits of Federal taxes at authorized commercial banks.

In addition, two written replies were received. One reply provided comments which are not relevant to the proposal and suggested regulatory changes concerning tax due dates which are not within the authority of the Fiscal Service. That reply will be forwarded to the appropriate office for further consideration. The second response enumerated a number of points, several of which are not relevant to the changes in the rules. Three of the points are relevant and warrant comment. The three comments and the Fiscal Service responses are as follows:

1. Comment. The proposed amendments would, in effect, penalize a tax depositor for electing to deposit his tax payment with a Federal Reserve Bank. Any rule finally adopted should not discriminate against such use in favor of the primary use of commercial banks. The treatment accorded each should be equal.

Response. The Fiscal Service does not agree that it would be inappropriate to treat the two segments of the system differently if such treatment was necessary to ensure the system accomplishes its overall purposes. The system accomplishes two major purposes: It permits the Federal Government to insulate the nation's monetary system from the impact of Treasury's highly irregular daily cash flows, and it provides a simple and efficient collection system for approximately 70 percent of the Federal Government's gross annual revenues. The system, by design, accomplishes the above-mentioned purposes most efficiently and effectively when tax depositors make their tax deposits, payable under the system, with authorized commercial banks depositaries as compared to Federal Reserve Banks and Branches. The preferred method of deposit is with the tax depositor's commercial bank, if that bank is an authorized depositary.

It should be noted, however, that the amended rules place a tax depositor making a tax deposit at a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch on an almost equivalent basis with a tax depositor making a tax deposit at an authorized commercial bank depositary. In our opinion, the amended rules do not have an unfavorable impact on a tax depositor making a deposit at a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch as compared to a tax depositor making a deposit at an authorized commercial bank depositary.

2. Comment. The proposed rulemaking would mitigate against the use of Federal Reserve Banks or Branches by creating such uncertainties concerning the timeliness of deposits that a taxpayer who elected such use would be exposed to certain penalties as a direct result of circumstances of mailing and/or collection over which he has little or no control.

Response. The Fiscal Service does not agree with this comment. Currently regulations require that a tax deposit made at a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch be dated with the date on which the tax deposit is received by the Bank or Branch. This date serves as the standard for determining the timeliness of the tax payment. Under the amended rules, if a tax deposit, in the correct form, is mailed by the taxpayer and is received and dated by the Federal Reserve Bank or Branch after the prescribed due date, the provisions of 26 U.S.C. 7502 apply. These provisions provide that such a tax deposit is considered timely if mailed by the tax depositor on or before the second day before the prescribed due date. (The provisions of 26 U.S.C. 7502 also apply when deposits are mailed to authorized commercial bank depositaries. Such deposits are not affected by these amended rules.) Accordingly, the amendments are consistent with past procedures and do not expose the tax depositor to penalties as a direct result of circumstances of mailing. The exception to the foregoing is when a taxpayer does not follow the prescribed procedures for making a tax deposit with a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch. An example would be when the tax deposit is not in the prescribed form of payment. Under such circumstances, the tax payment will be processed by the receiving Federal Reserve Bank or Branch rather than returned to the depositor and will be dated as paid based upon the date when the proceeds of the accompanying payment instrument are collected by the receiving Federal Reserve Bank and Branch.

3. Comment. Since employers are non-compensated collectors of vast amounts of payroll taxes for Treasury, unreasonable restrictions should not be placed on them. Also, with governmental reporting requirements increasing and becoming more complex almost daily, this is no time to add additional burdens. The use of Federal Reserve Banks or Branches has served a reasonable purpose and should not be discontinued.

Response. The regulations governing the deposit of Federal taxes at authorized commercial banks and Federal Reserve Banks and Branches are not intended to provide a means for offsetting costs incurred by tax depositors in the collection and deposit of such tax payments. Since the Congress, in passing the statutes requiring the collection of payroll taxes, made no specific provision for compensation, the Fiscal Service believes that if compensation were due, such compensation should be provided through Congressional authorization. The Fiscal Service agrees that Federal Reserve Banks and Branches have provided a useful purpose in the collection of taxes. The proposed changes are not intended to discontinue their usefulness as part of that system. The proposed amendments provide for greater uniformity of deposit regulations and increase the efficiency of collecting tax deposits through Federal Reserve Banks and Branches.

After consideration of all comments received, it is our opinion that no comments were presented which warrant changes in the proposed rules as published. Accordingly, 31 CFR Part 214 is amended as follows:

§ 214.2 [Amended]

1. By adding the definition for an "immediate credit item" to § 214.2 to read as follows: "Immediate credit item" means a check or other payment instrument for which immediate credit is given in accordance with the check collection schedule of the receiving Federal Reserve Bank or Branch.

2. By revising paragraphs (b), (b) (1), and (b) (3) of § 214.6 to read as follows:

§ 214.6 Handling of deposits of Federal taxes.

(b) Deposits with Federal Reserve Banks. When handling Federal tax deposits, a Federal Reserve Bank, through any of its offices, shall comply with the following requirements:

(1) A Federal Reserve Bank shall accept a tax deposit directly from a taxpayer when such tax deposit is:

(i) Mailed or delivered by a taxpayer located within that Bank's territorial boundaries and,

(ii) In the form of cash, a check drawn to the order of that Bank and considered to be an immediate credit item by that Bank, a postal money order drawn to the order of that Bank, or Treasury Bills, as authorized in Part 309 of this chapter, covering an amount to be deposited as Federal taxes and,

(iii) Accompanied by a Federal tax deposit form on which the amount of the tax deposit has been properly entered in the space provided.

(3) When a deposit of Federal taxes is made in accordance with the requirements of paragraphs (b) (1) of this section, a Bank shall place in the space provided on the face of each Federal tax deposit form accepted directly from a taxpayer, a stamp impression reflecting the name of the Bank and the date on which the tax deposit was received by the Bank so that the timeliness of the Federal tax payment can be determined. However, if such a deposit is mailed to a Bank, it is subject to the "Timely mailing treated as timely filing and paying" clause of section 7502 of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 7502).

3. By adding a new paragraph (b) (4) to § 214.6 to read as follows:

§ 214.6 Handling of deposits of Federal taxes.

(4) When a deposit of Federal taxes is not in accordance with the requirements governing form of payment set forth in paragraph (b) (1) of this section, a Bank shall place in the space provided on the face of each Federal tax deposit form a stamp impression reflecting the name of the Bank and the date on which the proceeds of the accompanying payment instrument are collected by the Bank. This date shall be used for the purpose of determining the timeliness of the Federal tax payment.

Fiscal Assistant Secretary.

MAX CLELAND,
Administrator.

1. Sections 17.261 and 17.262 are revised to read as follows:

§ 17.261 The Subcommittee on Academic Affairs.

There is established within the Special Medical Advisory Group authorized under the provisions of 38 U.S.C. 4112(a) a Subcommittee on Academic Affairs, and the Subcommittee shall advise the Administrator, through the Chief Medical Director, in matters pertinent to achieving the objectives of programs for exchange of medical information. The Subcommittee shall review each application for a grant and prepare a written report setting forth recommendations as to the final action to be taken on the application.

§ 17.262 Ex Officio Member of Subcommittee.

The Assistant Chief Medical Director for Academic Affairs shall be an ex officio member of the Subcommittee on Academic Affairs.

2. In § 17.266, paragraph (e) is revised to read as follows:

§ 17.266 Applications.

Each application for a grant shall be submitted to the Chief Medical Director on such forms as shall be prescribed and shall include the following evidence, assurances, and supporting documents:

(e) To include assurance records will be kept. Each application shall include sufficient assurances that the applicant shall keep records which fully disclose the amount and disposition of the proceeds of the grant, the total cost of the project or undertaking in connection with which the grant is made or used, the portion of the costs supplied by non-Federal sources, and such other records as will facilitate an effective audit. All such records shall be retained by the applicant (grantee) for a period of 3 years after the submission of the final expenditure report, or if litigation, claim or audit is started before the expiration of the 3-year period, the records shall be retained until all litigation, claims or audit findings involving the records have been resolved, and

3. In § 17.270, the introductory portion preceding paragraph (a) and paragraph (a) are revised to read as follows:

§ 17.270 Awards procedures.

Applications for grants for planning or implementing agreements for the exchange of medical information or information facilities shall be reviewed by the Chief Medical Director or designee. If it is determined approval of the grant is warranted, recommendations to that effect shall be made to the Administrator in writing and shall be accompanied by the following:

(a) The recommendation for approval shall be accompanied by the written recommendation of the Subcommittee on Academic Affairs, and

4. Sections 17.281 and 17.285 are revised to read as follows:

§ 17.281 Authority to approve applications discretionary.

Notwithstanding any recommendation by the Subcommittee on Academic Affairs of the Special Medical Advisory Group, or any recommendation by the Chief Medical Director or designee, the final determination on any application for a grant rests solely with the Administrator.

§ 17.285 Suspension and termination procedures.

Termination of a grant means the cancellation of Veterans Administration sponsorship, in whole or in part, under an agreement at any time prior to the date of completion. Suspension of a grant is an action by the Veterans Administration which temporarily suspends Veterans Administration sponsorship under the grant pending corrective action by the grantee or pending a decision to terminate the grant by the Veterans Administration.

(a) Posttermination appeal. The following procedures are applicable for reviewing postaward disputes which may arise in the administration of or carrying out of the Exchange of Medical Information Grant Program.

(1) Reviewable decisions. The Veterans Administration reserves the right to terminate any grant in whole or in part at any time before the date of completion, whenever it determines that the grantee has failed to comply with conditions of the agreement, or otherwise failed to comply with any law, regulation, assurance, term, or condition applicable to the grant.

(2) Notice. The Veterans Administration shall promptly notify the grantee in writing of the determination. The notice shall set forth the reason for the determination in sufficient detail to enable the grantee to respond, and shall inform the grantee of his or her opportunity for review by the Assistant Chief Medical Director as provided in this section.

(3) Request for appeal. A grantee with respect to whom a determination described in paragraph (a) (1) of this section has been made, and who desires review, may file with the Assistant Chief Medical Director for Academic Affairs an application for review of such determination. The grantee's application for review must be post-marked no later than 30 days after the postmarked date of notification provided pursuant to paragraph (a) (2) of this section.

(4) Contents of request. The application for review must clearly identify the question or questions in dispute, contain a full statement of the grantee's position in respect to such question or questions, and provide pertinent facts and reasons in support of his or her position. The Assistant Chief Medical Director for Academic Affairs will promptly send a copy of the grantee's application to the Veterans Administration official responsible for the determination which is to be reviewed.

(5) Effect of submission. When an application for review has been filed no action may be taken by the Veterans Administration pursuant to such determination until such application has been disposed of, except that the filing of the application shall not affect the authority which the constituent agency may have to suspend the system under a grant during proceedings under this section or otherwise to withhold or defer payments under the grant.

(6) Consideration of request. When an application for review has been filed with the Assistant Chief Medical Director for Academic Affairs, and it has been determined that the application meets the requirements stated in this paragraph, all background material of the issues shall be reviewed. If the application does not meet the requirements, the grantee shall be notified of the deficiencies.

(7) Presentation of case. If the Assistant Chief Medical Director for Academic Affairs believes there is no dispute as to material fact, the resolution of which would be materially assisted by oral testimony, both parties shall be notified of the issues to be considered, and take steps to afford both parties the opportunity for presenting their cases, at the option of the Assistant Chief Medical Director for Academic Affairs, in whole or in part in writing, or in an informal conference. Where it is concluded that oral testimony is required to resolve a dispute over a material fact, both parties shall be afforded an opportunity to present and cross-examine witnesses at a hearing.

8. Decision. After both parties have presented their cases, the Assistant Chief Medical Director for Academic Affairs shall prepare an initial written decision which shall include findings of fact and conclusions based thereon. Copies of the decision shall be mailed promptly to each of the parties together with a notice informing them of their right to appeal the decision of the Administrator, or to the officer or employee to whom the Administrator has delegated such authority, by submitting written comments thereon within a specified reasonable time.

(9) Final decision. Upon filing comments with the Administrator, or designated officer or employee, the review of the initial decision shall be conducted on the basis of the decision, the hearing record, if any, and written comments submitted by both parties. The decision shall be final.

(10) Participation by a party. Either party may participate in person, or by counsel pursuant to the procedures set forth in this section.

(b) Termination for convenience. The Veterans Administration or the grantee may terminate a grant in whole or in part when both parties agree that the continuation of the project would not produce beneficial results commensurate with the further expenditure of funds. The two parties shall agree upon the termination conditions, including the effective date and, in the case of partial terminations, the portion to be terminated. The grantee shall not incur new obligations for the terminated portion after the effective date, and shall cancel as many outstanding obligations as possible. The Veterans Administration shall allow full credit to the grantee for the Veterans Administration share of the noncancellable obligations, properly incurred by the grantee prior to termination.

(c) Suspension procedures. When a grantee has failed to comply with the terms of the grant agreement and conditions or standards, the Veterans Administration may, on reasonable notice to the grantee, suspend the grant and withhold further payments, prohibit the grantee from incurring additional obligations of funds, pending corrective action by the grantee, or make a decision to terminate as described in paragraph (a) of this section. The Veterans Administration shall allow all necessary and proper costs that the grantee could not reasonably avoid during the period of suspension provided that they meet the provisions of the applicable Federal cost principles.

5. Section 17.286 is revoked.

6. Sections 17.287 and 17.290 are revised to read as follows:

§ 17.287 Recoupments and releases.

In any case where the Veterans Administration's or a grantee's obligations under an exchange of information agreement implemented by grant funds are terminated, or where grant-financed equipment or facilities cease to be used for the purposes for which grant support was given, or when grant-financed property is transferred, the grantee shall return the proportionate value of such equipment or facility as was financed by the grant. When it is determined the Veterans Administration's equitable interest is greater than proportionate value, then a claim in such greater amount shall be asserted. If it is determined an amount less than proportion-

§ 31.1 Purpose.

The purpose of these guidelines is to prescribe policies and procedures for administering the funding of projects involving the conversion of abandoned railroad rights-of-way to recreation and conservation uses. Because of the limited funding available, it is the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation's intent to select a few projects which effectively demonstrate the conversion of abandoned railroad rights-of-way for recreation and conservation purposes in a timely manner.

§ 31.2 Definitions.

(a) Abandoned Railroad Rights-of-Way. An abandoned railroad right-of-way is the real property used for or formerly used for the operation of railroad trains by a common carrier railroad, upon which the railroad company has, or will cease operations and sell, or otherwise dispose of the company's interest in the real property.

(b) Project Applicant. Federal, State, or local governmental agencies.

§ 31.3 Applicability and authority.

The policies and procedures contained herein are applicable to the making of grants to State and local governments and to the making of allocations to Federal agencies under the provisions of Title VIII, section 809(b) (2) and (3) of the Railroad Revitalization and Regulatory Reform Act of 1976 (Pub. L. 94-210) (90 Stat. 145). The Secretary of the Interior in consultation with the Secretary of Transportation is responsible for providing financial assistance in accordance with section 809(b) (2) and (3). The Secretary of the Interior's responsibility has been delegated to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

§ 31.4 Scope.

(a) Funding assistance authorized by section 809(b) (2) shall be provided to State and local governmental entities to enable them to acquire and develop abandoned railroad rights-of-way for recreation and conservation purposes and to plan for such acquisition and development. As provided for by law, grants shall be made for not more than 90 percent of the cost of the particular project for which funds are sought.

(b) Allocations authorized by section 809(b) (3) shall be made to Federal agencies to enable them to acquire abandoned railroad rights-of-way. Such allocations shall be made for an amount up to the price paid to the owner of the real property proposed for acquisition plus expenses incidental to acquisition such as title work, surveys, appraisals and relocation.

§ 31.5 Eligible projects.

(a) Abandoned railroad projects will be for recreation and/or conservation purposes including the acquisition of the rights-of-way involved and will be sponsored by a project applicant who has authority to carry out public recreation or conservation programs. Eligible project elements for State and local governmental entities may include:

(1) The acquisition of fee or less than fee interests including long term leases of not less than 25 years and easements which will secure for the project applicant the right to develop and use the property for public recreation and/or conservation purposes.

(2) The development of facilities which are necessary for making rights-of-way usable for public recreation and conservation purposes.

(b) Allocations made to Federal agencies will be made for the acquisition of lands or interests in lands, including incidental acquisition expenses, located in existing areas where such acquisition is authorized by law and the land is usable for public recreation and conservation purposes.

(c) Abandoned railroad rights-of-way projects proposed by State and local governmental entities and Federal agencies shall be in accordance with the State comprehensive outdoor recreation plan for the State in which the project is located.

§ 31.6 Application procedures.

State and local units of government applying for grants under this program will comply with the regulations, policies, guidelines, and requirements of OMB Circular No. A-95 (Evaluation, Review and Coordination of Federal and Federally Assisted Programs and Projects), Federal Management Circulars 74-4 (Cost Principles Applicable to Grants and Contracts with State and Local Governments) and OMB Circular No. A-102 (Uniform Administrative Requirements for Grants-in-Aid to State and local governments).

(a) Preapplications. A preapplication will be used to initially screen and select those projects for which a final application may be submitted for assistance. The preapplication will include:

(1) A Standard Form 424 (may be obtained from applicable Regional Offices of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation).

(2) A map showing the location of the property to be acquired and/or developed and its relation to surrounding land uses including other recreation/conservation resources.

(3) A program narrative statement.

(i) Where acquisition is involved the number of acres and real property interest to be acquired. Attach a copy of the abandonment notice.

(ii) The type of recreational/conservation use planned for the project site including the type of development to be included in the project (if a site plan is available it should be submitted).

(iii) A statement indicating separately the estimated acquisition and development costs.

(iv) A time schedule for completing the acquisition and development.

(v) A brief discussion of how the project embodies the selection criteria outlined in section 31.8.

(4) Indicate any known problems that will occur in obtaining clear title to the right-of-way.

(5) Because of the limited funds available applicants are encouraged to provide an alternative plan indicating a viable segment of the overall project which could possibly be funded at a lower amount in lieu of the complete project.

(b) Applications. For those State and local projects selected the applicant shall submit the standard application provided for in Attachment M of OMB Circular A-102. An application package developed for this program will be available from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Regional Offices. The following application requirements will apply (information submitted with the preapplication will not be required again):

(1) A-95 Clearinghouse Review. The applicant will obtain and include in the application, State and areawide clearinghouse comments in accordance with OMB Circular A-95.

(2) National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (Pub. L. 91-190). The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation will review the environmental information developed by the Interstate Commerce Commission relative to the abandonment to determine if additional information is required to adequately assess the environmental impact of the project and determine the need for an environmental impact statement. Where necessary the applicant will provide additional information from which the Bureau can assess the environmental impact. The format for such information will be provided by the Bureau.

(3) National Historic Preservation Act of 1969 and Executive Order 11593. The applicant shall provide the State's Historic Preservation Officer with a copy of the project proposal and allow him 30 days in which to comment on the effect of the proposed project. Such comments will indicate whether the project will have any effect on a site in, or eligible for nomination to the National Register of Historic Places. The comments of the SHPO will be included with the application.

(4) Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234). Applicants will be required to purchase flood insurance for acquisition or development of insurable improvements located in a flood plain area identified by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development as an area which has special flood hazards.

(5) Corps of Engineers Permits Requirements. For development projects requiring a Corps of Engineers permit under Section 10 of the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1899 and/or Section 404 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1972, applicants will include evidence in the application that action has been initiated to obtain such permit.

(6) Section 7 of the Endangered Species Act of 1973. The applicant, through the submission of environmental information, and in consultation with the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Regional Office will indicate any known project conflict with section 7 of the Endangered Species Act of 1973.

(7) Plans and Maps. Each application will include copies of State, county, or city maps showing the geographic location of the project and its relation to surrounding land uses including other recreation/conservation resources. Where development is included in the project, a site plan of the proposed improvements will be provided along with a breakdown of the estimated development costs. For the acquisition, the application will include a schedule listing the parcels to be acquired, estimated linear mileage and acreage of each, the estimated value of each parcel and the estimated date of acquisition.

(8) In addition to the narrative required by Part IV of the standard application, the following information will be provided:

(i) The type of recreation/conservation activity intended for the project site.

(ii) The time schedule for completing the project and plans for operation and maintenance; and

(iii) A brief discussion of how the project embodies the selection criteria outlined in section 31.8.

(c) Content of the Proposal by Federal Agencies. Each proposal should include the following minimum information (preapplication not required):

(1) Identification and description of the property proposed for acquisition.

(2) A statement indicating the recreational and/or conservation use planned for the acquired rights-of-way and the relationship of such use to land now administered by the Federal agency proposing acquisition.

(3) A map showing the location of the property in relation to land now administered by the Federal agency proposing acquisition.

(4) The real property interest proposed for acquisition.

(5) An environmental assessment of the acquisition and subsequent development, if proposed.

(6) A citation of the statutory or other authority under which the land would be acquired and a discussion of how the proposed acquisition is in accord with the authority for acquisition.

(7) The funds being requested for the project including a summary of the estimated cost of the land and costs incidental to acquisition.

(8) A discussion of how acquisition of the rights-of-way and subsequent development embodies the selection criteria outlined in section 31.8.

(d) Preapplication. (1) Projects sponsored by State, local, or Federal applicants shall be submitted to the appropriate Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Regional Office.

(2) Projects will be considered for funding on a quarterly basis until available funds have been obligated to approved projects. The first project submission quarter will begin with the first of the fiscal year. Funds not utilized in one quarter will be available for the next. Once all funds have been obligated, projects will not be accepted until additional appropriations become available.

§ 31.7 Project selection and funding procedures.

(a) The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Regional Office will review all preapplications and Federal proposals to insure application completeness and eligibility. A copy of eligible preapplications or Federal proposals and supporting information and data will be submitted to the Washington Office of BOR for final review and selection. An information copy of each project preapplication and proposal will be submitted to the State Liaison Officer designated to coordinate Land and Water Conservation Fund activities.

(b) The Washington Office of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation will evaluate all projects submitted by the Regional Offices. Final selection of projects to be funded shall be by the Director of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

(c) State and local projects selected for funding will be approved and funds obligated by the appropriate Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Regional Director. Funds will not be obligated until the Bureau has met with the applicant to discuss the terms, conditions, and procedures required by the grant.

(d) Federal agency sponsored projects will be funded by transfer of funds from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to the sponsoring agency up to the amount of the project cost as shown in the agency's approved application.

§ 31.8 Project selection criteria.

Those projects which best meet the following criteria will be selected to receive assistance:

(a) Projects which have cleared abandonment procedures and for which sufficient control and tenure of land can be assured, in order that the project can be accomplished shortly after project approval.

(b) Projects which are located or originate in Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.

(c) The degree to which the project results in a facility which demonstrates maximum beneficial public use of the property acquired. (For example, the diversity of recreation/conservation opportunities provided.)

(d) The ease of accessibility to large numbers of potential users.

(e) The effectiveness of the project in enhancing existing Federal, State, or local recreation/conservation resources. (For example, the ability of the project to tie together existing recreation/conservation resources.)

(f) Whether use of the right-of-way for recreation/conservation purposes has been identified in existing State, Federal, or local plans.

(g) The degree to which the project advances new ideas in recreation/conservation use and promotes nonmotorized forms of transportation such as commuting by bicycle.

(h) The recreation/conservation potential of the environment traversed by the right-of-way.

(i) The energy conservation potential of using the right-of-way for recreation and/or commuting.

(j) The urgency of the acquisition as reflected by the plans of the owner of record to sell the property to persons other than the project sponsor.

(k) The degree to which Federal, State or local land use controls will protect the recreation and conservation values of the right-of-way from encroachment by conflicting uses of surrounding land.

(l) State and local projects involving the development of abandoned railroad rights-of-way which do not include the acquisition of the rights-of-way will be given lower funding priority than projects involving both acquisition and development.

§ 31.9 Project costs (state and local projects).

To be eligible, acquisition and development costs must be incurred after the date of project approval and during the project period. The project period will be indicated in the project application. Waivers will be granted to proceed with the acquisition prior to project approval if the applicant can show there is a need for immediate action.

Development costs are first incurred at the start of actual physical work on the project site. Acquisition costs are incurred on the date when the applicant makes full payment or accepts the deed or other appropriate conveyance. Project-related planning costs outlined in subparagraph 31.9(a)(3), may be incurred prior to project approval. The date from which they were incurred must be indicated in the project application.

(a) The types of project costs that are eligible for funding under this program are:

(1) Acquisition costs will be assisted on the basis of the price paid or the appraised fair market value, whichever is less. Costs incurred pursuant to the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970, appraisal costs and other reasonable incidental costs associated with the acquisition.

(2) Construction costs associated with developing the right-of-way for recreation use.

(3) Project-related planning required for the acquisition, development and use of the abandoned rights-of-way including master planning, the preparation of development plans and specifications and surveys.

(4) Legal costs, audit costs, inspection fees, and project administration costs.

(b) Cost overruns will not be eligible for reimbursement. This means that no additional funding will be extended once a project is approved. Any cost overrun incurred on a project must be funded by the grantee.

(c) Principles and standards for determining costs applicable to State and local grants are found in Federal Management Circular 74-4 and Part 670 of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Manual.

§ 31.10 Matching share.

The State or local applicant's matching share may consist of cash, or in-kind contributions consistent with guidelines set forth in Attachment F of OMB Circular A-102.

§ 31.11 Project performance.

The State or local applicant shall be responsible for insuring the project is carried through to stages of completion acceptable to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation with reasonable promptness. Financial assistance may be terminated upon determination by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation that satisfactory progress has not been maintained.

(a) Acquisition Procedures. All acquisition must conform to the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970, Pub. L. 91-646, as set forth in the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Manual, Part 645.

Real property must be appraised before the initiation of negotiations, and the property owner given a statement of just compensation for his property. In no event can the amount established as just compensation for his property. In no case value established by the approved appraisal.

(1) Appraisals. The State or local applicant should secure at least one appraisal of the appropriate type by a qualified professional appraiser for each parcel to be acquired. Standards for appraisals shall be consistent with the current Uniform Appraisal Standards for Federal Land Acquisition, published by the Land Acquisition Conference and as set forth in Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Manual, paragraph 675.2.5.

(2) Appraisal Review. The appraisal will be reviewed and approved by a qualified staff or fee appraiser prior to the initiation of negotiations. The Bureau reserves the right to review all appraisal documentation prior to or after the acquisition.

(3) Record Retention. All documentation supporting the acquisition of land and improvements, or interests therein, must be kept available for examination by duly authorized representatives of the Bureau, the Department of the Interior and the General Accounting Office. All such records shall be retained and be available for inspection for a period of three years after final payment by the Federal Government.

(b) Development Procedures. Development work may be accomplished by contract or by force account. Allowable construction costs cover all necessary construction activities, from site preparation to completion of the facility.

(1) Construction by Force Account. Labor costs charged to a project for force account work will be based on payrolls documented and approved in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices of the State or local agency. Payrolls must be supported by time and attendance or equivalent records for individual employees. Salaries and wages of employee chargeable to more than one cost objective will be supported by appropriate time distribution records. The method used should produce an equitable distribution of time and effort. Costs for equipment owned by the participant may be charged against the project based on an equipment use rate developed by the participant in accordance with guidelines provided by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. Other costs such as material costs will be charged to a project as outlined in OMB Circular A-102 and the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Manual, Part 670.

(2) Construction by Contract. (i) Bids and Awards. Competitive open bidding shall be required for contracts in excess of $10,000 in accordance with Attachment O of OMB Circular A-102.

(ii) Equal Employment Opportunity. All construction contracts awarded by recipients and their contractors, or subgrantees having a value of more than $10,000 shall contain a provision requiring compliance with Executive Order No. 11246, entitled "Equal Employment Opportunity" as supplemented in Department of Labor Regulations (41 CFR, Part 60). (iii) The State or local applicant will comply with all other procurement standards set forth in Attachment O of OMB Circular A-102.

(3) Construction Planning Services. The applicant is responsible for:

(i) Providing all engineering services necessary for all design and construction of Fund-assisted projects.

(ii) Providing an internal technical review of all construction plans and specifications.

(iii) Insuring that construction plans and specifications meet applicable health and safety standards of the State.

(iv) The Bureau reserves the right to require the submission of plans and specifications for any development project prior to project approval.

(v) All construction plans, specifications, contracts, and change orders shall be retained by the participant for a period of three years after final payment on a project is made by the Bureau, or for a longer period of time if so requested by the Bureau.

(4) All facilities developed will be designed to comply with the "American Standard Specifications for Making Buildings and Facilities Accessible to, and Usable by the Physically Handicapped" Number A117.1-1961, as modified (41 CFR 101-17.703). The applicant will be responsible for conducting inspections to insure compliance with these specifications by the contractor.

§ 31.12 Standards for grantee financial management systems.

The grantees' Financial Management Systems shall meet the minimum standards set forth in OMB Circular A-102, Attachment G.

§ 31.13 Performance reports.

Performance reports shall be submitted quarterly for all active projects. The performance reports shall briefly present the following:

(b) Other pertinent information including, when appropriate, time schedule delays and other similar problems encountered and their expected impact on the project, etc.

§ 31.14 Project inspections.

All State and local projects will receive a final inspection by the Bureau. Final inspections will be conducted prior to final payment of Federal funds. Progress inspections will be conducted as deemed necessary by the Bureau. Preapproval inspections will also be conducted prior to project selection at the discretion of the appropriate Bureau Regional Office.

§ 31.15 Financial reporting requirements and reimbursements.

Payments to applicants will either be by reimbursement by Treasury check or advance by Treasury check.

(a) Reimbursement by Treasury Check. The Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement (OMB Circular A-102, Attachment H) is the standard form to be used for requesting reimbursement for acquisition and development. Requests for reimbursement shall be submitted by "the grantee" not more frequently than monthly. The requests for reimbursement shall be submitted by the grantee in an original and three copies to the appropriate Regional Office. The Regions will forward to the Division of Budget and Finance in Washington, D.C., the original and two copies.

(b) Advance by Treasury Check. The Request for Advance or Reimbursement (OMB Circular A-102, Attachment H) is the standard form for all requests for advance. An advance by Treasury check is a payment made by Treasury check to a grantee upon its request, or through the use of a predetermined payment schedule. Advances shall be limited to the minimum amounts needed and shall be timed to be in accord with only the actual cash requirements of the grantee in carrying out the purpose of the approved project. Advances shall be limited to one month's cash requirements. The request for advance shall be submitted by the grantee in an original and three copies to the appropriate Regional Office. The Region will forward to the Division of Budget and Finance in Washington, D.C., the original and two copies.

Grantees must submit an "Outlay Report and Request for Reimbursement for Construction Programs" monthly showing expenditures made the previous month from the funds advanced.

Upon Bureau acceptance of the expenditures involved, these reports shall be used as the basis for liquidating obligations, reducing the advance account, and making charges to the appropriate cost account.

(c) Report of Federal Cash Transactions (OMB Circular A-102, Attachment H). When funds are advanced with Treasury checks, the grantee shall submit a report to monitor the cash advance. Grantees shall submit the original and three copies no later than 15 working days following the end of each quarter.

§ 31.16 Retention and custodial requirements for records.

(a) Financial records, supporting documents, statistical records, and other records pertinent to a grant program shall be retained for a period of three years after final payment. The records shall be retained beyond the three-year period if audit findings have not been resolved.

(b) The Secretary of the Interior and the Comptroller General of the United States, or any of their duly authorized representatives, shall have access to any books, documents, papers, and records of the State and local governments and their subgrantees which are pertinent to a specific project for the purpose of making audit, examinations, excerpts, and transcripts.

§ 31.17 Project termination and settlement procedures.

Project Termination and Settlement Procedures will be in accord with Bureau of Outdoor Recreation Manual, Chapter 675.8.

§ 31.18 Retention and use.

Property acquired or developed by State and local governments with section 809(b) assistance will be available to the general public and retained for recreation/conservation use. The acquiring agency will cause to have placed in the legal title to the property a restriction which precludes its conversion to other than public recreation/conservation use without the consent of the Secretary of the Interior.

The Secretary shall not permit conversion to any use that would preclude future reactivation of rail transportation on such right-of-way.

CHAPTER IV—FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

SUBCHAPTER B—REGULATIONS AFFECTING MARITIME CARRIERS AND REGULATED ACTIVITIES

[Docket No. 76-40; General Order No. 38]

PART 531—PUBLISHING, FILING AND POSTING OF TARIFFS IN DOMESTIC OFFSHORE COMMERCE

AGENCY: Federal Maritime Commission.

ACTION: Adoption of final rules.

SUMMARY: Part 531 has been substantially revised, updated and renumbered. Most changes were for the purpose of clarifying existing Commission practices, but several new requirements and procedures have been added. The major changes include: specific regulations for through intermodal transportation; a requirement that tariffs be published on standard sized paper in loose-leaf, rather than bound form; a requirement that carriers promulgate 15 "minimum" tariff rules and publish them in a specific sequence; a requirement that tariff matter filed with the Commission be simultaneously served upon tariff subscribers; a requirement that special permission applications be filed upon five days notice except in extraordinary circumstances; specific procedures for the filing of project rates; additional definitions to govern certain terms commonly appearing in tariffs (especially terms which affect intermodal transportation); and more detailed procedures governing the "adoption" of another carrier's tariff.

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 1978.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This proceeding was commenced by a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (Notice) inviting comments on a proposal to revise, update and republish the Commission's domestic tariff regulations which included amendments adding to and significantly altering existing tariff filing requirements (41 FR 32899, August 6, 1976). Comments were received from Mr. L. A. Parish; the Institute of International Container Lessors (IICL); Matson Navigation Company (Matson); the Military Sealift Command (MSC); Household Goods Carriers' Bureau

See footnotes at end of article.

(HGCB); Puerto Rico Maritime Shipping Authority (PRMSA); Sea-Land Service, Inc. (Sea-Land); the Commission's Bureau of Hearing Counsel (Hearing Counsel); and Trailer Marine Transport Corporation (TMT). Reply Comments were submitted by Matson, IICL, HGCB, and MSC.

A total of 53 sections or subsections were objected to in the initial round of comments, but Hearing Counsel proposed modifications to the original proposal which eliminated the stated objections to 29 of the challenged provisions. These reconciliatory Hearing Counsel proposals have been employed in the final regulations. The remaining controverted points, identified by the section numbers designated in the original proposal, are discussed below.

A central purpose in proposing the Part 531 amendments was to eliminate tariff practices which are overly complex or of marginal utility in light of modern transportation conditions. Steamship tariffs and the Commission's regulations alike should be readily understandable to all persons seeking transportation by sea and not just to established tariff publication specialists. Further revisions may well be required before this goal is reached, but we have striven today to adopt rules which are both thoroughly and clearly stated. Most of the original section numbers were reordered in the version of the rules which has been adopted (final version). This renumbering was undertaken as a clarifying measure and not to substantively change the regulations. Similarly, the final version contains a number of editorial changes intended to simplify or clarify language employed in the original proposal and not to alter its meaning.

1. Section 531.0. Scope and Exemptions. The Notice defined the Commission's interstate commerce jurisdiction in such a way as to omit the Alaska and Hawaii trades. Matson and Hearing Counsel both recognized this omission, but were unable to agree upon the wording of a substitute version. We have essentially separated original section 531.0 into two different sections. The final version of section 531.0 is considerably shorter than the original proposal and states that Part 531 applies to all transportation (including through intermodal transportation) offered by common carriers subject to the Shipping Act and defines these "domestic offshore carriers" in non-statutory terms. Through transportation to Alaska and Hawaii offered under tariffs on file exclusively with the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) pursuant to 49 U.S.C. 36(c), 905(b) or 1018 has been included as an exemption in final section 531.1, thereby eliminating a second Matson objection.

2. Section 531.1. Definitions. Mr. Parish objected to the absence of a specific statement restricting the application of the proposed definitions to "this regulation only," but neglected to explain why such a disclaimer was necessary. Although these definitions are not intended to limit the activities of domestic offshore carriers outside of the tariff promulgation sphere, neither does the Commission intend for them to be applied restrictively. Accordingly, final section 531.2 states that the definitions are to be used in interpreting tariffs filed pursuant to Part 531 as well as to the Part 531 regulations themselves.

3. Section 531.1(m) and Section 531.14. Intermodal Transportation. Sea-Land states that the Commission lacks jurisdiction over through routes formed in conjunction with carriers other than the "common carriers by water" mentioned in Intercoastal Shipping Act section 2. TMT contends that the Commission has authority to "accept intermodal joint rates" between FMC regulated domestic offshore carriers and carriers regulated by other agencies. The latter view must prevail in domestic offshore commerce just as it has in foreign commerce, see Commonwealth of Pennsylvania v. Interstate Commerce Commission, — F. 2d —, D.C. Cir. No. 76-1558, June 20, 1977, 16 SRR 195, and the final rules require the filing of through intermodal tariffs (final section 531.8). The acceptance of such tariffs and the regulation of practices clearly ancillary to the all water transportation of domestic offshore carriers does not represent an attempt to assert substantive authority over inland activities within the exclusive jurisdiction of the ICC or the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB). The Commission's responsibilities to prevent unfair and unreasonable rates and practices pursuant to Shipping Act sections 16 First and 18(a) and Intercoastal Shipping Act sections, 2, 3, and 4, is sufficient to support the requirement that domestic offshore carriers file their entire through rate with the FMC as well as their port-to-port rates when they provide through transportation to the public. Shipping Act section 33 does not prohibit the Commission from obtaining tariff information which is also submitted to the ICC. Alabama Great Southern Railroad Company v. Federal Maritime Commission, 379 F. 2d 100 (D.C. Cir. 1967); we do not intend to "concurrently regulate" the inland rates and practices of participating overland carriers.

4. Section 531.1(t) and Section 531.5(m). Filing of Project Rates. The proposed rules permitted the filing (without special permission) of project rates which met certain specifications. Governmental and charitable shipments were not included within the definition of "project rates," however, and MSC objected to this exclusion. Matson stated that project rates should be banned in principle because they allegedly result in the "subsidization" of project shippers. The final rule has been modified to include major, one time only, governmental and charitable construction or relief projects otherwise eligible for project rates under the standards of final section 531.6(m). Matson's fear that project rates will unfairly subsidize project shippers is unwarranted inasmuch as the rule requires each such rate to be accompanied by a showing that the rate covers all of the carriers' variable costs and makes more than a de minimis contribution to fixed expenses.

5. Section 531.1(u). Proportional Rates. The proposed rule defined "proportional rates" as those which are "predicated on a prior or subsequent movement." Matson proposed that the definition be limited to rates for cargo "moving beyond the carrier's own line" without indicating why such a limitation was necessary or desirable. Final section 531.1(p) contains essentially the same definition as the original proposal, but has been modified for the sake of clarity.

6. Section 531.1(v). Definition of Substituted Service. The proposed definition limited the use of "substituted service" to the occasional use of other carriers or other modes of transportation necessitated by unexpected operating exigencies. Matson claimed that this limitation is inconsistent with present industry practices and suggested an amendment allowing "substitute service" to be offered on a regular basis. We have rejected Matson's proposal. It is our intention to alter industry practices in this regard. Regular arrangements for serving a locality indirectly on a single bill of lading by substituting the facilities of another carrier must be treated as joint through transportation (whether intermodal or not), and not as the through service of a single carrier.

7. Section 531.1(z) 531.1(aa). Definitions of Through Rate and Through Route. Matson objected to the original proposal's failure to state that certain joint through rates in the Alaska and Hawaii trades are exclusively regulated by the ICC. Our revisions to the Scope and Exemptions sections (final sections 531.0 and 531.1) specifically mention 49 U.S.C. 316(c) and further reference is unnecessary. We have, however, deleted the requirement that a through route be offered under a single through bill of lading in response to Mr. Parish's observations on that point. Otherwise, final sections 531.1(v) and (w) reflect our original proposal despite considerable modifications of an editorial nature. Final section 531.1(w) defines "through route" as an offering of a single domestic offshore carrier, two or more FMC regulated water carriers, or a domestic offshore carrier and one or more other carriers. Whether a "through rate" is formed by combining local or proportional rates is, by itself, irrelevant for tariff purposes, and requirements relating to such combinations have been deleted from final section 531.1(v).

8. Section 531.1(bb). Definition of Transshipment. Mr. Parish contended that the original proposal should expressly disclaim any applicability to cargo transfers between commonly controlled carriers. Such an exclusion was intended and should have been evident from the proposed definition which spoke in terms of cargo transfers between "different common carriers by water." We have, however, modified the original proposal in a manner which narrows this exclusion in some respects. The final rule defines "transshipment" as the physical transfer of cargo from a vessel operating domestic offshore carrier to any other carrier (section 531.1

See footnotes at end of document.

(x)) and the definition of "carrier" has been modified to indicate that commonly owned or controlled carriers operating in different transportation modes shall be considered separate carriers for tariff filing purposes (section 531.1(c)). We have also provided that ICC regulated Part III carriage shall be considered a different "mode" of transportation than domestic offshore water carriage for tariff filing purposes (section 531.1(u)). These regulations are intended to key the Commission's through intermodal tariff rules to the ICC's interpretation of "transshipment" under section 302(i)(3)(B) of the Interstate Commerce Act, where the term has critical jurisdictional significance. See generally Sacramento-Yolo Port District, 341 I.C.C. 105, 111-113 (1972).

9. Section 531.1(i). Definition of Cargo Interchange. The proposed definition of "interchange" has been deleted from the final rules because the term was not employed in the regulations and because part of the original definition was incorporated into the final definition of "transshipment." It is assumed, however, that "interchange" will be employed in tariffs to describe cargo transfers which are not "transshipments" (i.e., transfers between vessels of the same carrier or transfers between non-FMC regulated carriers).

10. Section 531.1(m). Definition of Port. The proposed subsection defined a port as "a place where actual water transportation subject to the Shipping Act commences or terminates as to any particular movement of cargo." Matson commented that the terms "commence" or "terminate" could be construed as omitting the situation where an ocean going vessel transships its cargo during through transportation. In order to eliminate any confusion on this point, we have made modifications incorporating Matson's suggestion as well as editorial changes of our own. The final definition (section 531.1(m)) now specifically states that ocean carriage can originate or terminate by "transshipment" as well as by other methods. In the case of non-vessel operating carriers, it is assumed that "actual ocean carriage" begins when the cargo is tendered to the underlying vessel operating carrier.

11. Section 531.2(b). Series Designation for Government Tariffs. Matson argued that the repeal of former section 6 of the Intercoastal Shipping Act (Pub. L. 93-487, October 26, 1974) effectively prohibits the publication of tariffs exclusively for government cargo in domestic offshore commerce. This position is clearly erroneous. Section 6 dealt only with the level of government rates. Carriers may, but are not required to, continue offering rates for U.S. Government cargoes provided that any discounts or other privileges provided are reasonable and cost justified under accepted Shipping Act standards.

12. Section 531.2(c). Thirty Days Notice of Effective Date. Matson opposed the proposed elimination of two existing Part 531 regulations which permitted carriers the option of "posting" (filing) tariffs 45 days prior to their effective date and thereby obtaining a longer period to respond to protests pursuant to section 502.67(b) and at least two days notice of any rate suspensions imposed by the Commission. We have adopted the original proposal with editorial changes. Final section 531.3(f) requires tariff filings to provide a minimum of 30 days notice. Carriers are free to file tariffs which furnish a greater period of notice if they wish, but the procedures employed to protest tariffs (section 502.67(a)) shall remain the same in each instance. Uniform procedures for protesting tariffs allow for greater efficiency in the Commission's administration of Intercoastal Act section 3 and should eliminate a present source of confusion to shippers and carriers alike.

On several occasions shippers have failed to observe the special "25 days before effective date" deadline for filing protests now specified for "posting date" tariffs.

13. Section 531.2(d) and (3). Service of Tariff Filings on Tariff Subscribers. PRMSA claims it is unreasonable that PRMSA be required to mail tariff matter to its "large number" of tariff subscribers on or before the time it submits its filing with the Commission. PRMSA further states that a simultaneous service requirement could delay its rate changes for as long as three days while it is preparing subscriber mailings. No other carrier objected to the simultaneous service requirement, and Sea-Land specifically stated that it had no objection to it. Final section 531.3(h) incorporates the original proposal. Although some carriers may find it necessary to begin planning their tariff filings somewhat earlier than they do now, there is no reason to believe such advance planning will cause inefficiencies or hardships as a general rule. Simultaneous service will, however, maximize the notice period provided to tariff subscribers and facilitate their participation in the ratemaking process. Should a situation arise where simultaneous service would result in a significant hardship to a carrier, relief can be readily obtained through the special permission process (final section 531.18).

14. Section 531.2(g). Tariff Filing Receipts. Matson claimed that the Commission should pay the postage for mailing carriers a receipted copy of their tariff filing transmittal letters because the government enjoys a franking privilege. Final section 531.3(j) incorporates the original proposal—receipts will be provided only to carriers which furnish a stamped self-addressed envelope. The Commission does not have a franking privilege and pays the regular rates of the U.S. Postal Service. Moreover, the primary purpose for requiring carrier provided envelopes is to free the Commission's relatively small staff to work on more substantive matters than the typing of envelopes to receipt what frequently exceeds 100 different tariff filings per week.

15. Section 531.2(m)(3). Tariffs Must Be "Posted" 30 Days Prior to Their Effective Date. HGCB argues that the practice of posting tariffs in advance of their effective date, i.e., making them available for public inspection, would confuse the public, cause delays in effectuating rate changes, and generally impose an unnecessary burden upon carriers. Final section 531.3(o) (3) incorporates the original proposal. Although an express posting requirement was not present in the Commission's previous domestic tariff rules, Intercoastal Shipping Act section 2 unmistakably requires 30 days advance posting, and HGCB has not provided us with detailed or compelling reasons why an exemption from this statutory requirement should be granted. Posting is the only practical method for non-tariff subscribers to obtain the advance notice of tariff changes which is integral to the statutory scheme of carrier initiated rates reflected in the Shipping Act. A well informed shipping public will generally advance the purposes of the Shipping Act and assist the Commission in accomplishing its regulatory duties. Modifications were made in the final rule in response to HGCB's comments, however. These modifications more clearly indicate that "posting" refers to the maintenance of complete and up-to-date tariffs for public inspection during ordinary business hours, and require tariff material which is filed, but not yet effective, to be maintained in a manner which indicates its prospective nature. Carriers are also required to provide members of the public with sufficient access to informed carrier personnel to permit interested persons to accurately ascertain the carrier's present and proposed rates as expressly set forth in the applicable tariff or tariffs.

16. Section 531.3(a). Uniform Tariff Format. HGCB opposed the proposal to change the size of tariff pages from 8 by 11 inches to 8½ by 11 inches and the standard format from bound to loose-leaf because HGCB wishes to avoid the expense of republishing its present tariff. Final section 531.4(a) adopts the original proposal. HGCB represents an extreme minority view in tariff filing matters. Its bound tariff (FMC-1) has rarely been modified since its initial submission in 1949, because HGCB's members essentially offer through transportation service between interior points, and accomplish rate changes by altering their overland charges—charges which are exempt from ICC regulation pursuant to 49 U.S.C. 1002(b) (2). For the Commission's staff and for most carriers and shippers, the use of standard sized paper and a loose-leaf format minimizes difficulties in printing, circulating and maintaining tariff material in an accurate, up-to-date and useful manner. To the extent that HGCB can demonstrate good cause for the waiver of the new format requirements, relief is freely available via the special permission process articulated in final section 531.18. Section 531.19 contemplates that special permission to file bound tariffs will be granted in some instances, and prescribes standards to be followed in such tariffs. Final section 531.19(b) has been altered in response to another HGCB comment to specify cally provide that "saddle stitching" is an acceptable method of fastening bound tariffs.

17. Section 531.4(b) (3). Street Address of Freight Receiving and Disbursing Stations. Mr. Parish and HGCB disapproved the proposal that tariffs list the street addresses of all freight receiving or disbursing stations employed by the filing carrier. Mr. Parish perceived this requirement as an attempt by the Commission to restrict carriers to the use of specific pier facilities, while HGCB complained that its 54 member carriers employ a large number of such stations and HGCB would be required to frequently amend its tariff to reflect changes in these facilities. Final sections 531.5 (b) (3) and (4) incorporate the original proposal with modifications which more clearly indicate that the purpose of the rule is not to require carriers to use a particular facility within a port district, but only to provide shippers with the actual street address of any freight stations which are used. To the extent HGCB can demonstrate that it would be unreasonable to require them to furnish the street addresses of the freight stations employed by their individual members, they may obtain special permission to file tariffs which omit such information.

18. Section 531.4(b) (7) (ii). Effective Date of Rate Changes for Through Intermodal Transportation. Matson claimed the original proposal was unduly vague in its use of the terms "intermodal shipment" and "originating carrier." Final section 531.5(b) (8) (ii) modifies the proposed rule so that it applies to all joint through routes (but not single carrier transportation featuring pickup and delivery service), while retaining the essential requirement that shippers be charged the rate in effect on the day the first (or initiating) carrier takes possession of the cargo.

19. Section 531.4(b) (7) (iv). Container Description Rule. IICL argued for a longer, more precise definition of "container" and claimed that the proposed rule should expressly permit carriers to employ conversion tables which assess proportionately higher rates for the use of nonstandard sized containers. Matson wanted the proposed definitions deleted, or, alternatively, that the definition of "container" be modified to include boxes "with or without wheels"—apparently to accommodate specific provisions in Matson's present tariff. Final section 531.5(b) (7) (xv) has been revised to more clearly state that its intended objective is only to require an adequate description of all equipment used as basis for assessing rates. The rules does not require the use of any particular type of equipment. We find no specific fault with IICL's proposed definition of "container" from a substantive viewpoint, but it is overly complex for our present purpose. The final rule distinguishes "containers" from "trailers" in a simple fashion. Carriers are then required to described each type of container or trailer for which they chose to make rates available. Final section 531.5(b) (7) (xv) does not forbid the use of conversion tables which discriminate against non-standard equipment. However, any deviations from uniform treatment will be closely scrutinized by the Commission to assure that the discriminatory charges are justified by cost differences or other legitimate transportation considerations.

20. Section 531.5(c). Options as to Applicable Rates Forbidden. MSC found the proposed rule confusing as applied to commodities which may move under either government or civilian cargo classifications, and sought assurances that certain "options" presently available to military cargo which are under investigation in FMC Docket No. 75-20 will continue to be permitted under the new Part 531 regulations. Final section 531.6 (a) contains a simplified version of the original proposal which is not intended to directly address the validity of shipper "options" such as the choice between a genuine "FAK" rate or a specific commodity rate. The final rule merely forbids the filing of rates which are clearly duplicative, conflicting or ambiguous. The possibility that a tariff allows a given commodity to qualify (upon meeting expressly stated conditions for carriage) for more than one rate when the different rates in question reflect bona fide differences in transportation conditions is not grounds for rejection or cancellation.

21. Section 531.8(g) (6). Notarization of Special Permission Applications. PRMSA objected to the original proposal because Puerto Rican law allows only attorneys to be notary publics and, PRMSA claims, attorneys charge too much for notarial services. MSC suggested that formal attestation be replaced with a signed "unsworn declaration under penalty of perjury" pursuant to recently enacted Pub. L. 94-550, 28 U.S.C. 1746. Final section 531.18(e) (3) incorporates MSC's suggestion.

22. Section 531.9(a). Collections or Absorptions of Terminal Charges. Matson contended that the proposed regulation was unclear and unworkable to the extent it required the "dollar amounts" of collections or absorptions to be stated in the carrier's tariff, primarily because the exact amounts involved often vary from day to day. Final section 531.9 has been modified and reorganized to eliminate the features complained of by Matson. The final rule requires a full description of all terminal services provided as part of a tariffed transportation service, whether charged for separately or included in the line haul rate. Dollar amounts must be stated only when the carrier collects a separate charge for services it performs itself (or through agents) or offers shippers a terminal allowance in lieu of performing specified services—i.e., when the carrier can control the dollar amounts involved. When a third party (not the carrier or its agents) performs terminal services which are charged against the cargo, the tariff must advise the shipper of this fact, but may refer to a terminal tariff or other governing publication for an exact statement of the charges in question.

23. Section 531.14(d) (1). Publication of Exact Rate Divisions Received For Through Intermodal Transportation. TMT claimed that the rate divisions received by participating carriers do not interest through route shippers, and the public availability of such information would only aggravate local shippers who pay higher rates for local transportation between the same points. The ICC permits joint through route carriers to file rate divisions on a confidential basis and TMT suggests that the Commission adopt the same policy. Final section 531.8(a) (5) contains the original proposal, modified by editorial changes and by the addition of a requirement that "charges" applicable to the through transportation in question also be broken out on a port-to-port basis. This Commission has always required public disclosure of through route rate divisions (although not always in tariff form) and has found that public reaction to such divisions is valuable in assessing the fairness and usefulness of the through rate. No valid reason occurs to us for deviating from this practice in the case of through intermodal transportation, especially since it involves rate divisions subject to the regulatory jurisdiction of different administrative agencies.

24. Section 531.1(s). Definition of Tariff Posting. No comments were received concerning the original proposal, but modifications were made which limit the applicability of "post" to the maintenance of tariffs for public inspection, thereby more clearly distinguishing the term from "filing" which is the submission of tariff matter to the Commission.

25. Section 531.16(a) (2). Seasonal Transportation. No comments were received concerning the original proposal, but subparagraph (a) (2) has been deleted to more clearly indicate that tariffs which are filed without an express reference to their seasonal nature are subject to rejection.

26. Sections 531.17(c) (3) and (4); section 531.17(d). Arrangement of Tariffs in an Index of Tariffs. No comments were received concerning the original proposal, but modifications were made in final section 531.16(c) to simplify the proposed requirements. The final rule now requires Tariff Indices to be arranged by type of tariff, listed in the order of their FMC series and number designations. Paragraph (d) was modified to require Tariff Indices to be amended within 30 days after any change in the information contained therein, rather than by the periodic reissuance of the Index.

Therefore, pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 552); sections 15, 16, 18(a), 21, and 43 of the Shipping Act, 1916 (46 U.S.C. 814-815, 817(a), 820, and 841a); and sections 2, 3, and 4 of the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933 (46 U.S.C. 844-845a), It is ordered, That the Commission's Domestic Commerce Tariff Rules (46 CFR Part 531) are amended as set forth in the attached Appendix; and

It is further ordered, That the aforesaid amendments shall take effect on

See footnotes at end of article.

January 1, 1978, provided that General Accounting Office clearance pursuant to 44 U.S.C. 3512 is obtained prior to that date. New or reissued tariffs tendered for filing on or after January 1, 1978 shall be fully subject to the new regulations. Tariff amendments submitted on or after the effective date will, however, continue to be accepted in the same format as the tariff being amended until January 1, 1979. By the latter date, all tariff material employed by carriers engaged in domestic offshore commerce shall conform to the requirements of revised Part 531. Tariffs on file at that time which do not meet these requirements shall be cancelled; and

It is further ordered, That the aforesaid amendments to Part 531 be designated as General Order 38; and

It is further ordered, That the exemption from the Shipping and Intercoastal Shipping Acts granted to Foss Launch & Tug Co., Foss Alaska Line, Inc., Puget Sound Tug & Barge Co., and Alaska Barge & Transport, Inc., through December 31, 1978 (41 FR 6070, Feb. 11, 1976) shall not be affected by the adoption of the aforesaid amendments; and

It is further ordered, That existing grants of special permission excusing compliance with domestic commerce tariff filing requirements shall continue according to their original terms until further action of the Commission; and

It is further ordered, That the "Motion to Accept Late Filed Comments" of Trailer Marine Transport Corporation is denied.

By Order of the Commission.

FRANCIS C. HURNEY,
Secretary.

§ 531.0 Scope.

These regulations govern the publication, filing, and posting of tariffs for the transportation of property or passengers performed by common carriers by water in interstate commerce which are subject to the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended, including through transportation offered in conjunction with one or more common carriers not subject to said Shipping Act. Common carriers subject to the Shipping Act are those vessel operating and nonvessel operating carriers providing transportation by water between: (a) Any of the 48 contiguous states or the District of Columbia and Alaska or Hawaii; (b) any state or the District of Columbia and any territory, commonwealth, possession or district (excluding the District of Columbia); (c) Alaska and Hawaii; (d) any territory, commonwealth, possession or district (excluding the District of Columbia) and any other such territory, commonwealth, possession, or district; and (e) places in the same district, territory, commonwealth or possession (excluding the District of Columbia); and which are not solely engaged in transportation subject to 49 U.S.C. 316(c), 49 U.S.C. 905(b), or 49 U.S.C. 1018.

§ 531.1 Exemptions.

The following services are exempt from the tariff filing requirements of the Act and the rules of this Part:

(a) Transportation subject to 49 U.S.C. 316(c), 49 U.S.C. 905(b), or 49 U.S.C. 1018;

(b) Round trip passenger excursion voyages;

(c) Transportation by vessels with a cargo carrying capacity of 100 tons or less, or with an indicated horsepower of 100 or less; Provided, That such vessels: (1) Are not employed by or under the common control or management of a domestic offshore carrier which operates vessels in excess of these limits; (2) are not operated as part of a through route with another domestic offshore carrier; and (3) are not performing lighterage services in connection with or on behalf of another domestic offshore carrier;

(d) Transportation of passengers, commercial buses carrying passengers, personal vehicles and personal effects by vessels operated by the State of Alaska between Seattle, Washington, and ports in Southeastern Alaska; Provided, That said personal vehicles and personal effects are not transported for the purpose of sale, lease, or other commercial activities;

(e) Transportation between the continental United States and Puerto Rico of bulk liquid cargoes in quantities of not less than 200,000 gallons per shipment (i.e., a single shipper to a single consignee); such shipments are carried in tank vessels designed exclusively for bulk liquid cargoes and certified under regulations approved by the Coast Guard pursuant to 46 U.S.C. 391(a).

§ 531.2 Definitions.

The following shall apply to the regulations of this Part and to all tariffs filed pursuant to them:

(a) Amendment. Any change, alteration, correction or modification of an existing tariff, including tariff supplements.

(b) Act. The Shipping Act, 1916, as amended (including the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933, and the Transportation Act of 1940).

(c) Carrier. Any common carrier in interstate commerce. Commonly owned or controlled carriers operating in different transportation modes shall be considered separate carriers for purposes of this Part (see § 531.2(u)).

(d) Class Rates. Transportation rates applied to specific groups or classes of commodities which are established in accordance with a governing commodity classification scheme.

(e) Classification. A publication (not a rate tariff) establishing a scheme for grouping or classifying commodities and for applying an accompanying class rate tariff (or a section of a tariff containing class rates) to the various commodity classes established.

(f) Commission. The Federal Maritime Commission.

(g) Commodity Rates. Transportation rates applied to commodities specifically named or described in the tariff in which the rates are published.

(h) Domestic Offshore Carrier. A common carrier by water in interstate commerce as defined by section 1 of the Act.

(i) File, Filed, Filing (of Tariff Matter). The actual receipt by the Federal Maritime Commission at its offices in Washington, D.C., during regular business hours.

(j) Joint Rates. Rates agreed upon by two or more carriers for transportation jointly offered over all or part of the routes of each participating carrier.

(k) Local Rates. Rates for transportation between two points over the route of a single carrier, the application of which is not contingent upon a prior or subsequent movement of the cargo or passengers carried.

(l) Person. Includes individuals, firms, partnerships, associations, companies, corporations, joint stock associations, trustees, receivers, agents, assignees and personal representatives.

(m) Port. A place at which a domestic offshore carrier originates or terminates (by transshipment or otherwise) its actual ocean carriage of property or passengers as to any particular transportation movement.

(n) Post, Posted, Posting (Of Tariff Matter). The maintenance of a complete, up-to-date tariff at local and general offices of the carriers party to the tariff under conditions assuring its availability for inspection by members of the public.

(o) Project Rates. Rates applicable to the transportation of materials and equipment to be employed in the construction or one-time development of a named facility used for a major government project.

See footnotes at end of article.

mental, charitable, manufacturing, resource exploitation, public utility, or public utility, or public service purpose, and also including disaster relief projects. Such construction or development must be undertaken by either the shipper or consignee named on the bill of lading and none of the materials or equipment covered shall be transported for the purpose of resale or other commercial distribution.

(p) Proportional Rates. Transportation rates conditioned upon a prior or subsequent movement of the cargo or passengers carried.

(q) Round Trip Excursion Voyage. A single voyage which originates and terminates at the same port, does not permanently disembark passengers at any intermediate port, and does not call at any port outside of the United States, its territories, commonwealths, districts or possessions.

(r) Substituted Service. The occasional use of transportation facilities different from those which the publishing carrier normally and regularly offers to the public; those instances where transportation is performed by someone other than the publishing carrier due to unexpected operating exigencies. The offering or performing of a regular service by means of overland or air transportation over part of the publishing carrier's route, or by using a waterborne service not under the operational control of the publishing carrier, is an arrangement for through transportation and may not be described as substituted service.

(s) Tariff. A written document containing all existing and proposed rates, fares, charges, classifications, rules, regulations and practices governing the transportation of passengers or property all or a segment of which is performed by a domestic offshore carrier (includes rate tariffs, governing tariffs, and all current amendments thereto).

(t) Tariff Matter, Tariff Material, Tariff Publication. A tariff or any portion thereof tendered for filing with the Commission pursuant to this Part.

(u) Through Intermodal Transportation. Transportation at joint rates over a through route by two or more carriers, at least one of which is, and one of which is not, a domestic offshore carrier. Through transportation entirely by water may be intermodal transportation for purposes of this Part when one or more participating carrier is subject to rate regulation pursuant to Part III of the Interstate Commerce Act, 49 U.S.C. 901, et seq.

(v) Through Rate. A total charge for transportation from origin to destination. It may be a local rate, a joint rate, or a combination of separately established rates.

(w) Through Route. Continuous transportation between origin and destination for which a through rate is assessed and which is offered or performed by (1) a single domestic offshore carrier offering service between port terminal areas; (2) two or more domestic offshore carriers; or (3) one or more domestic offshore carriers in connection with one or more other carriers.

(x) Transshipment. The physical transfer of cargo from one carrier to another in the course of a through route where at least one of the exchanging carriers is a vessel operating domestic offshore carrier.

§ 531.3 Filing of tariffs; general.

(a) Every domestic offshore carrier shall file with the Commission and keep open to public inspection tariffs showing its actual rates, fares and charges for or in connection with transportation between all points on its own route, and all points on any through route established in conjunction with other carriers. Such tariffs shall plainly show the places between which freight or passengers will be carried and shall contain any classification of freight and passenger accommodations affecting or determining the rates applicable to such transportation and shall state separately each terminal or other charge, privilege, or facility granted or allowed to shippers or passengers and any rules or regulations which in anywise change, affect, or determine any part of the total rates, fares or charges assessed or the value of service rendered to consignors, consignees or passengers.

(b) Tariff matter tendered for filing which fails to comply with the Act, the rules of this Part, or an order of the Commission is subject to rejection. The Commission also may at any time direct the reissuance or cancellation of tariff matter which does not conform to the Act or the rules of this Part.

(c) Tariffs may be filed only by a responsible official of or a tariff agent appointed by a domestic offshore carrier participating in the transportation offered therein. When a tariff agent is employed, a delegation of authority from each participating domestic offshore carrier must either be on file with the Commission or submitted with the tariff matter tendered for filing.

(1) Delegations of tariff filing authority shall be written on the letterhead and signed by a responsible official of the carrier on whose behalf the agent is to act. Such letters of appointment shall state that a tariff agent has been appointed as of a particular date, identify the agent by name and business address. Indicate whether and under what circumstances any other person is authorized to serve as an alternate agent, and specifically set forth the agent's powers and duties to act for the carrier in tariff matters. Only one alternate agent may be appointed.

(2) More than one delegation of authority covering any one tariff is prohibited; Provided, That governing tariffs filed pursuant to § 531.14 of this Part may be the subject of separate delegations. Submission of a subsequent delegation of authority covering a tariff, governing tariff or group of tariffs shall automatically revoke any earlier delegation as to that tariff or tariffs on the day the subsequent delegation is filed, as evidence by the Commission's receipt notation.

(3) A delegation of authority to tariff agent may be revoked in whole or in part by filing a letter of revocation which clearly identifies the delegation of authority and the particular powers and duties being revoked, said letter of revocation to be in the same format as the letter appointing the agent.

(d) Tariffs filed under this Part shall be numbered consecutively, with a carrier's initial filing in any particular series being designated No. 1. Freight, passenger, and government tariffs shall be numbered in separate series. Freight tariffs shall be designated as Tariff FMC-F No. —; passenger tariffs shall be designated as Tariff FMC-P No. —; tariffs governing government cargo or passengers shall be designated as Tariff FMC-G No. —; and tariff indices shall be designated FMC-I No. —.

(1) Tariff submissions which are not so numbered may be accepted for filing on an occasional basis if accompanied by a letter clearly explaining the purpose and need for the deviation.

(e) Tariff matter may only be filed during the regular business hours of the Commission's Washington, D.C. office, as provided in § 502.2 of the Commission's Rules.

(f) Unless otherwise provided by the Act, the Commission or the rules of this Part, all tariff matter tendered for filing (including the tariffs of carriers entering a trade for the first time), shall bear an effective date which permits at least 30 days notice of the filing.

(1) The 30 day notice period between filing date and effective date shall commence at 12:01 a.m. of the day of filing, as evidenced by the Commission's receipt notation; the tariff may take effect at 12:01 a.m. of the 31st day.

(g) Except as otherwise provided, tariff matter shall be transmitted to the Commission in duplicate, with both copies contained in a single package or envelope and with all postage or other delivery charges prepaid.

(h) Tariff matter tendered for filing shall be transmitted to each subscriber to the publishing carrier's tariff by first-class mail, not later than the time the tendered material is transmitted to the Commission.

(1) Copies of individual tariff publications or regular subscriptions to an entire tariff filed pursuant to this Part shall be promptly made available to any person requesting the same in writing. Subscriptions to a given tariff shall include all special permission requests which pertain to that tariff. Except as otherwise provided by the rules of this Part, carriers may assess a reasonable charge for tariff copies and tariff subscriptions, i.e., not greater than the full cost of reproduction and delivery of the material's in question.

(2) The governor of any state, commonwealth or territory served by a domestic offshore carrier may request a carrier in writing to furnish a designated governmental official or office no more than two (2) copies of any tariff matter filed by the carrier which pertains to trades affecting the state, commonwealth or territory in question. Upon receipt of such a request, the carrier shall promptly provide the designated official or office with the requested copies of its existing tariff(s) and add the official or office to its list of tariff subscribers. No charge shall be made for this service, but such officials and officers shall be treated in the same fashion as paid subscribers in all other respects and are considered tariff subscribers for purposes of this Part.

(1) Tariff matter tendered for filing must be accompanied by a letter of transmittal not to exceed 8½ inches by 11 inches in size, which shall:

(A) Fully identify the filing party (i.e., the publishing carrier or its tariff agent) including its name, business address and business telephone;

(B) Fully identify each tariff publication tendered, including the following information in tabular form: Carrier Name, Tariff No., Revision/Page/Supplement No.;

(C) Describe the specific effect of each tariff change implemented by each tariff publication listed in subparagraph (2), above;

(D) Include or attach such certifications as are required by Part 512 of the Commission's Rules;

(E) Certify compliance with the requirements of section 531.3(h); and

(F) Include or attach a delegation of authority from the publishing carrier(s) appointing the tariff filing agent (applicable only if the filing party is a tariff agent and an appropriate delegation of authority is not already on file).

(j) Letters of transmittal shall be tendered in duplicate. One copy will be receipted and returned to the filing party, provided that a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed for that purpose.

(k) No domestic offshore carrier may publish any tariff matter which duplicates or conflicts with any other tariff or tariff provision to which said carrier is a party.

(l) Tariff matter which fails to meet the requirements of the Act, the rules of this Part, or an order of the Commission may be rejected after filing. The filing party shall be notified in writing of the reason for the rejection and one copy of the rejected material will be returned to it.

(1) Rejected tariff material is void and its use is unlawful. The revision number or, in the case of an entire tariff, the series number, of a rejected tariff publication shall not be used again, nor shall the rejected publication be referenced in any subsequent tariff publication as being, or having been, cancelled, amended, or withdrawn. Tariff matter tendered in place of rejected material must bear the notation:

Issued in lieu of (identify the rejected material) rejected by the Federal Maritime Commission.

and must cancel any prior publication which the rejected material was originally intended to cancel.

(m) Acceptance of tariff matter does not establish the legality of the rates and practices described therein. The mere filing of a tariff does not excuse the publishing carrier from the obligations of the Act or the Commission's Rules, regardless of whether these obligations preceded or followed the acceptance of the tariff in question.

(n) Tariff matter filed with the Commission shall not be surrendered to or withdrawn by the publishing carrier.

(o) Domestic offshore carriers shall maintain their tariffs in a complete, accessible and usable form and shall keep them available for inspection by any member of the public during ordinary business hours.

(1) There shall be posted at each facility at which a domestic offshore carrier receives freight or passengers for transportation, or at which it employs a general or sales agent, a copy of all of that carrier's tariffs governing transportation to and from the facility in question.

(2) There shall be posted at the principal place of business of a domestic offshore carrier all of the tariffs under which that carrier offers transportation service subject to this Part.

(3) Tariff publications shall be posted a minimum of 30 days prior to their effective date unless otherwise provided for by the Act, the Commission, or the rules of this Part. Amendments (including supplements) which have been filed, but are not yet effective, shall be posted in a fashion which clearly identifies their prospective nature and shall not physically replace existing tariff matter until said amendments reach their effective date. The maintenance of a presently effective tariff in one binder and all filed, but not yet effective, tariff matter affecting that tariff in a second "proposed tariff changes" binder is recommended. Persons requesting to inspect a carrier's tariffs shall, upon reasonable notice, be provided sufficient instruction or assistance to allow them to ascertain both the present and proposed rates and practices of the carrier.

(p) Only tariffs of persons engaged in common carriage by water shall be filed. Tariffs shall not contain terms such as "Taken by Special Agreement or Arrangement only," "Subject to Carrier's Option of Acceptance," or "Carried at Cargo Owner's Risk," which (unless accompanied by sufficient qualifying language explaining a more limited interpretation) are clearly inconsistent with the legal responsibilities of a common carrier towards the shipping public.

(1) Tariff publications shall not contain rules purporting to limit their liability in a manner not authorized by law;

(2) The tariffs and delegations of authority of a carrier which ceases operations in a trade for more than 30 days (other than seasonal discontinuances as provided by § 531.15 of this Part) shall be cancelled within 60 days after the cessation of operations.

§ 531.4 Form and preparation of tariffs.

in size, and plainly and legibly printed, mimeographed, planographed or otherwise durably reproduced on paper equivalent to, or better than, offset book paper, Sub. 100. Pages shall be printed on one side only, using not less than 8-point bold or full face type except that 6-point type may be used for reference marks, explanations, column headings, or bills of lading. Original typewritten or proof sheets shall not be used for filing or posting.

(b) Tariff matter tendered for filing or used for posting shall not contain erasures or original alterations of any nature.

(c) A margin, without any printing or tariff matter thereon, of not less than three-quarters of an inch is required on the top, bottom, and binding edges of all tariff pages. A similar blank margin of not less than 1/4 of an inch is required on the nonbinding edge of all pages.

(d) Tariff matter containing rates will be arranged in an orderly columnar fashion with vertical ruling separating columns of rates, rate bases, and commodity/item descriptions. Horizontal groupings will be done in a manner which clearly defines the rates, terms, conditions, etc., applicable to a given commodity or item, with no more than six horizontal lines of type without a page-wide break or horizontal ruling. Exhibit I following this section demonstrates the required format.

(a) The Title Page of every tariff shall contain the following information (Exhibit II following this section illustrates the required format):

(1) The operating name of the publishing carrier (or group of carriers) followed by an annotation identifying it as either a nonvessel operating common carrier (NVOC) or a vessel operating common carrier (VOCC).

(2) The FMC file number of all section 15 agreements pertaining to the transportation service offered.

(3) The tariff series and number assigned pursuant to § 531.3(d).

(4) A designation of any tariffs cancelled by the instant tariff (see § 531.12 (a)). Cancellation designations shall be printed immediately under the assigned tariff number unless there are so many cancellations as to make this impractical. In such case, the designations of cancelled tariffs shall be shown on an interior page which is referenced on the Title Page in the position where the cancellation designations would otherwise appear.

(5) All ports or points from, to, or between which transportation is offered, or a reference to the interior page where a list of such ports or points can be found. Cities, towns or communities are to be listed, not street addresses.

(6) A description of each type service offered, e.g., direct (no change of vessel), transshipment.

(7) A description of each type of rate offered, i.e., local, proportional, joint, through, class, commodity, or combinations thereof.

(8) Identification of any governing tariffs or reference to an internal tariff page containing this information (see § 531.14).

(9) (i) An effective date. When a revised Title Page is submitted, the effective date of the original Title Page shall also be shown.

(ii) An expiration notice (when applicable). If the tariff contains provisions which expire at a specific time, the expiration date shall be shown in the tariff items to which it applies and the existence of such an expiration date shall be indicated on the Title Page with a reference to the affected tariff item.

(10) The name, title and mailing address of the filing party.

(11) The operating name of all carriers participating in the tariff and the full address of their principal place of business, or a reference to an internal tariff page containing this information.

(12) A list of all supplements currently applicable to the tariff (see § 531.11).

(b) The body of the tariff shall contain, in the exact order named below, the following information:

(1) A table of contents and a complete index showing the location of all information necessary to accurately determine the complete rates, fares and charges applicable to the services offered by the tariff. Such index will list all such subjects of information alphabetically and show the item or rule number as well as the page number where they can be found.

(2) An alphabetically arranged list of carriers participating in the tariff by operating name. The full legal name (when different from the operating name) and the full address of its principal place of business shall also be shown for each participating carrier. The FMC numbers of all approved section 15 agreements applicable to the transportation offered shall appear after the name of each carrier party to the agreement.

(3) A list of the ports or points from, to, or between which service shall be provided.

(4) The full street address of a receiving/disbursing freight station(s) at which cargo is or may be tendered/claimed by shippers using the service.

(5) A single, complete, alphabetically arranged index of all commodities for which rates are published, showing the page or item number where each rate can be found. A commodity index may be omitted where commodity rates are published in an alphabetical arrangement and the descriptions employed are sufficiently specific as to require no further breakdown besides that required to delineate different minimums or valuations.

(6) A full explanation of any symbols, reference marks, or abbreviations employed. The following standard symbols and explanations are required for the purposes indicated:

(i) Δ to denote reductions;
(ii) ∇ to denote increases;
(iii) Δ to denote changes resulting in neither increases nor reductions in rates or charges;
(iv) \bullet to denote no change in rate;
(v) \square to denote reissued matter; and
(vi) \oplus to denote deletions.

These symbols shall not be used for any other purpose nor shall any other symbol be used for the above purposes.

(7) An alphabetical list of other tariff publications which govern the service being offered in any manner (see section 531.14), including their series and number designations.

(8) The rules and regulations affecting the transportation being offered. Specific rules shall be published to govern at least the following matters:

(i) Application of rates. A clear and definite statement of all services provided to shippers as being included in the published rates.

(ii) Effective date. A clear and definite statement of the time at which tariff changes become applicable to any particular shipment. In the case of joint rates (including those for through intermodal transportation), the rate applicable to any particular cargo movement shall be that rate which is in effect on the day the initiating carrier takes possession of the shipment.

(iii) Heavy lift practices and charges.
(iv) Extra length practices and charges.

(v) Minimum bill of lading charges.
(vi) Payment of freight charges. A clear and definite statement of the terms of payment for transportation services rendered, e.g., C.O.D., prepaid only. If credit is extended, the rule must describe the credit terms offered and the conditions under which credit will be extended.

(vii) Bills of lading. A specimen copy of any bill of lading, contract of affreightment, or other document evidencing the transportation agreement between carrier and shipper shall be provided, unless a governing bill of lading tariff has been filed pursuant to section 531.14 of this Part. Such shipping contracts shall indicate that they are subject to the terms and conditions of the carrier's Federal Maritime Commission tariffs and shall not contain provisions which are more stringent than, or otherwise conflict with, the terms of such tariffs.

(viii) Freight forwarder compensation. A statement of the exact rate or rates, if any, to be paid independent ocean freight forwarders (see also § 510.24(f) of the Commission's Rules).

(ix) Application of surcharges and arbitrators. A clear and definite statement of the method by which surcharges, arbitrators, or other similar charges are to be applied, e.g., in aggregate, by compounding.

(x) Minimum quantity rates (alternation of rates). When two or more rates are applicable to the same commodity, depending upon the quantities shipped, there shall be a tariff rule stating:

When two or more freight rates are named for the carriage of goods of the same description, and the application is dependent upon the quantity of the goods shipped, the charges assessed against the smaller shipment shall not exceed those for any larger quantity.

(xi) Ad valorem rates. When an ad valorem rate is published, the exact method of computing the charge and the additional liability, if any, assumed by the carrier in consideration thereof shall be specified.

(xii) Transshipment service. When transshipment service is offered pursuant to agreements subject to section 15 of the Act, any tariff provisions required by the agreement itself or by Part 524 of the Commission's Rules shall be stated.

(xiii) Hazardous cargo. When rates for explosive, inflammable, corrosive or other dangerous materials are published (or the published rate tariff does not specifically prohibit carriage of such materials), rules governing their carriage shall be clearly stated unless a governing rules tariff has been filed pursuant to § 531.14 of this Part.

(xiv) Automobile measurement. When rates for automobiles are published (or the published rate tariff does not specifically prohibit carriage of automobiles), the basis for applying these rates must be stated in terms of either weight or measurement, but not both. One of the following rules (i.e., (A) or (B)) must be employed in their entirety:

(A) Automobiles shall be rated by measure. The cubic measurement for the five most recent model years will be those prescribed by the manufacturer of the particular make and model as shown on pages ----- to ----- herein (Alternatively, the carrier may state "as shown in Federal Maritime Commission Publication No. 1, 'Automobile Manufacturers' Measurements'.")

(1) Automobiles whose measurements are not shown above, shall be individually measured by the carrier. This fact shall be noted on the bill of lading.

(2) Automobiles which, because of additional accessories or equipment, vary in dimensions from the standard measurements shown above, shall be individually measured by the carrier. This fact shall be noted on the bill of lading along with the actual variation (in cubic feet) from the standard measurements.

(B) Automobiles shall be rated by weight. Each vehicle tendered for shipment shall be individually weighed on the carrier's scale. Where the carrier does not possess weighing facilities, the shipper shall have the vehicle weighed by a certified weighmaster and furnish the weighmaster's signed statement to the carrier.

(xv) Container description. When rates or charges for containerized or trailerized cargo are based upon the use of a standard size, type, or capacity container/trailer, or upon the use of specifically identified container/trailers, then the tariff shall:

(A) State the exact size, type, capacity and identity of the container/trailer upon which said rates are based; and

(B) Include a conversion formula or table which readily adjusts the rates or charges applicable to standard container/trailers to those applicable to other container/trailers which might be provided by shippers or consignees or by the carrier itself; Provided, that no conversion formula or table need be included when a tariff expressly precludes carrier and shipper/consignee alike from using nonstandard container/trailers. If referenced by the applicable tariff rule, this information may be set forth in a rate item or in a governing tariff filed pursuant to section 531.14 of this Part.

(C) For purposes of this subdivision, "container" shall mean a demountable freight carrying unit transported on ocean going vessels without wheels attached; "trailer" shall mean a wheeled vehicle, on or in which freight can be carried, transported by ocean going vessels without removing its wheels; "capacity" shall mean the maximum cargo measure or weight available to a shipper using a given container/trailer; and "identity" shall mean the specific serial number(s) or code marking(s) affixed to the container/trailers of a given carrier.

(9) Additional tariff rules shall immediately follow the mandatory rules and shall be numbered consecutively beginning with Rule No. 16.

(i) Special rules affecting particular items, rates or charges shall be expressly referenced in the item, rate or charge affected.

(10) Exceptions to classifications, rules, rates or charges shall be enumerated in the tariff to which they apply. Exceptions to particular items, rates, rules or charges must be set forth within each item, rate, rule or charge affected. General tariff exceptions may be published in a separate rule entitled "Exceptions to the Application of this Tariff."

[531.5(a)(9)(ii)]	Expiration Notice: The following contain expiration dates: Supplement No. 6, Item No. 10

§ 531.6 Statement of rates and charges.

(a) All rates and charges shall be stated in a systematic and straight forward manner. Rates, charges, rules, regulations or classifications shall not be duplicative, conflicting or otherwise ambiguous when compared with items in the same tariff or in any other tariff to which the publishing carrier is a party.

(b) The correct application of rates shall be clearly and definitely stated in terms of an established unit of freight (e.g., per 100 pounds, ton of 2,000 pounds, ton of 2,240 pounds, cubic foot).

(c) Rates stated as "per barrel" or "per package" shall define the exact type, size, and capacity of the package unit entitled to the stated rate. Clearly worded rules for correctly determining the weights or measurements of such package units shall be included in the tariff.

(d) Rates which vary with the manner in which cargo is packed or delivered for shipment (e.g., loose, crated, palletized) shall include a clear statement governing their application.

(e) Rates published on a "weight or measurement" basis shall state whether the basis producing the greater or the lesser revenue to the carrier shall apply.

(f) Commodity rates shall displace any class rates which would otherwise be applicable. Commodity rates must be specific and shall not apply by implication, or otherwise, to analogous articles.

(g) Commodities and generic commodity groups on which rates are stated shall be listed alphabetically. When item numbers are published alongside commodities in the index, the item number shall be shown with the appropriate commodity wherever else the commodity appears in the tariff.

(h) A commodity item may establish rates for several articles without naming them; Provided, That it references an item or rule in the same tariff (or a governing classification filed pursuant to § 531.14 of this Part) which does name the affected commodities.

(i) Rates for or to designated ports may be established by applying an arbitrary or differential charge based upon the rate applicable to a specified "base port;" Provided, That any such arbitrary or differential is clearly defined and is referenced in the rate item affected.

(j) Commodity rates subject to minimum quantity requirements shall include a clear statement of such requirements in the commodity item description to which they apply.

(k) Rates for the transportation of different, separately rated articles in mixed lots where no specific mixture of articles is required ("mixed shipment") shall be established by a general tariff rule which clearly defines such rates and the basis for their application.

(l) Rates for the transportation of different, separately rated articles in specified proportions as a single generic commodity (not mixed shipments) shall be established by a general tariff rule which clearly describes the mixture of articles required.

(1) Such rule shall require that the composition of the qualifying shipment be shown on the face of the bill of lading governing the movement; Provided, That if the shipment contains a greater number of different commodities than is required to qualify for the generic rate, the bill of lading description need show the shipment's composition only to the extent necessary to so qualify.

(m) Tariffs purporting to establish project rates shall:

(1) Include an exact description of the project which demonstrates that it is entitled to be designated a "project rate" within the meaning of § 531.1(c) of this Part;

(2) Include a list of the commodities to be transported under the project rate;

(3) Include a statement of the exact date upon which the project rate will expire;

(4) Include a statement that only proprietary materials actually employed in the project are eligible for the project rate and provide for the use of a bill of lading clause on all project rate cargo which states that: "All materials included in this bill of lading are of a wholly proprietary nature and shall not be resold or otherwise commercially distributed at destination."

(5) Be accompanied by a separate economic justification demonstrating that the project rate will cover the carrier's variable costs and contribute to its fixed expenses; and

(6) Be accompanied by a separate certificate of service reciting the names of all domestic offshore carriers with FMC tariffs for transportation between the project rate ports (if no such carriers exist, then a statement is required to that effect) and stating that said carriers have been simultaneously mailed a copy of the tariff filing (exclusive of economic justification).

(n) Proportional rates must be accompanied by a clear statement of the circumstances under which, and the points between which, they shall apply. When no such statement is provided, a proportional rate shall be available in connection with any other rate to or from the proportional rate point in question.

(o) Tariffs published subject to a governing classification shall not state rates as a percentage of a base rate, but shall publish a specific rate for each class or percentage thereof for which service is proposed.

§ 531.7 [Reserved]

§ 531.8 Tariffs containing provisions for through intermodal transportation.

(a) In addition to the other rules of this Part, tariffs containing rates, charges, rules or regulations for through intermodal transportation shall:

(1) Contain a Title Page stating that the tariff pertains to through intermodal transportation.

(2) List, either on the Title Page or on an interior page referenced on the Title Page, all ports or points to, from and between which the rates apply and the ports through which cargo originating or terminating in such places shall move. Ports or points served shall be described by the name of the city or town which commonly identifies the actual area where freight or passengers are picked up or delivered.

(3) Describe the mode of transportation provided by each participating carrier, i.e., highway, railroad, air, water (FMC), and water (non-FMC).

(4) Contain a rule setting forth the liability and responsibility of each participating carrier, together with a specimen of the bill of lading or other contract of affreightment governing the intermodal service offered.

(5) State all through intermodal rates together with the port-to-port proportion rate collected by the domestic offshore carrier for ocean transportation. The port-to-port proportional rate may be shown in either:

(i) A column adjacent to the column containing the applicable through rate; or

(ii) Directly under the commodity description or the through rate.

(6) Separately state all charges collected by the domestic offshore carrier.

(b) When through intermodal rates are constructed by combining domestic offshore rates with inland rates published in effective Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) or Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) tariffs, copies of the actual ICC or CAB tariff material may be incorporated into the required FMC tariff as a separate informational tariff section.

(1) The tariff format requirements of this Part shall not apply to ICC and CAB tariff material tendered as a section of a through intermodal tariff; Provided, That each page thereof is clearly marked to indicate that it is for informational purposes only and that the pages also bear the tariff series and number designations of the FMC tariff to which they belong. Whenever the ICC or CAB tariff being incorporated is amended, cancelled or otherwise altered, the corresponding informational sections of the FMC tariff shall be simultaneously and identically altered.

(c) A memorandum of every agreement or arrangement between a domestic offshore carrier and any other carrier establishing through intermodal transportation, but not subject to prior approval pursuant to section 15 of the Act, shall be filed concurrently with the filing of any through intermodal transportation tariffs based upon such agreement or arrangement.

§ 531.9 Terminal rules, charges and allowances.

(a) All terminal privileges, facilities or services (hereinafter jointly referred to as "terminal services" for purposes of this section) provided to shippers, consignees or passengers shall be fully and completely described in the carrier's tariff, regardless of whether such services result in charges separately assessed and collected as additions to the carrier's basic transportation rate or are simply included within the basic transportation rate without differentiation.

(b) When additional charges are assessed for terminal services provided by the carrier or its agents, the carrier's tariff shall contain an appropriate provision separately stating the exact amount of such charges.

(c) When terminal services are performed or made available by a third party (not the carrier or its agents), and charges for such services are assessed against the account of the cargo or passenger, the carrier's tariff shall contain an appropriate provision advising cargo interests/passengers of this fact. This provision shall describe the terms and conditions under which such services will be made available and performed, and specify how and by whom all applicable charges will be collected. References to an appropriate terminal tariff or other governing publication shall be sufficient to satisfy the requirements of this paragraph.

(d) When allowances or discounts are paid or otherwise made available to shippers, consignees or passengers in lieu of furnishing a terminal service, the carrier's tariff shall contain an appropriate provision separately stating and fully describing all such allowances or discounts. The exact amount of the allowances or discounts and the terms and conditions under which they are paid shall be included in the required tariff provision.

§ 531.10 Amendments to tariffs.

(a) All changes, additions, or deletions from a tariff shall be known as amendments and shall be filed in the manner prescribed by this section unless otherwise provided by the Commission or the Rules of this Part.

(b) Amendments establishing new or initial rates, or changing rates, charges, rules, or other tariff provisions, shall be filed and posted at least 30 days prior to their effective date; Provided, That:

(1) Amendments extending actual service to additional ports at rates or fares already in effect for similar service at the ports being added may take effect on the same day they are filed and posted;

(2) Amendments adopting a tariff pursuant to section 531.17 of this Part may take effect on the same day they are filed and posted;

(3) Amendments completely cancelling a tariff pursuant to § 531.12(a) (2) of this Part due to a cessation of all service by the publishing carrier between the ports or points listed in the cancelled tariff, may take effect on the same day they are filed and posted;

(4) Amendments changing only the name or address of the filing party may be filed and posted on not less than one day's notice;

(5) Amendments in terminal rates, charges and provisions over which the carrier has no control may be filed and posted on not less than ten days' notice; Provided, That the filing occurs within 30 days after the changed terminal practice is actually implemented by the controlling party. Such amendments shall be accompanied by a justification statement fully describing the underlying action of a third party not subject to the carrier's control which makes a short notice tariff change necessary.

(i) If based upon a change in the rates of a terminal operator, the name, series, and number designation, page number, item number and the effective date of the operator's terminal tariff shall be cited.

(6) Carriers may file and post on not less than one day's notice, amendments establishing additional terminal facilities for loading or discharging cargo at ports or harbors already served; Provided, That the rates to be charged at such facilities are the same as those currently applicable to comparable facilities of the carrier at the same port or harbor.

(7) Amendments announcing seasonal discontinuance or restoration of service may be filed and posted on not less than ten days' notice. Such amendments shall contain a brief statement announcing the date of discontinuance/restoration and may include no other tariff matter.

(c) Amendments shall be made by re-printing the entire page upon which the changed tariff matter will be found. Amended pages shall be designated, in the upper right-hand corner, as revised pages and shall cancel the preceding edition of the same page; i.e.,

(d) Amendments to existing tariff provisions shall be indicated by the use of the symbols specified in § 531.5(b) (5) of this Part:

(1) When the same change is made in all, or substantially all, the rates or fares in an entire tariff (or in those printed on a single tariff page), the nature of the change may be indicated in boldface type at the top of the Title Page (or individual tariff page) in substantially the following form: "All rates or fares in this tariff (or supplement or on this page) are increases (reductions), except as otherwise indicated."

(2) When amendments deleting existing tariff matter alter the amount paid by the shipper/consignee, the effect of this change shall be indicated as required by § 531.5(b)(5) (i) and (ii) of this Part. In addition, the amendment shall state the provisions, if any, still applicable to the tariff matter affected by the deletion.

(3) When deleted tariff material is republished on a different page, the page from which it is deleted shall contain a specific reference to the page on which the relocated provisions can be found.

(e) Amendments effective upon lesser notice periods than those provided by paragraph (b) of this section (i.e., after receipt of special permission authority granted by the Commission), shall contain the notation required by § 531.18(i) of this Part.

§ 531.11 Supplements to tariffs.

(a) A supplement is a particular type of tariff amendment which may be filed to accomplish the following tariff changes only:

(1) General rate changes applicable to all, or substantially all, commodities listed in the tariff;

(2) Transfers of operations or changes in carrier control or name pursuant to § 531.17 of this Part;

(3) Implementation of a Commission suspension order pursuant to § 531.13(b) of this Part;

(4) Changes in effective dates affecting an entire tariff;

(5) Cancellations of either an entire tariff or previous supplements to a tariff; partial cancellations of any type are not to be filed as supplements.

(b) No more than one active supplement affecting any given tariff item shall be permitted at any given time; e.g., only one general rate increase supplement may be on file at any one time.

(c) Tariffs shall contain no more than four active supplements.

(d) Supplements shall contain either a list of participating carriers which conforms with section 531.5(b)(2) of this Part or a statement that the participating carriers are "as shown in the tariff" or "as shown in tariff amended as follows."

(e) Tariff matter brought forward without change from one supplement to another shall be designated "reissued" and shall show the original effective date and the number of the supplement from which it was reissued.

(f) Supplements shall be numbered consecutively with the first to be issued designated number one; e.g., Supplement No. 1 to FMC-F No. 3.

See footnotes at end of article.

(g) The first page of every supplement shall:

(1) Contain the operating name of the publishing carrier as shown on the Title Page of the tariff being amended;

(2) Set out, in the upper right-hand corner and in the following order:

(i) the number of the supplement;

(ii) the series and number of the tariff being amended;

(iii) a statement (if applicable) that the supplement cancels a previous supplement or an entire tariff;

(iv) a statement indicating the numbers of all supplements currently in effect.

E.g., Supplement No. 5 to FMC-F No. 3 cancels Supplement No. 2 FMC-F No. 3. Supplement Nos. 3, 4, and 5 contain all changes.

(3) Publish, in the upper right-hand corner, an effective date which conforms with § 531.10(b) of this Part.

(h) The issuance of a supplement shall require the revision of the Title Page of the tariff being amended (see § 531.5(a)(12)).

§ 531.12 Cancellation of tariffs.

(a) An entire tariff may be cancelled by:

(1) The issuance of a similar tariff to take its place which contains a cancellation notice printed on the Title Page in accordance with § 531.5(a)(4) of this Part;

(2) The issuance of a consecutively numbered supplement which contains a cancellation notice printed on its first page in accordance with § 531.11(h)(2) of this Part.

(b) Cancellation of an entire tariff automatically cancels all amendments or supplements thereto. Cancellation by supplement is permitted even if the tariff being cancelled contains the maximum number of active supplements allowed by § 531.11(d)(1).

(c) A cancelling publication shall state the tariff(s) applicable to those services, if any, offered under the cancelled tariff which will continue to be offered by the participating carrier(s) and state where these continued services may be found in such tariff(s). If cancellation changes the rates or charges for any continued services, each change shall be indicated on the cancelling publication by the uniform symbols of § 531.5(b)(5) (i-iii) of this Part.

(d) Should the Commission subsequently cancel all or any part of a previously suspended tariff publication, the publishing carrier shall effectuate the cancellation by filing upon not less than one day's notice (or such other period as the Commission may specify), a supplement or revised page stating the date upon which such suspended matter was ordered cancelled.

(e) If suspended tariff matter is not cancelled prior to its effective date, it shall take effect automatically and the tariff matter which was continued in effect during the suspension period shall be cancelled automatically.

(f) Suspension, vacating and cancellation supplements issued pursuant to

(3) contains a notice which specifically states any tariff provisions which remain effective in lieu of the suspended provisions;

(4) reproduces those portions of the order directed by the Commission to be so published, or, in the absence of such direction, reproduces the suspension order in its entirety.

(c) Neither suspended matter nor matter continued in effect as a result of a suspension, may be amended, deleted or withdrawn except by order or special permission of the Commission; Provided, however, That a tariff affected by a suspension order may be amended during the suspension period if the amendment does not affect the suspended materials.

(1) All post suspension amendments shall be accompanied by a notation immediately following the cancellation notation (see §§ 531.10(c) and 531.11(h)(iii) which states: " * * * except portions under suspension in Docket No. -----"

(d) If, prior to receiving a suspension order, a carrier files an amendment reissuing, deleting, cancelling or amending any tariff matter named in a subsequent suspension order, the suspension supplement required by paragraph (b) of this section shall specifically cancel from such intervening amendment the reissued, deleted, cancelled or amended material in question.

(e) Should the Commission vacate a suspension order earlier than the date to which the subject tariff publication was originally suspended, the filing carrier may file a vacating supplement stating the date upon which the previously suspended tariff matter will take effect.

(1) Vacating supplements, unless otherwise provided by the Commission, may take effect on one day's notice. Should a carrier elect not to publish a vacating supplement, the suspended provisions will take effect on the date to which they were originally suspended.

(2) Should an order suspending a tariff in its entirety be vacated, the vacating supplement shall contain no tariff material other than the notice of vacating.

(f) Should the Commission subsequently cancel all or any part of a previously suspended tariff publication, the publishing carrier shall effectuate the cancellation by filing upon not less than one day's notice (or such other period as the Commission may specify), a supplement or revised page stating the date upon which such suspended matter was ordered cancelled.

§ 531.14 Governing tariffs.

(a) When it is impractical to include governing rules (e.g., bills of lading/contracts of affreightment, classifications of freight, equipment registers, hazardous cargo rules and similar lengthy tariff matter) in a single rate tariff, these may be separately published and filed as one or more rules tariffs.

(1) Governing tariffs may be used only when expressly referenced by name and series/number designation in the governed tariff of rates or fares as prescribed by §§ 531.5(a)(8) and 531.5(b)(6) of this Part.

(b) Governing tariffs shall conform with all applicable provisions of § 531.5 of this Part.

(c) A rule or regulation affecting freight rates or passenger fares may appear in only one governing tariff.

(d) A governing tariff containing a classification of commodities shall list all commodities in an orderly manner and a specific rating must be shown in connection with each commodity description employed. Rules applying to the classification must precede the list of commodities and shall be separately numbered. Such a classification is valid only in connection with and to the extent expressly provided for in the rate tariff(s) it governs.

§ 531.15 Tariffs applicable to seasonal transportation service.

Tariffs naming rates, fares or rules applicable to all water routes which are closed to navigation during part of a year shall:

(a) Either: (1) Expressly provide for their own expiration at the close of the navigation season; or

(2) Provide for a discontinuance/restoration of service by the publication, either on the Title Page or by an internal rule referenced on the Title Page, of provisions governing such seasonal discontinuance/restoration.

(b) Publish provisions governing the handling of shipments which may arrive at the publishing carrier's facilities after the date service is discontinued.

§ 531.16 Index of tariffs.

(a) Carriers participating in five or more active tariffs, either published in their own names or otherwise, shall publish, post and file an index of such tariffs designated as FMC-I No. No notice period is required for tariff indices; they may take effect upon filing.

(b) The Title Page of an Index of Tariffs shall follow the requirements of § 531.5 of this Part, except that it shall not contain the material required by § 531.5(a)(5), (6), (7), (9), and (11)—scope, statement of service, statement of rate types, effective or expiration date, and list of participating carriers. In addition, the Title Page shall bear the following notation:

See footnotes at end of article.

This index contains a list of tariff publications in effect on (show publication date).

(c) The body of an Index of Tariffs shall list the following types of tariffs, as applicable, in the following order: specific commodities tariffs; general commodities tariffs; class tariffs; passenger tariffs; rules tariffs; miscellaneous tariffs.

(d) Each tariff listed in an Index of Tariffs shall be accompanied by the following information, as applicable, arranged in a columnar manner: FMC series and number designation; operating name of publishing carrier; type of service and type of rates offered; and ports or points from, to and between which the tariff applies.

(1) Tariffs of each type named in paragraph (c) of this section shall be arranged in numerical order by FMC series and number designation.

(e) Indices shall be revised to reflect tariff changes within 30 days from the effective date of the addition or cancellation involved, either by filing and posting a supplement or by filing and posting a reissued index.

(1) Supplements to an Index of Tariffs shall be numbered consecutively, shall be arranged in the same order as the index, and shall show additions, modifications and cancellations by reference to the page and item numbers of the changed entries. Each new supplement shall bear the following notation on its Title Page:

Supplement Nos. and contain changes in effect on date hereof, or which have been filed to become effective at a later date as shown within.

§ 531.17 Transfer of operations, transfer of control and changes in carrier name.

(a) Whenever a carrier performing an ongoing service pursuant to duly posted and filed tariffs either: sells its common carrier operations to another person; transfers working control of its business to another person; or changes its operating or legal name, the person legally entitled to control the ongoing common carrier operation (the "adopting carrier") shall simultaneously file:

(1) A one-page adoption notice numbered in the adopting carrier's FMC series, which states:

FMC-F (or -P or -G) No.

(operating name of adopting carrier)

(i) such revised Title pages shall be accompanied by a letter of concurrence from an appropriate officer (not a tariff agent) of the previous carrier, stating the full details of the transaction necessitating the adoption, and the previous carrier's concurrence therein.

(b) Tariffs adopted under this section shall be cancelled in their entirety within 90 days and shall not be supplemented or amended subsequent to adoption other than to accomplish said cancellation.

(1) The adopting carrier shall publish replacement tariffs under its own operating name and bearing its own consecutive FMC series and number designation to be effective the date following the last effective day of the cancelled tariff. § 531.18 Applications for special permission.

(a) Upon a showing of good cause, the Commission may permit rate changes or the issuance of new or initial rates to take effect on short notice, and otherwise waive the requirements of this Part.

(1) Special permission requests for authority to correct typographical errors must specify the error involved, include a full statement of the attending circumstances, and be presented with reasonable promptness after issuance of the defective tariff publication.

(2) Other special permission requests shall state the specific rules from which relief is requested, the special circumstances requiring relief, and the beneficial results to be obtained from the requested waiver.

(b) Special permission authority shall not be granted to:

(1) allow a carrier to change rates or other tariff provisions on less than full notice for the purpose of meeting competition, where the competitor in question altered its rates/provisions on full notice.

(2) modify a formal order of the Commission; such modifications may be accomplished only by petitioning the Commission.

(c) Authority granted by special permission must be used in its entirety and only in the manner set forth in such special permission.

(d) Special permission authority must be applied for by the same person that filed the tariff publication for which special permission is sought.

(e) In addition to the information required by subparagraph (a) of this section, an application for special permission shall contain:

(1) An exact copy of the tariff matter the applicant proposes to file, clearly designated as an exhibit to the application, but otherwise in the form required by the rules of this Part. If the proposed amendment consists of rate changes, all points of origin and destination must be stated in the application if not otherwise included in the exhibit.

(i) Tariff series and number designations (including supplements, if applicable) and all cancellations which would be made must be shown.

(2) The names of carriers known to maintain provisions competitive to those for which the applicant seeks relief and a certification signed by the filing party that all such carriers have been served with a copy of the special permission application. Service by first class mail, postpaid prepaid, correctly addressed to the intended recipient's principal place of business, and posted no later than the date of filing, is acceptable where personal service is impractical.

(3) The entire application shall be signed and its accuracy sworn to by the filing party at a place within the United States, its commonwealths, territories, or possessions, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 1746

(Pub. L. 94-550). Immediately following the text of the application and immediately preceding the signature of the filing party, there shall appear the statement:

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed at _____ on _____ (insert place of execution) (insert date of execution).

(f) Special permission applications (including attachments) thereto shall be filed in duplicate.

(g) Special permission applications shall be filed in substantially complete form at least five working days prior to the effective date of the proposed tariff filing; Provided, That petitions for waiver of this requirement may be granted if they are sworn to in the manner of subparagraph (e) (3) of this section and demonstrate that a genuine emergency justifying a shorter notice period exists.

(h) The Commission may, upon the application of interested persons, or upon its own motion, establish or rescind special permission authorities as it sees fit.

Published under authority of Federal Maritime Commission Special Permission No. _____

§ 531.19 Special rules for bound tariffs filed pursuant to special permission authority.

(a) Such bound tariffs as may be permitted to be filed by special permission are subject to these rules in addition to those other rules in the Part which govern tariff filing generally.

(b) All pages of bound tariffs shall be firmly and permanently fastened together on the left edge by an appropriate binding method. The simple insertion of one or two staples in the binding edge shall not suffice to meet this requirement, but the binding process known as saddle stitching is acceptable.

(c) Section 531.4(a) of this Part is waived to the extent it requires bound tariff pages to be printed on only one side.

(d) Section 531.4(g) of the Part is waived to the extent it requires an effective date to be published on pages other than the title page of a bound tariff.

(e) Section 531.5(a) and Section 531.11 of this Part are waived to the extent they require the title page of a bound tariff to reflect all supplements either issued or in effect.

(f) Supplements shall be the only method of amending bound tariffs. In addition to the requirements of section 531.11, the following shall apply to bound tariff supplements:

(1) They shall refer specifically to the page and item designation of the tariff/supplement item to be amended;

(2) Amendments to a numbered or otherwise designated item must publish the amended item in its entirety;

(3) Amendments to items shall bear the same designation as the item being amended, with a consecutive letter suffix, and shall show the cancellation of the prior item edition, e.g., Item 10-A cancels Item 10; Item 10-B cancels Item 10-A, etc.

FOOTNOTES

¹ TMT's Comments were filed over 30 days late and were accompanied by a "Motion for Leave to File" which failed to state reasonable grounds for waiving the filing deadline as required by section 502.102 of the Commission's Rules. Accordingly, TMT's motion will be denied and only its Reply Comments considered by the Commission.

² Certain items initially appearing in section 531.0 which pertained to the substantive content of tariffs were placed in final section 531.3(p).

⁴ Appropriate editorial changes were made in final section 531.8 to conform it to the modified definition of "through intermodal transportation" contained in final section 531.2(u). See also Items 8 and 10, infra.

⁵ Not all government or charity shipments fall within this relatively narrow category.

⁶ Final section 531.6(m) (5) states that a project rate must contribute to the carrier's fixed expenses, but does not prescribe on exact percentage or standard for measuring this contribution. Proposed rates will be examined on a case-by-case basis to determine if a genuine, commercially realistic contribution is being made.

PART 17—CONSTRUCTION, MARKING AND LIGHTING OF ANTENNA STRUCTURES

Editorial Amendments Adopting Metric System of Measurements

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This Order amends the Commission's rules by converting the customary English units of measurement to the International System of Units (SI) as contained in the Metric Conversion Act of 1975 (Pub. L. 94-168). No actual measurements are being changed at this time, however, and the English values will continue to govern until such time as new metric values may be established. Other minor or editorial changes in keeping with the conversion to the metric system are included in this Order.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 17, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Joseph G. Thomas, Antenna Survey Branch, Telephone 202-632-7521.

Adopted: September 30, 1977.

Released: October 6, 1977.

Order. In the matter of amendment of Part 17 rules and regulations to adopt Metric System of Measurements and make other editorial changes.

1. The Amendments herein are in accord with the Commission's announced program, adopted July 28, 1976, for converting to the International System of Units (SI) as contained in the Metric Conversion Act of 1975 (Pub. L. 94-168). Metric units of measurement will replace the customary English units as the primary measurement system.

2. The metric equivalents are being added to Part 17 rules and regulations to inaugurate the eventual conversion to the full metric system. No actual measurements are being changed at this time, however, and the English values in parenthesis will continue to govern until such time as new metric values are established.

3. To some extent, all subparts of Part 17 are affected by the amendment, and since Part 17 is being extensively revised in this respect, other minor or editorial changes in keeping with the conversion to the metric system are included. The required intensities to be attained by red obstruction lights for example, are expressed in candela—to insure their visibility to aircraft under prescribed meteorological minimums.

4. Finally, relief is being afforded those licensees employing dual obstruction lighting (red for nighttime and white for daytime) by enabling the use of the omnidirectional antenna obstruction light in both the red and white modes.

5. For the reasons set forth above, we conclude that the adoption of these amendments will serve the public interest. Prior notice and effective date provisions of the Administrative and Judicial Review Act (5 U.S.C. 553) are not applicable. Therefore, it is ordered, That pursuant to sections 4(i) and 303(q) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended and § 0.231 of the Commission's rules, Part 17 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended effective October 17, 1977, as set forth below.

PART 73—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

Providing Revised Period for Construction of Subscription Television Stations

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Order.

SUMMARY: Section 73.642(c) of the Commission's rules is amended to specify 18 instead of 8 months as the time period within which holders of subscription television authorizations must complete construction of their transmitting facilities. This change was inadvertently omitted when the Commission amended § 1.598 of the rules to provide an 18 instead of 8 month time period within which construction of a new television broadcast station must be completed.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 12, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Freda Lippert Thyden, Broadcast Bureau (202-632-7792).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Order. In the matter of amendment of § 73.642(c) of the Commission's rules to provide a revised period for construction of subscription television stations.

Adopted: September 23, 1977.

Released: September 30, 1977.

1. Under consideration here is that part of § 73.642(c) of the Commission's rules which provides that "holders of subscription television authorizations shall complete construction of subscription television ("STV") transmitting facilities within a period of 8 months after issuance of the authorization unless otherwise determined by the Commission upon proper showing in any particular case."

2. In 1970, the Commission in a Report and Order, 23 F.C.C. 2d 274, amended its rules to specify in § 1.598 new construction periods for various classes of broadcast stations. At that time, the period for construction of a new television station was lengthened from 8 to 18 months. In 1974, this rule was revised to clearly state that the time allowed for completion of construction applies not only to new construction but to changes in existing stations as well (FCC 74-653). Another § 73.642(c), governed the period for constructing STV facilities. When the other time periods were changed, however, the Commission inadvertently failed to amend the then recently enacted § 73.642(c) of the Commission's rules to provide the same 18-month time period for construction of STV facilities. By implication, if it were a new station that was designed for an STV operation, the 18-month period from § 1.598 applied. However, such would not be the case if it were an existing station that was establishing STV facilities. It was not the Commission's intention to make such a distinction, nor had it done so in regard to other kinds of television construction. In order to correct this disparity, we are herein amending § 73.642(c) to conform with § 1.598 of the rules.¹

3. Since the Commission has already considered the reasons for and against extending the time period for construction of television stations in Docket No. 18763, in which § 1.598 was amended, it is unnecessary to issue a notice of proposed rule making to cover what essentially would be the same material again. See the Administrative Procedure provisions of section 553(b)(3)(B) of Title 5 of the U.S. Code.

4. Because we believe that the new time period provided by amending § 73.642(c) should and will minimize the number of requests for extensions of time to construct STV transmitting facilities, as it has for other types of stations, we are deleting, as unnecessary, the provision in that sub-section to the effect that extensions may be had on proper showings in particular cases. As with other types of authorizations, such extension requests are governed by § 1.534 of the rules.

5. In accordance with the foregoing: It is ordered, That effective October 12, 1977, § 73.642(c) of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended to read as set forth below. Authority for the action proposed herein is set out in Sections 4(i), 5(d)(1), 303(r) and 319 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended and Section 553(b)(3)(B) of Title 5 of the U.S. Code.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
WALLACE E. JOHNSON,
Chief, Broadcast Bureau.

In § 73.642 paragraph (c) is amended to read as follows:

§ 73.642 Licensing policies.

(c) Holders of subscription television authorizations shall complete construction of subscription television transmitting facilities within a period of 18 months after issuance of the authorization. The holder of a subscription television authorization shall file a report in the ninth month after the grant of the authorization setting forth the progress made toward building the subscrip-

During the process of construction of the subscription television facilities, the holder of the authorization, after notifying the Commission and the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which the station is located, may, without further authority of the Commission, conduct equipment tests for the purposes of such adjustments and measurements as may be necessary to assure compliance with the terms of the authorization, the technical provisions of the application therefor, and the rules and regulations. The Commission may notify the holder of the authorization not to conduct tests if such tests appear to be contrary to the public interest, convenience, and necessity. Upon completion of the construction, the holder of the authorization shall submit a detailed showing that compliance with the terms of the authorization, the technical provisions of the application therefor, and the rules and regulations has been achieved. No subscription television operation shall commence until requirements of this paragraph have been fulfilled and operation has been specifically authorized by the Commission.

PART 91—INDUSTRIAL RADIO SERVICES

Designating 489.6625 MHz as a New Starting Point for Assigning Frequencies in Business Radio Service in the Houston, Texas, Metropolitan Area in the 470-512 MHz

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Order.

SUMMARY: The Fifth Report and Order in Docket 18261 provided for designating new starting points for frequency assignments as channels become filled in certain cities. This Order designates 489.6625 MHz as the new starting point for frequency assignments in the Business Radio Service at Houston.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 17, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

A. C. King, Industrial and Public Safety Rules Division, Safety and Special Radio Services Bureau, 202-632-6497.

Adopted: September 30, 1977.

Released: October 3, 1977.

Order. In the matter of the designation of 489.6625 MHz as a new starting point for assigning frequencies in the Business Radio Service in the Houston, Texas, metropolitan area in the 470-512 MHz band.

1. In the Fifth Report and Order in Docket 18261 the Commission provided a flexible frequency assignment plan for the 470-512 MHz band frequencies available in Dallas and Houston, Texas, and in Miami, Florida. "Land Mobile/UHF-TV Sharing Plan," 48 FCC 2d 360 (1974). In Paragraph 12 of that Report and Order, the Commission said, ". . . since all of the frequencies are to be available in all eligible radio services, the frequencies in which the first assignments are to be made do not necessarily set out the boundaries for frequency availability in a particular radio service. A new starting frequency may be assigned by the staff for any of the various groups when the frequencies available to it in sequence are exhausted. Also, should any group fail to use its assigned frequency, that base line may be moved." "Land Mobile/UHF-TV Sharing Plan," supra, at p. 364.

2. The frequencies available in sequence in the Business Radio Service in Houston in the 470-512 MHz band are now occupied and are substantially loaded. Therefore, in accordance with Paragraph 12 of the Report and Order in Docket 18261, an additional starting point is being established. That starting frequency will be 489.6625 MHz. Assignments will be made sequentially in ascending and descending order from this frequency until all available contiguous channels are occupied.

3. This action is taken pursuant to the authority contained in Section 4(i) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and to authority delegated by the Commission in the "Fifth Report and Order" in Docket 18261 previously cited. The amendment to § 91.114(f)(3) is for conformity with substantive matters which were previously decided in the "Fifth Report and Order" and which are being implemented herein. Therefore, compliance with the prior notice requirements prescribed by 5 U.S.C. 553 is unnecessary.

4. Accordingly, it is ordered, That effective October 17, 1977, § 91.114(f)(3) of the Commission's rules is amended as shown below.

VERNON A. SPRING,
Acting Chief, Safety and Special
Radio Services Bureau.

Part 91 of Chapter I of Title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as follows:

Section 91.114(f)(3) is amended to read:

(f)
(3) Base station frequencies for the Business Radio Service will be assigned serially beginning at 472.3625 MHz for Miami, 484.3625 MHz for Dallas, and 489.6625 MHz and 498.3625 MHz for Houston and progressing, a channel at a time, upward and downward from those points. Mobile station frequencies are 3 MHz higher than the corresponding base station frequencies. Normally, each channel shall be substantially filled before the next channel will be assigned.

CHAPTER X—INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

SUBCHAPTER A—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

[Service Order No. 1280]

PART 1033—CAR SERVICE

Substitution of Hopper Cars for Covered Hopper Cars or Boxcars

AGENCY: Interstate Commerce Commission.

ACTION: Emergency order (Service Order No. 1280).

SUMMARY: There is a shortage of covered hopper cars for shipments of grain and soybeans and their products. Supplies of open hopper cars can be made available to shippers willing to substitute those cars for covered hoppers or for boxcars. However, in some instances, the rates are applicable only to shipments loaded into covered hopper cars or boxcars. Service Order No. 1280 authorizes railroads, subject to the consent of the shipper, to substitute open hopper cars for covered hopper cars or boxcars ordered for shipments of these commodities.

DATES: Effective 12:01 a.m., October 4, 1977. Expires 11:59 p.m., November 30, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

C.C. Robinson, Chief, Utilization and Distribution Branch, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423, telephone 202-275-7840, telex 89-2742.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Order is printed in full below.

At a Session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Railroad Service Board, held in Washington, D.C., on the 4th day of October, 1977.

There is an acute shortage of covered hopper cars and boxcars for transporting shipments of grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products in certain sections of the country. Some carriers have adequate supplies of open hopper cars. Use of these cars for transporting grain, grain screenings, soybeans or grain products is precluded by certain tariff provisions requiring the use of covered hopper cars or boxcars, thus curtailing shipments of grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products and creating great economic loss. In the opinion of the Commission, present regulations and practices with respect to the use, supply, control, movement, and distribution of covered hopper cars and boxcars are ineffective, and an emergency exists requiring immediate action to promote car service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people. Accordingly, the Commission finds that notice and public procedure are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and that good cause exists for making this order effective upon less than thirty days' notice.

It is ordered, That:

§ 1033.1280 Substitution of Hopper Cars for Covered Hopper Cars or Boxcars.

(a) Each common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act shall observe, enforce, and obey the following rules, regulations, and practices with respect to its car service:

(1) Substitution of Cars—Subject to the concurrence of the shipper, the carrier may substitute open hopper cars for shipments of grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products, whether from the point of origin or from an intermediate in-transit point, regardless of tariff provisions requiring the use of covered hoppers or boxcars.

(2) Minimum Weights—The minimum weights per shipment of grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products transported in open hopper cars substituted for covered hopper cars or boxcars shall be the minimum weights specified in the tariffs for shipments made in covered hopper cars or boxcars regardless of the number of open hopper cars required to be used to secure the minimum weight.

(3) In shipping grain, grain screenings, soybeans, or grain products in open hopper cars in lieu of covered hopper cars or boxcars as provided herein, the shipper shall be deemed to have acknowledged the terms and conditions of the contract of carriage embodied in the bill of lading that the carrier shall not be liable for injury, loss, or damage to the lading resulting from a defect or vice in such property.

(4) Bills of lading covering movements authorized by this order shall contain a notation that shipment is moving under authority of Service Order No. 1280.

(5) The term "open hopper cars" means all cars listed in the Official Railway Equipment Register, I.C.C.-R.E.R. No. 404, issued by W. J. Trezise, or successive issues thereof, as having mechanical designations "HFA", "HK", "HM", "HMA", "HT", or "HTA".

(6) The term "covered hopper cars" means all cars listed in the Official Railway Equipment Register, I.C.C. No. 404, issued by W. J. Trezise, or successive issues thereof, as having mechanical designation "LO".

(7) The term "boxcars" means all cars listed in the Official Railway Equipment Register, I.C.C. No. 404, issued by W. J. Trezise, or successive issues thereof, as having mechanical designations "XM", or "XMI".

(b) Rules and regulations suspended. The operation of tariffs or other rules and regulations, insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this order, is hereby suspended.

(c) Application. The provisions of this order shall apply to interstate, interstate, and foreign commerce.

(d) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 12:01 a.m., October 5, 1977.

(e) Expiration date. The provisions of this order shall expire at 11:59 p.m., November 30, 1977, unless otherwise modified, changed, or suspended by order of this Commission.

(49 U.S.C. 1 (12), (15), (16) and 17(2).)

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and car hire agreement under the terms of that agreement, and upon the American Short Line Railroad Association; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D.C., and by filing it with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

By the Commission, Railroad Service Board, members Joel E. Burns, Robert S. Turkington and John R. Michael.

CHAPTER III—FOOD SAFETY AND QUALITY SERVICE (MEAT AND POULTRY PRODUCTS INSPECTION), DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Rate Increase for Inspection Service

AGENCY: Food Safety and Quality Service.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The rates for overtime inspection, identification, certification, or laboratory service rendered to operators of official meat or poultry establishments, importers, or exporters by the Food Safety and Quality Service, Meat and Poultry Inspection Program, are changed to reflect the recent Federal pay raise.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 9, 1977.
FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

June P. Blair, Acting Director, Finance Division, Food Safety and Quality Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. (202-447-6653).

Pursuant to the statutory authorities cited below, the fees relating to overtime and holiday inspection, identification, certification, or laboratory service rendered to operators of official meat or poultry establishments, importers, or exporters by the Food Safety and Quality Service, Meat and Poultry Inspection Program, are hereby amended to reflect increase in Federal employees' salaries authorized by the Federal Pay Comparability Act of 1970, and Executive Order 12010, dated September 28, 1977, to a level that will more adequately cover the cost of the service provided.

Accordingly, the Meat and Poultry Inspection Regulations in 9 CFR are amended as set forth below:

1. The rate for overtime or holiday inspection, identification, or certification service rendered, as the case may be in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, is changed from $13.20 per hour to $14.12 per hour in §§ 307.5(a), 351.8, and 381.38(a).

PART 350—SPECIAL SERVICES RELATING TO MEAT AND OTHER PRODUCTS

2. Section 350.7(c) is amended to read as follows:

§ 350.7 Fees and charges.

(c) The fees to be charged and collected for service under the regulations in this part shall be at the rate of $14.12 per hour for base time, $14.12 per hour for overtime including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, and $21.32 per hour for laboratory service, to cover the costs of the service and shall be charged for the time required to render such service. Where appropriate, this time will include but will not be limited to the time required for the travel of the inspector or inspectors in connection therewith during the regularly scheduled administrative workweek.

PART 351—CERTIFICATION OF TECHNICAL ANIMAL FATS FOR EXPORT

3. Section 351.9(a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 351.9 Charges for examinations.

(a) The hourly fees to be charged and collected by the Administrator shall be $14.12 per hour for examinations, as provided for in § 351.14, and $21.32 per hour for any laboratory service required to determine the eligibility of any technical animal fat for certification under the regulations in this part. Such fees shall be charged for the time required to render such service, including, but not limited to, the time required for the travel of the inspector or inspectors in connection therewith.

PART 354—VOLUNTARY INSPECTION OF RABBITS AND EDIBLE PRODUCTS THEREOF

4. Section 354.101 (b) and (c) are amended to read as follows:

§ 354.101 On a fee basis.

(b) The charges for inspection service will be based on the time required to perform such services. The hourly rate shall be $14.12 for base time and $14.12 for overtime or holiday work.

(c) Charges for any laboratory analysis or laboratory examination of rabbits under this part related to the inspection service shall be $21.32 per hour.

PART 362—VOLUNTARY POULTRY INSPECTION REGULATIONS

5. Section 362.5(c) is amended to read as follows:

§ 362.5 Fees and charges.

(c) The fees to be charged and collected for service under the regulations in this part shall be at the rate of $14.12 per hour for base time, $14.12 per hour for overtime including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, and $21.32 per hour for laboratory service to cover the costs of the service and shall be charged for the time required to render such service, including but not limited to the time required for the travel of the inspector or inspectors in connection therewith during the regularly scheduled administrative workweek.

It has been determined that in order to cover these increased costs of the services, the hourly fees charged in connection with the performance of the services must be increased as soon as practicable as provided herein. The need for the increase and the amount thereof are dependent upon facts within the knowledge of the Food Safety and Quality Service. Therefore, under 5 U.S.C. 553, it is found that notice and other public procedure with respect to these amendments are impracticable and unnecessary and good cause is found for making these amendments effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

NOTE.—The Food Safety and Quality Service has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Inflation Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821 and OMB Circular A-107.

[Docket No. AO-319-A28]

MILK IN THE INDIANA MARKETING AREA

Decision on Proposed Amendments to Marketing Agreement and to Order

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This decision would amend the order based on industry proposals considered at a public hearing on July 26, 1977. The proposed amendments would add four Michigan counties to the marketing area and make a limited change in the classification of milk. The amendments are needed to reflect changed marketing conditions and to insure orderly marketing in the area.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Irving E. Sutlin, Marketing Specialist, Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250 (202-447-4829).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Prior documents in this proceeding: Notice of Hearing—Issued June 22, 1977; published June 29, 1977 (42 FR 33040). Recommended Decision—Issued September 6, 1977; published September 9, 1977 (42 FR 45335).

A public hearing was held upon proposed amendments to the marketing agreement and the order regulating the handling of milk in the Indiana marketing area. The hearing was held, pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice (7 CFR Part 900), at Indianapolis, Indiana on July 26, 1977, pursuant to notice thereof issued on June 22, 1977 (42 FR 33040).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Deputy Administrator, Program Operations, on September 6, 1977, filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision containing notice of the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto.

The material issues, findings and conclusions, rulings, and general findings of the recommended decision are hereby approved and adopted and are set forth in full herein.

The material issues on the record relate to:

1. Expansion of the marketing area; and
2. Classifying the shrinkage of non-fat milk solids used in modifying fluid milk products.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

The following findings and conclusions on the material issues are based on evidence presented at the hearing and the record thereof:

1. Expansion of the marketing area. The Indiana marketing area, now comprised of 64 Indiana counties, should be expanded to include the four Michigan counties of Berrien, Branch, Cass, and St. Joseph. About three-quarters of the route disposition in each of the four counties is from eight Indiana order pool plants. The remaining route disposition in the four counties is from five Southern Michigan order pool plants and from a plant regulated under the Chicago order.

The handling of milk in the enlarged marketing area is in the current of interstate commerce and directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in milk and its products.

The four-county area, which is in southwestern Michigan, borders on the northern boundary of the present Indiana marketing area. Two of the four counties, St. Joseph and Branch, are bounded on the north by Kalamazoo and Calhoun Counties, respectively, which counties are in the southwestern corner of the Southern Michigan order marketing area. The 1970 census population of the four counties is 292,000. For each county the population is: Berrien, 164,000; Branch, 38,000; Cass, 43,000; and St. Joseph, 47,000.

Expansion of the marketing area, which was proposed by McDonald Dairy Cooperative Association, was favored by the major cooperatives in the Indiana market. There was no opposition to the proposal.

McDonald operates a pool distributing plant in Benton Harbor (in Berrien County) Mich. The route disposition from that plant in the four Michigan counties proposed to be added to the marketing area is greater than from any other plant. In May 1977 about 27 percent of the Benton Harbor plant's route disposition was in the Indiana marketing area and about 23 percent in the Southern Michigan marketing area. The remaining route disposition from the plant was in a presently unregulated five-county area—four proposed counties and Van Buren County, Mich., which attaches to the northern boundary of Berrien and Cass counties.

Although the Benton Harbor plant has been qualifying each month for pooling under both the Indiana and Southern Michigan orders, it has been pooled continuously under the Indiana order. This is because its route disposition each month in the Indiana marketing area has been greater than in the Southern Michigan marketing area. However, in some recent months the total route disposition in the Southern Michigan marketing area has been close to that in the Indiana marketing area.

For May 1977 it appeared that the Benton Harbor plant's route disposition in the Southern Michigan marketing area was greater than in the Indiana marketing area. Only after an audit was made by the market administrator was it determined that the route disposition from the plant was greater in the Indiana marketing area than in the Southern Michigan area.

The McDonald spokesman stated that unless the four counties are included in the marketing area, and the Benton Harbor plant's distribution therein becomes route disposition in the marketing area, regulation of the plant could shift back and forth between the Indiana and Southern Michigan orders. This is because in some months the plant's route disposition in the present Indiana marketing area could be less than in the Southern Michigan marketing area, which would result in the Benton Harbor plant being regulated for the month under the Southern Michigan order.

Including the four proposed counties in the Indiana marketing area will result in the Benton Harbor plant having substantially more sales each month in the foreseeable future in the Indiana marketing area than in the Southern Michigan marketing area. This would remove any uncertainty regarding the order under which the plant would be regulated.

The Indiana order provides for a "takeout-payback" fall production incentive plan that withholds 20 cents per hundredweight from the payments otherwise due producers for their deliveries in April-July. This money is distributed to producers on the basis of their production in the payback months of September-December. Under the Southern Michigan order, producers are paid on a base-excess plan throughout the year. The base on which each producer is paid is determined by his deliveries in the preceding August-December. If regulation of a plant shifted back and forth between orders, the producers involved could lose the benefits of the producer payment plan in the order under which their milk was usually pooled without obtaining the comparable benefits realized by producers regularly associated with the other order. Without the inclusion of the proposed four counties in the Indiana marketing area, producers supplying the Benton Harbor plant could find themselves in such a situation.

Including in the Indiana marketing area the proposed four counties, wherein Indiana order handlers are the principal distributors, will contribute to market stability. Particularly, it would serve as a safeguard against disruptive marketing conditions and the inequities among producers that would result if regulation of the plant they supplied shifted back and forth between the Indiana and Southern Michigan orders.

The provisions of the existing order as herein proposed to be amended are equally appropriate for the expanded marketing area.

2. Classifying the shrinkage of nonfat milk solids used in modifying fluid milk products. When fluid milk products are modified by adding nonfat milk solids (i.e., nonfat dry milk, condensed skim milk, or similar products), shrinkage in Class III up to two percent of the fluid equivalent of the quantity of nonfat milk solids added should be allowed.

Fluid milk products modified by the addition of nonfat milk solids, commonly called fortified products, represent a significant Class I disposition of handlers. Such a modified product must be accounted for under the order as Class I in a quantity equal to the weight of an equal volume of the same unmodified product. The small increase in volume due to the addition of the nonfat milk solids is accounted for when the modified product is disposed of as Class I. The remainder of the fluid equivalent of nonfat milk solids added but not represented by a volume increase in the modified product is classified as Class III.

The market administrator's laboratory tests the modified milk products of a handler to determine their total nonfat milk solids content. From that total he subtracts the nonfat milk solids content of milk utilized by the handler in making the modified milk products to determine the quantity of solids added.

The quantity of nonfat milk solids determined by the market administrator to have been added to the modified product is the basis for computing the fluid equivalent of the nonfat milk solids to be accounted for and classified.

The handler who proposed the change adopted in this decision complained that the order makes no allowance for the loss of nonfat dry milk solids used in fortification. He testified that, in addition to the loss incurred in processing fluid milk products, losses result from spillage and from nonfat dry milk sticking to the bags in which it is received at the plant.

Some disappearance of nonfat milk solids may be due to a lack of detailed records for each batch of fluid milk products fortified with added nonfat milk solids. For example, when more of a fortified fluid milk product is made than is needed for packaging on a particular day, the excess would be diverted for use in another product at the plant. It may not always be practicable for a handler to maintain a complete and accurate record of the nonfat milk products from each batch of a fortified product so diverted.

When the amount of nonfat milk solids in modified fluid milk products is determined by the market administrator's laboratory testing, a reasonable basis exists for computing a shrinkage allowance for nonfat milk solids used in the fortification process. A Class III shrinkage allowance of not more than two percent of the fluid equivalent of the quantity of nonfat milk solids so used, which is adopted in this decision, is appropriate for this purpose. This is the same rate for Class III shrinkage allowance applicable to milk received from producers.

The loss of nonfat milk solids associated with the fortifying process should be treated separately from the shrinkage allowances applied to receipts of fluid milk products. The shrinkage allowance in this case should be a part of the classification procedure of the specific modified fluid milk product disposed of.

The present classification provisions specify how much of the fluid equivalent of the nonfat milk solids in a fortified product may be classified in Class III. The shrinkage allowance provided herein would be a quantity of Class III milk in addition to the quantity now calculated under the present provision.

Any disappearance of nonfat milk solids in excess of the two percent limit would enter into the total plant accounting for receipts and disposition under the present order provisions applicable to shrinkage.

RULINGS ON PROPOSED FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

Briefs and proposed findings and conclusions were filed on behalf of certain interested parties. The briefs, proposed findings and conclusions and the evidence in the record were considered in making the findings and conclusions set forth above. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions filed by interested parties are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions set forth herein, the requests to make such findings or reach such conclusions are denied for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

GENERAL FINDINGS

(a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held;

(d) All milk and milk products handled by handlers, as defined in the tentative marketing agreement and the order as hereby proposed to be amended, are in the current of interstate commerce or directly burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk or its products; and

(e) It is hereby found that the necessary expense of the market administrator for the maintenance and functioning of such agency will require the payment by each handler, as his pro rata share of such expense, 4 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to milk specified in § 1049.85 of the aforesaid tentative marketing agreement and the order as proposed to be amended.

RULINGS ON EXCEPTIONS

No exceptions were filed.

MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER

Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents, a Marketing Agreement regulating the handling of milk, and an Order amending the order regulating the handling of milk in the Indiana marketing area which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions.

It is hereby ordered, That this entire decision, except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of the marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order as hereby proposed to be amended by the attached order which is published with this decision.

DETERMINATION OF PRODUCER APPROVAL AND REPRESENTATIVE PERIOD

July 1977 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of the order, as amended and as hereby proposed to be amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Indiana marketing area is approved or favored by producers, as defined under the terms of the order (as amended and as hereby proposed to be amended), who during such representative period were engaged in the production of milk for sale within the aforesaid marketing area.

Signed at Washington, D.C., on October 4, 1977.

ROBERT H. MEYER,
Assistant Secretary for Marketing Services.

Order Amending the Order, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Indiana Marketing Area

FINDINGS AND DETERMINATIONS

The following findings and determinations supplement those that were made when the order was first issued and when it was amended. The previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and confirmed, except where they may conflict with those set forth below.

(a) Findings. A public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Indiana marketing area. The hearing was held pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure (7 CFR Part 900).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(2) The parity prices of milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(3) The said order as hereby amended regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial or commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held;

(4) All milk and milk products handled by handlers, as defined in the order as hereby amended, are in the current of interstate commerce or directly burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk or its products; and

(5) It is hereby found that the necessary expense of the market administrator for the maintenance and functioning of such agency will require the payment by each handler, as his pro rata share of such expense, 4 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to milk specified in § 1049.85.

¹ This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders have been met.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Indiana marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the order, as amended, and as hereby amended, as follows:

The provisions of the proposed marketing agreement and order amending the order contained in the recommended decision issued by the Deputy Administrator, Program Operations, on September 6, 1977, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on September 9, 1977 (42 FR 45335) shall be and are the terms and provisions of this order, amending the order, and are set forth in full herein:

Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service

[9 CFR Part 92]

IMPORTATION OF ANIMALS

AGENCY: Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, USDA.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This document proposes to amend the animal import regulations to delete optional pre-entry diagnostic screening tests for equine piroplasmosis, to clarify in-bond transit requirements for animals from Canada and add provisions to the regulations whereby animals of United States origin may transit Canada and re-enter the United States without meeting certain importation requirements. The intended effect of these actions is to reduce unnecessary time and expense associated with the importation of animals.

DATE: Comments on or before November 10, 1977.

ADDRESS: Written comments to Deputy Administrator, USDA, APHIS, VS, Room 821, Federal Building, 6505 Belcrest Rd., Hyattsville, Md. 20782.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Dr. D. E. Herrick, USDA, APHIS, VS, Room 815, Federal Building, Hyattsville, Md. 20782, (301-436-8170).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A negative test for equine piroplasmosis has been required as a prerequisite for importation of horses into the United States since October 1970. Since availability of antigen for testing and laboratory capability required to conduct the tests were limited to the United States at that time, the Department made available optional pre-entry diagnostic screening tests whereby blood from horses intended for importation into the United States could be tested and their equine piroplasmosis disease status determined prior to their departure from their country of origin. This was done to eliminate to the extent possible the refusal of entry of horses which were found to be reactors to the equine piroplasmosis test upon arrival in the United States and the expense and inconvenience to importers associated therewith. The method of preparing equine piroplasmosis antigen has now been made available to laboratories in other countries and the Department has trained laboratory technicians from several countries including France, Great Britain, Chile, and Argentina in procedures necessary to produce the required antigen and to conduct the equine piroplasmosis test. It has now been determined that there is no longer a need for the Department to conduct courtesy screening tests, at Department expense, on horses prior to their shipment to the United States and the provision for providing such tests would be deleted from the regulations.

The proposal would also permit animals of United States origin to transit Canada under specified conditions and return to the United States through a different land border port without a Canadian health or test certificate when accompanied by a copy of the United States export health certificate properly issued and endorsed. In view of the health measures which the Canadian government has employed to control and eradicate communicable diseases of animals, these changes will not endanger the health of the animals in the United States. These changes will, on the other hand, conserve time and expense with respect to re-entry of animals from Canada.

The proposed docket would also specify that a permit is required for in-bond shipments of animals from Canada which are transiting the United States for immediate export. This is proposed for the purposes of clarification and for the purpose of conforming the provisions of § 92.25 with those of § 92.2(d).

Notice is hereby given in accordance with the administrative procedure provisions in 5 U.S.C. 553, that, pursuant to section 2 of the Act of February 2, 1903, as amended; and sections 2, 3, 4, and 11 of the Act of July 2, 1962 (21 U.S.C. 111, 134a, 134b, 134c, and 134f), the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service is considering amending Part 92, Title 9, Code of Federal Regulations in the following respects:

1. In § 92.11 (d), the last two sentences would be deleted.

2. In § 92.25, paragraph (a) would be redesignated as (a) (1), a new paragraph (2) would be added and redesignated paragraph (a) (1) would be amended to read:

§ 92.25 Special provisions.

(a) In-bond shipments from Canada. (1) Cattle, sheep, goats, swine, horses, and poultry and birds from Canada transported in-bond through the United States for immediate export shall be inspected at the border port of entry and, when accompanied by an import permit obtained under § 92.4 of this Part and all conditions therein are observed, shall be allowed entry and shall be otherwise handled as provided in paragraph (d) of § 92.2. Animals not accompanied by a permit shall meet the requirements of this Part in the same manner as animals destined for importation into the United States, except that the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may permit their inspection at some other point when he finds that such action will not increase the risk that communicable diseases of livestock and poultry will be disseminated to the livestock or poultry of the United States.

(2) In-transit shipments through Canada. Animals (including poultry) originating in the United States and transported directly through Canada may re-enter the United States without Canadian health or test certificates when accompanied by copies of the United States export health certificates properly issued and endorsed in accordance with regulations in Part 91 of this chapter; Provided that, to qualify for entry, the date, time, port of entry, and signature of the Canadian Port Veterinarian that inspected the animals for entry into Canada shall be recorded on the United States health certificate that accompanies the animals. In all cases it shall be determined by the veterinary inspector at the United States port of entry that the animals are the identical animals covered by said certificate.

3. In § 92.34 (c), the last two sentences would be deleted.

All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the Federal Building, 6505 Belcrest Road, Room 821, Hyattsville, Md., during regular hours of business (8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday to Friday, except holidays) in a manner convenient to the public business (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

Comments submitted should bear a reference to the date and page number of this issue in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 5th day of October 1977.

NOTE.—The Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Inflation Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821 and OMB Circular A-107.

Acting Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

[Reg. B; Docket No. R-0117]

EQUAL CREDIT OPPORTUNITY

Proposed Definition of Adverse Action

AGENCY: Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: In response to requests for clarification of the definition of adverse action, the Board proposes to amend that definition. A number of creditors and two government agencies have raised the question of whether some or all point of sale or loan refusals or failures to authorize an extension of credit that would not exceed the account limit are adverse action and therefore require notice to the customer. The Board is seeking public comment in order to determine what regulatory course best implements the Equal Credit Opportunity Act.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before November 15, 1977.

ADDRESS: Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551. All comments should refer to Docket No. R-0117.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Anne Geary, Manager, Equal Credit Opportunity Section, Division of Consumer Affairs, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551 (202-452-3946).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Equal Credit Opportunity Act and Regulation B require that notification be given to an applicant when adverse action occurs. Section 202.2(c) of Regulation B provides that adverse action occurs in three instances. First, it occurs when there is a refusal to grant credit in substantially the amount or on substantially the terms requested by an applicant, unless the applicant uses or expressly accepts the amount or terms that the creditor offers.

Second, adverse action occurs if there is a termination of an account or an unfavorable change in its terms that does not affect all or a substantial portion of a classification of the creditor's accounts. Third, it occurs when there is a refusal to increase the amount of credit available to an applicant who has requested the increase in accordance with the creditor's procedures for that type of credit.

The regulation specifically excludes five events from the definition of adverse action, including a creditor's refusal to extend credit at point of sale or loan because the credit requested would exceed a previously established credit limit on the account. Therefore, no notice of adverse action need be given when the use of a credit card would exceed the limit on the account. However, the Act and regulation are not explicit as to whether adverse action occurs and, thus, whether notice must be given, when the attempted use would not exceed the credit limit on the account.

In response to requests for clarification of this ambiguity, an official staff interpretation of § 202.2(c) was issued (EC-0008, 42 FR 21605, April 28, 1977). The interpretation states that a creditor's refusal or failure to authorize the use of an open-end account when such use would not exceed the account limit does not constitute adverse action and, therefore, does not require that the applicant be notified of the reasons for the refusal. The staff of the Federal Trade Commission and the Justice Department have asked for reconsideration of this interpretation.

The Board proposes to amend § 202.2 (c) in order to resolve this ambiguity in the definition of adverse action. Board staff's official interpretation, EC-0008, remains in effect in the interim.

Two proposals are offered for comment. Proposal A would amend § 202.2(c) to provide that a refusal or failure to authorize the use of an account at a point of sale or loan is not adverse action unless such refusal or failure: (1) Occurs in connection with a request to increase the credit limit on the account in accordance with the procedures established by the creditor, (2) is a termination of the account, or (3) is an unfavorable change in the terms of an account that does not affect all or a substantial portion of a classification of a creditor's accounts. In addition, the term "application" would be substituted for "applicant" in subsection (1) (i) of the current definition, and language would be inserted to emphasize that § 202.2(c) (2) takes precedence over § 202.2(c) (1). The effect of adopting this proposal would be that all point of sale or loan refusals or failures to authorize use of an account are not adverse action, except in the three cases described immediately above.

Proposal B, on the other hand, would amend § 202.2(c) (2) to provide that a refusal or failure to authorize the use of an account at point of sale or loan would not be adverse action if occasioned by the customer's failure to present a credit card or required identification, the customer's presentation of an expired credit card, or the fact that the authorization center was closed or known to the merchant to be malfunctioning. All other point-of-sale refusals of credit would be adverse action requiring notice. The effect of adopting proposal B would be to limit the events that would not require a notice to those specifically exempted. Notices would still be required, for example, when an applicant presents a card reported lost or stolen, when an applicant attempts to use an account on which that applicant has disclaimed responsibility, or when the equipment at point of sale is malfunctioning. Similarly, a notice would be necessary if the use of the card did not fit into the applicant's previous pattern of card use or if the use of the card exceeded the credit limit for cash advances, for a particular kind of purchase, or for a geographic area. These are generally considered security control mechanisms.

To aid in consideration of this proposed rulemaking by the Board, interested persons are invited to submit relevant data, comments, or analyses. Any such information should be submitted in writing to the Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551, to be received not later than November 15, 1977. All material submitted should include the Docket No. R-0117. Such information will be made available for inspection and copying upon request except as provided in § 261.6(a) of the Board's rules regarding availability of information (12 CFR 261.6(a)).

The following proposed amendments are published pursuant to the Board's authority under section 703(a) of the Equal Credit Opportunity Act (15 U.S.C. 1691(b)).

PROPOSAL A

§ 202.2 Definitions and rules of construction.

(c) Adverse action. (1) For the purpose of notification of action taken, statement of reasons for denial, and record retention, the term means:

(i) A refusal to grant credit in substantially the amount or on substantially the terms requested in an application unless the creditor offers to grant credit other than in substantially the amount or on substantially the terms requested by the applicant and the applicant uses or expressly accepts the credit offered; or

(2) The term does not include:

(iii) A refusal or failure to authorize the use of an account at a point of sale or loan, except when the refusal is caused by a termination or an unfavorable change in the terms of an account that does not affect all or a substantial portion of a classification of the creditor's accounts or when the refusal results in the denial of an application to increase the amount of credit available under the account; or

(3) When a particular action falls within the definitions of both paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (2) of this section, the provisions of paragraph (c) (2) of this section control.

PROPOSAL B

§ 202.2 Definitions and rules of construction.

(c) Adverse action. . . .

(2) The term does not include:

(vi) A refusal to extend credit because an applicant fails to present a credit card or presents an expired credit card; or

(vii) A refusal to extend credit because an applicant fails to present the required identification; or (viii) A refusal to extend credit because the credit card issuer's authorization center is closed or known to the merchant to be malfunctioning.

By order of the Board of Governors, effective September 28, 1977.

THEODORE E. ALLISON,
Secretary of the Board.

THE PROPOSAL

The FAA is considering an amendment to Subpart G of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) to alter the transition area over Chemung County Airport, Elmira, New York. The area will be altered by increasing the width of the 237° VOR radial extension from 2 to 4.5 miles each side of the radial, and increasing the length from 8 to approximately 11.5 miles. THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend Section 71.181 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) as follows:

1. Amend Section 71.181 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations so as to amend the description of the Elmira, N.Y., 700-foot floor transition area by deleting "within 2 miles each side of the Elmira VOR 237° radial extending SW from the 12-mile radius area for 8 miles SW of the VOR" and by inserting, "within 4.5 miles each side of the Elmira VORTAC 237° radial, extending from the 12-mile radius area to 11.5 miles SW of the VORTAC", in lieu thereof.

CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION

[16 CFR Part 1302]

EXTREMELY FLAMMABLE CONTACT
ADHESIVES

Extension of Time for Rulemaking

AGENCY: Consumer Product Safety Commission.

ACTION: Extension of time for promulgation of rule.

SUMMARY: The purpose of this notice is to extend from September 12, 1977, until December 12, 1977, the period in which the Consumer Product Safety Commission must publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER a consumer product safety rule to declare that certain extremely flammable contact adhesives are banned hazardous products under section 8 of the Consumer Product Safety Act (CPSA) (15 U.S.C. 2057) or to withdraw the rule proposed on July 13, 1977.

DATES: The deadline for publishing the rule is extended to December 12, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Nonapplicable.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Phillip Bechtel, Office of the General Counsel, 202-634-7770.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The purpose of this notice is to extend from September 12, 1977, until December 12, 1977, the period in which the Consumer Product Safety Commission must publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER a consumer product safety rule to declare that certain extremely flammable contact adhesive are banned hazardous products under section 8 of the Consumer Product Safety Act (CPSA) (15 U.S.C. 2057) or to withdraw the rule proposed on July 13, 1977.

Based on information gathered by the Commission staff and information contained in a petition (HP 76-9) filed by Barbara Peters on March 12, 1976, the Commission preliminarily determined that extremely flammable contact adhesives and similar products in containers of more than one-half pint are being and will be distributed in commerce and present an unreasonable risk of burn injury from explosive vapor ignition and flashback fire. The Commission also preliminarily determined that no feasible standard under the CPSA would adequately protect the public from the unreasonable risk of injury associated with the product. On July 13, 1977, the Commission proposed a ban under the CPSA of this product (42 FR 35984). The FEDERAL REGISTER notice proposing the ban invited interested persons to submit, on or before September 12, 1977, written comments regarding the proposal. The FEDERAL REGISTER notice also invited interested persons to make an oral presentation concerning the proposal at a proceeding that was conducted August 29, 1977.

The Commission has received approximately twenty-five written comments concerning the proposed ban as well as eight oral presentations concerning the proposal. Many of these comments and presentations concern technical issues that must be reviewed by the Commission staff. Since the comment period expired recently, the Commission staff will require additional time to analyze these comments and brief the Commission.

Accordingly, pursuant to § 9(a) (1) of the CPSA (15 U.S.C. 2058(a) (1)) the period of time in which the Commission must publish a consumer product safety rule declaring that certain extremely flammable contact adhesives are banned hazardous products or withdraw the rule proposed on July 13, 1977, is extended to December 12, 1977. This period may be further extended for good cause by notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: October 3, 1977.

SADYE E. DUNN,
Deputy Secretary,
Consumer Product Safety Commission.

PRESERVATION OF COSMETICS COMING IN CONTACT WITH THE EYEIntent to Propose Regulations and Request for Information

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

ACTION: Notice of intent to propose regulations.

SUMMARY: This document announces the agency's intention to propose regulations regarding microbial preservation of cosmetics that may come in contact with the eye under intended or customary conditions of use. The Commissioner of Food and Drugs is inviting the submission of comments and information concerning microbiological testing methods and standards of performance suitable to assure that such cosmetics do not become contaminated with microorganisms during manufacturing, subsequent storage and/or use by consumers.

DATES: Comments by December 12, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Written comments, data, or information to the Hearing Clerk (HFC-20), Food and Drug Administration, Rm. 4-65, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20857.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Heinz J. Eiermann, Bureau of Foods (HFF-440), Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, 200 C St. SW., Washington, D.C. 20204 (202-245-1530).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: FDA has received several reports of corneal ulceration associated with the use of cosmetic mascaras containing pathogenic microorganisms. These reports illustrate the importance of having adequate preservatives in mascaras and other eye contact cosmetics to reduce the risk of microbial contamination and eye injury. Mascaras can become contaminated with various microorganisms when the consumer uses the product and re-inserts the applicator wand into the container after application of the mascara to the eye lashes. The re-insertion of the applicator wand into the mascara is part of the intended or customary conditions of use of the products. Without an adequate preservative system, microorganisms introduced into the mascara with the applicator wand can survive and multiply inside the container. When the mascara is used again, if the microorganisms on the applicator wand come into contact with a scratched or damaged cornea, the eye may become infected. The healthy cornea is a formidable barrier against microbial insults. However, a cornea scratched inadvertently with a mascara wand, fingernail, contact lens, or otherwise damaged by chemical or physical trauma may readily become infected with microorganisms.

The reported incidents all involve mascaras in which the microorganism Pseudomonas aeruginosa has been found. Pseudomonas aeruginosa is an ubiquitous bacterium that may be present on the skin as a transient microorganism. It may readily grow in a cosmetic unless the cosmetic contains a preservative adequate to prevent contamination. Pseudomonas aeruginosa infections, if not recognized and treated immediately, can cause corneal ulceration that leads to partial or total blindness in the injured eye. Thus, particular attention should be given to the microorganism Pseudomonas aeruginosa in developing an adequate preservative system for all cosmetics that may come in contact with the eye during intended or customary conditions of use.

The Commissioner believes that the preservative systems used in mascara and other eye-contact products should be adequate not only to prevent the further growth of microorganisms introduced during use but also to reduce significantly the number of microorganisms introduced during use. The Commissioner expects to promulgate all-inclusive regulations delineating good manufacturing practice for cosmetics at some point, and he intends to propose regulations regarding microbial preservation of cosmetics coming in contact with the eye as a first step. The proposal will include not only a requirement for preservation sufficient to protect a cosmetic against likely contamination during manufacture, processing, packing or holding, but also the requirement that a cosmetic be adequately preserved to withstand contamination under intended or customary conditions of use. The contemplated rulemaking will consider all the applicable legal requirements governing inadequately preserved eye-area cosmetics.

The Commissioner invites interested persons to submit comments, data, or other information regarding the contemplated rule. Of particular interest are data or other information on microbiological testing methods and performance standards which can be adopted as laboratory testing procedures for the determination that a preservation system is effective under customary manufacturing and use conditions. Any recommended performance standard should be supported and validated by actual experiences under customary conditions of use to assure meaningful correlation between laboratory tests and preservation effectiveness under customary use conditions.

The Commissioner also advises that he considers inadequately preserved cosmetics to be in violation of the act. Under section 601 of the act, a cosmetic is considered adulterated if it is prepared under conditions whereby it may have been rendered injurious to health, as well as if it bears any poisonous or deleterious substance that may render it injurious to users under the conditions of use. Furthermore, under sections 201(n), 601, and 602 of the act and 21 CFR 740.10, the label must bear any warning statements that are necessary or appropriate to prevent a health hazard that may be associated with the product. Manufacturers and distributors should be advised that FDA intends to take whatever regulatory action is necessary to remove from the market any cosmetic that poses an unreasonable risk of injury because of inadequate preservation to withstand contamination under customary conditions of use. FDA does not intend to await the completion of the rule making proceeding announced in this notice of intent before taking needed regulatory action.

Any comments or scientific data relating to the requested information should be forwarded on or before December 12, 1977, to the Hearing Clerk, Food and Drug Administration, Rm. 4-65, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20857. SUMMARY: The Department of State is proposing new regulations under Pub. L. 95-45 to provide assistance to U.S. nationals incarcerated abroad to whom private funds are not available and who need emergency medical treatment and certain other dietary assistance on a short-term basis. This assistance will be provided on a normally reimbursable basis whereby prisoners will execute notes promising to repay the loan(s) through the account of the Treasurer of the United States and agree not to be furnished passports for travel, except for direct return to the United States, until repayment of the loan(s).

DATES: Comments must be received on or before November 10, 1977.

ADDRESS: Send comments to the Director, Office of Special Consular Services, Room 1803, Bureau of Consular Affairs, Department of State, 2201 C Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20520.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Secretary's authority to limit the issuance or extension of passports, § 51.70, Title 22, Code of Federal Regulations, provides in part, that persons who have not repaid a loan received from the United States to effectuate their return from a foreign country in the course of travel abroad, may be refused passports. Similarly, persons who have received assistance from the United States under Pub. L. 95-45 dated June 15, 1977, Assistance for Americans Incarcerated Abroad, who have executed promissory notes to repay their loans in full may be refused passports, except for direct return to the United States.

It is therefore proposed to amend the Department's passport regulations by adding a new subparagraph (6) under § 51.70(a) to read as follows:

§ 51.70 Denial of passports.

(a) A passport, except for direct return to the United States, shall not be issued in any case in which:

(6) The applicant has not repaid a loan received from the United States as prescribed under § 71.10 and § 71.11 of this Chapter.

PROTECTION AND WELFARE OF CITIZENS AND THEIR PROPERTY

Emergency Medical/Dietary Assistance for U.S. Nationals Incarcerated Abroad

AGENCY: Department of State.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This document contains proposed regulations under Pub. L. 95-45 relating to emergency medical/dietary and other assistance for U.S. nationals incarcerated abroad who are otherwise unable to obtain such services. The regulation will enable prisoners to receive appropriate emergency medical treatment and care, when required, in order to sustain an acceptable standard of life while they are imprisoned and private funds are unavailable. The regulations also establish procedures for providing the assistance on a reimbursable basis to the extent possible.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before November 10, 1977.

ADDRESS: Send comments to the Director, Office of Special Consular Services, Room 1803, Bureau of Consular Affairs, Department of State, 2201 C Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20520.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

James L. Ward, 202-632-7871.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under Pub. L. 95-45, dated June 15, 1977, the Department is authorized to provide U.S. nationals incarcerated abroad with medical/dietary and other emergency assistance, on a reimbursable basis if private funds are not otherwise available to do so.

There are U.S. nationals incarcerated abroad who, as a result of their incarceration, cannot secure the minimum medical treatment or diet necessary to sustain an acceptable standard of life. This rule will enable these prisoners to receive appropriate medical care and other emergency services when required through the Department's consular officers at Foreign Service posts.

The assistance includes: (1) Providing emergency medical treatment of prisoners; (2) providing full feeding on a short-term basis for prisoners in holding jails or similar detention, where meals are not furnished by the incarcerating authorities; and (3) providing dietary supplements to prisoners whose diets do not provide the minimum requirements necessary to sustain adequate health while incarcerated. Provisions (1) and (2) will require efforts to obtain the necessary funds from private sources to be undertaken first; if private funds are not available, these services will be provided on a reimbursable basis and the prisoners will be required to execute appropriate promissory notes for repayment of the money expended. Provision (3) does not require reimbursement.

Accordingly, it is proposed to amend Part 71 and 22 CFR by designating the heading General Activities as Subpart A and adding a new Subpart B to read as follows:

Subpart B—Emergency Medical/Dietary Assistance for U.S. Nationals Incarcerated Abroad

Sec.
71.10 Emergency medical assistance.
71.11 Short-term full diet program.
71.12 Dietary supplements.

AUTHORITY: Sec. 4, 63 Stat. 111, as amended (22 U.S.C. 2658, 2670); Pub. L. 95-45 (91 Stat. 221).

Subpart B—Emergency Medical/Dietary Assistance for U.S. Nationals Incarcerated Abroad

§ 71.10 Emergency medical assistance.

(a) Eligibility criteria. A U.S. national incarcerated abroad is considered eligible to receive funded medical treatment under the following general criteria:

(1) Adequate treatment cannot or will not be provided by prison authorities or the host government;

(2) All reasonable attempts to obtain private resources (prisoner's family, friends, etc.) have failed, or such resources do not exist;

(3) There are medical indications that the emergency medical assistance is necessary to prevent, or attempt to prevent, the death of the prisoners, or failure to provide the service will cause permanent disablement.

(b) Services covered. Funds, once approved, may be expended for:

(1) Medical examination, when required;

(2) Emergency treatment;

(3) Non-elective surgery;

(4) Medications and related medical supplies and equipment required on a routine basis to sustain life;

(5) Preventive or protective medications and medical supplies and equipment (vaccinations, inoculations, etc.) required to combat epidemic conditions (general or intramural);

(6) Childbirth attendance, including necessary medical care of newborn children; and

(7) Within the consular district, transportation for the U.S. national and attendant(s) designated by incarcerating officials between the place of incarceration and the place(s) of treatment.

(c) Consular responsibility. As soon as the consular officer is aware that a U.S. national prisoner in the consular district faces a medical crisis, the officer should take the following actions, setting forth the order of priority based on an evaluation of the facts received:

(1) Make every effort to contact the ill or injured prisoner as soon as possible;

(2) Take steps to obtain a professional medical diagnosis and prognosis of the ill or injured prisoner;

(3) Determine as accurately as possible the estimated costs of recommended treatment or surgery;

(4) Obtain the names and addresses of family or friends who might serve as a source of private funds for medical services, and attempt to obtain the necessary funds;

(5) Request the prisoner to execute a promissory note, since funds expended by the Department to cover medical services normally are on a reimbursable basis; and

(6) Submit the above information, along with recommendations and evaluations, to the Department for approval and authorization.

(d) Emergency expenditure authorization. When a medical emergency prohibits the delay inherent in contacting the Department and receiving authority to expend funds, the consular officer can expend up to an amount to be established by the Department without prior Departmental approval if:

(1) Symptoms determine eligibility for emergency medical treatment; or

(2) An immediate medical examination is warranted in order to verify the alleged abuse of a U.S. national prisoner by arresting or confining authorities; or

(3) Immediate emergency medical treatment or surgery is necessary to prevent death or permanent disablement, and there is insufficient time to explore private funds or obtain Department approval; and

(4) A promissory note already has been executed by the prisoner, or if the circumstances warrant, by the consular officer without recourse.

§ 71.11 Short-term full diet program.

(a) Eligibility criteria. A prisoner is considered eligible for the short-term full diet program under the following general criteria:

(1) The prisoner is to be or has been held in excess of one day in a holding jail or other facility;

(2) Incarcerating officials do not provide the prisoner food, and food is not available from any other sources, including private funding from family or friends; and

(3) If the funds exceed an amount to be established by the Department, the prisoner signs a promissory note for funds expended, since the assistance is on a normally reimbursable basis.

(b) Consular responsibility. As soon as the consular officer is aware that a U.S.

national is incarcerated in a facility wherein food is not routinely provided, the consular officer should:

(1) Contact the prisoner in accordance with existing procedures;

(2) Determine the normal cost of basic diet and best method of effecting payment;

(3) Attempt to secure funds from private sources such as family or friends;

(4) Because funds expended by the Department to cover the short-term full diet program normally are on a reimbursable basis, have the prisoner execute a promissory note; and

(5) Contact the Department, providing the above information, for approval and authorization.

(c) Emergency expenditure authorization. Since an immediate need for a short-term full diet program often prohibits the delay inherent in contacting the Department and receiving authority to expend funds, the consular officer can expend up to an amount to be established by the Department without prior Departmental approval if the prisoner's case meets the criteria established in § 71.11(a). Expenditures above the predetermined limit must receive the prior approval of the Department.

§ 71.12 Dietary supplements.

(a) Eligibility criteria. A prisoner is considered eligible for the dietary supplement program under the following general criteria:

(1) An evaluation by a private physician, prison doctor, or other host country medical authority reveals that the prison diet does not meet the minimum requirements to sustain adequate health; or

(2) If the evaluation in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph is not available, an evaluation by either a regional medical officer or Departmental medical officer reveals that the prison diet does not provide the minimum requirements to sustain adequate health.

(b) Consular responsibility. (1) When the consular officer is aware that the U.S. prisoner's diet does not provide the minimum requirements to sustain adequate health, the consular officer shall obtain the necessary dietary supplements and distribute them to the prisoner on a regular basis.

(2) As soon as the consular officer believes that dietary supplements are being misused, the consular officer shall suspend provision of the dietary supplements and report the incident in full to the Department.

For the Secretary of State.

Acting Assistant Secretary

RECORDATION AND CERTIFICATION OF COIN-OPERATED PHONORECORD PLAYERS

Proposed Rulemaking

AGENCY: Library of Congress, Copyright Office.

ACTION: Proposed Regulation.

SUMMARY: The purpose of this notice is to inform the public that the Copyright Office of the Library of Congress is considering the adoption of a new regulation to implement section 116 of the Act for General Revision of the Copyright Law. This section prescribes conditions under which operators of coin-operated phonorecord players may obtain a compulsory license for the public performance of non-dramatic musical works. The proposed regulation establishes requirements governing applications for the compulsory license. This notice announces and invites participation in a public hearing intended to elicit comment, views, and information to assist the Copyright Office in formulating a final regulation.

DATES: The hearing will be held on October 25, 1977, commencing at 9:30 a.m. Members of the public desiring to testify should submit written requests to present testimony before October 14, 1977, to the address given below. The request should clearly identify the individual or group requesting to testify and the amount of time desired.

All witnesses are requested to provide 10 copies of a written statement of their testimony to the Office of the General Counsel at the address given below by October 19, 1977.

The record of the proceedings will be kept open until November 9, 1977, for receipt of written supplemental statements.

ADDRESSES: The hearing will be held in Room 910, Crystal Mall Building No. 2, 1921 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Va.

Requests to present testimony and written statements should be addressed to:

Office of the General Counsel, Copyright Office, Library of Congress, Call No. 2999, Arlington, Va. 22202.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Jon Baumgarten, General Counsel, Copyright Office, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. 20559, 703-557-8731.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 116 of the first section of Pub. L. 94-553 (90 Stat. 2541) establishes conditions under which operators of coin-operated phonorecord players—commonly referred to as "jukeboxes"—may obtain a compulsory license for the public performance of nondramatic musical works.

A compulsory license permits the use of a copyrighted work without the consent of the copyright owner, if certain conditions are met and royalties paid. Conditions of the compulsory license for coin-operated phonorecord players are set forth in section 116(b)(1) as follows:

(A) Before or within one month after such performances are made available on a particular phonorecord player, and during the month of January in each succeeding year that such performances are made available on that particular phonorecord player, the operator shall file in the Copyright Office, in accordance with requirements that the Register of Copyrights, after consultation with the Copyright Royalty Tribunal (if and when the Tribunal has been constituted), shall prescribe by regulation, an application containing the name and address of the operator of the phonorecord player and the manufacturer and serial number or other explicit identification of the phonorecord player, and deposit with the Register of Copyrights a royalty fee for the current calendar year of $8 for that particular phonorecord player. If such performances are made available on a particular phonorecord player for the first time after July 1 of any year, the royalty fee to be deposited for the remainder of that year shall be $4.

(B) Within twenty days of receipt of an application and a royalty fee pursuant to subclause (A), the Register of Copyrights shall issue to the applicant a certificate for the phonorecord player.

(C) On or before March 1 of the year in which the certificate prescribed by subclause (B) of this clause is issued, or within ten days after the date of issue of the certificate, the operator shall affix to the particular phonorecord player, in a position where it can be readily examined by the public, the certificate, issued by the Register of Copyrights under subclause (B), of the latest application made by such operator under subclause (A) of this clause with respect to that phonorecord player.

Section 116(b)(1) thus requires the Register of Copyrights to prescribe regulations governing the compulsory license application and to develop a form of certificate to be affixed to licensed phonorecord players.

To assist the Copyright Office in formulating proposed regulations, on March 30, 1977, the Office published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 16838) an Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. In response to the advance notice twelve comments and replies were received.

A discussion of the major comments follows. In addition to these matters, and the proposed regulation in general, testimony is specifically invited on the following issue: What special provisions, if any, should the Copyright Office make in its regulations covering applications to be submitted and certificates to be issued for systems embodying multiple "wall boxes" operating from a remote master unit?

1. WHAT INFORMATION SHOULD BE IN THE APPLICATION?

Section 116(b)(1)(A) of the Act requires that the application include the name and address of the operator, and the manufacturer and serial number or other explicit identification of the coin-operated phonorecord player.

Comments suggested that the application also include a list of the selections available on the player, charge per play, capacity of the player and the location of establishments in which the players are located. Each of these elements had been required in earlier versions of copyright revision bills, but none are maintained in the Act. Accordingly these elements are not generally required by the proposed regulation. (However, we do propose to require the capacity and charge per play for players having no serial number.)

Other comments suggested that the application include the address of the manufacturer, the name of the record distributor, and the name and address of phonorecord player lessee. These suggestions have not been adopted in the proposed regulation. The address of the manufacturer will generally be readily available. The need for identification of the record distributor is not apparent. The need for including the name and address of the phonorecord player lessee, if different from the operator, is also doubtful since the lessor would probably be making the required payment.

We have proposed that the application include the legal name of the operator, together with any relevant fictitious or assumed name, the full address of the operator's place of business, the manufacturer's name, and the serial number or certain explicit identification of players having no serial number. As suggested in one comment, we have proposed that the "address" of the operator include the number and street name or rural route of the operator's place of business. The use of a post office box will not be sufficient.

One comment suggested that we assign a unique number to each player instead of the manufacturer and serial number; however, since the latter information is required by the statute, we have not adopted this suggestion. Another comment urged the Copyright Office to assign a unique license number in order to set up a renewal system similar to state automobile licenses. The Copyright Office does plan to establish a reminder system for renewals of licenses. This system would not require use of an assigned unique number, and if we were to assign such a number when it is not required for the reminder system it would only add to our operating costs and diminish the royalties payable to copyright owners.

¹Of course, the reminder system will not relieve operators of their statutory obligation to make annual applications for compulsory license.

For players having no serial number the proposed regulation sets out certain other elements of identification. These pertain to the model designation and capacity of the player, the type of sound system employed, and the charge per play.

One comment suggested that the application should be sworn to in compliance with federal law. However, consistent with our plans with respect to other applications to be filed in the Copyright Office, we plan to reproduce section 116 (d) of the Act on the application. This section prescribes criminal penalties for false representations in the application and may be sufficient for the purpose.

2. MAY A SINGLE APPLICATION COVER MULTIPLE PLAYERS OWNED OR CONTROLLED BY A PARTICULAR OPERATOR?

In response to a question raised in the Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, one comment suggested that a separate application be filed for each player owned or controlled by a particular operator. However, other comments agreed that a single application could be used for multiple players. In order to minimize paperwork for both the Copyright Office and the operators and to gain efficiency in our administration of the regulation, we have proposed to accept single applications for multiple players owned or controlled by a particular operator, assuming that all identifying information for each player is given and that the appropriate aggregate fee is paid.

3. SHOULD REPLACEMENT CERTIFICATES BE PROVIDED, AND IF SO, AT WHAT CHARGE?

In accordance with a general consensus among the comments, we have proposed that replacement certificates will be supplied upon receipt of specified affidavits attesting to the loss or destruction of the original certificate and payment of an appropriate fee. There was disagreement among the comments as to the fee to be charged. We do not believe we can impose an additional $8 license fee for replacement certificates under section 116. Instead, our proposal establishes a $4 fee under section 708(11) of the Act for the service of providing replacements.

4. WHAT PROVISIONS, IF ANY, SHOULD BE MADE FOR THE SALE OR TRANSFER OF A LICENSED PHONORECORD PLAYER DURING THE LICENSE PERIOD?

One comment suggested that every sale or transfer of ownership of a player should require a new application and issuance of a certificate. Another comment argued that the compulsory license should be freely transferable, subject only to due notice to the Copyright Office of changes in ownership. A third suggestion was that transfers should be handled like assignments of copyrights and made subject of recordation. Our proposed regulation does not adopt any of these proposals. The compulsory license under section 116 of the Act attaches to "particular phonorecord players" section 116(b)(1)(A) and (C)).

Also, section 116(e)(2) of the statute indicates that the "operator" who obtains the license may be a person other than the owner of the player. Since sales or transfers affect the ownership of the player, and not the player itself, our proposal does not require any action to be taken upon the sale or transfer of a player during the license period.

5. MISCELLANEOUS COMMENTS

The following matters pertain to internal Office practices and questions of format which will not be prescribed by regulation.

(a) Our plans call for the certificate issued by the Copyright Office to be a colored adhesive label, and the application to be computer codable. Since the purpose of the certificate is to show that a particular phonorecord player has been licensed, the certificate will contain all of the identifying information given on the application for the particular player.

(b) Comments suggested that the Copyright Office compile a catalog of all the information on the applications and make applications and certificates available for public inspection. Completed applications will be available for public inspection after processing. Since the certificates will be printed from punch cards or tapes, copies of the certificates will not be available. We are considering the possibility of providing, for a fee, cataloged information compiled from applications.

We propose to amend Part 201 of 37 CFR Chapter II by adding a new § 201.16 to read as follows:

§ 201.16 Recordation and Certification of Coin-Operated Phonorecord Players.

(a) General. This regulation prescribes the procedures to be followed by operators of coin-operated phonorecord players who wish to obtain a compulsory license for the public performance of nondramatic musical works, and by the Copyright Office in issuing certificates, under section 116 of title 17 of the United States Code as amended by Pub. L. 94-553. The terms "operator" and "coin-operated phonorecord player" have the meanings given to them by paragraph (e) of that section.

(b) Form and content of applications. (1) Each application for a compulsory license under this section shall be on a form prescribed by the Copyright Office and shall contain the following information:

(i) The legal name of the operator, together with any fictitious or assumed name used by the operator for the purpose of conducting the business relating to the coin-operated phonorecord player for which the application is made.

(ii) The full address of the operator's place of business, including a specific number and street name or rural route. A post office box number or similar designation will not be accepted.

(iii) The name or a specified designation of the manufacturer of the coin-operated phonorecord player for which the application is made.

(iv) The serial number of the coin-operated phonorecord player for which the application is made. If a serial number does not appear on that player, all the information required by paragraph (b) (2) of this section shall be given.

(v) The name, address and telephone number of an individual who may be contacted by the Copyright Office for further information about the application.

(vi) The signature of the operator or the duly authorized agent of the operator. If a business entity is identified as the operator, the signature should be that of an officer if the entity is a corporation or of a partner if the entity is a partnership.

(2) If a serial number is not present on the coin-operated phonorecord player for which the application is made, the application shall also contain the following information for that player:

- Its model number;
- Its model year and name, if known;
- Whether the sound system employed in the player is nonaural, stereophonic, quadraphonic, or other;
- The maximum number of phonorecords it is capable of holding; and
- The charge to the public for each play.

(3) Each application shall be accompanied by the fee prescribed by statute in the form of a certified check, cashier's check or money order.

(4) A single application may be submitted for multiple players owned or controlled by a particular operator if all the identifying information is given for each player and the proper aggregate fee is submitted for all players covered by the application.

(c) Certificate. (1) After receipt of the prescribed form and fee, the Copyright Office will issue a certificate containing the information set forth in paragraphs (b) (1) (i) through (iv) and (b) (2) of this section, together with the date of issuance of the certificate and the date of expiration of the license.

(2) In the case of the loss or destruction of a certificate issued for a particular coin-operated phonorecord player, a replacement certificate may be obtained upon submission of a fee of $4, in the form of a certified check, cashier's check or money order, and an affidavit under the official seal or any officer authorized to administer oaths within the United States, or a statement in accordance with section 1746 of title 28 of the United States Code, made and signed by an operator or agent in accordance with paragraph (b) (1) (vi) of this section. The affidavit or statement shall describe the circumstances of the loss or destruction and give all the information required by paragraphs (b) (1) (i) through (v) and (b) (2) of this section pertaining to the player for which a replacement certificate is desired.

(d) Sale or transfers. The sale or transfer of a coin-operated phonorecord player during a period for which the certificate has been issued will not require a new application.

(17 U.S.C. 107; and under the following sections of Title 17 of the U.S. Code as amended by Pub. L. 94-553: 116; 702; 708(11).)

PESTICIDE PROGRAMS

Pesticide Chemicals in or on Raw Agricultural Commodities; Proposed Tolerances for the Pesticide Chemical 4-Amino-6-(1,1-dimethylethyl)-3-(methylthio)-1,2,4-triazin-5(4H)-one AGENCY: Office of Pesticide Programs, Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to establish tolerances for residues of the herbicide 4-amino-6-(1,1-dimethylethyl)-3-(methylthio)-1,2,4-triazin-5(4H)-one. The proposal was submitted by the Mobay Chemical Corporation. This proposed rule would establish maximum permissible levels for residues of the subject herbicide on various raw agricultural commodities.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before November 10, 1977.

ADDRESS COMMENTS TO: Federal Register Section, Technical Services Division (WH-569), Office of Pesticide Programs, Environmental Protection Agency, Room 401, East Tower, 401 M St. SW., Washington D.C. 20460.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Robert Taylor, Product Manager (PM) 25, Registration Division (WH-567), Office of Pesticide Programs, Environmental Protection Agency (202-426-2632).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On June 18, 1975, notice was given (40 FR 48680) that Mobay Chemical Corp., P.O. Box 4913, Hawthorn Road, Kansas City, Mo. 64120, had filed a petition (PP 5F1628) with the EPA. This petition proposed to amend 40 CFR 180.332 by establishing tolerances for combined residues of the herbicide 4-amino-6-(1,1-dimethylethyl)-3-(methylthio)-1,2,4-triazin-5(4H)-one and its triazinone metabolites in or on the raw agricultural commodities alfalfa, grass, and sainfoin hay at 7 ppm; green alfalfa, grass, and sainfoin at 2 ppm; wheat straw at 0.2 ppm; asparagus and wheat grain at 0.05 ppm and by increasing the tolerances for residues in meat, fat, and meat by-products of cattle, goats, hogs, horses, poultry, and sheep from 0.2 to 0.7 ppm.

Also on June 18, 1975, notice was given (40 FR 48680) that Mobay Chemical Corp., had filed a petition (PP 5F1629) with the EPA proposing to amend 40 CFR 180.332 by establishing tolerances for combined residues of the subject pesticide and its triazinone metabolites in or on the raw agricultural commodities fresh corn including sweet corn (kernels plus cob with husk removed) and corn grain at 0.05 ppm and corn fodder and forage at 0.1 ppm. Subsequently, Mobay amended the petition by proposing that the established tolerance of 0.01 ppm in milk be increased to 0.05 ppm.

Because these amendments to the petitions might result in increased human exposure to the pesticide, the requests are being issued as a proposed rulemaking notice pursuant to 40 CFR 180.32. No comments were received in response to these notices of filing.

The scientific data submitted in the petitions and other relevant material have been evaluated, and it has been determined that the proposed tolerances will protect the public health. The main scientific considerations in the Agency's determination were that the metabolism of the subject pesticide in plants and animals is adequately understood, and so there is no need for additional characterization of water soluble and extractable residues found in plants and animals. The available toxicity data on the pesticide satisfy the lifetime-feeding, reproduction, teratogenicity, and mutagenicity requirements of the Agency. The demonstrated no-effect level would support an acceptable daily intake (ADI) in man (based on rat-feeding studies) of 0.15 mg/kg of body weight/day. An adequate enforcement method (gas chromatographic technique with electron capture detector) for the tolerances is available.

The manufacturer has submitted analytical data which demonstrate that no detectable levels (less than 0.1 ppm) of the postulated nitrosamines of this herbicide are present in the finished formulation.

Tolerances have previously been established for the pesticide in or on potatoes at 0.6 ppm; meat, fat, and meat byproducts of cattle, goats, hogs, horses, poultry, and sheep at 0.2 ppm; sugarcane and soybeans at 0.1 ppm; and eggs and milk at 0.1 ppm. The established tolerance for residues in eggs is adequate to cover secondary residues resulting from the proposed uses and the tolerances established by amending 40 CFR 180.332 will be adequate to cover residues that would result in milk and the meat, fat, and meat byproducts of cattle, goats, hogs, horses, poultry, and sheep as delineated in 40 CFR 180.6(a) (1).

It has been determined that the pesticide is useful for the purpose for which the tolerances are sought. Therefore it is proposed that the tolerances be established as set forth below.

Any person who has registered, or submitted an application for the registration of a pesticide under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act which contains any of the ingredients listed herein, may request, on or before November 10, 1977, that this rule-making proposal be referred to an advisory committee in accordance with section 408(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments on the proposed regulation. Three copies of the comments should be submitted to facilitate the work of the Agency and of others interested in inspecting them. The comments must bear a notation indicating both the subject and the petition document control number, "PP5F1628 & 5F1629/P52". All written comments filed in response to this notice of proposed rulemaking will be available for public inspection in the office of the Federal Register Section from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Dated: October 13, 1977.

DOUGLAS D. CAMPT,
Acting Director,
Registration Division.

(Section 408(d) (2) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act [21 U.S.C. 34a(d) (2)])

It is proposed that Part 180, Subpart C, § 180.332 be amended by (a) alphabetically inserting tolerances of 7 ppm on alfalfa, grass, and sainfoin hay; 2 ppm on green alfalfa, grass, and sainfoin; 0.2 ppm on wheat straw; 0.1 ppm on corn fodder and forage; and 0.05 ppm on asparagus, fresh corn including sweet corn (kernels plus cob with husk removed), corn grain, and wheat grain, (b) increasing the established tolerances of 0.2 ppm in the meat, fat, and meat byproducts of cattle, goats, hogs, horses, poultry, and sheep to 0.7 ppm and 0.01 ppm in milk to 0.05 ppm, and (c) revising the section in its entirety to editorially restructure the section into an alphabetized columnar listing to read as follows.

§ 180.332 4-Amino-6-(1,1-dimethylethyl)-3-(methylthio)-1,2,4-triazin-5(4H)-one; tolerances for residues.

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Order.

SUMMARY: Action taken herein extends the time for filing comments and reply comments to the Notice of Proposed Rule Making concerning the proposed assignment of a Class C FM channel to Camp Lejeune, N.C., or in the alternative, assignment of a Class A FM channel to Cherry Point, North Carolina. Petitioner states that the additional time is needed so that it can prepare an adequate response to the economic and engineering aspects of the questions raised in the Notice.

DATES: Comments must be filed on or before November 16, 1977, and reply comments must be filed on or before December 7, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

ORDER EXTENDING TIME FOR FILING COMMENTS AND REPLY COMMENTS

Adopted: October 4, 1977.

Released: October 4, 1977.

In the matter of Amendment of § 73.202(b), Table of Assignments, FM Broadcast Stations (Camp Lejeune, N.C.), Docket No. 21383, RM-2814.

1. On August 30, 1977, the Commission adopted a Notice of Proposed Rule Making, 42 FR 45002, concerning the above captioned proceeding. The dates for filing comments and reply comments are October 17 and November 7, 1977, respectively.

2. On September 19, 1977, Beasley Broadcast Group of Jacksonville, Inc., licensee of Stations WJNC and WRCM (FM), Jacksonville, N.C., by counsel, filed a request seeking an extension of time for filing comments to and including November 16, 1977. Counsel states that the complexities of the issues presented in the Notice, particularly in regard to its economic and engineering aspects, as well as the press of business in other proceedings before the Commission, prevents its meeting the current filing date. He adds that the additional time will enable him to adequately respond to the questions raised in the Notice.

3. Francon, Incorporated, proponent in this proceeding, interposes no objection to the granting of the requested extension.

4. We are of the view that the public interest would be served by this extension so that Beasley Broadcast Group of Jacksonville, Inc., may file any information which may be helpful to the Commission in resolving the issues before it. Because of this extension in the date for filing comments, a postponement in the deadline for reply comments is also required. Accordingly, it is ordered. That the time for filing comments and reply comments in Docket 21383, RM-2814, is extended to and including November 16, and December 7, 1977, respectively.

5. This action is taken pursuant to authority found in sections 4(i), 5(d)(1), and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 0.281 of the Commission's rules.

DUAL OPERATIONS OF MOTOR CARRIERS

Proposed Implementation of Proposal No. 18 Regarding the Handling of Motor Carrier Applications

AGENCY: Interstate Commerce Commission.

ACTION: Proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to implement the recommendations of ICC proposal No. 18 (Dual Operations) in the report of the Commission's Staff Task Force on improving motor carrier entry control, dated July 6, 1977, regarding handling of motor carrier applications which, if granted, will result in dual operations as both a common and a contract carrier. It is anticipated that the decision in this proceeding will approve future dual operations. Guidelines would be established by which dual operations may be brought in issue in a specific case.

DATES: Written comments should be filed with the Commission on or before December 12, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to Office of Proceedings, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Michael Erenberg, Assistant Deputy Director, Section of Operating Rights, Office of Proceedings, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423; Phone: 202-275-7292.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 210 of the Interstate Commerce Act requires that dual operations be approved as a condition to any new grant of authority to a carrier, or affiliated carriers holding both common and contract carrier rights. Approval may be granted if dual operations satisfy the standard of consistency with the public interest and the national transportation policy. Heretofore, evaluation of compliance with the requirements of section 210 has been on a case-by-case basis. As motor carrier operations continue to expand and diversify reflecting growth and technological changes in the economy, applications to operate contemporaneously in both the common and contract mode have increased dramatically. To facilitate disposition of these cases and improve agency resource allocation, recommendation No. 18 of the Staff Task Force report proposes that in a proceeding analogous to a prospective licensing rulemaking, the Commission enter a general finding that the holding of dual authority satisfies the standard of section 210 absent a specific showing that abuses are likely to result. Also, it advocates submission of legislation ultimately repealing the considered statutory provision in light of the availability of sanctions set forth in section 218(b) of the Act.

The hypothesis on which the above recommendation rests is that instances of rate discrimination or other abuses traceable to the holding of dual authority are virtually nonexistent. If no practical or legal impediments are shown to exist, it is anticipated that the decision in this proceeding will prospectively approve dual operations as has been proposed. Concurrently, guidelines would be established by which the propriety of dual operations may be brought in issue in a specific case. To insure the viability of the general finding of consistency with the public interest the proposed guidelines impose affirmative burdens on any party advocating disapproval of dual operations.

DATES: Written comments should be filed with the Commission on or before December 12, 1977. Comments are requested from interested parties concerning the question of whether discrimination or preference is likely where dual operations exist under current economic and regulatory conditions. These comments should also address the issue of whether alternate means exist to dispose of dual operations proposals more expeditiously, and they may include suggested rules regarding the type of showing required to compel an assessment of dual operations in a specific proceeding.

Section 210 of the Act provides in pertinent part that:

Unless, for good cause shown, the Commission shall find, or shall have found, that both a certificate and permit may be so held consistently with the public interest and the national transportation policy . . . (1) no person . . . shall hold a certificate . . . if such person . . . holds a permit as a contract carrier authorizing operation for the transportation of property by motor vehicle over the same route or within the same territory; and (2) no person . . . shall hold a permit . . . if such person holds a certificate . . . for the transportation of property . . . over the same route or within the same territory (49 U.S.C. 310, August 9, 1935, amended September 18, 1940).

Decisions of the Commission interpreting this section of the Act have, until recently, taken an increasingly strict view of when dual operations may be approved. Results, however, have not been uniform even in relatively similar factual settings, and much time and energy has been devoted to an often highly theoretical analysis of whether unlawful or undesirable practices could be indulged in if dual operations approval were to be granted. Since such efforts are unrelated to the evaluation of the issue of public need in application proceedings, the public interest should be greatly advanced by our reducing the amount of resources devoted to disposing of such peripheral matters. It is axiomatic that any regulation adopted in this proceeding must be consistent with the requirements of the Act and carry out its objectives. Accordingly, brief consideration is warranted at this point of the meaning and purpose of section 210, as they are currently understood.

HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT OF STANDARDS RELATING TO DISPOSITION OF DUAL OPERATIONS PROPOSALS

It is well established that at the time of the adoption of the Motor Carrier Act of 1935, its supporters were not favorably disposed to concurrent motor carrier operations as both a common and contract carrier. Their concern was that such operations would enable the exercise of preference, discrimination, and other undesirable practices. An earlier bill from which the Act was ultimately derived even went so far as to prohibit dual operations entirely. There is no legislative history which would indicate that the drafters considered the adoption of the language appearing above, which allows the Commission to approve dual operations on making certain findings, to be a significant departure from their original proposal.

Provisions of section 210 have remained relatively unchanged since their enactment (the only major change has been the bringing of common control within the scope of this rule in 1940); however, the Commission's approach to evaluating applications subject to its terms has varied through the years. In the initial stages of motor carrier regulation the Commission demonstrated considerable leniency in approving dual operations, basing such findings solely on disparity of commodities and territories, if present. After 1940, however, this agency became concerned that the relationship of the parties involved could give rise to opportunities for the exercise of preference or discrimination regardless of other factors in a case. This trend began with the entry of the decision in Canada Common Carrier Application, 26 M.C.C. 563 (1940), wherein it was concluded that the "mere possibility" that improper practices could occur was enough to warrant disapproval of dual operations. Thereafter service proposals were frequently disapproved not only where dual service could clearly be provided for the same shipper, but even where there was only a remote chance that the same person would be served as both common and contract carrier. Ultimately, in Zern-Purchase-Nettles, 57 M.C.C. 627 (1951), possible overlapping service for merely the same consignee was found a sufficient ground on which to base a determination that dual operations would not be in the public interest.

The adoption of the standard in the Canada case did not result in the denial of all subsequently filed applications seeking to engage in dual service. Frequently, where a remote chance of dual service was found, it was possible to restrict the scope of the involved common carrier service, or to limit the involved contract carrier application, to satisfy whatever objections may have existed with regard to an outright grant of the service proposal in question. Also, in certain specified classes of cases, such as those involving proposals to transport cash letter, or to perform small parcel service, dual operations were approved even though under existing standards and precedent such operations would have been considered not in the public interest. On the whole, though, the trend became established to disapprove operations as both a common and contract carrier in as many situations as possible, and on the most theoretical of bases.

The "mere possibility" approach to analysis of applications subject to section 210 was followed with relative consistency until the entry of the decision in Delaware Express Co. v. Milford Express, Inc., 119 M.C.C. 499 (1973) (Delaware I). In this proceeding it was found that under the circumstances presented, no reasonable likelihood existed that dual operations by commonly controlled carriers to the same consignees would violate the considered statutory provision or be contrary to the public interest. Subsequently, in a report on reconsideration in the same case, printed at 126 M.C.C. 462 (1977) (Delaware II), Division I rejected the "mere potential or opportunity" standard as overly restrictive. It then ruled that where there does not exist a "realistic possibility" of discrimination as a result of a grant of dual operating authority, such operations should be found consistent with the public interest and the national transportation policy. The subsequent evaluation of facts in Delaware II fairly supports the conclusion that in only rare instances of so-called consignee overlap will dual operations approval be withheld. See also Cargo Contract Carrier Corp. v. Ert., 126 M.C.C. 874, 876-880 (1977), and Wayne Daniel Truck, Inc. v. Ert., 128 M.C.C. 1, 9-10 (1977).

After the second Delaware decision, Division I in Charter Exp., Inc. v. Ert., 126 M.C.C. 671 (1977), adopted the position that a more realistic evaluation of facts is necessary in all proceedings which could result in multimodal motor carrier operations. Factors or criteria alluded to in Delaware II were found suitable for appraisal of applications seeking dual operations approval, and the prior, speculative approach to resolution of the considered issue was substantially rejected. Since these decisions are of recent vintage, it is not possible to state with any certainty their effect on dual operations. Because of the emphasis on reasonable analysis and concern for real world effects, it is anticipated that approval will be granted with somewhat greater frequency than before.

PURPOSE AND NEED FOR PRESENT RULEMAKING

If a rule such as the Staff Task Force contemplates were adopted, disapproval of dual operations should occur only infrequently. It is recognized that such liberalization would be contrary to views held at the time the Motor Carrier Act was adopted. This is not felt to be an impediment to implementation of the considered proposal, however, for several reasons. The first is that when Congress revised section 210 in 1940 to extend it to common control situations, no other efforts were made to tighten its provisions, even though dual operations were being routinely approved at that time. An even more significant consideration is the fact that in 1940, present section 218(b) was added to the Act, affording the Commission disciplinary power with respect to the rates and practices of contract carriers. This grant of regulatory power should have obviated the concern of the drafters of the Act that rebates and concessions could be offered by a contract carrier as a means of inducing use of its common carrier service. If abuses of dual operations grants were to occur, the latter cited statutory section, and others prohibiting unlawful practices by common carriers remain available to enable the Commission to bring about their termination and protect the public interest. A side benefit would be a reduction in reliance on the entry control mechanism to ensure lawful, fair and competitive rate practices.

The proposal would eliminate in most instances the need to address the issue of dual operations in individual proceedings, which remains necessary even under the Charter-Delaware II line of decisions. Because of the startling increase in motor carrier application filings during 1977, we believe any suggestion to reduce the time for handling cases warrants investigation, not only to ease the burden on the agency's staff, but more importantly because more responsive regulatory action will result.

COMMENTS REQUESTED

Comments are requested from interested parties concerning the question of whether discrimination or preference is likely where dual operations exist under current economic and regulatory conditions. These comments should also address the issue of whether alternate means exist to dispose of dual operations proposals more expeditiously, and they may include suggested rules regarding the type of showing required to compel an assessment of dual operations in a specific proceeding.

Accordingly, the Commission proposes to add to part 1004 of the Code of Federal Regulations a new § 1004.3, as follows:

§ 1004.3 [Added]

(a) Where an application for motor common or contract carrier authority will result in dual operations as defined in section 210 of the Interstate Commerce Act, a finding will be entered that "in accordance with the decision in Ex Parte No. 55 (Sub-No. 27) dual operations may be performed by applicant (and its affiliate) consistent with the public interest and the national transportation policy." Consideration will not otherwise be afforded the dual operations issue in any particular proceeding unless a party introduces facts indicating a reasonable likelihood that rate preferences will be extended or that discrimination will be practiced or solicited. To satisfy this requirement it will not be sufficient for a party advocating litigation of the lawfulness of dual operations to merely establish that dual service may or will be provided for the same shipper or consignee.

(b) Where the question of whether dual operations would be consistent with the public interest and national transportation policy is raised in a specific proceeding, the party raising the issue should address the following relevant factors: (1) Identification of shippers to be served as both a common and contract carrier, (2) the relationships of the involved commodities, (3) the realities of economic control of the shippers over the carriers, (4) the economic leverage which any potential consignors or consignees would have on the carriers, (5) the actual incentive which the involved carrier or carriers would have to engage in discriminatory behavior, and (6) the actual product distribution patterns of the traffic involved.

(c) Any grant of authority enabling dual operations by an applicant (or by an applicant and its affiliate) will include a condition expressly reserving to the Commission the right to impose such terms, conditions, or limitations in the future as it may find necessary to insure that the applicant's operations shall conform to section 210 of the Act.

This notice of initiation of a rulemaking is promulgated under the authority contained in 49 U.S.C. 304 and 310, and 5 U.S.C. 553 and 559, and was adopted formally at a General Session of the Interstate Commerce Commission held at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 3d day of October, 1977.

By the Commission (Commissioner Brown did not participate).

H. G. HOMME, JR.,
Acting Secretary.

SPECIAL APPLICATION PROCEDURES Service at New Plantsites

AGENCY: Interstate Commerce Commission.

ACTION: Initiation of Rulemaking Proceedings.

SUMMARY: The Interstate Commerce Commission is initiating this rulemaking proceeding to investigate the feasibility of permitting motor carriers to serve newly opened plantsites without the necessity of going through formal application procedures presently required under the Commission's Rules of Practice. dations dealt with the situation where new plantsites are opened and applications are filed by motor carriers seeking to provide transportation services from the new plantsite.

When a plantsite opens, many applications are filed by carriers seeking to provide service. Although protestants may hold paper authority to provide some or all of the needed service, they have never served the new plantsite. It is difficult to see how these protestants will be harmed by grants of operating authority to serve the new plantsite. We question the necessity of requiring applicants to apply formally for authority to serve the new plantsite when existing carriers cannot be harmed.

We suggest that a carrier (presently authorized or new entrant) could apply to serve a new plantsite during a specified period prior to or after its opening. The carrier would be required only to demonstrate its fitness, to submit a brief affidavit of shipper support, and, possibly to submit certain other basic information. Comments are requested on this or any alternative procedure.

Among the questions that should be addressed are:

(1) Is the proposal likely to lead to over-capacity at new plantsites?

(2) Should existing carriers have standing to protest?

(3) For what period of time prior to or after the opening of a "new plantsite" should these shortened procedures be operative?

(4) How would implementation of such a proposal affect existing precedents?

(5) What is meant by "new plantsite"?

(6) Is this proposal a fair and equitable one?

(7) Are there alternative implementation procedures?

PUBLIC COMMENTS INVITED

Interested persons are invited to comment on the proposal and suggest alternatives.

This document is promulgated under the authority of 49 U.S.C. 204, 206, and 207; and 5 U.S.C. 553, and was adopted at a General Session of the Interstate Commerce Commission held at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 28th day of September, 1977.

Commissioner Stafford, dissenting: This rulemaking proceeding is premature. I would wait until the current nationwide hearings are concluded before instituting this matter. By postponing action we would have the benefit of public comment that can assist in the formulation of proposed rules. This might help to resolve at the initial level potential problems unforeseen by the circulated notice.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Federal Grain Inspection Service

GRAIN STANDARDS

Georgia Grain Inspection Points

Statement of considerations. The Georgia Department of Agriculture, Atlanta, Ga., is designated to operate as an official agency in accordance with the provisions of section 7(f) of the U.S. Grain Standards Act (7 U.S.C. 79(f)). The Georgia Department of Agriculture has been providing official inspection service for approximately 6 years at Gainesville and Valdosta, Ga., and for approximately 10 years at Atlanta, Ga., as designated inspection points. A designated inspection point is defined as a city, town, or other location assigned under the regulations to an official inspection agency for the conduct of official inspections, and within which the official inspection agency, or one or more of its licensed inspectors, is located (7 CFR 26.1(b)(13)).

The Georgia Department of Agriculture has requested that the assignment of inspection points under its designation be amended to add Swainsboro and Bronwood, Ga., as designated inspection points in accordance with § 26.99(b) of the regulations (7 CFR 26.99(b)).

As a point of clarification, it should be noted that the U.S. Grain Standards Act (7 U.S.C. 71 et seq.), herein-after referred to as the "Act," has been amended by Pub. L. 94-582, effective November 20, 1976, to extensively modify the official inspection system. The amended Act provides, in part, that the Administrator of the newly created Federal Grain Inspection Service (FGIS), after conducting investigations and other studies, will designate official agencies at the various interior points. In implementing these provisions, FGIS is currently in the process of reviewing the designations of all agencies or persons presently designated to provide official inspection services. The amended Act further provides that existing agencies may continue to operate without a designation under the new law until the Administrator either grants or denies such designation to them or sets a period of time for their termination, not to exceed 2 years from the effective date of the amended Act.

Accordingly, the amendment of assigned inspection points would, if approved by the Department, not alter the existing designation of the applicant as an official inspection agency which continues until the Administrator of FGIS either grants or denies an official designation under the amended Act or sets a period of time for its termination.

Other interested persons are hereby given opportunity to submit written views and comments with respect to this matter and/or to make application for designation to operate as an official agency at Swainsboro and/or Bronwood, Georgia, pursuant to the requirements set forth in the U.S. Grain Standards Act and regulations.

NOTE.—Section 7(f) of the Act (7 U.S.C. 79(f)) generally provides that not more than one official agency shall be operative at one time for any geographic area as determined by the Administrator.

All such views, comments, or applications should be submitted in writing to the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. All materials should be in duplicate and mailed to the Hearing Clerk not later than November 10, 1977. All materials submitted pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27(b)). Consideration will be given to the views, comments, or applications that are filed with the Hearing Clerk and to all other information available to the U.S. Department of Agriculture before final determination is made with respect to this matter.

Soil Conservation Service BAITING BROOK WATERSHED PROJECT, MASSACHUSETTS Notice of Intent To Prepare an Environmental Impact Statement

Pursuant to section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines (40 CFR Part 1500); and the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (7 CFR Part 650); the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that an environmental impact statement is being prepared for the Baiting Brook Watershed project, Middlesex County, Mass.

The environmental assessment of this Federal action indicates that the project may cause local, regional, or national impacts on the environment. As a result of these findings, Dr. Benjamin Isgur, State Conservationist, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement is needed for this project.

The project concerns a plan for watershed protection and flood prevention. The planned works of improvement include conservation land treatment supplemented by one floodwater retarding structure, 0.4 mile of channel work consisting of cleanout and enlargement in the vicinity of three highway bridges of which 0.3 mile is an ephemeral flowing stream and 0.1 mile is a perennial stream, and flood plain management measures for reducing flood damages.

A draft environmental impact statement will be prepared and circulated for review by agencies and the public. The Soil Conservation Service invites participation of agencies and individuals with expertise or interest in the preparation of the draft environmental impact statement. The draft environmental impact statement will be developed by Dr. Benjamin Isgur, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, P.O. Box 848, 29 Cottage Street, Amherst, Mass. 01002.

BRITISH AIRWAYS

Contract Cargo Rates; Order of Suspension and Investigation

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 4th day of October 1977.

On September 6, 1977, British Airways filed with the Board a tariff,¹ effective October 6, 1977, proposing general "Contract Cargo Rates" (CCR3) in U.K.-U.S. directional markets. Under the CCR3 scheme, a shipper would enter into a contract with British Airways to tender 800,000 kilograms of cargo for a one-year term, and in certain minimum consignment sizes, CCR3 cargo enjoys steeply discounted rates, which vary on the basis of market, containerization, and day of tender. CCR3 cargo, furthermore, is carried on a space-available basis for 48 hours after tender. Should a shipper fall short of his annual cargo tender commitment, he is charged an amount equal to his shortfall times 35 pence per kilogram.

Complaints against CCR3 were filed by Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., and Pan American World Airways, Inc. Oral argument on this matter was heard by the Board on September 16, 1977. On September 23, 1977, the Board sent a draft order to the President recommending that CCR3 be suspended for one year pending investigation, but anticipating that the suspension would be vacated upon acceptance by the British Government of appropriate competitive responses from U.S. carriers. By letter dated October 3, 1977, the President approved the suspension of CCR3 only for a 90-day period, expecting that the issue of competitive responses to CCR3 would be resolved within that time.

We are therefore amending our initial order suspending and investigating CCR3 to shorten the suspension period to 90 days, as directed by the President.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and particularly sections 204(a), 403, 404(b), 801, and 1002 (f) and (j) thereof,

It is ordered, That:

1. The suspension ordered by Order 77-10-2, October 4, 1977, shall expire on January 3, 1978; and

2. Copies of this order shall be filed with the tariffs referenced in paragraph 1 of Order 77-10-2, October 4, 1977, and be served upon British Airways, Trans World Airlines, Inc., Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., Pan American World Airways, Inc., and The Flying Tiger Line Inc.

This order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[Order 77-10-2; Docket 31377, 31379]

BRITISH AIRWAYS

Contract Cargo Rates; Order of Suspension and Investigation

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C. on the 23rd day of September, 1977.

² All members concurred except Member West who did not participate.

NOTICES

On September 6, 1977, British Airways filed with the Board a tariff,¹ effective October 6, 1977, proposing general "Contract Cargo Rates" (CCR3) in U.K.-U.S. directional markets.² Under the CCR3 scheme, a shipper would enter into a contract with British Airways to tender 800,000 kilograms of cargo for a one-year term, and in certain minimum consignment sizes.³ CCR3 cargo enjoys steeply discounted rates, which vary on the basis of market,⁴ containerization,⁵ and day of tender.⁶ CCR3 cargo, furthermore, is carried on a space-available basis for 48 hours after tender. Should a shipper fall short of his annual cargo tender commitment, he is charged an amount equal to his shortfall times 35 pence per kilogram.

In support of the tariff, British Airways generally asserts that the U.K.-U.S. cargo market is characterized by excess capacity and declining traffic, such that a stimulative cargo rate is needed; that CCR3, at yields of 16-20 pence per kilogram, will be highly generative, attracting to air transport approximately 2 percent of the total U.K.-U.S. cargo traffic that now moves by surface mode, which would represent a doubling in size of the U.K.-U.S. air cargo market; that CCR3 will be so generative as to be remunerative based upon industry average noncapacity costs, even assuming 50-percent diversion from higher rated air traffic that CCR3 is not unjustly discriminatory within the intent of section 404(b) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and that in any case application of section 404(b) to discrimination alleged to take place between British shippers, and practices by a British carrier with the approval of the British Government, would be a violation of comity.

Complaints against CCR3 have been filed by Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., (Seaboard) and Pan American World Airways, Inc. (Pan Am). Seaboard claims that CCR3 is uneconomic, in that the rates are "demonstrably below the costs of the most efficient freighter operator in the market"; that CCR3 will be almost totally diversionary and dilutionary, based upon Seaboard's marked traffic loss between January and June 1977, when British Airways was illegally charging contract rates in the U.K.-U.S. market; that CCR3 will at first divert air cargo traffic from Europe and then spread there, destroying the economics of Seaboard's freighter aircraft; that British Airways is seeking to drive Seaboard, the competitive spur, from the market by charging a rate below fully allocated freighter costs, which Seaboard must cover, and subsidizing its losses from passenger and government subsidy revenue; that CCR3, by driving all-cargo aircraft from the North Atlantic, will bring the availability of these aircraft for the U.S. Civil Reserve Air Fleet to an end, thereby weakening the national defense; and that CCR3 is unjustly discriminatory, citing Order 76-12-162, December 17, 1976.

Pan Am states that CCR3 is uneconomic, falling below Pan Am's 747F cost per revenue ton-mile; that British Airways' generation estimate for CCR3 is invalid, since CCR3 rates are about five times higher than surface rates; that CCR3, whatever its virtues as a market stimulus, is unnecessary in light of the "healthy pace" of recent growth of the U.K.-U.S. cargo market; and that CCR3 is unjustly discriminatory, citing Order 76-12-162.

Oral Argument on this matter was heard by the Board on September 16, 1977. The Board finds that CCR3 may be unjust, unreasonable, unjustly discriminatory, unduly preferential, unduly prejudicial, or otherwise unlawful, and should be investigated. Furthermore, the Board finds that CCR3 should be suspended pending investigation.

We do not find that the CCR3 rates are uneconomic.⁷ The fact that they do not cover the fully allocated costs of "the most efficient freighter operator in the market" is not determinative in this regard. Further, there has been no showing, nor any reason to believe, that the rates do not cover the marginal costs of British Airways. The Board recognizes the need for stimulation of the U.K.-U.S. air cargo market in view of its low load factors. While the evidence on the generative effect of CCR3 rates is far from conclusive,⁸ it is not unreasonable to assume that some generation will take place. We are not prepared to say that the market is as unresponsive to price reductions as Pan Am appears to contend; on this issue, the judgment of British Airways' management is entitled to a test in the marketplace. As an aside, Seaboard's contention that the U.S. Civil Reserve Air Fleet will ultimately be weakened by the effects of CCR3 is not persuasive, particularly absent a representation to this effect from the Department of Defense.

⁷ In Order 76-12-162 we noted that British Airways original CCR (CCR1) proposed rates would yield from 13.5¢ to 17.56¢ per RTM. Evidence submitted in this proceeding shows that the rate levels of CCR3 are higher than CCR1 and that the average yield per RTM is 19.6¢. Another distinguishing feature is that in CCR3 British Airways has introduced a peak-off-peak concept.

CCR3 does raise substantial questions of unjust discrimination under section 404(b) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958. These questions are virtually identical to those which caused the Board to suspend an earlier version of British Airways' contract rates in Order 76-12-162. In essence, we found then, and find now, no considerations of value of service to the shipper or cost savings to the carrier which justify charging lower rates to a shipper who has agreed to tender an aggregate amount of cargo over a long period of time and in different markets. Furthermore, some features of CCR3 which might in and of themselves justify lower rates, i.e., the off-peak tender discount and the 48-hour space available rule, nonetheless appear clearly discriminatory as part of CCR3 because they are unjustifiably made available only to contract shippers. Nevertheless, we are aware that the unjust discrimination in question occurs in a direct sense only among British shippers, that these rates are supported by the British Government, notwithstanding their discriminatory aspects, and that no showing has been made in this case that U.S. nationals are subject to unjust discrimination from these rates. In light of these circumstances, and the fact that section 1002(f) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 does not command us to eliminate all rates and practices in foreign air transportation which would be unjustly discriminatory under section 404(b),⁹ we would not be inclined to exercise our suspension powers in this case, were it not for the considerations described below.

We are greatly concerned that the contract feature of CCR3 would be very destructive of the effective competition, particularly from efficient wide-body freighters, which is clearly required in the North Atlantic cargo markets. The effect, if not the intent, of this contract rate is to preserve and expand the market share of British Airways by "locking in" large-volume shippers with long-term contracts in return for which they receive lower rates.⁹ Since the CCR3 rates of British Airways would go into effect before any matching rates filed by competitors, British Airways would have a measurable head-start in locking up large portions of the market. By the time matching rates go into effect, the market share available for competitors would be very much diminished. British Airways' advantage in time is compounded by its past advocacy of contract rates, its strong national identity in Great Britain, and its admittedly extensive marketing efforts on behalf of CCR3 rates. Accordingly, the most effective response of U.S. carriers would be to offer discount rates without the contract feature. For example, wide-body freighter operator may propose high weightbreak discounts, aimed at the very largest shippers and peculiarly suited to the lift capabilities and cost advantages of wide-body freighters. The crux of the matter is that if we now let CCR3 go into effect, and the U.K. Civil Aviation Authority does not later act favorably on such non-matching competitive responses by the U.S. carriers, then under the terms of the U.S.-U.K. air services agreement we could face substantial problems in restoring competition to the market by suspending CCR3.¹⁰ The damage to competition will have been done, and may well be irreparable. Therefore, until we know that effective, not necessarily matching, competitive responses to CCR3 by U.S. carriers will be permitted by our British counterparts, we will not let a market-closing rate such as CCR3 begin its work.

⁹ Under section 1002(d) of the Act, when the Board finds that a carrier in interstate or overseas air transportation is charging rates or is engaging in practices which are unjustly discriminatory then "the Board shall determine and prescribe" the lawful rate or practice. Under section 1002(f) of the Act, when the Board finds that a carrier in foreign air transportation is charging rates or is engaging in practices which are unjustly discriminatory then "the Board may alter the same to the extent necessary to correct such discrimination" (emphasis added).

Finally, this order suspends CCR3 for the usual 365 days, pending an investi-

⁹ Our evaluation of CCR3 as anticompetitive is reinforced by its very strong resemblance to discount-induced exclusive dealing arrangements prohibited under section 3 of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. § 14 (1970). See 1 CCIL Trade Reg. Rep. ¶ 2010.18, .95 (1971). CCR3 perhaps is not technically violative of that provision of the antitrust laws, since it has been held not to apply to contracts for services. MDC Data Centers, Inc. v. IBM Corp., 342 F. Supp. 502 (E.D. Pa. 1972). Nonetheless, for example, the Board's evaluation of the competitive effect of agreements under section 412 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 "involves considering the policies of the antitrust laws rather than adjudicating specifically whether such laws are violated." Local Cartage Agreement Case, 15 C.A.B. 850, 854 (1952) (emphasis added).

¹⁰ Trans World Airlines has matched CCR3 and not filed a complaint against it. Seaboard has matched CCR3 "under protest" and has complained against it. Pan Am has complained, and has not matched CCR3.

gation. It is the Board's expectation, however, that the issue of U.K. acceptance of competitive responses by U.S. carriers can be resolved shortly, either through unilateral acceptance by the U.K. authorities of U.S. carrier tariffs or through intergovernmental consultations. In such event, the Board will act forthwith to vacate this suspension. If it appears that controversy over competitive tariff filings cannot be resolved expeditiously, the Board intends to move forward promptly with a formal investigation of CCR3.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, and particularly sections 204(a), 403, 401(b), 801, and 1002 (f) and (j) thereof,

It is ordered, That: 1. An investigation be instituted to determine whether the rates, charges, and provisions on Original Title Page, and Original Pages 1 through 8 of Tariff CAB No. 29, issued by John M. Sampson, Agent; Original Title Page, and Original Pages 1 through 8 of Tariff CAB No. 318, issued by Trans World Airlines, Inc.; and Original Title Page, and Original Pages 1 through 8 of Tariff C.A.B. No. 32, issued by Seaboard World Airlines, Inc.; and rules, regulations, and practices affecting such rates, are or will be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, unduly preferential, unduly prejudicial, or otherwise unlawful, and, if found to be unlawful, to take appropriate action to prevent the use of such rates and rules, regulations, or practices;

2. Pending hearing and decision by the Board, the tariff provisions specified in paragraph 1 above be suspended and their use deferred from October 6, 1977, to and including October 6, 1978, unless otherwise ordered by the Board, and that no changes may be made therein during the period of suspension except by order or special permission of the Board;

3. This order shall be submitted to the President,¹² and shall become effective on October 4, 1977.

4. The investigation ordered herein shall be assigned for hearing before an administrative law judge of the Board at a time and place hereafter to be designated;

5. Copies of this order shall be filed with the aforesaid tariffs, and be served upon British Airways, Trans World Airlines, Inc., Seaboard World Airlines, Inc., Pan American World Airways, Inc., and the Flying Tiger Line Inc.; and

6. Except to the extent granted herein, the complaints in Dockets 31377 and 31379 be dismissed.

This survey would be conducted in order to collect data for operations in calendar year 1977 covering receipts, capital expenditures, fixed assets, payroll and other operating expenses as supplemental data for the 1977 Census of Service Industries.

Information and recommendations received by the Bureau of the Census indicate that the data will have significant application to the needs of the public and governmental agencies and are not available from public or governmental sources.

Since the data to be requested in this survey are required only for the United States as a whole, reports will be required from only a sample of selected service firms in the United States. The sample will provide, with measurable validity, statistics on the aforementioned subjects.

Such a survey, if conducted, will not begin until at least November 10, 1977.

Copies of the proposed report forms are available upon written request to the Director, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

Any written suggestions or recommendations concerning the subject matter of the proposed survey submitted to the Director of the Bureau of the Census within on or before November 10, 1977 will receive consideration.

L. 95-91) to either the Secretary or to FERC or (ii) delegated to the FERC by the Secretary.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

John M. Treanor, Office of Administration, Room 2121, 12th and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20461 (202-566-9840).

William D. Luck, Office of General Counsel, Room 6144, 12th and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20461 (202-566-926).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Department of Energy (DOE) was established by the Department of Energy Organization Act (Pub. L. 95-91) (the Act), which is made effective October 1, 1977 by Executive Order 12009, dated September 13, 1977 (42 FR 46267, September 15, 1977) (The Executive Order). The Act consolidated in DOE various energy functions previously performed by several federal agencies, so that federal energy policy and programs may be effectively coordinated and administered. The Act transfers to, and vests in, the Department and the independent collegial body within the Department, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), the functions of the former Federal Energy Administration, the Energy Research and Development Administration, the Federal Power Commission, and certain functions previously performed by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Department of the Interior, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Department of the Navy, the Department of Commerce, and the Naval Reactor and Military Application Programs (established under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954).

Section 704 of the Act sets forth a provision to transfer listed items incidental to the transfers of functions affected by the Act. Section 704 of the Act states:

The Director of the Office of Management and Budget, in consultation with the Secretary and the Commission, is authorized and directed to make such determinations as may be necessary with regard to the transfer of functions which relate to or are utilized by an agency, commission or other body, or component thereof affected by this Act, to make such additional incidental dispositions of personnel, assets, liabilities, contracts, property, records, and unexpended balances of appropriations, authorizations, allocations, and other funds held, used, arising from, available to or to be made available in connection with the functions transferred by this Act, as he may deem necessary to accomplish the purposes of this Act.

Additionally, Section 2 of the Executive Order states that:

The Director of the Office of Management and Budget, in consultation with the Secretary of Energy and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, as appropriate, shall take all steps necessary or appropriate to ensure or effectuate the transfer of functions provided for in the Department of Energy Organization Act, to the extent required or permitted by law, including transfers of funds, personnel and positions, assets, liabilities, contracts, property, records and other items related to the transfer of functions, programs, or authorities.

The departments, agencies and commissions, or components thereof, which, prior to the Act, discharged the functions which the Act vests in the DOE, established and proposed certain systems of records in accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974 and other authority vested in them. Since these systems were established or proposed in furtherance of functions which are now vested in the DOE, the DOE has reason to have possession and control of these systems.

Accordingly, pursuant to the cited authority vested in the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), and additional guidance received from OMB, there are hereby transferred to the Secretary and to FERC, as appropriate to their respective functions, those systems of records or portions thereof either (i) established and in existence or (ii) proposed prior to October 1, 1977, under the Privacy Act of 1974 and other requisite authority vested in departments the agencies and commissions which established or proposed such systems, as relate to the functions of any department, agency, commission, or component thereof, which is either (i) transferred to the DOE by the Act to either the Secretary or to FERC or (ii) delegated to the FERC by the Secretary.

This notice is not a rulemaking requiring the opportunity for public comment. However, written comments will be accepted and should be directed to the following address:

TOXIC SUBSTANCES CONTROL ACT

Extension of Comment Period for Proposed Guidance on Notification of Substantial Risk Under Section 8(e)

On September 9, 1977 the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) proposed in the FEDERAL REGISTER guidance on "Notification of Substantial Risk under Section 8(e)" of the Toxic Substances Control Act (42 FR 45362). In that action, EPA proposed its policy concerning the provisions of Section 8(e) (which are already in effect), soliciting comments on this proposed policy prior to publishing final guidance.

This notice extends the deadline for comments on the proposed guidance from October 15 to October 31, 1977. EPA wishes to point out that the extended comment period coincides with that for the Consumer Product Safety Commission's regulation proposed on September 16, 1977 concerning substantial product hazards (42 FR 46720).

Written comments on EPA's proposed guidance should bear the document control number OTS-080004 and should be submitted in triplicate to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Office of Toxic Substances (WH-557), 401 M Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20460, attention: Joan Urquhart.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[FCC 77-626; RM-2764]

TELEVISION BROADCASTER TRANSLATORS ON SECONDARY USE BASIS

Memorandum Opinion and Order Denying Petition for Rule Making

Adopted: September 15, 1977.

Released: September 28, 1977.

In the matter of petition to amend the Commission's rules to restore UHF channels 70-83 for additional assignments to television broadcast translators on a secondary use basis, RM-2764.

1. On October 5, 1976, the Council for UHF Broadcasting (CUB) petitioned the Commission for rulemaking to amend § 2.106 and Part 74 of the Commission's rules to allow new television broadcast translators to utilize UHF channels 70-83 (806-890 MHz) on a secondary use basis. CUB was joined in the petition by the Public Broadcasting Service, Corporation for Public Broadcasting, National Association of Broadcasters, Association of Maximum Service Telecasters, Inc., Joint Council on Educational Telecommunications, National Association of Educational Broadcasters, and Association of Independent Television Stations, Inc. Comments on the petition were filed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the GTE Service Corporation. CUB also filed a reply comment.

2. In 1970, the Commission ruled in Docket No. 18262¹ that channels 70-83 were to be re-allocated to the land mobile radio service and that no new television translators would be assigned to these channels. Translators already assigned in the channel 70-83 band were allowed to remain indefinitely on a secondary use basis, however. The Commission subsequently decided in Docket No. 18861² that new translators would be authorized on channels 55-69 where possible, and on channels 14-54³ if it is not possible to operate on channels 55-69. High-power translators were also authorized to operate on unused UHF television channels listed in the television Table of Assignments⁴ in § 73.606(b) of the rules.

3. CUB contends that the rapid growth of UHF television translators since the decisions in Dockets Nos. 18262 and 18861 has resulted in congestion in the channel 55-69 band, and has forced nearly 30 new translator assignments into the band below channel 55. A continuation of the present arrangement, it says, will inevitably lead to a spectrum conflict in the channel 14-54 band between translators and primary UHF TV stations.⁵ This eventuality, it maintains, coupled with the limited use of land mobile radio in sparsely populated areas where most translators are required, justifies the relief requested in the petition.

4. The only parties to file comments on the petition—the American Telephone

² First Report and Order and Second Notice of Inquiry, 35 FR 8644.

³ Report and Order, 36 FR 19588.

⁴ Currently, channel 37 is unavailable, as it is reserved for the radio astronomy service.

⁵ A channel listed in the television Table of Assignments will hereinafter be referred to as an "allotted" channel.

⁶ Primary stations as used herein mean regular television broadcast stations, as contrasted with translator stations.

and Telegraph Co. and the GTE Service Corp.—oppose it on the grounds that granting of the petition could hinder the development of land mobile radio, and that there has been no substantive showing of need by CUB for additional frequencies for translator use. CUB, in a reply comment, states that there is no reason for land mobile radio development to be inhibited since it (land mobile radio) will remain as the primary user of the band, and again cites the rapid growth of UHF television translators as justifying the petition.

DISCUSSION OF ISSUES AND DECISION

5. As CUB points out, there has been a rapid growth of television translators on channels 55-69. Currently, the Commission has issued some 490 licenses and construction permits in this band, with about another 100 new applications on file. However, we note that in the channel group 70-83, which contains one less channel than 55-69, there are presently over 700 translator assignments which were issued before our Docket 18861 decision. Even though we recognize the taboo restrictions in the UHF band, it should be noted that there are over 2,400 translators on the 12 VHF channels, which also accommodate some 625 primary TV stations as opposed to about 30 primary stations on channels 55-69.

6. Thus, relative to other channels available for translator use, channels 55-69 would appear to have considerable potential for future growth of both TV primary and translator stations. This does not mean, however, that some congestion does not or will not exist in certain geographical areas in the future, which require the assignment of channels below channel 55. In fact, some 34⁷ translators have already been authorized below channel 55 on channels not listed in the Television Table of Assignments. All of these 34, however, are in rural areas where the UHF spectrum below channel 55 is very lightly utilized and could readily accommodate additional translators.

7. In summary, it would appear that in the vast majority of areas in the United States additional translator assignments on channels 14-69 could be made without conflict with existing or planned primary TV service, and in most areas additional translator assignments could be made on channels 55-69 without such conflict. Furthermore, the only areas where channel shortages now exist or might arise in the foreseeable future are the major cities where future requirements of the primary land mobile service preclude additional secondary translator operations on channels 70-83. Thus, we do not agree that a general re-opening of channels 70-83 for new secondary translator operations is justified on the basis of actual or potential congestion on TV channels 69 and below or is otherwise in the public interest. We prefer at this time to retain the full potential of the 806-890 MHz band (channels 70-83) for the future growth and development of land mobile services, and we re-affirm our policies as established in Dockets 18262 and 18861 pertaining to the limited use of these channels by translators.

8. If, however, the actual spectrum requirements for translators in certain areas in the future exceed that which can be met by efficient use of channels 14-69, we will, of course, consider other means of satisfying such requirements, including increased secondary use of channels 70-83. Because we expect such instances to be few in number, we believe they can best be handled on a case-by-case waiver basis taking into account the existing and foreseeable needs of the primary land mobile service in the particular areas involved.

9. By taking the above course of action, the Commission is in no way limiting its flexibility at the 1979 World Administrative Radio Conference concerning future use of the 806890 MHz band, nor is it impacting the work of its UHF Task Force, which is studying future requirements in the UHF band. Rather, the Commission is simply stating that under present circumstances, it perceives no need to authorize additional general translator use of 806890 MHz. Since, however, conditions could change over the long time periods that both the WARC and the UHF Task Force are addressing, the Commission retains its options concerning the future use of this band.

10. Accordingly, it is ordered, That the above referenced petition for rulemaking, filed by the Council for UHF Broadcasting, is denied.

COMMISSION,
VINCENT J. MULLINS,
Secretary.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. R177-64; C177-238]

FRIO PRODUCTION CO.

Order Granting Petition for Special Relief; Permitting Intervention; and Terminating Proceeding

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

On May 5, 1977, Frio Production Co. (Frio) filed a petition for special relief pursuant to § 2.76 of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations. Frio requests a total rate of $1.60 per Mcf at 14.65 psia for the sale of its 100 percent working interest in the gas produced from the Nos. 5, 7, and 9 Hinnant wells in the Ramerino Field of Live Oak County, Tex., to United Gas Pipe Line Co. (United).

The petition was noticed on June 29, 1977, with the period for filing petitions to intervene or protests closing on July 19, 1977. On July 13, 1977, United filed a petition to intervene, but stated no position.

The Commission Staff made an analysis of the economics of this project. The results of this analysis, attached hereto as Appendix A, indicate that the requested rate is cost supported.

The Proposal. Frio proposes to overhaul a compressor at a cost of $18,000 and to construct an access road at a cost of $11,285. These expenditures will enable it to produce an additional 60,000 Mcf at 14.65 psia during the remaining one year productive life, as estimated by Frio.

Background. Frio is making this sale under its small producer certificate issued in Docket No. CS72-701 and under its contract dated August 24, 1972, with United. United is willing to give Frio an Amended Agreement to the contract supporting any rate the Commission may allow up to $1.60 per Mcf. Frio is presently receiving 35 cents/Mcf plus the usual adjustments.

Detail. The proposed expenditures of $18,000 for compressor repair and $11,- 285 for the construction of a new access road have been accepted by Staff as reasonable. Frio has a remaining net book value of $30,968 for the lease and equipment. Staff accepts as reasonable Frio's estimate of $25,000 as the salvage value of the compressor at the end of the estimated 1 year production life.

Frio estimates operating and maintenance expenses for the next year to be $24,600, gross recoverable gas reserves to be 60,000 Mcf, and deliverability to be one year. Staff estimates that 4,000 Mcf of the gross recoverable gas reserves will be required for compressor fuel.

Staff has used the above costs along with Frio's estimated 42,393 Mcf of gas attributable to its 75.70143 percent net working interest in remaining production in a study to determine the rate required which would allow Frio to recoup all costs associated with this project and earn a 15 percent rate of return. This study followed traditional methodology. The results of this study, attached hereto as Appendix A, indicate that a rate of $1.6866 per Mcf is required. Thus, Frio's requested rate of $1.60 per Mcf appears to Staff to be cost supported.

Frio did not request an allowance for possible income tax liability. Cost support of the rate proposed has been established without consideration of any possible tax liability. Also, Staff has reviewed the information in the Commission's files relating to Frio. It is its opinion that Frio has total gas production that is so small that it will continue to be able to claim a statutory depletion allowance under the Tax Reform Act of 1975.

On January 21, 1977, Frio filed an application to abandon the sale involved in this proceeding because of the economics involved. The granting of the petition for special relief would obviate the need for such abandonment.

After reviewing the costs to be incurred and the reserves to be recovered, we determine that Frio's petition for special relief is warranted and that it is in the public interest to grant this petition.

The Commission finds: (1) The petition for special relief of Frio is hereby granted.

(2) Frio's application to abandon in Docket No. C177-238 should be denied.

The Commission orders: (A) The petition for special relief of Frio is hereby granted.

(B) Frio is authorized to collect $1.60 per Mcf for gas from its Nos. 5, 7, and 9 Hinnant wells in the Ramerino Field of Live Oak County, Tex., effective upon the date that the proposed work is completed or the date of the Commission's order herein, whichever is later.

(C) This authorization is subject to the following conditions: (1) Frio must file, within 30 days of issuance of this order, an appropriate rate change filing in accordance with § 154.94 of the Commission's Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 154.94) and an executed contract amendment providing for payment of the approved rate; (2) within 30 days of the effective date provided in Ordering Paragraph (B) above for the rate authorized herein. Frio must file a statement signed by United that the overhaul of the compressor and the construction of the access road have been completed to its satisfaction.

(D) United is permitted to intervene in the above-entitled proceeding, subject to the Rules and Regulations of the Commission; Provided, however, That its participation shall be limited to matters affecting asserted rights and interests specifically set forth in its petition for leave to intervene; and Provided, further, That the admission of United in the manner provided shall not be construed as recognition by the Commission that it might be aggrieved because of any order or orders entered in this proceeding, and that it agrees to accept the record as it now stands.

(E) Frio's application for abandonment in Docket No. C177-238 is hereby denied and that proceeding is terminated.

By the Commission.

KENNETH F. PLUMB, Secretary.

COLUMBIA GAS TRANSMISSION CORP.

Notice of Motion for Approval of Certain Proposed Curtailment Tariff Revisions Having Unanimous Wholesale Customer Support

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

Take notice that on September 28, 1977, Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. (Columbia) filed, pursuant to section 1.12 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a motion requesting the Commission's approval of certain proposed revised curtailment procedures as embodied in the proposed tariff provisions contained in Appendix A thereto.

In its motion Columbia states that on August 3, 1977, as supplemented September 9, 1977, it submitted for filing certain tariff sheets incorporating proposed changes to sections 14.3 and 14.7 of the General Terms and Conditions of its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, relating to daily curtailment procedures and the disposition of penalties. According to the motion, certain modifications of the proposed procedures set forth in the August 3 filing were agreed upon by Columbia and its participating wholesale customers and not opposed by the Commission Staff at an informal conference, and are set forth in the attached Appendix A. Columbia states that the proposed tariff provisions as modified are supported by all of its participating wholesale customers as well as the Public Service Commission of New York, the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, and three indirect customers, with no objection by the Commission Staff.

Upon receipt of a Commission order approving the revised procedures contained in Appendix A, Columbia agrees to withdraw its August 3 tariff filing and, in lieu thereof, file tariff sheets incorporating the agreed upon curtailment procedures with a proposed effective date of November 1, 1977.

The motion is on file with the Commission and is available for public inspection. It appears reasonable and consistent with the public interest in this proceeding to prescribe a period shorter than 15 days for the filing of answers to the aforesaid motion. Therefore, answers or objections to the motion may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, on or before October 7, 1977.

[Docket No. CP77-636]

COLUMBIA GAS TRANSMISSION CORP.

Notice of Application

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

Take notice that on September 26, 1977, Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. (Applicant), 1700 MacCorkle Avenue SE., Charleston, W. Va. 25314, filed in Docket No. CP77-636 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing Applicant to provide certain of its wholesale customers with natural gas storage service in accordance with the provisions of a new Rate Schedule CSS, which Applicant proposes to incorporate in its FDC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant indicates that pursuant to the Commission's order of March 21, 1977, in Docket No. CP73-302, it was authorized to construct and operate the first phase of Crawford storage field in Fairfield and Hocking Counties, Ohio. Applicant states that development of the first phase of Crawford would provide it with an estimated additional storage capacity of 31,812,000 Mcf, of which 19,088,000 Mcf would be utilized to store the necessary volumes of base gas, and that the remaining 12,724,000 Mcf of storage capacity would be available to accommodate routine injections and withdrawals. Applicant further states that construction of the Crawford storage facility is now well underway, and Applicant presently anticipates that the first phase development would be essentially complete by April 1, 1980, which is the first day of the 1980 summer injection season. Applicant contemplates, however, that during the first phase development, Crawford can be utilized for the withdrawal of volumes of gas in the amounts of 1,700,000 Mcf and 6,500,000 Mcf during the 1978-79 and 1979-80 winter seasons, respectively, it is said.

Applicant asserts that the proposed storage would provide its customers with additional flexibility in the utilization of their available gas supplies, particularly during the more critical winter heating season when such flexibility is needed most.

Applicant states that for the reason stated above and as a result of the interest exhibited by its customers, Applicant prepared a precedent agreement for storage service, which agreement constituted a firm offer by Applicant to render a storage service, subject to the Commission's approval. Applicant further states that the agreement was sent to each of its eligible wholesale customers, and that seventeen of its customers elected to participate in the proposed storage service, thirteen of which indicated a desire to purchase additional storage service. The seventeen customers which elected to participate in Applicant's proposed service are: Baltimore Gas & Electric Co., Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co., Union Light, Heat & Power Co., The Dayton Power & Light Co., Elizabethtown Gas Co., Lancaster, City of, Orange & Rockland Utilities, Inc., Penn Gas, Inc., Roanoke Gas Co., UGI Corp., Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc., Columbia Gas of Maryland, Inc., Columbia Gas of New York, Inc., Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, Inc., Columbia Gas of Virginia, Inc., and Columbia Gas of West Virginia, Inc. It is indicated that Applicant prepared an amendment dated August 3, 1977, to the precedent agreement for storage service, which amendment provided that the storage service capacity initially offered by Applicant but not accepted by certain of its customers was reallocated among the thirteen customers.

Applicant indicates that no facilities other than those previously authorized in Docket No. CP73-302 would be required to render the storage service contemplated.

It is stated that pursuant to Applicant's proposed Rate Schedule CSS, each participating customer would furnish its allocated share of the volume to be injected as base gas out of its authorized monthly volumes, determined in accordance with Applicant's then effective curtailment plan, and that the volume of gas to be injected and stored for subsequent withdrawal would be paid for by each participating customer under Applicant's Rate Schedule CSD.

G, or SGS in the month in which such customer requests injections to be made for its account.

Applicant indicates that its proposed storage service would enable its participating customers to reserve a portion of their summer season allocations from Applicant for delivery to their essential high-priority markets during subsequent winter heating seasons.

Applicant urges the Commission to act on this application before February 1, 1978, in order that Applicant can timely file and implement Rate Schedule CSS so that injection of the volumes of gas to be stored for the account of its customers can commence as scheduled on April 1, 1978.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before October 21, 1977, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. It is a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

KENNETH F. PLUMB,
Secretary.

EL PASO NATURAL GAS CO. ET AL.

Notice of Petition for Extraordinary Relief and of Consolidation of Proceedings

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

In the matter of El Paso Natural Gas Company, RP77-113, El Paso Natural Gas Company (City of Denver City Utilities), RP77-135-1, El Paso Natural Gas Company (Community Public Service Company), RP77-135-2.

Take notice that on August 22, 1977, City of Denver City Utilities (Denver City), P.O. Box J, Denver City, Tex. 79323, filed pursuant to Section 2.78(b) of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations (18 CFR 2.78(b)) in Docket No. RP77-135-1, a petition for relief from the curtailment plan currently in effect on the system of El Paso Natural Gas Company (El Paso). Take further notice that on September 14, 1977, Community Public Service Company (CPSC), 501 West St., Forth Worth, Tex. 76102, filed in Docket No. RP77-135-2 a similar petition for relief from El Paso's curtailment plan and that, concurrently therewith, CPSC filed a motion to consolidate for Commission consideration SPSC's petition with the petition for extraordinary relief filed by El Paso on July 21, 1977, in Docket No. RP77-113.¹ The foregoing requests of Denver City and CPSC are more fully set forth in their pleadings which are on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Denver City states that its present winter season Priority 1 base volume under El Paso's tariff is 199,206 Mcf. Denver City claims that the winter season upon which the base volume was based was very mild and that it has attached 75 to 100 more customers since that base winter—1973-74. Accordingly Denver City requests relief of at least 15,000 Mcf to supplement its 1977-78 Priority 1 winter season base volumes under El Paso's tariff. Denver City states that it joins in the petition for extraordinary relief filed by El Paso in Docket No. RP77-113 on behalf of certain of its distribution customers, including Denver City. However, El Paso's petition forecasts a need to augment Denver City's 1977-78 winter season base volumes by 10,873 Mcf rather than the 15,000 Mcf requested by Denver City. Denver City's petition also notes that it is continuing to attach new customers.

CPSC states that its present summer and winter season Priority 1 base volumes under El Paso's tariff are:

Summer season	Winter season
60,376	197,915

CPSC claims that the following, rather than the foregoing, volumes accurately reflect its system requirements:

Summer season	Winter season
87,351	284,005

CPSC states that the difference in requirements is not due to recent load growth but instead is due to the following factors. First, the historical base period, consisting of the 12 months ended October 31, 1974, was not representative of normal conditions in that the base period occurred at a time of severe ¹ Notice of El Paso's petition for extraordinary relief in Docket No. RP77-113 was issued on August 3, 1977 (42 FR 40238).

[Docket No. CP77-267]

MID LOUISIANA GAS CO. AND TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP.

Order Granting Rehearing, Providing for Formal Hearing, and Establishing Procedures

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

On August 15, 1977, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation (Transco) filed pursuant to section 19(a) of the Natural Gas Act an application for rehearing of the Commission's order issued July 14, 1977, in Docket No. CP77-267 pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act. On September 14, 1977, the Commission issued an order granting a rehearing for the limited purpose of further consideration.

The order of July 14, 1977, authorized Mid Louisiana Gas Company (Mid Louisiana) to abandon by sale to Transco, its Hester Storage Field in St. James Parish, Louisiana, and 8.8 miles of 12-inch connecting pipeline and to abandon the storage service it renders to Transco. Further, said order issued a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing Transco to acquire and operate the Hester Field and related connecting pipeline, to provide Mid Louisiana a storage service comparable to its existing use of the Hester Field, and to construct and operate certain facilities at Hester. Additionally, Transco and Mid Louisiana were authorized to transport and exchange natural gas under a new agreement to reflect the subject changes. Transco is to pay Mid Louisiana $8,500,000 for the Hester Storage facility, including approximately $8,000,000 Mcf of cushion gas and the connection pipeline between the storage field and the Transco Southeast Louisiana Gathering System.

The amount of $8,500,000, which Transco will pay for the Hester facility, exceeds Mid Louisiana's net book value of this property by $832,244. In its certificate application, Transco proposes that the difference between the purchase price of $8,500,000 and Mid Louisiana's net book cost be amortized by periodic charges to Account 406, Amortization of Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments. In the order of July 14, 1977, however, the Commission states that its:

Policy is to require that such amortization be charged to Account 425, Miscellaneous Amortization unless the applicant can demonstrate that specific dollar benefits to its customers offset the amounts paid in excess of net book value.

No such showing was made in Transco's application. Consequently, ordering paragraphs (F) and (G) of the July 14, 1977, order provide as follows:

(F) Transco's [sic] proposed method of accounting for the purchase is approved except that the acquisition adjustment shall be amortized by charges to Account 425, Miscellaneous Amortization rather than to Account 406, Amortization of Plant Acquisition Adjustments.

(G) Transco's transportation and storage charges to Mid Louisiana shall be subject to elimination of all amounts relating to the acquisition adjustment and shall also be subject to the rate of return as determined proper in Transco's rate proceeding in Docket No. RP75-136.

In its application for a rehearing, Transco argues that the Commission's rejection of Transco's proposed accounting treatment of the amount by which the purchase price of the Hester facility exceeds its net book value is erroneous because (1) the Commission failed to recognize that there is no significant profit to Mid Louisiana from the proposed sale, (2) the Hester Field's substantial cushion gas inventory results in specific dollar benefits to Transco's customers, and (3) the Commission erroneously denied Transco its right to a hearing.

Concerning the first of these arguments, Transco maintains that the excess over net investment to be paid by Transco represents "almost entirely the amount required to make Mid Louisiana 'whole' by virtue of the substantial income tax ($795,000) which must be paid by Mid Louisiana upon disposal of the field by sale to Transco." Transco says that this tax is caused by the excess of tax depreciation over book depreciation as a result of using "liberalized tax depreciation." Earlier tax reduction was flowed through to Mid Louisiana's customers. Consequently, says Transco, "there is no significant profit to Mid Louisiana from the proposed sale and the gas consuming public as a whole will not be paying rates higher than those based upon net investment." Transco therefore maintains that the rule against charging consumers for utility property "write ups" does not apply.

Transco also argues that even if the purchase price of the Hester Field does exceed Mid Louisiana's net investment, the acquisition and operation of the field by Transco will yield significant monetary benefits to Transco's customers. In support of this assertion, Transco has attached an appendix to its application for rehearing which purports to show that the 8,000,000 Mcf of injected cushion gas in the Hester Field is being acquired at a substantial savings to Transco's customers that would offset the excess of cost over Mid Louisiana's net investment.

The Commission finds that Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act entitles Transco to a hearing on its application for a certificate. Transco is incorrect in supposing, however, that Section 7(c) entitles it to a hearing limited to the specific issues of real profit to Mid Louisiana and specific dollar benefits to Transco's customers. Accordingly, the Commission will grant a rehearing and provide for a formal hearing, which will include all issues raised by the application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity and for an order permitting and approving abandonment in Docket No. CP77-267.

The Commission finds: Good cause exists to grant rehearing, provide for a formal hearing, and establish the procedures for such hearing all as herein-after ordered.

The Commission orders: (A) The application for rehearing filed herein by Transco on August 15, 1977, is hereby granted.

(B) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly Sections 7 and 15 thereof, the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR, Chapter I), a public hearing shall be held commencing November 21, 1977 at 10 a.m. (EDST) in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, concerning the propriety of issuing a certificate of public convenience and necessity and an order permitting and approving abandonment.

(C) On or before October 25, 1977, Transco, Mid Louisiana, and any other party in support of issuing a certificate of public convenience and necessity and permitting and approving abandonment shall file with the Secretary of this Commission and serve upon all parties to this proceeding, its testimony and exhibits comprising its case-in-chief in support of its petition.

(D) An Administrative Law Judge to be designated by the Chief Administrative Law Judge for that purpose (see, Delegation of Authority, 18 CFR § 3.5 (d)) shall preside at the hearing in this proceeding with authority to establish and change all procedural dates and to rule on all motions (with sole exception of petitions to intervene, motions to consolidate and sever, and motions to dismiss, as provided for in the Rules of Practice and Procedure).

By the Commission.

KENNETH F. PLUMB,
Secretary.

MOUNTAIN FUEL RESOURCES INC. ET AL.

Order Consolidating Applications, Granting Temporary Certificates, Granting Interventions, Providing in Part for Formal Hearing and Prescribing Procedures

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

In the matter of Mountain Fuel Resources, Inc., Docket No. CP76-285, Mountain Fuel Supply Co., Docket No. CP76-388, Northwest Pipeline Corp., Docket No. CP76-389, El Paso Natural Gas Co., Docket No. CP77-289, Northwest Pipeline Corp., Docket No. CP77-511, Clay Basin Storage Co., Docket No. CP77-512.

The above-captioned applications represent both an underlying long-term plan for the development and use of storage facilities with short-term transportation arrangements and, a limited interim project. The area in question is the Clay Basin Storage Field (Field), Daggett County, Utah, specifically the Dakota Formation which began production in 1935 and was nearly depleted by March of 1976. Geographically, the Field site is near the Utah-Wyoming-Colorado border.

THE UNDERLYING PROJECT

On March 3, 1976, Mountain Fuel Resources, Inc., (Resources), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mountain Fuel Supply Company (Supply), filed an application in Docket No. CP76-285, pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act to acquire, construct and operate facilities necessary to convert the Field into a gas reservoir and to render storage service. The Application involved a pipeline to connect the storage field to Northwest Pipeline Corporation's (Northwest) mainline, in addition to compressors and field gathering lines connecting seven (7) existing and eight (8) additional wells at a total estimated cost of $15,437,000. The application was noticed March 18, 1976 (41 FR 12340, March 25, 1976).

On June 10, 1976, Northwest filed an application in Docket No. CP76-389, pursuant to Section 7(c) to seek authorization to engage in storage arrangements with Resources whereby Northwest would deliver to Supply during the summer of 1976 for credit on its account with Resources for storage. This was to transfer title to all existing gas within the Field to the account of Northwest. Northwest also anticipated construction of a tap valve, meter station, and mainline looping and compressor by 1978, as well as injections of cushion gas. The application was noticed on July 2, 1976 (41 FR 28587, July 12, 1976).

Also on June 10, 1976, Supply filed an application in Docket No. CP76-388, pursuant to section 7(c) to render short-term displacement arrangements (described above) and to temporarily install a compressor. The application was noticed on June 30, 1976 (41 FR 28020, July 8, 1976).

Resources and Northwest anticipated a 30-well facility by 1978-1979 with withdrawal capacity of 150,000 Mcf/d at an estimated facilities cost of $25,449,000 ($31,308,000 by Northwest's estimate) together with an estimated cost of $33,384,000 for purchase of Canadian summer gas. Resources proposed a $7,530 per month charge as the cost of operations, a 1.0 cent per Mcf transportation charge, with an 8 percent depreciation rate and a 12 percent annual return on cost of service.

In order to reflect minor modifications in the facilities, schedules, amounts of injections, and to provide additional information, various supplements and amendments to the applications were filed. Temporary certificates were issued to Resources on July 19, 1976, and February 10, 1977; to Supply on July 19, 1976 and November 26, 1976; and to Northwest on July 19, 1976, November 26, 1976, and February 10, 1977.

THE INTERIM PROJECT

On March 8, 1977, El Paso Natural Gas Company (El Paso) filed an application in Docket No. CP77-289, pursuant to Section 7(c) together with Resources Third Amendment on March 10, and an Amendment of Northwest on March 9, 1977.¹

Under the newly proposed arrangement, Northwest would receive gas from El Paso at certain points of interconnection in San Juan County, New Mexico, transport it to the existing interconnection between Northwest and Resources would inject the gas for the account of Clay Basin Storage Company (Clay Basin). Clay Basin would hold title to all the gas for later predetermined sales to four (4) of El Paso's East-of-California (EOC) Distributors; Arizona Public Service Company (APS), Southern Union Company (Southern Union), Southwest Gas Corporation (Southwest), and Tucson Gas and Electric Company (TG&E).² Withdrawal would be accomplished whereby Northwest would deliver equivalent volumes to El Paso in La Plata County, Colorado, and would take title to the gas in storage by displacement. El Paso would then transport the gas to the EOC Distributors who had previously purchased the gas. The gas which would be delivered as needed to protect service to the EOC Priority 1 and 2 customers would have been husbanded through storage of gas otherwise sold to lower priorities.

Clay Basin filed an application in Docket No. CP77-512 pursuant to section 7(c) on July 19, 1977. Clay Basin is an independent holding company created by El Paso for the sole purpose of facilitating the financial arrangements in this project. Clay Basin's financing scheme involves loans not to exceed $25 million at 110 percent of the prime rate as well as a 0.5 percent commitment fee on unused amounts and a facility fee of 10 percent of the prime rate of the total commitment. The remaining borrowing of 13.87 percent and $10,000 in stock to be issued to El Paso.

El Paso anticipates selling 16.7 Bcf of gas to Clay Basin during the period continuing through April 30, 1978, to receive gas necessary to transport and redeliver gas to EOC Distributors as needed. El Paso seeks to construct and operate pipeline to connect the El Paso and Northwest pipelines, to modify and relocate a check-meter, and to construct and operate plant piping and aerial gas heat exchangers. The proposed cost is $450,000 to be financed from funds on hand.

Northwest requests authority to deliver larger amounts of gas for storage and withdrawal over the level approved on February 10, 1977, on a best efforts basis in order to meet the expected needs of the 1977-1978 heating season.³

By April 30, 1978, all planned deliveries by El Paso to Northwest for injections to storage will cease. If, at any time after October 31, 1977, the total gas stored in the Field exceeds 27,000,000 Mcf, then all or a portion of that excess may be used to protect Priority 1 and 2 requirements of El Paso and Northwest customers. The interim arrangement is scheduled to expire by December 31, 1979, and if at that time, any surplus gas remains in Clay Basin's account, it will be returned as protection to EOC Priority 1 and 2 customers.

² Hereafter referred to as the EOC Distributors.

³ Third and Fourth Amendment to CP76-389.

All parties seek temporary as well as permanent authorization for this project.

CONSOLIDATION AND INTERVENTIONS

The public convenience and necessity as well as the expeditious management of these applications dictate that the six (6) above-captioned dockets be consolidated and we so find.

Notices of Interventions or petitions to intervene in support, either directly or indirectly, of the long-term and interim projects were filed by:

1. El Paso Natural Gas Co.
2. Clay Basin Storage Co.

One petitioner filed requesting a hearing; Arizona Electric Power Cooperative and the city of Willcox, Ariz. (AEPCCO).

PROCEDURES AND ISSUES FOR HEARING

We find that applications relating to the underlying project should be set for hearing. The following two specific issues are of particular concern to Staff:

1. What is the proper percentage depreciation that should be applied over the life of the Field, and, what is the duration of that life?

2. What is the proper percentage rate of return that should be applied to the operation of the services of the Field?

We will, therefore, establish a date for the filing of testimony by the parties and supporting intervenors. Subsequent to the filing of direct testimony and opportunity for Staff to review thereof, a pre-hearing conference shall be convened to establish procedures to expedite the orderly conduct of the formal hearing and to further define the issues.

TEMPORARY AUTHORIZATION AND DENIAL OF HEARING ON INTERIM PROJECT

As stated in the filings, the urgency of this project is apparent in that the project envisions injections during the summer season of 1977 for withdrawal during the heating season of 1977-78 for the protection of EOC High-Priority customers. Previous arrangements to protect EOC Priority 1 and 2 customers have ceased and as that protection has been found to be needed (discussed infra), and as the instant proposal represents the needed additions to the protection afforded by the Rhodes Storage facility; it is abundantly clear that an emergency does exist and the public convenience and necessity require that temporary certificates be issued in Docket Nos. CP76-285, CP76-389, CP77-289, CP77-511, and CP77-512.

Said temporary authorization in Docket No. CP77-512 however, should be conditioned as follows.

1. The facility fee on bank credit be eliminated.
2. The interest rate of 13.87 percent on subordinated debentures be reduced to 9.71 percent as most recently allowed for overall return to El Paso in Docket No. RP77-18.
3. The return on the $10,000 of common equity be set at the most recently allowed return of 14.75 percent in Docket No. RP77-18.
4. The proposal be limited to the expiration date of the bank credit agreement; March 31, 1980.

On August 23, 1977, AEPCCO filed a "Protest, Petition to Intervene and Motion for Consolidated Hearing", and either expressly or by reference, have applied that pleading to all the above referenced proceedings. As noted above, the intervention of AEPCCO is proper, however, the overall tenor and specific allegations presented by AEPCCO appears to be beyond the accepted bounds of advocacy. In its answer filed on September 6, 1977, El Paso argues that it should be stricken pursuant to Section 1.15 (f) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.⁴ While this argument may have merit, we will assume that this filing is unique and its inherent difficulties will not reoccur. We will address each issue raised therein to show that each is the concern of on-going proceedings and thus vitiating any need for hearing in the instant proceeding other than as provided for herein.⁵

There are presently three on-going proceedings involving the El Paso system and in which AEPCCO has intervened and is participating: RP72-6 the "Flame Stabilization" phase of the curtailment proceeding; SP76-38 and RP72-6, the consolidated proceeding involving the AEPCCO complaint and system-wide curtailment plan; and CP73-334, CP74-289, and CP75-360, the Rhodes Storage Reservoir Project. Several issues raised by AEPCCO in the instant petition to intervene are presently being litigated in one of the aforementioned proceedings.⁶

AEPCCO raise the issues of the "alleged" deficiency and need of this project for the protection of Priority 1 and 2 EOC customers as well as challenging the load equation and nominations of gas by distributors. Similar considerations are present in the proposed Settlement and Termination filed August 19, 1977, by El Paso pursuant to Commission directive set forth in Opinion Nos. 800 and 800-A. The matter of the broadness of the tariff for storage will also be considered therein.

Deficiencies, nominations by distributors, tracing of gas from storage, double-counting, and the load equation are a concern of the consolidated complaint/system-wide curtailment proceeding as well as subjects within the ambit of City of Willcox, et al., supra., note 6. These matters would also include the consideration of the proper classification of storage gas. However, these issues must be reviewed in the context of this proposed underlying project herein set for hearing.

We find that an emergency is shown for the heating season 1977-78 as well as the future and that the issues that are raised by intervenors are the concern of on-going proceedings.⁷ We also find that any detrimental effect that may be occasioned by this project can be easily remedied by the above-cited, on-going, system-wide proceedings.

The Commission finds: (1) It is necessary and appropriate in carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that a public hearing be held on the matters involved and the issues presented as hereinbefore described and limited.

(2) Participation in these proceedings by the listed intervenors may be in the public interest and that permitting the filing of the late petitions to intervene will not delay the proceedings and may be in the public interest.

⁷ Clay Basin Storage Project is also an integral part of the proposed settlement in CP73-334, et al., (Opinion Nos. 800, 800-A) filed August 19, 1977.

(3) The public convenience and necessity as well as the expeditious management of these proceedings require the consolidation of the six (6) above-indicated docket numbers.

(4) An emergency does exist for which the public convenience and necessity require that temporary authorization be issued as hereinbefore conditioned.

The Commission orders: (A) The applications filed in Docket No. CP76-235 by Mountain Fuel Resources, Inc., in Docket No. CP76-388 by Mountain Fuel Supply Co., in Docket No. CP76-389 by Northwest Pipeline Corp., in Docket No. CP77-289 by El Paso Natural Gas Co., in Docket No. CP77-511 by Northwest Pipeline Corp., and in Docket No. CP77-512 by Clay Basin Storage Co., are hereby consolidated and set for hearing with Docket No. CP76-285, Mountain Fuel Resources, Inc.

(B) All parties and all supporting intervenors shall file direct testimony and exhibits comprising their cases-in-chief on all issues set forth in this Order on or before November 29, 1977.

(C) The temporary certificates requested shall be issued subject to the conditions as hereinbefore described.

(D) A prehearing conference is to be convened on November 15, 1977, at the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426 to discuss procedural and substantive issues. The Presiding Judge has authority to establish and change all procedural dates, and to rule on all motions (with the sole exception of petitions to intervene, motions to consolidate and sever, and motions to dismiss) as provided for in the Rules of Practice and Procedure.

(E) The above-mentioned petitioners are permitted to intervene in this proceeding, subject to the Rules and Regulations of the Commission; Provided, however, That participation of such petitioners shall be limited to matters affecting asserted rights and interests as specifically set forth in the petitions to intervene, and Provided, further, That the admission of such petitioners shall not be construed as recognition by the Commission that they might be aggrieved because of any Order of the Commission entered in this proceeding.

(F) The tendered tariff sheets of Storage Company and Northwest in Docket Nos. CP77-512 and CP77-511, respectively, shall be accepted and the temporary authorization accept the tariff sheets with waiver of the notice and certificate requirements of Sections 154.22 and 154.51 of the Commission's Regulations and permit such tariff sheets to become effective as of the date of authorization. The tariff sheets tendered by El Paso in Docket No. CP77-289 should be accepted for filing subject to any surcharge modifications based on the above recommended financial conditions. Further, El Paso should file within 15 days tariff sheets reflecting the appropriate changes resulting therefrom.

(G) The Secretary shall cause prompt publication of the Order to be made in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission,

KENNETH F. PLUMB,
Secretary.

[Docket No. CP77-642]

NATURAL GAS PIPELINE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Notice of Application

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

Take notice that on September 26, 1977, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (Applicant), 122 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60603, filed in Docket No. CP77-642 an application pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of storage facilities to enable Applicant to withdraw up to 740,000 Mcf of natural gas per day and 82,800,000 Mcf for any 12-month period from the North Lansing Storage Field, Harrison County, Texas, and the establishment of a maximum inventory limit of 132,500,000 Mcf (inclusive of native gas), all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant indicates that it filed applications and received authorization in Docket Nos. CP74-286 and CP77-29 to construct and operate facilities for the underground storage of natural gas in the North Lansing Field, Harrison County, Texas. The authorized inventory limit for the field is 85,000,000 Mcf (inclusive of native gas), and at this inventory limit Applicant would have available approximately 15,000,000 Mcf of gas for withdrawal during the winter heating season, and over a 12-month period a net of 46,750,000 Mcf of gas could be withdrawn. It is indicated.

It is stated that North Lansing is utilized by Applicant on a year round basis to provide protection against major supply outages, and as a scheduled source of supply during the winter season. It is further stated that Applicant relies heavily on its sources of supply from the offshore areas of Louisiana and Texas to maintain existing service to its customers.

Applicant indicates that it projects a maximum inventory of 132,500,000 Mcf of natural gas to complete the development of the field, which initial development phase was authorized in Docket No. CP74-286 and further development in Docket No. CP77-29. Applicant further indicates that the increment of development proposed would enable it to reach said maximum inventory of 132,500,000 Mcf which would provide Applicant with the capability to withdraw 57,500,000 Mcf of gas during the winter heating season. However, because Applicant proposes to utilize the North Lansing Field on a year-round basis as a source of supply to offset outages, Applicant requests authorization to establish a maximum inventory level of 132,500,000 Mcf of gas (inclusive of native gas), which would provide Applicant with the capability of withdrawing a net of 82,800,000 Mcf of gas over any 12-month period when Applicant reaches said maximum limit. It is indicated. Applicant states that in addition, at said limit it would have the capability of withdrawing up to 740,000 Mcf per day.

It is stated that these increases in peak day and annual withdrawal authorizations would provide Applicant with additional flexibility to maximize the utilization of its field storage facilities in enhancing the reliability of existing service, and that it would assist Applicant in meeting customer entitlements, thus avoiding deeper and unexpected curtailment, but would not be utilized to support any new or increased service to Applicant's customers.

Applicant indicates that to effectuate the proposal, it proposes to construct and operate:

- (1) 12,000 BHP of compression; and
- (2) Approximately 5.2 miles of 6-inch and 8-inch gathering pipelines, the drilling and connection of 15 wells for injection and withdrawal use and other miscellaneous facilities, all at Applicant's North Lansing Field storage in Harrison County, Tex.

Applicant further indicates that the estimated cost of constructing the proposed facilities is $11,638,000. Applicant also proposes to construct and operate pursuant to Section 2.55(a) of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations (18 CFR 2.55(a)) downhole protection devices, dehydration, line heaters, and other miscellaneous facilities at a cost of $1,700,000. Applicant states that it would finance the total estimated cost of the facilities of $13,338,000 through interim and permanent financing.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before October 21, 1977, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

KENNETH F. PLUMB,
Secretary.

[Docket No. CP77-625]

RMNG GATHERING CO.

Notice of Application

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

Take notice that on September 21, 1977, RMNG Gathering Co. (Applicant), 420 Capitol Life Center, 1600 Sherman St., Denver, Colo. 80203, filed in Docket No. CP77-625 an application pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the transportation for and exchange of natural gas with Northwest Pipeline Corporation (Northwest), all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant requests authorization to transport for and exchange natural gas with Northwest pursuant to a gas purchase, transportation and exchange agreement dated February 2, 1977, as amended September 12, 1977, with Northwest. The subject agreement is for a term of 10 years. Applicant states that it has a need for additional gas supplies in order to serve the requirements of its parent, Rocky Mountain Natural Gas Company, Inc., and would exchange natural gas with Northwest to the extent provided by the subject agreement in order to acquire the right to purchase up to 25 percent of the volumes of gas to be delivered to Applicant by Northwest.

It is indicated that pursuant to a gas purchase contract dated January 25, 1977, between Northwest and Palmer Oil and Gas Company, Northwest has acquired a new source of gas supply in the Bar-X field area of Garfield County, Colorado which is remote from Northwest's existing transmission system, and that in order to make the volumes of natural gas to be purchased from Palmer Oil and Gas Company available to Northwest's transmission system at the least possible investment, Northwest has entered into the agreement with Applicant.

Applicant states that it would receive from Northwest the volumes of natural gas purchased by Northwest from Palmer Oil and Gas Company in the Bar-X field Garfield County area, at a mutually agreeable point on its gathering facilities located in or near Garfield County, Colorado. It is estimated that initially the total volumes received at the point would be approximately 260 Mcf per day. It is stated that the volumes of natural gas which Northwest would deliver to Applicant would be gathered by Northwest and transported to the facilities of Applicant. Northwest proposes to construct the necessary gathering facilities pursuant to a certificate authorization issued to it on October 19, 1976 in Docket No. CP76-459, it is indicated.

Applicant states that it would receive for exchange such volumes as are purchased by Northwest from Palmer Oil and Gas Company and would redeliver equivalent volumes, subject to Applicant's option to purchase up to 25 percent of the volumes delivered for exchange, at an existing point of interconnection between the facilities of Applicant and Northwest in or near Mesa County, Colorado, where Northwest is currently authorized to exchange volumes of natural gas with Applicant. The volumes of gas so delivered and received for exchange would be balanced on a BTU basis and such balancing, to the extent possible, would be achieved monthly, it is said.

It is stated that by a letter dated February 2, 1977, Applicant has notified Northwest of its intent to purchase up to 25 percent of the natural gas delivered to Applicant. It is further stated that the price to be paid by Applicant for the gas Northwest proposes to sell to Applicant would be equal to the purchase gas cost paid by Northwest to Palmer Oil and Gas Company, which current price is $1.46 per Mcf adjusted for BTU, including adjustments, taxes or other charges permitted under Opinion No. 770-A.

Applicant states that Northwest would pay Applicant its transportation cost of service, including a reasonable rate of return, all costs incurred from the delivery point to the point of redelivery to Northwest, which initial transportation charge would be 8 cents per Mcf comprised of 5.0 cents gathering and 3.0 cents for compression.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before October 21, 1977, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

[Docket No. R177-14]

S.S.C. GAS PRODUCING CO.

Order Approving Settlement Proposal and Granting Special Relief

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

On November 24, 1976, S.S.C. Gas Producing Co. (Petitioner) filed a petition for special relief pursuant to section 2.76 of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations (18 CFR § 2.76). Petitioner requested authorization to increase its rate from the presently allowed 37.8 cents/Mcf to 76 cents/Mcf, inclusive of production taxes. Petitioner is selling its gas to Trunkline Gas Co. (Trunkline) under its small producer certificate issued in Docket No. CS72-258, January 31, 1972.

Petitioner stated that no additional investment is proposed to be made in order to recover the subject gas from 3 wells located in Bee County, Tex., but that the presently authorized rate made the production uneconomical and "will precipitate its abandonment."

The Commission, in its April 25, 1977, order setting this case for a hearing stated that this petition did not meet the requirements of section 2.76 because no additional investment was proposed to be incurred, and therefore it more properly was one under section 2.56b(h) (18 CFR § 2.56b(h)) and directed Petitioner to demonstrate that its out-of-pocket expenses incurred in the operation of the subject wells are greater than the revenues obtained from the sales of the gas, as the condition precedent to it being authorized a special relief rate (Order at 2).

A hearing was held on June 23, 1977, before a Presiding Administrative Law Judge. At the close thereof, the parties agreed to discuss possible settlement once again, and as a result the instant settlement proposal was agreed upon.

The proposal, filed by Petitioner on July 25, 1977, stated that it (Petitioner) would receive a total rate of 48 cents/Mcf for the sale of gas from the subject wells. Commission Staff filed comments in support of the settlement proposal on August 5, 1977. Staff concluded that the rate of 48 cents/Mcf was cost supported. (See Appendix A.) No other party was heard from.

Therefore, based upon our consideration of the petition, and the formal record in this case, including Staff's study and analysis, we conclude that the proposed settlement rate is cost justified and in the public interest. Trunkline will continue to receive this gas for its customers' benefit at a total rate of 48 cents/Mcf at 14.65 psia.

The Commission orders: (A) The settlement proposal submitted by S.S.C. Gas Producing Co. on July 25, 1977, in this docket is approved, authorizing Petitioner to collect a total rate of 48 cents/Mcf at 14.65 psia for the sale of the subject gas effective on this Commission order, subject to paragraphs (B) and (C) below.

(B) The special rate authorized in ordering paragraph (A) shall not become effective as provided therein unless Petitioner files, within 30 days of the issuance of this order, a notice of Independent Producer rate change in Docket No. CS72-258, designating this special relief rate.

(C) This order is without prejudice to any finding or orders which have been made or which will hereafter be made by the Commission, and is without prejudice to any claims or contentions which may be made by the Commission, its Staff, or any party or person affected by this order, in any proceeding now pending or hereafter instituted by or against S.S.C. Gas Producing Co. or any person or party.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. CP77-628]

TEXAS GAS TRANSMISSION CORP.

Notice of Application

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

Take notice that on September 22, 1977, Texas Gas Transmission Corp. (Applicant), 3800 Federica Street, Owensboro, Ky. 42301, filed in Docket No. CP77-628 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act and section 2.79 of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations (18 CFR 2.79) for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the transportation, on an interruptible, for 2 years of up to 340 Mcf of natural gas at 14.73 psia for the Quaker Oats Co. (Quaker Oats), an existing industrial customer of Jackson Utility Division, City of Jackson, Tenn. (Jackson), one of Applicant's resale customers, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant requests authorization to transport gas for Quaker Oats pursuant to a transportation service agreement, dated September 12, 1977, between Applicant and Quaker Oats. It is stated that Quaker Oats has entered into a contract for the purchase of volumes of natural gas to be produced from certain leasehold interests in Lincoln Parish, La., and that such natural gas would be delivered to Applicant by means of a dispatching arrangement at the tailgate of the Kerr-McGee Gasoline Plant located near Dubach in Lincoln Parish, La., on Applicant's Lisbon-Guthrie 20-inch line. Applicant states that it would simultaneously redeliver volumes of natural gas up to 340 Mcf per day to Jackson at an existing point or points of delivery for Quaker Oats' account for use in Quaker's Jackson, Tenn., plant.

It is indicated that Quaker Oats operates a frozen food manufacturing plant in Jackson, Tenn., and that the plant manufacturing operation consists of 24 ovens for waffle production and 4 ovens for french toast. It is further indicated that the availability of natural gas is essential to the continued operation of the plant, and that there is no technologically feasible alternate fuel due to the contamination of food products.

Applicant indicates that it would retain a volume equal to 1.58 percent of the volume of natural gas delivered to Jackson for the account of Quaker Oats as makeup for compressor fuel and line loss, which percentage was calculated on an incremental basis for pipeline throughput to and within the rate zone in which the delivery by Applicant would be made, i.e., Zone 1. Applicant states that it would collect an initial charge of 11.36 cents per Mcf for all quantities of gas transported and delivered to Jackson for the account of Quaker Oats.

It is indicated that Applicant would purchase the subject gas from Harvey Broyles, et al. (Broyles, et al.), for a price as follows:

	Per Mcf
From the date of first delivery through the first contract year	$1.80
Commencing with the first day of the second contract year and during such second contract year	2.00

It is indicated that Broyles, et al., is unwilling to make any sales from Tremont Field located in Lincoln Parish, La., to interstate pipelines for resale or be subject to any form of present or proposed federal regulations on the price of gas sold from such field as a result of such sales. Absent the present arrangements, Broyles, et al. would sell gas produced from the Tremont Field to one of the intrastate purchasers who have expressed interest in the subject gas, it is indicated.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before October 21, 1977, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

[FR Docket No. CP77-275]

TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP.

Notice of Application

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

Take notice that on September 26, 1977, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. (Applicant), P.O. 1396, Houston, Tex. 77001 filed in Docket No. CP77-275 an application pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act and Section 2.79 of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations (18 CFR 2.79) for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the transportation of up to 3,000 Mcf of natural gas per day on an interruptible basis for PPG Industries, Inc. (PPG), an existing industrial customer of the City of Lexington, N.C. (Lexington) and the City of Shelby, N.C. (Shelby), two of Applicant's resale customers served under Rate Schedule CD-2, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant indicates that pursuant to the Commission's telegram of April 14, 1977, it received temporary authorization to render the proposed service to PPG. Applicant now requests permanent authorization to render the proposed service for 2 years for PPG pursuant to a transportation agreement dated March 18, 1977 among Applicant, PPG, Lexington and Shelby.

Applicant states that PPG has purchased from David S. Towner, d.b.a. David S. Towner Enterprises (Towner) the subject gas, which gas was produced from Guernsey and Nobel Counties, Ohio. It is stated that under the agreement between them PPG would pay Towner for the gas as follows:

PRICE

(a) During the term of this Agreement, Buyer shall pay for the following:

	Per MCF
First delivery to April 30, 1977	$2.20
May 1 thru October 31, 1977	$2.05
Nov. 1, 1978, thru April 30, 1979	$2.40
May 1 thru October 31, 1978	$2.15
Nov. 1, thru April 30, 1979	$2.40
May 1, thru October 31, 1979	$2.25
Nov. 1, 1979, thru April 30, 1980	$2.50
May 1 thru October 31, 1980	$2.35
Nov. 1, 1980, thru April 30, 1981	$2.60

(b) If the contract is continued beyond April 30, 1981, the parties hereto shall mutually agree to renegotiate volumes and prices. It is indicated that the subject gas has never been sold in interstate commerce.

It is stated that PPG would arrange to have the subject gas delivered to Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. (Columbia) and Columbia would deliver the gas to Applicant at Dranesville, Va., by backing off on its takes from Applicant at that delivery point. Applicant would then deliver the transportation volumes at existing points of delivery to Lexington and Shelby for the account of PPG, and Lexington and Shelby would transport such quantities of natural gas to PPG's Lexington and Shelby, N.C. plants where Fiberglas is manufactured, it is said. It is indicated that all of the natural gas to be transported would be consumed in priority 2 service category, (process and plant protection uses at both Shelby and Lexington). The units are known at the furnace hearths, refiners and cannals and certain other miscellaneous fiber conditioning equipment which all require the constant flame temperature characteristics of a gaseous fuel, it is indicated.

Applicant states that it would charge PPG, initially 8.57 cents per Dekatherm (dt) equivalent for all quantities delivered. This initial rates reflects the average cost per dt of moving gas within Applicant's Rate Zone 2, and such rate was determined by using the same method that was utilized in the development of the Zone 3 intra-zone rate of 9.55 cents per dt, it is indicated.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before October 14, 1977, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP.

Notice of Availability of the Final Report of the Data Verification Committee

OCTOBER 3, 1977.

Take notice that on September 30, 1977, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. (Transco) filed copies of a document entitled, "Report to the Federal Power Commission of Data Verification Committee Review of Revised Base Period Market Data and Resulting Recommendations" (DVC Final Report). The DVC Final Report makes the following recommendations:

1. That any multifamily use in excess of 50 Mcf per day within individual dwelling units (for example, heating, cooking, etc.), whether or not master metered, be classified as a Priority 1 usage and any central (for example, a central boiler) multifamily usage with a total use in excess of 50 Mcf per day be classified in the appropriate commercial category based on size and use.

2. That intercompany transfers during the base period be "sprinkled" in the selling company's markets based on the end use market profile of the purchasing company (intercompany transfer question).

3. That the Commission review the volume of gas classified as Priority 2 (feedstock and process) requirements attributed to Farmers Chemical Association in North Carolina Natural Gas Corporation's market data.

4. That Carolina Pipe Line Co. and Virginia Pipeline Co. be allowed to assign to each pipeline supplier, 100 percent of those markets which are served only by the respective supplier and which are physically isolated from the remainder of the respondent's systems (proration of isolated markets question).

5. That in order to classify loads on the basis of size, loads are to be classified on the basis of the total consumption of each customer and not segregated by use (load splitting question).

6. That any industrial space heating requirement over and above that required for plant protection should continue to be classified in the appropriate category as non-process and non-plant protection usage.

7. That requirements which indicate having oil or coal as an alternate fuel should continue to be classified as a non-process requirement in the appropriate priority based on size.

8. That industrial requirements for make-up air heaters should continue to be classified as a non-process use in the appropriate priority based on size.

9. That any industrial water heating loads should continue to be classified as non-process loads in the appropriate priority depending on size.

10. That any Transco customer that presented specific data changes to the DVC to up-grade markets to correct classification errors contained in the original data be allowed to make such changes when approved by the DVC.

Attached to the DVC Final Report are dissenting or minority views of various individual members of the DVC. Filed concurrently with the DVC Final Report are six copies of the minutes and corrections to the minutes of the DVC meetings.

Transco has also filed, in the instant docket, the final revised "raw" base period market data and the revised base period end use market profile of its CD, ACQ and Firm Direct Industrial customers.

The final revised "raw" base period market data, containing customers' affidavits, reflects each respondents' modification of its market data consistent with the recommendations in the DVC Final Report.

The revised end use market profile reflects the recommendations of the DVC, as well as the data manipulations (e.g. storage sprinkling and imputed ACQ markets) called for in Opinion Nos. 778 and 778-A. This profile would serve as the basis for allocation of available gas supplies on the Transco system upon acceptance of the recommendations in the DVC Final Report.

Copies of (a) the Final Report of the Data Verification Committee, (b) the minutes and corrections to the minutes of the DVC meetings, (c) the minority reports and dissenting views of individual members of the DVC, (d) final revised "raw" base period market data, and (e) revised base period end use market profiles are on file and available for public inspection in the Commission's Office of Public Information, Room 1000, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426. Any person desiring to be heard or to comment on the filed report and its supporting material, should file written comments with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, on or before October 12, 1977.

[Docket Nos. CP77-638 and CP77-635]

WEIPENN GAS CO.

Notice of Petition for Declaratory Order or Alternatively Application To Abandon

SEPTEMBER 30, 1977.

Take notice that on September 23, 1977, Weipenn Gas Co. (Weipenn), through its successor-in-interest, Bazzle Gas Co. (Bazzle or Petitioner), 2821 NW 50th Street, Oklahoma City, Okla. 73112, filed in Docket Nos. CP77-638 and CP77-635, respectively, a petition pursuant to Section 1.7(c) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.7 (c)) for a declaratory order disclaiming jurisdiction over certain acts and operations performed by Petitioner, and the facilities used to effectuate such operations; or in the alternatively an application pursuant to Section 7(b) of the Natural Gas Act for permission and approval to abandon its pipeline facilities located in Braxton County, W. Va., and the transportation service rendered to Equitable Gas Co. (Equitable) through such facilities, all as more fully set forth in the petition an application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Petitioner indicates in Docket No. CP77-638 that the facilities over which it requests the Commission to disclaim jurisdiction extends from the so-called Engle Farm in Otter District, Braxton County, W. Va., to Equitable's Burnsville Compressor Station in Salt Lick District, Braxton County, W. Va., a distance of approximately twelve miles, and that the facilities consist of approximately 65,882 feet of 6, 8, and 10-inch line, together with 57,481 feet of 2, 4, and 6-inch line. Petitioner states that pursuant to the terms of a gathering agreement executed April 26, 1963, between Weipenn and Equitable, Petitioner collects gas purchased by Equitable for various producers at points all along the system, and delivers such gas to Equitable at the Burnsville terminus, it is said.

It is indicated that pursuant to the Commission's order of July 13, 1964, in Docket No. CP64-183, et al., Weipenn received authorization to acquire the subject facilities from Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co. (Cumberland) to sell and deliver natural gas to Equitable, and to transport natural gas for Equitable. Pursuant to the subject order, Cumberland was also granted authorization to abandon the subject facilities by sale to Weipenn. Cumberland, a regulated Class A pipeline, had sold the subject facilities to Weipenn by agreement dated September 20, 1962. Cumberland had filed an abandonment application to permit the sale to Weipenn and Weipenn, at the same time had filed an application for certificate authorization to acquire them, it is said. It is indicated that pursuant to the Commission's order of July 13, 1964, the Commission found that the facilities were used in the transportation and sale of natural gas in interstate commerce, and issued the requested certificates and abandonment authorizations.

Petitioner states that it has since acquired the facilities of Weipenn through a series of assignments, which facilities are said to total 123,363 feet of pipeline, and constitute all of the facilities which were authorized by the Commission's order of July 13, 1964.

Petitioner states in Docket No. CP77-368 that the facilities and service in question are non-jurisdictional by reason of the production and gathering exemption contained in Section 1(b) of the Natural Gas Act. Petitioner further states that it is not engaged in the transportation of natural gas in interstate commerce, but rather is engaged merely in the gathering of natural gas with respect to the service rendered to Equitable. Petitioner maintains that this conclusion is required due primarily to three major factors: (1) the nature and extent of the operations and service rendered to Equitable; (2) the intent of the underlying agreement between Weipenn and Equitable as evidence by its specific terminology; and (3) the structure and design of the subject facilities.

In regards to the nature of service, Petitioner indicates that the mere size of facilities is not by itself an important factor for purposes of determining whether the nature of the operations is gathering only or is transportation. Petitioner's facilities are, by any comparison, minute, it is indicated. The largest pipeline involved is ten inches in diameter, and of the 25 or so miles of total pipeline involved in this petition, approximately 6 miles consist of 2 to 4-inch pipeline, with the remainder ranging from 6 to 10 inches, it is said. Petitioner asserts that should the Commission disagree with the relief requested herein and assert jurisdiction over the facilities and transportation service being rendered, Petitioner would have the dubious distinction of being the smallest interstate pipeline over which the Commission has ever asserted jurisdiction. Petitioner states that the entire facilities are located within the State of West Virginia, and the Petitioner owns no other natural gas pipeline facilities either within the State of West Virginia or in any other State.

It is indicated that while a separate agreement between Weipenn and Equitable executed concurrently with the gathering agreement provided for the sale of certain volumes of natural gas, that agreement was wholly incidental to the gathering agreement. Most significantly, the nature of the gathering service was in no way contingent upon or defined by the trivial sales involved, and that notwithstanding the contingency of such sales, the delivery service on behalf of Equitable was and remains gathering only, in the strictest legal sense of the word, it is asserted.

Petitioner states that even if one assumes that the facilities were jurisdictional at that time they were operated by the previous owners, the Commission has recognized that a change in ownership by itself can render previously jurisdictional facilities nonjurisdictional. Petitioner further states that it is apparent that the Commission certificated the facilities by its July 13, 1963, order only because Cumberland was an otherwise jurisdictional natural gas company with extensive interstate facilities operations, and as such was required to receive abandonment authorization for the sale to Weipenn. It is stated that for reasons not apparent, the questions of Commission jurisdiction over Weipenn was never raised in the prior proceedings; however, the provision in Paragraph (D) of the July 13 order, that the certificate would be effective only during the time of Weipenn's ownership indicates that the Commission itself believed jurisdiction attached only because of the prior ownership and subsequent sale by Cumberland. Petitioner states that the Commission by that provision specifically intended for the certificate to expire at the time Weipenn no longer operated the facilities as authorized, and that the Commission intended to terminate its jurisdiction at such time.

Petitioner indicates that the second important criteria to take into consideration for purposes of determining the status of the service performed for Equitable must be the underlying agreement executed between Weipenn and Equitable, which agreement repeatedly refers to the service being performed as gathering, and never as transportation.

Petitioner states that in the final analysis, the structure, or physical design of the facilities must be the determinative factor deciding the jurisdictional question. In every prior Commission decision on this issue, great weight has been given to the specific design involved, since each case ultimately has to turn on the physical factors involved, it is asserted. Petitioner further states that judged by this traditional criterion of the physical structure of the system, Petitioner is demonstrably engaged in gathering only, within the meaning of Section 1 (b) of the Act. It is stated that Petitioner collects gas for Equitable at all points along the system, and makes delivery at Burnsville, where Petitioner's facilities terminate. It is stated that there is no intermediate pipeline, there is no last point of delivery beyond which no more gas is commingled, and there is in essence, no central point on the Petitioner's system, and jurisdiction therefore does not attach.

Petitioner indicates that it is not engaged predominantly, or at all, in the transportation of gas in interstate commerce. It is indicated that Petitioner performs functions in the production of natural gas and sale of that gas in intrastate commerce, and, with respect to the operations rendered for Equitable, is engaged in the gathering of gas produced by other producers and delivery to Equitable's interstate transmission line.

In Docket No. CP77-635 Bazzle requests permission and approval to abandon its pipeline facilities located in Braxton County, W. Va., and the transportation service rendered to Equitable through such facilities. Bazzle indicates that the pipelines are deteriorating, and that since their construction in 1915, the subject pipeline has required increasing maintenance and repair operations and expenditures in recent years. This has resulted in total expenses of $25,157 for the first half of 1977, against an income of $18,228, resulting in a loss on operations of $6,929, it is said. Bazzle states that because of the additional work required to service the pipeline and provide more facilities, Bazzle approached Equitable in an effort to renegotiate the underlying transportation charge of 2.0 cents per Mcf, which has been in effect from the time of the underlying agreement dated April 26, 1963. Bazzle further states that while recognizing the increased transportation costs being incurred by it, and the resultant need for an increase in revenues in order to maintain the pipeline, Equitable declined to enter into any agreement for an increased transportation charge due to the availability of Equitable's own pipeline in the vicinity of the Bazzle line. It is indicated that there would be no significant decrease in Equitable's service to its customers if the requested abandonment is granted, since Equitable would continue to purchase similar quantities from their current sources.

Accordingly, Petitioner states that in the event the Commission determines that Petitioner's facilities, and the service rendered on behalf of Equitable, are subject to Commission's jurisdiction, Petitioner, in the alternative, request hereby that the Commission grant Bazzle permission and approval to abandon the subject facilities.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application and petition should on or before October 21, 1977, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protesters parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that permission and approval for the proposed abandonment are required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

KENNETH F. PLUMB,
Secretary.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

THE ALFRED I. DU PONT TESTAMENTARY TRUST AND FLORIDA NATIONAL BANKS OF FLORIDA, INC.

Statement in Connection With Order Approving Designation of Purchaser of Shares of Florida National Banks of Florida, Inc.

By letter dated August 25, 1977, Florida National Associates, Inc., Jacksonville, Fla. ("FNA"), requested, pursuant to the provisions of the Plan of Divestiture ("Plan") submitted by the Alfred I. duPont Testamentary Trust ("duPont Trust") with respect to its 2,330,638 shares (the "Shares") of Florida National Banks of Florida, Inc., Jacksonville, Fla. ("Florida National"), the approval of the Board of FNA's designation of Florida National as purchaser of the Shares. The Plan was approved by the Board on December 10, 1974. By order dated September 21, 1977, the Board approved FNA's designation of Florida National as purchaser of the Shares, and in connection with such approval, and acting pursuant to the Board's authority under section 5(b) of the Bank Holding Company Act (the "Act") (12 U.S.C. § 1844(b)), the Board directed Florida National to comply with certain requirements set forth in the order designed to insure the effective and complete separation of Florida National's banking and related interests from the nonbanking interests of the duPont Trust that was mandated by Congress in 1966.

The Alfred I. duPont Testamentary Trust was established in 1935 with assets of about $27 million, consisting mainly of shares in E.I. duPont de Nemours & Co., Florida real estate and properties, and controlling interests in a number of banks in Florida. Mr. Edward Ball, Mr. duPont's brother-in-law, was named as one of the four original trustees of the duPont Trust and continued to manage the Florida properties owned by the Trust as he had done prior to Mr. duPont's death. With Mr. Ball serving, in effect, as managing trustee, the Trust expanded its bank holdings to include some 30 banks located throughout the State of Florida. Together these banks constituted the largest banking organization in Florida prior to 1970. The Trust's nonbanking interests, which continued to expand after Mr. duPont's death, included among others, the St. Joe Paper Company and the Florida East Coast Railway Co.

As originally enacted in 1956, the Bank Holding Company Act did not include testamentary trusts, such as the duPont Trust, as companies subject to the Act's prohibitions against the ownership of nonbanking interests by firms that controlled banks. In 1966, however, focusing primarily upon the extensive banking and industrial interests in the duPont Trust, Congress amended the Act's definition of "company" to include long-term trusts and it removed the Act's exemption for religious, charitable and educational institutions.

The 1966 Amendments to the Act required that within 5 years (that is, by July 1, 1971), the duPont Trust either divest its nonbanking interests or cease to be a bank holding company. In 1970, the duPont Trust submitted to the Board its plan to comply with the 1966 Congressional mandate. It proposed: (1) to transfer the Trust's banking interests to a newly formed bank holding company in return for stock in the holding company, and (2) thereafter to reduce the Trust's interest in the new holding company to less than 25 percent of its voting shares.

On August 13, 1970, the Board approved, as the first step in the Trust's compliance with the 1966 Amendments, the application of Florida National to become a bank holding company through an exchange of its own shares for all of the shares of the 30 banks owned by the duPont Trust. In its order approving the reorganization, the Board advised the duPont Trust that in order to comply with the Act, the Trust would have to eliminate all relationships with Florida National that would enable the Trust to exercise control or a controlling influence over the holding company or its subsidiary banks.

On February 11, 1971, Florida National consummated its acquisition of nearly all of the shares of the 30 banks owned by the duPont Trust. The duPont Trust thereby acquired 59.6 percent of Florida National's outstanding shares. Officers, directors, and employees of the Florida National banks acquired almost 9 percent. Mr. Ball personally acquired 6.4 percent, and the estate of Mr. Ball's sister, Jessie Ball duPont, acquired 4.5 percent. On June 24, 1971, the duPont Trust sold over 3 million of its Florida National shares to the public, thereby reducing the Trust's holding of Florida National's voting shares to 24.9 percent.

In May 1971, Mr. Ball resigned his position as Coordinator of the Florida National banks, as well as all other official positions he held with Florida National and its subsidiary banks, including his seats on the boards of directors of four of the subsidiary banks.² By early 1972, all interlocking officers and directors between the duPont Trust and its subsidiaries, on the one hand, and Florida National and its subsidiary banks, on the other hand, were terminated.

In September 1971, the Board adopted, as an amendment to its Regulation Y, certain presumptions of control designed to implement the expanded definition of "control" brought about by the 1970 Amendments to the Act.³ One of the rebuttable presumptions (12 CFR § 225.2(b)(2)) provided, in effect, that shares of a bank holding company held by officers, directors, or trustees of a second company would be considered to be indirectly controlled by the second company where the second company itself owned or controlled more than 5 percent of the holding company's shares and the combined stock ownership in the holding company of the second company and its officers, directors and trustees together amounted to 25 percent or more of the holding company's shares. Under this provision, the duPont Trust's 24.9 percent interest in Florida National coupled with Mr. Ball's 6.4 percent gave rise to the presumption that the duPont Trust continued to control Florida National, and thus indicated a finding that the duPont Trust's divestiture of its banking interest had not been complete or effective.

On July 5, 1973, acting pursuant to the procedures set forth in Regulation Y, the Board issued a preliminary determination that the duPont Trust exercised control and/or a controlling influence over the management or policies of Florida National and its subsidiary banks and, therefore, had failed to divest control of Florida National and its subsidiary banks as required by the 1966 Amendments to the Act. The Board's preliminary determination was based on six factors:

1. The duPont Trust's ownership of over 24 percent of Florida National's shares.
2. The apparent continuation, after July 1, 1971, of pre-existing relationships between the duPont Trust and its trustees and Florida National.
3. Trustee Ball's service for 20 years as Coordinator of the Florida National banks.
4. Trustee Ball's ownership of Florida National's shares.
5. The ownership of 4.5 percent of Florida National's shares by the Estate of Mrs. duPont (Trustee Ball's sister), the executors of which were individuals who served as trustees of the duPont Trust.
6. The fact that no person (other than the Trust and Trustee Ball) owned more than 5 percent of the voting shares of Florida National.

The duPont Trust did not contest the preliminary determination of control and indicated to the Board its willingness to divest itself of its entire interest in Florida National. By Order dated October 15, 1973, the Board made final its determination that the duPont Trust had continued after July 1, 1971, to exercise control and/or a controlling influence over Florida National and, therefore, had remained a bank holding company. Accordingly, the Board ordered the duPont Trust to terminate its control and/or controlling influence over Florida National and to divest the 2,330,638 shares of Florida National held by the duPont Trust no later than December 31, 1974. The duPont Trust was further ordered to submit a specific plan of divestiture.

By letter dated December 10, 1974, the Board approved a plan of divestiture that provided for the immediate and irrevocable transfer of custody, title, and voting rights to the Shares to the Peoples First National Bank of Miami Shores, Fla. ("Miami Bank"), as trustee under an Irrevocable Living Trust. Under the terms of the Irrevocable Trust, the Miami Bank was required to sell the Shares at $18 per share or the publicly quoted bid price per share for such stock on a date 60 days after the day on which the sale of such stock by the duPont Trust pursuant to the Plan was approved by the Board, whichever price was greater,⁴ to FNA, a corporation organized by the presidents of five of Florida National's subsidiary banks, provided FNA qualified within 33 months after the effective date of the Irrevocable Trust as financially able to purchase the Florida National Shares.

Under the Plan, the stock of FNA was to be offered to officers, directors and employees of Florida National and its subsidiaries and certain customers of Florida National's subsidiaries. However, FNA had the right under the Plan to elect not to purchase the Shares itself and instead to designate a person or persons to purchase the Shares by "private placement," provided that such purchaser was approved by the Board within the 33 month period. If FNA failed to qualify as financially able to purchase the Shares or failed to designate a purchaser approved by the Board within that period, FNA's rights under the Plan were to terminate, and the Miami Bank was required to sell the Shares at public sale. At such public sale, persons affiliated with the duPont Trust, its trustees, or any of the subsidiaries of the duPont Trust were to be prohibited from purchasing the Shares.

During 1977, it became clear to FNA that it would not be able to demonstrate its financial capacity to purchase the Shares by the time its purchase rights were to expire under the Plan. Accordingly, FNA elected to exercise its rights under the Plan to designate a purchaser and on August 25, 1977, FNA requested Board approval of its designation of Florida National.⁵ Florida National proposed to purchase the Shares, which will be held in its treasury, for $18 per share, or an aggregate of approximately $42 million cash, all of which will be borrowed. Florida National anticipates that approximately $17 million of the principal amount will be repaid early in 1978 with funds available to Florida National as the result of mergers among several of its subsidiary banks. Florida National, with 32 subsidiary banks having aggregate assets of $1.6 billion (as of December 31, 1976) is the fourth largest banking organization in Florida. Florida National's financial and managerial resources are regarded as satisfactory and its future prospects appear favorable. While the purchase of the Shares by Florida National will result in a significant increase in the company's debt, the Board believes that Florida National has sufficient resources to service the debt and still remain a source of financial strength to its subsidiary banks.

Following receipt of FNA's August 25, 1977, designation of Florida National as purchaser of the Shares, an extensive field investigation was conducted by staff of the Board and the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta to determine the extent to which, if at all, the duPont Trust or any of its trustees or any other person affiliated with the duPont Trust may have continued after December 10, 1974 (the date the Board approved the duPont Trust Plan of Divestiture), to exercise control or a controlling influence over the affairs of Florida National and its subsidiary banks, and to assess the effect that a purchase of the Shares by Florida National might have with respect to any existing or potential control relationship between the duPont Trust and Florida National.⁶ The investigation indicated that following the transfer of the Shares to the Miami Bank under the Irrevocable Living Trust, the previous control relationship between the duPont Trust and Florida National began to dissipate substantially. Management of Florida National and its subsidiary banks assumed working control over Florida National, new directors were added to the Florida National board who had no prior affiliation with the Trust or its trustees, and substantial operational and policy changes were effected independent of and without consultation with, or review, influence or control by the duPont Trust, its individual trustees or any subsidiary or affiliate of the duPont Trust. With the exception of the duPont Trust's contacts with Florida National's lead bank, Florida First National Bank of Jacksonville, Jacksonville, Fla. ("Jacksonville Bank"), in its capacity as corporate trustee of the duPont Trust, the investigation disclosed no evidence of efforts by or on behalf of the Trust to influence the day-to-day operations or policies of Florida National. The lack of such evidence, in the Board's view, was significant indication of Florida National's ability to carry on its operations independent of the duPont Trust or any of its related interests.⁷

While it thus appeared to the Board that the 1974 divestiture of the Shares by the duPont Trust to the Miami Bank was substantially effective in terminating the control relationship between Florida National and the duPont Trust, the Board was concerned that if Florida National were to purchase the Shares, certain other relationships between the duPont Trust and Florida National might provide the duPont Trust with the potential ability to influence the affairs of Florida National and its subsidiary banks in a manner inconsistent with the objectives sought by Congress in the 1966 Amendments to the Act. This potential would, of course, have been significantly lessened if the Shares had been sold to FNA, or to a third party block purchaser because a countervailing ownership force would thereby have been created and the purchaser's very substantial equity investment in the Shares would have created a strong incentive on the part of the purchaser to act in its own interest and independent of the duPont Trust.

Because Florida National's purchase of the Shares would eliminate the possible creation of such an independent ownership interest, it was necessary, in the Board's view, that an approval of that purchase be accompanied by the imposition of protective restraints that would assure an effective and permanent separation of Florida National's banking and related interests from the duPont Trust's nonbanking interests in order to carry out the 1966 mandate of Congress. The requirements imposed in the Board's Order of September 21, 1977, were designed and are intended by the Board to remove any remaining potential for the duPont Trust to exert control or a controlling influence over Florida National and its subsidiary banks. These protective requirements should also strengthen the ability and resolve of the management of Florida National to continue to operate the holding company independent of the duPont Trust. The Order directs the termination of all remaining relationships between the duPont Trust and Florida National, and prohibits the creation of future relationships that offer the potential for a continuation or reestablishment of the duPont Trust in a control relationship with respect to Florida National.

Significant among the relationships that the Board has directed be terminated, is the continued service of the Jacksonville Bank as corporate trustee of the duPont Trust. So long as the Jacksonville Bank remained a trustee of the duPont Trust it not only shared legal title to the nonbanking assets held in the trust,⁸ but potentially held a position as the deciding and controlling vote in the event of disagreements among the individual trustees.⁹ In view of the continuing disagreement and litigation among the individual trustees, the significance of the Jacksonville Bank's position in this regard could have provided an incentive for the Trust or individual trustees to attempt to exert influence over Florida National with regard to the administration of the affairs of the Trust. In the Board's judgment, these factors, as well as the desirability in general of separating the Jacksonville Bank from involvement with the business interests of the Trust, weighed heavily for removal of the Jacksonville Bank as corporate trustee.

Although the Board's Order does not contain provisions addressed directly to the personal stock ownership in Florida National of Mr. Ball or the Estate of Jessie Ball duPont, the Board recognizes that at present these interests together represent the largest single block of stock in Florida National. The Board believes, however, that the protective provisions contained in the Order are fully adequate to insure that this stock interest cannot be used to reestablish a control relationship between the duPont Trust and Florida National.

The Board intends to monitor closely the operations of Florida National and relationships between Florida National and the duPont Trust and its representatives and it will not hesitate to take action to insure compliance with the terms and purposes of this Order. In this regard, the Board emphasizes that the officers and directors of Florida National and its subsidiaries, and particularly those directors who are not also officers, bear a heavy responsibility for assuring that both the letter and spirit of the Order are faithfully observed.

Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, October 3, 1977.

THEODORE E. ALLISON,
Secretary of the Board.

¹ Prior to July 1, 1971, Mr. Ball, through the Coordinator's Office, which he headed, dominated completely the management, operations, and policies of the 30 Florida National banks owned by the duPont Trust.

² Mr. Ball did, however, select the president for Florida National (a position equivalent to that of Coordinator held by Mr. Ball until May 1971) and all of its initial directors. The Coordinator's Office formed the nucleus of Florida National. The staff of the Coordinator's Office became basically the staff of Florida National.

³ The 1970 Amendments added § 2(a) (2) (c) to the Act, which defined "control" to include the exercise of a controlling influence over the management or policies of another firm.

⁷ Section 4(c) (4) of the Act exempts from the Act's prohibitions against ownership or control of nonbanking assets by a bank holding company shares held in good faith in a fiduciary capacity, except where such shares are held under a trust that itself constitutes a "company" as defined in the Act. Since the duPont Trust is a "company" within the Act's definition, this exemption is not available to Florida National.

⁸ As corporate trustee, the Jacksonville Bank had power not only to break a tie vote among the individual trustees, but to vote in such a way as to create a tie vote among the trustees and then to vote again to break the tie.

JACKSON HOLE BANKING CORP.

Order Denying Formation of Bank Holding Company

Jackson Hole Banking Corp., Jackson, Wyo., has applied for the Board's approval under § 3(a) (1) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. § 1842 (a) (1)) of formation of a bank holding company through acquisition of 91.3 percent of the common voting shares of The Jackson State Bank, Jackson, Wyo. ("Bank"). Applicant also proposes to acquire nonvoting preferred shares of Bank.

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views, has been given in accordance with § 3(b) of the Act. The time for filing comments and views has expired, and the Board has considered the application and all comments received in light of the factors set forth in § 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. § 1842(c)).

Applicant is a nonoperating Wyoming corporation organized for the purpose of becoming a bank holding company through the acquisition of Bank ($44.2 million in deposits).¹ Upon acquisition of Bank, Applicant would control the 10th largest banking organization in the State of Wyoming and approximately 2.4 percent of total deposits in commercial banks in the State.

Bank is the larger of the two banks located in Teton County, which approximates the relevant banking market, and holds approximately 81.7 percent of the total commercial bank deposits in the market.

The proposed transaction involves the transfer of ownership of Bank from individuals to a corporation owned by the same individuals. Since Applicant has no other subsidiaries, consummation of the proposal would not have any adverse effect upon existing or potential competition nor would it increase the concentration of banking resources. Thus, the Board concludes that the competitive effects of the instant proposal are not adverse and are consistent with approval.

The Board has indicated on previous occasions that a holding company should constitute a source of financial and managerial strength to its subsidiary bank(s), and that the Board will closely examine the condition of an applicant in each case with this consideration in mind.² Having examined such factors in light of the record in this application, the Board concludes that the record presents adverse considerations as they relate to the applicant bank holding company that warrant denial of the proposal to place the ownership of Bank into corporate form.

The president of Bank, along with members of his family, are the principal shareholders of Bank and, under this proposal, would become the president and principal shareholders of Applicant. The president of Bank has served in that capacity for approximately ten years. Material in the record reflects that Bank's earnings and capital position have generally been lower than those of similarly situated banks in the State. Such results appear to be attributable to the policies and practices currently in evidence in Bank's operations. Inasmuch as no management changes are contemplated by Applicant and this proposal would continue and enhance management's control of bank, the Board is of the view that the record of Bank's operations indicates that managerial factors are an adverse consideration.

With respect to financial considerations, the Board notes that Applicant would incur a sizable debt in connection with the proposed acquisition of Bank's shares. Applicant proposes to service this debt over a 12-year period through dividends to be declared by Bank and tax benefits to be derived from filing consolidated tax returns. The projected earnings for Bank contained in the application are higher than Bank has generally enjoyed in the past, as well as being higher than other banks in the area. In addition, the projected asset growth of Bank is much less than that experienced in recent years. Based upon more realistic earnings and growth projections, it is the Board's judgment that Applicant would not have the necessary financial resources to meet its annual debt servicing requirements, maintain adequate capital at Bank, and meet any unexpected problems that might arise at Bank. It is true that Applicant's plan calls for it to incur debt for the purpose of injecting capital into Bank; however, a more appropriate means of achieving capital improvement considering Bank's present condition would be a retention of earnings and a curtailing of dividends. In sum, the Board does not view Applicant's overall financial plan as one that would enable it to serve as a source of strength to Bank or one that would enhance Bank's prospects. Therefore, the Board concludes that considerations relating to financial resources and future prospects weigh against approval of this application.

No significant changes in Bank's operations or in the services offered to customers are anticipated to follow from consummation of the proposed acquisition. Consequently, convenience and needs factors lend no weight towards approval of this proposal.

On the basis of the circumstances concerning this application, the Board concludes that the banking considerations involved in this proposal present adverse factors bearing upon the financial and managerial resources and future prospects of Applicant and Bank. Such adverse factors are not outweighed by any procompetitive effects or by benefits that would result in better serving the convenience and needs of the community. Accordingly, it is the Board's judgment that approval of the application would not be in the public interest and that the application should be denied.

On the basis of the facts of record, the application is denied for the reasons summarized above.

By order of the Board of Governors, effective September 30, 1977.

GRIFFITH L. GARWOOD,
Deputy Secretary of the Board.

[Docket No. TCR 76-110]

WORLD AIRWAYS, INC.

Prior and Final Certifications Pursuant to the Bank Holding Company Tax Act of 1976

World Airways, Inc., Oakland, Calif. ("Airways"), has requested a prior cer-tification pursuant to section 6158(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"), as amended by section 3(a) of the Bank Holding Company Tax Act of 1976 (the "Tax Act"), that its sale on January 16, 1974, of 1,360,950 shares of First Western Bank & Trust Co., Los Angeles, Calif. ("Bank"), indirectly owned and controlled by it through its wholly-owned subsidiary, Worldamerica Investors Corp., Oakland, Calif. ("Worldamerica"), to Lloyds First Western Corp., Wilmington, Del. ("First Western"), a subsidiary of Lloyds Bank Limited, London, England ("Lloyds"), was necessary or appropriate to effectuate the policies of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. § 1841 et seq.) ("BHC Act"). Airways has also requested a final certification pursuant to section 6158(c)(2) of the Code that it has (before the expiration of the period prohibited property is permitted under the BHC Act to be held by a bank holding company) ceased to be a bank holding company.¹

In connection with these requests, the following information is deemed relevant for purposes of issuing the requested certifications:²

1. Airways is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware on March 29, 1948. Worldamerica is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of California on June 8, 1968. Airways acquired all of the outstanding voting shares of Worldamerica on June 8, 1968.

2. On June 8, 1968, Airways acquired indirect ownership and control, through Worldamerica, of 1,360,950 shares, representing 99.48 per cent of the outstanding voting shares, of Bank.

3. Airways became a bank holding company on December 31, 1970, as a result of the 1970 Amendments to the BHC Act, by virtue of its direct ownership and control at that time of more than 25 per cent of the outstanding voting shares of Worldamerica, and by virtue of its indirect ownership and control at that time, through Worldamerica, of more than 25 per cent of the outstanding voting shares of Bank, and it registered as such with the Board on

² This information derives from Airways' correspondence with the Board concerning its requests for certification, Airways' Registration Statement filed with the Board pursuant to the BHC Act, and other records of the Board.

November 26, 1971.³ Airways would have been a bank holding company on July 7, 1970, if the BHC Act Amendments of 1970 had been in effect on such date, by virtue of its direct and indirect ownership and control on that date of more than 25 per cent of the outstanding voting shares of Worldamerica and Bank, respectively.

4. On December 10, 1973, the Board issued an Order pursuant to § 3(a)(1) of the BHC Act approving the applications of Lloyds and First Western to become bank holding companies through the acquisition of control of Bank. On January 16, 1974, Airways sold all of the 1,360,950 shares of Bank indirectly owned and controlled by it, through Worldamerica, to First Western for cash.

5. On January 16, 1974, Airways held property acquired by it on or before July 7, 1970, the disposition of which would, but for the proviso of section 4(a)(2) of the BHC Act, have been necessary or appropriate to effectuate section 4 of the BHC Act if Airways were to remain a bank holding company beyond December 31, 1980, and which property would, but for such proviso, have been "prohibited property" within the meaning of sections 6158(f)(2) and 1103(c) of the Code. Section 1103(g) of the Code provides that any bank holding company may elect, for purposes of section 6158 of the Code, to have the determination whether property is "prohibited property" made under the BHC Act as if such Act did not contain the proviso of section 4(a)(2) thereof. Airways has represented that it will make such an election.⁴

6. Neither Airways nor any subsidiary of Airways holds any interest in Bank, Lloyds, or any other subsidiary of Lloyds, or in any other bank or any holding company that controls a bank.

7. Neither Lloyds nor any subsidiary of Lloyds, including Bank, holds any interest in Airways or any subsidiary of Airways.

8. No officer, director (including honorary or advisor director) or employee with policy-making functions of Airways or any subsidiary of Airways also holds any such position with Lloyds, or any subsidiary of Lloyds, including Bank.

³ Worldamerica similarly became a bank holding company on December 31, 1970, as a result of the 1970 Amendments to the BHC Act, by virtue of its direct ownership and control of more than 25 per cent of the outstanding voting shares of Bank, and it registered as such with the Board on November 26, 1971.

⁴ Section 1103(g) of the Code requires that an election thereunder be made "at such time and in such manner as the Secretary [of the Treasury] or his delegate may by regulations prescribe." Any such election, once made is irrevocable. As of this date no such regulations have been promulgated. An election made under this subsection does not apply unless the final certification referred to in section 6158(c)(2) of the Code includes a certification by the Board that the bank holding company "has disposed of either all banking property or all nonbanking property."

or with any other bank or any company that controls a bank.

9. Airways does not control in any manner the election of a majority of directors, or exercise a controlling influence over the management or policies, of Lloyds or any subsidiary of Lloyds, including Bank, or of any other bank or company that controls a bank.

On the basis of the foregoing information, it is hereby certified that:

(A) at the time of its sale, through Worldamerica, of the 1,360,950 shares of Bank to First Western, Airways was a qualified bank holding corporation, within the meaning of section 6158(f)(1) and subsection (b) of section 1103 of the Code, and satisfied the requirements of those sections;

(B) the shares of Bank that Airways sold to First Western through Worldamerica were all or part of the property by reason of which Airways controlled (within the meaning of section 2(a) of the BHC Act) a bank or bank holding company;

(C) the sale of the shares of Bank was necessary or appropriate to effectuate the policies of the BHC Act;

(D) Airways has (before the expiration of the period prohibited property is permitted under the BHC Act to be held by a bank holding company) ceased to be a bank holding company; and

(E) Airways has disposed of all banking property.

This certification is based upon the representations made to the Board by Airways and upon the facts set forth above, and is conditioned upon Airways making the election required by section 1103(g) of the Code at such time and in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate may by regulation prescribe. In the event the Board should hereafter determine that facts material to this certification are otherwise than as represented by Airways, or that Airways has failed to disclose to the Board other material facts, it may revoke this certification.

By order of the Board of Governors, acting through its General Counsel, pursuant to delegated authority (12 CFR § 265.2(b)(3)), effective October 3, 1977.

Theodore E. Allison,
Secretary of the Board.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

The CAB requests an extension without change clearance of Passenger Origin-Destination Survey Report, Form 2787. This Survey, conducted continuously on the basis of a 10 percent sample, is a cooperative effort by the U.S. certificated route air carriers, the Air Transport Association of America and the Civil Aeronautics Board. All U.S. certificated route air carriers, except helicopter and intra-Alaska carriers, participate in the survey which provides information on the individual passenger's journey and choice of routing and air carrier. CAB estimates approximately 26 certificated route air carriers are respondents and that reporting burden averages 1,000 hours per quarterly response.

[Docket No. M 77-258]

CONSOLIDATION COAL CO.

Petition for Modification of Application of Mandatory Safety Standard

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of section 301(c) of the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969, 30 U.S.C. § 861(c)
 (1970), Consolidation Coal Co., c/o Alan
 B. Molohan, Suite 300, 818 Connecticut Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20006, has filed a petition to modify the application of 30 CFR 75.1700, oil and gas wells, to its Mine No. 20, located in Marion County, W. Va.

The substance of Petitioner's statement is as follows:

1. The large majority of oil and gas wells in Mine No. 20 were drilled (and many were also abandoned), between 1890 and 1920 when no standards for drilling and plugging existed. Oil and gas sands are now nearly depleted, hence no appreciable volume of gas comes from petroleum reservoirs.

2. In lieu of the provision to establish and maintain barriers around oil and gas wells, it is proposed that the Pittsburgh coal seam be sealed from surrounding strata at the affected wells, and to this end the Petitioner proposes to do the following:

(a) Petitioner will plug the wells which are to be intersected in Mine No. 20 using a proven technique developed through a series of cooperative agreements between the United States Bureau of Mines, the Energy Research and Development Administration, the Mining Enforcement and Safety Administration, and the coal industry. The attached, Exhibit "A," is a schematic drawing illustrating this technique.

(b) The procedure essentially involves the placing of plugs in the wellbore below

* The attached exhibit is available for inspection at the address listed in the last paragraph of this petition.

the base of the Pittsburgh coalbed which will prevent any natural gas from entering the mine after the well is mined through.

(c) Before the well is filled to the Pittsburgh coalbed, Petitioner may run a directional survey on the well to determine the coalbed; but if it does not, and if it does not penetrate the wellbore in mining, Petitioner shall continue mining until the well is located. Gamma ray neutron and caliper logs shall be run in the well to determine the exact depth of the coalbed, the most competent formation for setting a mechanical bridge plug if needed, and the wellbore diameter for calculating the cement requirements. An automatic tracer injector unit of sulfur hexafluoride will be placed in the well.

(c) The well will be plugged back to the base of the Pittsburgh coalbed using an expandable cement and fly-ash-gel water slurry. A 50 percent fly-ash-cement mix will be used to fill the wellbore from the base of the Pittsburgh coalbed to the surface.

(e) Petitioner will, during its normal mining cycle, mine through and remove that segment of the plug existing between the mine pavement and roof. During this operation and for a period of six (6) months thereafter, Petitioner, in cooperation with the Mining Enforcement and Safety Administration, will monitor the mine atmosphere for traces of gas. A Federal mine inspector shall be present during the mining through operations.

(f) Petitioner shall instruct all personnel in the affected area to proceed with caution when mining into and through the well-support pillar, and especially diligent efforts shall be made to assure a gas-free atmosphere in the affected areas. Petitioner will cooperate with the Mining Enforcement and Safety Administration to sample for gas immediately before, during and immediately after mining through each well.

(g) In addition to the methane testing procedures set forth in 30 CFR Part 75, methane examinations shall be made by qualified personnel using approved methane detection equipment at least once during each shift, during development and retreat mining, and the date and time of such examinations shall be recorded on a fireboss dateboard which shall be placed in the area.

3. The alternate proposal as above-described will at all times provide no less than a greater measure of safety than intended by the Act, as the alternate proposal will affect:

(a) The elimination of possible gas flow path;

(b) The simplification of the mine ventilation system; and

(c) The improvement of subsidence control in second mining.

1. Petitioner's Powhatan No. 4 Mine has a number of oil/gas wells located within its boundaries, which were plugged and abandoned from 1900 to the early 1950's when oil in a commercial quantity was exhausted. The wells penetrate the Pittsburgh No. 8 coal seam where Petitioner intends to mine.

2. The barrier around the wells, required by 75.1700, interferes with Petitioner's (1) maintenance of effective roof control by requiring a hazardous and time-consuming relocation of the shield supports in the longwall sections; (2) simplification of the mine ventilation system in the continuous miner sections by requiring unnecessary air course changes; and, (3) improvement of mining safety and conservation by requiring a barrier of coal when more efficient and secure methods to prevent well gas leaks are available.

3. Extensive research conducted by the U.S. Bureau of Mines and U.S. Energy Research and Development Administration ("ERDA") has developed feasible and safety methods to plug abandoned oil/gas wells and eliminate the need for coal barriers around such wells.
 MESA Informational Report 1052 (Attachment 1*) has concluded that certain plugging methods can effectively prevent well gases from entering the mine during regular mining operations and allow additional safety and operational benefits that are not possible under 75.1700.
 These methods, which Petitioner proposes to follow, guarantee no less than the same measure of protection afforded miners as 75.1700.

4. In lieu of 75.1700, Petitioner proposes (1) to plug all of the oil/gas wells paragraph of this petition.

lying within the tracts of the Pittsburgh
 No. 8 coal seam assigned to its No. 4
 Mine that are necessary in the mining of said coal tracts by one of the techniques described in said Report 1052 depending upon conditions discovered on reopening the borehole, and (2) to mine through part of the plugged borehole in a normal mining cycle. Petitioner will notify the Mining Enforcement and Safety Administration ("MESA") before any plugging and mining activity is conducted in this regard. At MESA's option, such activity will be conducted in the presence and under the supervision of its personnel. Any changes in the procedures set forth in MESA Informational Report 1052 will be made only on approval of MESA's District Manager or his delegate.

5. The following procedures, as more specifically set forth in MESA Informational Report 1052, will be followed for plugging the wells: Petitioner will attempt to reopen a well to its total depth.
 Petitioner will take gamma ray, neutron, and caliper logs to determine respectively the depth of all coalbeds, the most competent formation for the placement of certain plugs, and the wellbore diameter.
 A directional survey will be conducted to determine the location of the intersection of each wellbore with the coal seam.
 A tracer unit of sulfur hexafluoride (an inert, permeable, and easily detectable gas) will be placed in the well and a mechanical bridge plug or other device set above it to provide a secure base for subsequent plugs. Expanding cement, flyash cement, and/or gaswater slurry will be injected to various depths in the remainder of the borehole, depending on geologic conditions.

6. The following procedures will be followed for mining through a plug: All mining operations within one hundred and fifty (150) feet of the well will be conducted with the utmost caution and in a nonexplosive atmosphere. In addition to the methane testing procedures in 30 CFR Part 75, a fireboss dateboard will be established in the affected area and methane examinations made and recorded at least once per shift by a qualified examiner. Petitioner will take air samples immediately before, during, and after mining through the concrete section of the plug between the mine floor and roof. Mining operations will be conducted during Petitioner's normal mining cycle, and, at MESA's option, in the presence and under the supervision of MESA personnel. In cooperation with MESA, Petitioner will monitor the mine atmosphere for traces of sulfur hexafluoride for six (6) months after mining through a plugged well.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Employment and Training Administration EMPLOYMENT TRANSFER AND BUSINESS COMPETITION DETERMINATIONS UNDER THE RURAL DEVELOPMENT ACT

Notice of Applications

The organizations listed in the attachment have applied to the Secretary of Agriculture for financial assistance in the form of grants, loans, or loan guarantees in order to establish or improve facilities at the locations listed for the purposes given in the attached list. The financial assistance would be authorized by the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act, as amended, 7 U.S.C. 1924(b), 1932, or 1942(b).

The Act requires the Secretary of Labor to determine whether such Federal assistance is calculated to or is likely to result in the transfer from one area to another of any employment or business activity provided by operations of the applicant. It is permissible to assist the establishment of a new branch, affiliate or subsidiary, only if this will not result in increased unemployment in the place of present operations and there is no reason to believe the new facility is being established with the intention of closing down an operating facility.

The Act also prohibits such assistance if the Secretary of Labor determines that it is calculated to or is likely to result in an increase in the production of goods, materials, or commodities, or the availability of services or facilities in the area, when there is not sufficient demand for such goods, materials, commodities, services, or facilities to employ the efficient capacity of existing competitive commercial or industrial enterprises, unless such financial or other assistance will not have an adverse effect upon existing competitive enterprises in the area.

The Secretary of Labor's review and certification procedures are set forth at 29 CFR Part 75. In determining whether the applications should be approved or denied, the Secretary will take into consideration the following factors:

1. The overall employment and unemployment situation in the local area in which the proposed facility will be located.
2. Employment trends in the same industry in the local area.

ACTION: Notice of pendency of exemption.

SUMMARY: This document contains a notice of pendency before the Department of Labor and the Internal Revenue Service (hereinafter collectively referred to as the Agencies) of a proposed class exemption from the prohibited transaction restrictions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (the Act). The proposed class exemption would exempt prospectively and retroactively to January 1, 1975, certain transactions engaged in by insurance company pooled separate accounts in which an employee benefit plan or plans have an interest, if certain specified conditions are met and would exempt certain holdings by employee benefit plans of employer securities and employer real property if specified conditions are met. The proposed exemption, if granted, would affect participants and beneficiaries of employee benefit plans, their employers, insurance company separate accounts, and other persons engaging in the described transactions.

DATES: Written comments and requests for a public hearing must be delivered or mailed by November 10, 1977.

ADDRESS: Send comments and requests for a hearing (at least six copies) to: Office of Regulatory Standards and Exemptions, Pension and Welfare Benefit Programs, Room C-4526, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20216, Attention: Application No. D-039. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Notice is hereby given of the pendency before the Agencies of an application filed jointly by the American Council of Life Insurance, The Prudential Life Insurance Co. of America, The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., and Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. (hereinafter collectively referred to as the applicants) for a class exemption from the restrictions of sections 406 and 407(a) of the Act and from the taxes imposed by section 4975 (a) and (b) of the Code. The application was filed pursuant to section 408(a) of the Act and section 4975(c) (2) of the Code and in accordance with the procedures set forth in ERISA Procedure 75-1 (40 FR 18471, April 28, 1975) and Rev. Proc. 75-26, 1975-1 C.B. 722. The application contains representations with regard to the pending class exemption, which are summarized below. Interested persons are referred to the application on file with the Agencies for the complete representations of the applicants.

In general, the applicants represent that numerous transactions engaged in by an insurance company pooled separate account in which an employee benefit plan has an interest might constitute prohibited transactions under sections 406 and 407(a) of the Act and section 4975(c) (1) of the Code if the assets of the separate account are considered to be plan assets.¹ Although it is the view of the applicants that the assets of pooled separate accounts are not plan assets for purposes of the fiduciary responsibility and prohibited transaction provisions of the Act and the Code, the Agencies have rejected this view.² Accordingly, the applicants have applied for the proposed class exemption set forth herein.

The applicants represent that separate accounts are established and maintained by insurance companies pursuant to the provisions of state laws relating to separate accounts. Life insurance companies issue contracts that contain provisions for allocating amounts received under the contracts to separate accounts. The principal feature of contracts funded by a separate account is that the contract holder, not the insurance company, bears the investment risk with respect to the assets held in the separate account. The results of favorable or adverse investment experience, including changes in the market value of the assets, are periodically credited or charged to the accounts of the contract holders and, in the case of a variable annuity, are reflected in the annual amounts paid to the annuitant.

² See section 401(b) (2) (B) of the Act and section 4975(g) (1) of the Code.

The applicants further represent that most life insurance company separate account assets are held in pooled accounts. A pooled account holds assets which fund obligations under several contracts, the holders of which have interests or units of participation in the pooled account. Pooled separate accounts used by tax qualified plans would be investment companies subject to registration and regulation under the Investment Company Act of 1940, but for the exception set forth in section 3(c) (11) of that Act. Under that section, a separate account is not an investment company if all of its assets are derived from contributions of pension or profit-sharing plans meeting the requirements of section 401 of the Code or the requirements for deduction of employer contributions of section 404(a) (2) of the Code and advances made by an insurance company in connection with the operation of the separate account.³

The applicants state that pooled separate accounts typically are distinguishable from each other by investment objective and, consequently, by types of assets which are purchased and held for investment. Pooled separate accounts may invest in, among other things, stocks and publicly traded debt obligations, real estate equity interests and debt obligations that are not publicly traded. The applicants represent that life insurance company pooled separate accounts often make major investments in the 500 to 1000 largest U.S. corporations through the purchase of equity and debt obligations of these corporations. Additionally, real property owned by pooled separate accounts may be leased to these corporations. The pension funds of these same 500 to 1000 companies are the principal purchasers of contracts funded by life insurance company pooled separate accounts.

Section 406(a) (1) of the Act and section 4975(c) (1) (A), (B), (C), and (D) of the Code contain prohibited transaction provisions which bar an employee benefit plan from engaging in certain specified transactions, among others, loans, leases, sales, or exchanges of property or provision of services, whether direct or indirect, with a party in interest (or disqualified person). Sections 406(a) (2) and 407(a) of the Act prohibit certain acquisitions and holdings by an employee benefit plan of employer securities and employer real property. The term "employer security" is defined in section 407(d) (1) as a security issued by an employer of employees covered by the plan, or by an affiliate of the employer. The term "employer real property" is defined in section 407(d) (2) as real property (and related personal property) which is leased to an employer of employees covered by the plan, or to an affiliate of the employer.

³ Section 3(a) (2) of the Securities Act of 1933 exempts from the provisions of that Act any interest or participation in a separate account which interest or participation is issued in connection with certain stock bonus, pension or profit-sharing plans qualified under section 401 of the Code, or annuity plans which meet the requirements for the deduction of employer contributions under section 404(a) (2) of the Code.

Section 406(b) of the Act and section 4975(c) (1) (E) and (F) of the Code prohibit a fiduciary with respect to a plan from engaging in certain types of self-dealing and conflicts of interest described in those sections. The term fiduciary is defined in section 3(21) of the Act and section 4975(e) (3) of the Code; an insurance company maintaining a separate account in which an employee benefit plan invests is a fiduciary with respect to the employee benefit plan. The term party in interest, which is defined in section 3(14) of the Act, and the term disqualified person, which is defined in section 4975(e) (2) of the Code, include, among others, employers any of whose employees are covered by the plan.

Accordingly, because assets held in a separate account to fund obligations under contracts purchased by employee benefit plans are plan assets, numerous transactions between an insurance company pooled separate account in which a plan has an interest and a party in interest (or disqualified person) with respect to that plan will be prohibited under sections 406 and 407(a) of the Act and section 4975 of the Code.

The applicants state that the application of the prohibited transaction rules to these transactions would be likely to restrict seriously potential high-quality investments for pooled separate accounts and impede plans from placing funds with pooled separate accounts. The application states that these transactions recur on a continuous basis and that undoubtedly transactions of the type described have occurred after January 1, 1975, the effective date of the prohibited transaction provisions. Thus, the applicants have requested a class exemption effective for periods on and after January 1, 1975. Life insurance companies intend to enter into transactions of the type described in the application in the future if the class exemption is granted.

In support of the requested class exemption, the applicants represent that the transactions described in the application are customary in the sense that life insurance companies managing pooled separate accounts do not ordinarily distinguish between participating contract holders and others as potential company or its affiliate to provide real

(2) The exemptions proposed in sec-at the time of the transaction, acqui-ployer securities or employer real prop-plan shall be considered to own the same contract holders and others as potential lessees, borrowers, providers of services, etc. Instead, in making investment and other decisions, life insurance companies search for the best yield commensurate with sound investment risks. The application states that denial of the requested exemption would virtually preclude large, multile employer plans from participating in some pooled separate accounts.

The applicants represent that the proposed class exemption is in the interests of plans and of their participants and beneficiaries. In this regard, the applicants believe that it is vital that private pension plans and their participants have available for prudent use as many optional methods of obtaining sound investments as possible. It is equally important that pooled separate accounts in which plans participate not be needlessly subject to restrictions that are burdensome to administer, thereby unnecessarily increasing expenses of administration and impairing the investment flexibility of the accounts.

SCOPE OF THE PROPOSED EXEMPTION

In general, where a plan's participation in a pooled separate account does not exceed a specified percentage of the total assets in the pooled separate account, the proposed exemption would permit the pooled separate account to engage in transactions which otherwise might be prohibited under sections 406 and 407(a) of the Act and section 4975(c)(1) of the Code with persons who are parties in interest (disqualified persons) with respect to the plan. Certain transactions involving multiple employer plans and certain acquisitions and holdings of employer real property and employer securities by pooled separate accounts which do not meet the requirements of the basic exemption may, nevertheless, be exempt if other specified conditions are met. The basic exemption also exempts certain acquisitions or holdings by employee benefit plans of qualifying employer real property or qualifying employer securities in excess of the ten percent limitation of section 407(a) of the Act.

In addition to the basic exemption, three specific exemptions are proposed which cover certain transactions engaged in by pooled separate accounts. The first would permit the pooled separate account to engage in transactions involving the furnishing of goods in connection with real property investments and the leasing of real property between the pooled separate account and persons who are parties in interest (disqualified persons) with respect to a plan which has an interest in the pooled separate account. If the amount involved in the transaction does not exceed a specified amount. The second exemption would exempt transactions between a pooled separate account and persons who are parties in interest (disqualified persons) with respect to a plan by virtue of being service providers. The third specific exemption would permit the insurance company or its affiliate to provide real property management services to the pooled separate account as long as these services are provided at cost.

The applicants also requested an exemption for the furnishing of services by a regulated public utility to an insurance company pooled separate account where the regulated public utility is a party in interest with respect to an employee benefit plan which has an interest in the separate account. The Agencies have not proposed such an exemption because they believe that it is not necessary. Section 408(b)(2) of the Act and section 4975(d)(2) of the Code, and the regulations adopted thereunder, provide a statutory exemption from the prohibitions of section 406 of the Act and section 4975(c)(1) of the Code which effectively grants the applicants the relief which they seek for the provision of services and incidental goods by a regulated public utility as described above. See 29 CFR 2550.408b-2, 42 FR 32389 (June 24, 1977), and 26 CFR 54.4975d-2, 42 FR 32384 (June 24, 1977).

Nothing in the proposed exemption permits an insurance company that maintains a pooled separate account in which a plan has an interest to receive any consideration for its own account from any party dealing with the pooled separate account in connection with a transaction involving the assets of the plan. Except to the extent provided in sections I and II of the proposed exemption, nothing in the exemption permits the insurance company to (1) deal with the assets of the pooled separate account in its own interest or for its own account, or in the interest of any other separate account of the insurance company, or (2) act in any transaction involving the plan on behalf of a party (or represent a party) whose interests are adverse to the interests of the pooled separate account or the plan.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The attention of interested persons is directed to the following:

(1) The fact that a transaction is the subject of an exemption granted under section 408(a) of the Act and section 4975(c)(2) of the Code does not relieve a fiduciary or other party in interest or disqualified person with respect to a plan to which the exemption is applicable from certain other provisions of the Act and the Code, including any prohibited transaction provisions to which the exemption does not apply and the general fiduciary responsibility provisions of section 404 of the Act which, among other things, require a fiduciary to discharge his duties respecting the plan solely in the interests of the plan's participants and beneficiaries and in a prudent fashion in accordance with section 404(a)(1)(B) of the Act; nor does it affect the requirement of section 401(a) of the Code that a plan must operate for the exclusive benefit of the employees of the employer maintaining the plan and their beneficiaries.

(2) The exemptions proposed in section I of the pending exemption do not extend to transactions prohibited under section 406(b)(1) and 406(b)(3) of the Act and section 4975(c)(1)(E) and (F) of the Code. The exemption proposed in section II of the pending exemption does not extend to transactions prohibited under section 406(b)(3) of the Act and section 4975(c)(1)(F) of the Code.

(3) Before an exemption may be granted under section 408(a) of the Act and section 4975(c)(2) of the Code, the Agencies must find that the exemption is administratively feasible, in the interests of the plan or plans and of their participants and beneficiaries, and protective of the rights of participants and beneficiaries of the plan or plans.

(4) The pending exemption, if granted, will be supplemental to, and not in derogation of, any other provisions of the Act and the Code, including statutory exemptions and transitional rules. Furthermore, the fact that a transaction is subject to an administrative or statutory exemption or transitional rule is not dispositive of whether the transaction is in fact a prohibited transaction.

(5) If granted, the pending class exemption will be applicable to a particular transaction only if the transaction satisfies the conditions specified in the class exemption.

(6) All interested persons are invited to submit written comments or requests for a hearing on the pending class exemption to the address and within the time period set forth above. All comments will be made part of the record. Comments and requests should state the reasons for the person's interest in the pending class exemption. Comments received and the application for exemption will be available for public inspection at the address set forth above.

PENDING EXEMPTION

Based on the application referred to and summarized above, the Agencies have under consideration the granting of the following class exemption pursuant to the authority of section 408(a) of the Act and section 4975(c)(2) of the Code and in accordance with the procedures set forth in ERISA Procedure 75-1 (40 FR 18471, April 28, 1975) and Rev. Proc. 75-26, 1975-1 C.B. 722.

SECTION I—Basic exemption. Effective January 1, 1975, the restrictions of sections 406(a), 406(b)(2), and 407(a) of the Act and the taxes imposed by section 4975(a) and (b) of the Code by reason of section 4975(c)(1)(A), (B), (C), or (D) of the Code, shall not apply to transactions described below if the applicable conditions set forth in section III are met.

(a) General exemption. Any transaction between a party in interest (or disqualified person) with respect to a plan and an insurance company pooled separate account in which the plan has an interest, or any acquisition or holding by the pooled separate account of employer securities or employer real property of an employer with respect to the plan, if at the time of the transaction, acquisition or holding—

(1) The assets of the plan (together with the assets of any other plans maintained by the same employer or employee organization) in the pooled separate account do not exceed—

(i) 10 percent of the total of all assets in the pooled separate account, if the transaction occurs prior to (date, 60 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the grant of this exemption); (ii) or

5 percent of the total of all assets in the pooled separate account, if the transaction occurs on or after (date, 60 days after the publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the grant of this exemption), and

(2) The party in interest (or disqualified person) is not the insurance company which holds the plan assets in its pooled separate account, any other separate account of the insurance company, or any affiliate of the insurance company.

(b) Multiple employer plans exemption. Any transaction between an employer (or an affiliate of an employer) of employees covered by a multiple employer plan and an insurance company pooled separate account in which the plan has an interest, or any acquisition or holding by the pooled separate account of employer securities or employer real property of the employer, if at the time of the transaction, acquisition or holding—

(1) In the case of a transaction occurring prior to (date, 60 days after publication of the grant of the exemption), the employer is not a substantial employer with respect to the plan (within the meaning of section 4001(a)(2) of the Act); or

(2) In the case of a transaction occurring on or after (date, 60 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the grant of this exemption),

(i) The assets of the multiple employer plan in the pooled separate account do not exceed 10 percent of the total assets in the pooled separate account, and the employer is not a substantial employer with respect to the plan (within the meaning of section 4001(a)(2) of the Act); or

(ii) The assets of the multiple employer plan in the pooled separate account exceed 10 percent of the total assets in the pooled separate account, and the employer would not be a substantial employer with respect to the plan within the meaning of section 4001(a)(2) of the Act if "5 percent" were substituted for "10 percent" in that definition.

(c) Excess holdings exemption for employee benefit plans. Any acquisition or holding of qualifying employer securities or qualifying employer real property by a plan (other than through a pooled separate account) if—

(1) The acquisition or holding contravenes the restrictions of sections 406(a)(2) and 407(a) of the Act solely by reason of being aggregated with employer securities or employer real property held by an insurance company pooled separate account in which the plan has an interest, and

(2) The requirements of either paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of this section are met.

(d) Employer securities and employer real property. Any acquisition or holding of employer securities or employer real property by the insurance company pooled separate account which does not meet the requirements of paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, if no commission is paid to the insurance company or any person who is an affiliate of the insurance company or to the employer or any affiliate of the employer in connection with the acquisition or sale of employer securities or the acquisition, sale or lease of employer real property, and—

(1) In the case of employer real property—

(i) Each parcel of employer real property and the improvements thereon held by the pooled separate account are suitable (or adaptable without excessive cost) for use by different tenants, and

(ii) The property of the pooled separate account, which is leased or held for lease to others, in the aggregate, is dispersed geographically.

(2) In the case of employer securities—

(i) The employer security is a bond, debenture, note, certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness (such security is hereinafter referred to as an "obligation");

(ii) The insurance company in whose pooled separate account the obligation is held is not an affiliate of the issuer of the obligation, and either

(iii) The pooled separate account already owns the obligation at the time the plan acquires an interest in the separate account and interests in the pooled separate account are offered and redeemed in accordance with valuation procedures of the pooled separate account applied on a uniform or consistent basis, or

(iv) Immediately after acquisition of the obligation: (A) Not more than 25 percent of the aggregate amount of obligations issued in the issue and outstanding at the time of acquisition is held by the plan, and (B) at least 50 percent of the aggregate amount referred to in (A) is held by persons independent of the issuer. The insurance company, its affiliates and any separate account of the insurance company shall be considered persons independent of the issuer: Provided, That the insurance company is not an affiliate of the issuer.

Provided, That, in the case of any plan which is not an eligible individual account plan (as defined in section 407(d)(3) of the Act), immediately after such acquisition the aggregate fair market value of employer securities and employer real property owned by the plan does not exceed 10 percent of the fair market value of the assets of the plan. For purposes of compliance with the conditions imposed by this paragraph, each plan shall be considered to own the same fractional share of each asset (or portion thereof) in the pooled separate account as its fractional share of total assets in the pooled separate account on the most recent preceding valuation date of the account.

Sec. II—Specific exemptions. Effective January 1, 1975, the restrictions of section 406(a) and 406(b)(1) and (2) of the Act and the taxes imposed by section 4975(a) and (b) of the Code by reason of section 4975(c)(1)(A), (B), (C), (D) or (E) of the Code shall not apply to the transactions described below provided that the conditions of section III are met.

(a) Small leases and goods. The furnishing of goods to an insurance company pooled separate account by a party in interest (or disqualified person) with respect to the plan, which plan has an interest in the pooled separate account, or the leasing of real property of the pooled separate account to a party in interest (or disqualified person), if—

(1) In the case of goods, they are furnished to the pooled separate account in connection with the real property investments of the pooled separate account;

(2) The party in interest (or disqualified person) is not the insurance company, any other pooled separate account of the insurance company, or an affiliate of the insurance company; and

(3) The amount involved in the furnishing of goods or leasing of real property in any calendar year (including the amount under any other lease or arrangement for the furnishing of goods in connection with the real property investments of the pooled separate account with the same party in interest (or disqualified person), or any affiliate thereof) does not exceed the greater of $25,000 or .025 percent of the fair market value of the assets of the pooled separate account on the most recent valuation date of the account prior to the transaction.

(b) Transactions with persons who are parties in interest to the plan by virtue of being service providers. Any transaction between an insurance company pooled separate account and a person who is a party in interest (or disqualified person) with respect to a plan, which plan has an interest in the pooled separate account, if—

(1) The person is a party in interest (or disqualified person) (including a fiduciary) by reason of providing services to the plan, or by reason of a relationship to a service provider described in section 3(14)(F), (G), (H), or (I) of the Act (or section 4975(e)(2)(F), (G), (H), or (I) of the Code), and the person exercised no discretionary authority, control, responsibility, or influence with respect to the investment of plan assets in the pooled separate account and has no discretionary authority, control, responsibility, or influence with respect to the management or disposition of the plan assets held in the pooled separate account; and

(2) The person is not an affiliate of the insurance company.

(c) Management of real property. Any services provided to an insurance company pooled separate account (in which a plan has an interest) by the insurance company or its affiliate in connection with the management of the real property investments of the pooled separate account, if the compensation paid to the insurance company or its affiliate for the services does not exceed the cost of the services to the insurance company or its affiliate.

Sec. III. General conditions. (a) At the time the transaction is entered into, and at the time of any subsequent renewal thereof that requires the consent of the insurance company, the terms of the transaction are not less favorable to the pooled separate account than the terms generally available in arm's length transactions between unrelated parties.

(b) The insurance company maintains for a period of six years from the date of the transaction the records necessary to enable the persons described in paragraph (c) of this section to determine whether the conditions of this exemption have been met, except that (1) a prohibited transaction will not be deemed to have occurred if, due to circumstances beyond the control of the insurance company, the records are lost or destroyed prior to the end of the six-year period, and (2) no party in interest or disqualified persons shall be subject to the civil penalty which may be assessed under section 502(d) of the Act, or to the taxes imposed by section 4975 (a) and (b) of the Code, if the records are not maintained, or are not available for examination as required by paragraph (c) below.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in subsections (a) (2) and (b) of section 504 of the Act, the records referred to in paragraph (b) are unconditionally available at their customary location for examination during normal business hours by (1) the Department of Labor, (2) the Internal Revenue Service, (3) except for trade secrets or commercial or financial information which is privileged or confidential, any fiduciary of a plan who has authority to acquire or dispose of the interests of the plan in the separate account, any contributing employer to the plan, and any participant or beneficiary of the plan, and (4) any duly authorized employees or representatives of a person described in (1) through (3) of this paragraph.

Sec. IV.—Definitions. For purposes of sections I through IV above.

(a) The term "multiple employer plan" means an employee benefit plan which satisfies at least the requirements of section 3(37) (A) (i), (ii), and (v) of the Act and section 414(f) (1) (A), (B), and (E) of the Code.

(b) An "affiliate" of a person includes—

(1) Any person directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the person;

(2) Any officer, director, partner, employee (including, in the case of an insurance company, any representative thereof, whether or not such person is a common law employee of the insurance company), or relative of such persons; and

(3) Any corporation or partnership of which such person is an officer, director, partner, or employee.

(c) The term "control" means the power to exercise a controlling influence over the management or policies of a person other than an individual.

(d) The term "relative" means a "relative" as that term is defined in section 3(15) of the Act (or a "member of the family" as that term is defined in section 4975(e) (6) of the Code), or a brother, a sister, or a spouse of a brother or sister.

(e) Generally, the time as of which any transaction, acquisition, or holding occurs for purposes of this exemption is the date upon which the transaction is entered into (or the acquisition is made) and the holding commences. Thus, for purposes of this exemption, if any transaction is entered into, or an acquisition is made, on or after January 1, 1975, or a renewal which requires the consent of the insurance company occurs on or after January 1, 1975, and the requirements of this exemption are satisfied at the time the transaction is entered into or renewed, or at the time the acquisition is made or renewed, the requirements will continue to be satisfied thereafter with respect to the transaction or acquisition and the exemption shall apply thereafter to the continued holding of the securities or property so acquired. This exemption also applies to any transaction or acquisition entered into, or holding commencing, prior to January 1, 1975, if either the requirements of this exemption would have been satisfied on the date the transaction was entered into or acquisition was made (or on which the holding commenced), or the requirements would have been satisfied on January 1, 1975, if the transaction had been entered into, acquisition was made, or if the holding had commenced, on January 1, 1975. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this exemption shall cease to apply to a holding exempt by virtue of section I(a) above at such time as the interest of the plan in the pooled separate account exceeds the percentage interest limitation of section I(a), if the excess results solely from an increase in the amount of consideration allocated to the pooled separate account by the plan.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 5th day of October 1977.

Administrator of Pension and Welfare Benefit Programs, Labor-Management Services Administration, United States Department of Labor.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

[Docket No. 50-206]

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EDISON CO. AND SAN DIEGO GAS & ELECTRIC CO.

Issuance of Amendment to Provisional Operating License and Negative Declaration

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 27 to Provisional Operating License No. DPR-13, issued to Southern California Edison Company and San Diego Gas and Electric Company (the licensees), which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station, Unit No. 1 (the facility), located in San Diego County, California. The amendment is effective of its date of issuance.

The amendment revises the Technical Specifications to (1) add a specific provision to Appendix A, Section 6.3 "Facility Staff Qualifications" requiring that the Chemical Radiation Protection Engineer shall meet or exceed the minimum qualifications of Regulatory Guide 1.8, September 1975; and (2) delete Subsection 3.1.2a(1)D, "Intertidal Studies" in Appendix B.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment was not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

The Commission has prepared an environmental impact appraisal for deletion of the provision in the Technical Specifications relating to "Intertidal Studies" and has concluded that an environmental impact statement for this particular action is not warranted because there will be no significant environmental impact attributable to the action.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendment dated May 13, 1977, (2) Amendment No. 27 to License No. DPR-13, (3) the Commission's related Environmental Impact Appraisal, and (4) the Commission's letter to Southern California Edison Company dated September 22, 1977. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C. and at the Mission Viejo Branch Library, 24651 Chrisanta Drive, Mission Viejo, Calif. A copy of items (2), (3) and (4) may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Operating Reactors.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON REACTOR SAFEGUARDS WORKING GROUP ON FIRE PROTECTION

Notice of Meeting

In accordance with the purposes of Sections 29 and 182b. of the Atomic Energy Act (42 U.S.C. 2039, 2232 b.), the ACRS Working Group on Fire Protection, will hold an open meeting on October 26, 1977 at the Airport Marina Hotel, 2910 Yale Blvd., SE., Albuquerque, N. Mex. 87119. The purpose of this meeting is to review the NRC Office of Nuclear Regulatory Research Fire Protection Research Program.

The agenda for subject meeting shall be as follows:

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1977

10:00 A.M. UNTIL CONCLUSION OF BUSINESS

The Working Group with any of its consultants who may be present, will meet in Executive Session to explore their preliminary opinions regarding matters which should be considered in order to formulate a report and recommendations to the full Committee.

At the conclusion of the Executive Session, the Working Group will meet to hear presentations by representatives of the NRC Staff and their consultants, and will hold discussions with them pertinent to this review.

At the conclusion of this session, the Working Group may caucus to determine whether the matters identified in the initial session have been adequately covered.

Practical considerations may dictate alterations in the above agenda or schedule. The Chairman of the Working Group is empowered to conduct the meeting in a manner that, in his judgment, will facilitate the orderly conduct of business, including provisions to carry over an incomplete open session from one day to the next.

The Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards is an independent group established by Congress to review and report on each application for a construction permit and on each application for an operating license for a reactor facility and on certain other nuclear safety matters. The Committee's reports become a part of the public record. Although ACRS meetings are ordinarily open to the public and provide for oral or written statements to be considered as a part of the Committee's information gathering procedure concerning the health and safety of the public, they are not adjudicatory type hearings such as are conducted by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's Atomic Safety & Licensing Board as part of the Commission's licensing process. ACRS meetings do not normally treat matters pertaining to environmental impacts outside the radiological safety area.

With respect to public participation in the meeting, the following requirements shall apply:

(a) Persons wishing to submit written statements regarding the agenda may do so by providing 15 copies to the Working Group at the beginning of the meeting. Comments should be limited to safety related areas within the Committee's purview.

Persons desiring to mail written comments may do so by sending a readily reproducible copy thereof in time for consideration at this meeting. Comments postmarked no later than October 19, 1977, addressed to Mr. R. L. Wright, Jr., ACRS, NRC, Washington, D.C. 20555, will normally be received in time to be considered at this meeting.

(b) Persons desiring to make an oral statement at the meeting should make a request to do so prior to the meeting, identifying the topics and desired presentation time so that appropriate arrangements can be made. The Working Group will receive oral statements on topics relevant to its purview at an appropriate time chosen by the Chairman.

(c) Further information regarding topics to be discussed, whether the meeting has been canceled or rescheduled, the Chairman's ruling on requests for the opportunity to present oral statements and the time allotted therefor can be obtained by a prepaid telephone call on October 25, 1977 to the Office of the Executive Director of the Committee (telephone 202-634-1919, Attn: Mr. R. L. Wright, Jr.) between 8:15 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., EDT.

(d) Questions may be asked only by members of the Working Group, its consultants, and the Staff.

(e) The use of still, motion picture, and television cameras, the physical installation and presence of which will not interfere with the conduct of the meeting, will be permitted both before and after the meeting and during any recess. The use of such equipment will be allowed while the meeting is in session at the discretion of the Chairman to a degree that is not disruptive to the meeting. When use of such equipment is permitted, appropriate measures will be taken to protect proprietary or privileged information which may be in documents, folders, etc. being used during the meeting. Recordings will be permitted only during those sessions of the meeting when a transcript is being kept.

(f) A copy of the transcript of the portion(s) of the meeting where factual information is presented and a copy of the minutes of the meeting will be available for inspection on or after November 2, 1977 and January 26, 1978, respectively, at the NRC Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20555.

Copies may be obtained upon payment of appropriate charges.

Dated: October 4, 1977.

Advisory Committee
Management Officer.

WISCONSIN ELECTRIC POWER COMPANY, ET AL.

Notice of Availability of an Addendum to the Draft Environmental Statement

Pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 and the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission's regulations in 10 CFR Part 51, notice is hereby given that an Addendum to the Draft Environmental Statement (DES) prepared by the Commission's Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation has been issued for the Koshkonong Nuclear Plant, Unit Nos. 1 and 2 located in Jefferson County, Wisconsin.

On August 4, 1977, the Wisconsin Electric Power Company advised the presiding Atomic Safety and Licensing Board that a decision had been made to relocate the proposed plant from the Koshkonong site to a site designated as Haven located in Sheboygan County, Wisconsin. As a result, the NRC Staff has ceased all review activity associated with the Koshkonong project. This Addendum to the DES is intended to present, for the information of the public, the comments received by the NRC from public and private agencies and certain individuals on the DES during the comment period.

The Addendum is available for inspection by the public in the Commission's Public Document Room at 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C., the Dwight-Foster Public Library, P.O. Box 88, Fort Atkinson, Wis. 53538, and the Madison Public Library, Room 103-B, City-County Building, Madison, Wis. 53709. The document is also being made available at the Bureau of Planning and Budget, Wisconsin

Department of Administration, 1 West Wilson St., State Office Building, Madison, Wis. 53701.

Notice of the availability of the Commission's Draft Environmental Statement was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 20, 1976 (41 FR 35213).

Single copies of the Commission's Addendum to the DES may be obtained by request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Site Safety and Environmental Analysis.

[Docket No. 50-321]

GEORGIA POWER CO., ET AL.

Issuance of Amendment To Facility Operating License and Negative Declaration

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 44 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-57 issued to Georgia Power Company, Oglethorpe Electric Membership Corporation, Municipal Electric Association of Georgia and City of Dalton, Georgia, which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Edwin I. Hatch Nuclear Plant, Unit No. 1, located in Appling County, Georgia. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment consists of changes to the Environmental Technical Specifications which requires operation of the hydrogen monitor in the offgas system and an alarm setpoint of 4 percent hydrogen concentration by volume.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment was not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

The Commission has prepared an environmental impact appraisal for the revised Technical Specifications and has concluded that an environmental impact statement for this particular action is not warranted because there will be no environmental impact attributable to the action other than that which has already been predicted and described in the Commission's Final Environmental Statement for the facility dated October 1972.

Issuance of Amendment To Facility Operating License

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 39 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-49 issued to Iowa Electric Light and Power Company, Central Iowa Power Cooperative, and Corn Belt Power Cooperative, which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Duane Arnold Energy Center, located in Linn County, Iowa. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment consists of changes to the Technical Specifications to increase DAEC's maximum average planar linear heat generation rates (MAPLHGR).

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Notice of Proposed Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License in connection with this action was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 28, 1977 (42 FR 38442). No request for a hearing or petition for leave to intervene was filed following notice of the proposed action.

The Commission has determined that the issuance of this amendment will not result in any significant environmental impact and that pursuant to 10 CFR § 51.5(d)(4) an environmental impact statement or negative declaration and environmental impact appraisal need not be prepared in connection with issuance of this amendment.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendment dated June 24, 1977, as supplemented by letter dated July 29, 1977, (2) Amendment No. 39 to License No. DPR-49, and (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation. VERMONT YANKEE NUCLEAR POWER CORP.

Issuance of Amendment To Facility Operating License and Negative Declaration

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 38 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-28 issued to Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corporation (the licensee) which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Station (the facility), located near Vernon, Vermont. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment authorizes use of once-through cooling, subject to certain limitations and monitoring requirements, for the period October 1, 1977, through May 31, 1978, to permit the acquisition of additional environmental information on the effects of using this mode of cooling. It also conforms the license with earlier actions taken by New Hampshire and Vermont.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment was not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

The Commission has prepared an environmental impact appraisal for the revised Technical Specifications and has concluded that an environmental impact statement for this particular action is not warranted because there will be no significant environmental impact attributable to the action other than that which has already been predicted and described in the Commission's Final Environmental Statement for the facility.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application dated August 8, 1977, (2) Amendment No. 38 to License No. DPR-28, and (3) the Commission's Environmental Impact Appraisal. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. and at the Brooks Memorial Library, 224 Main St., Brattleboro, Vt. A copy of items (2) and (3) may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Operating Reactors.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON REACTOR SAFEGUARDS, SUBCOMMITTEE ON FLUID/HYDRAULIC DYNAMIC EFFECTS Notice of Meeting

In accordance with the purposes of Sections 29 and 182b. of the Atomic Energy Act (42 U.S.C. 2039, 2232b.), the ACRS Subcommittee on Fluid Hydraulic Dynamic Effects will hold an open meeting on October 26, 1977 at the Rodeway Inn, 7101 NE. 82nd Ave., Portland, Ore. 97220. The purpose of this meeting is to continue discussion on the effects of blowdown forces on reactor vessel supports.

The agenda for subject meeting shall be as follows:

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1977

8:30 A.M. UNTIL 8:45 A.M.

The Subcommittee, with any of its consultants who may be present, will meet in Executive Session to explore their preliminary opinions regarding matters which should be considered in order to formulate a report and recommendations to the full Committee.

8:45 A.M. UNTIL CONCLUSION OF BUSINESS

The Subcommittee will meet to hear presentations by representatives of the NRC Staff, the Babcock and Wilcox Company, Combustion Engineering, and their consultants, and will hold discussions with these groups pertinent to this review.

At the conclusion of this session, the Subcommittee may caucus to determine whether the matters identified in the initial session have been adequately covered.

Practical considerations may dictate alterations in the above agenda or schedule. The Chairman of the Subcommittee is empowered to conduct the meeting in a manner that, in his judgment, will facilitate the orderly conduct of business, including provisions to carry over an incomplete open session from one day to the next.

The Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards is an independent group established by Congress to review and report on each application for a construction permit and on each application for an operating license for a reactor facility and on certain other nuclear safety matters. The Committee's reports become a part of the public record. Although ACRS meetings are ordinarily open to the public and provide for oral or written statements to be considered as a part of the Committee's information gathering procedure concerning the health and safety of the public, they are not adjudicatory type hearings such as are conducted by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's Atomic Safety & Licensing Board as part of the Commission's licensing process. ACRS meetings do not normally treat matters pertaining to environmental impacts outside the radiological safety area.

With respect to public participation in the meeting, the following requirements shall apply:

(a) Persons wishing to submit written statements regarding the agenda may do so by providing 15 copies to the Subcommittee at the beginning of the meeting. Comments should be limited to safety related areas within the Committee's purview.

Persons desiring to mail written comments may do so by sending a readily reproducible copy thereof in time for consideration at this meeting. Comments postmarked no later than October 19, 1977, addressed to Dr. Richard P. Savio, ACRS, NRC, Washington, D.C. 20555, will normally be received in time to be considered at this meeting.

(b) Persons desiring to make an oral statement at the meeting should make a request to do so prior to the meeting, identifying the topics and desired presentation time so that appropriate arrangements can be made. The Subcommittee will receive oral statements on topics relevant to its purview at an appropriate time chosen by the Chairman.

(c) Further information regarding topics to be discussed, whether the meeting has been cancelled or rescheduled, the Chairman's ruling on requests for the opportunity to present oral statements and the time allotted therefor can be obtained by a prepaid telephone call on October 25, 1977 to the Office of the Executive Director of the Committee (telephone 202-634-1319, Attn: Dr. Richard P. Savio) between 8:15 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., EST.

(d) Questions may be asked only by members of the Subcommittee, its consultants, and the Staff.

(e) The use of still, motion picture, and television cameras, the physical installation and presence of which will not interfere with the conduct of the meeting, will be permitted both before and after the meeting and during any recess. The use of such equipment will be allowed while the meeting is in session at the discretion of the Chairman to a degree that is not disruptive to the meeting. When use of such equipment is permitted, appropriate measures will be taken to protect proprietary or privileged information which may be in documents, folders, etc. being used during the meeting. Recordings will be permitted only during those sessions of the meeting when a transcript is being kept.

(f) A copy of the transcript of the portion(s) of the meeting where factual information is presented and a copy of the minutes of the meeting will be available for inspection on or after November 2, 1977 and January 26, 1978, respectively, at the NRC Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20555.

Copies may be obtained upon payment of appropriate charges.

Dated: October 4, 1977.

[Docket No. 50-341A]

THE DETROIT EDISON CO., ET AL. Receipt of Attorney General's Advice and Time for Filing of Petitions to Intervene on Antitrust Matters

The Commission has received, pursuant to section 105c of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, the following additional advice from the Attorney General of the United States, dated September 30, 1977:

You have requested our further advice pursuant to Section 105c of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, with respect to the above-cited application. By letter to you dated August 16, 1971, we rendered advice with respect to Detroit Edison Company's application to construct the Enrico Fermi Unit No. 2, 36 F.R. 17883. You have now asked us to review the application of Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative, Inc., and Wolverine Electric Cooperative, Inc. to participate in this unit. Under an agreement with Detroit Edison entered into February 8, 1977, Northern Michigan would purchase and own 11.22% of the unit and Wolverine Electric would purchase and own 8.78%.

Northern Michigan, headquartered in Boyne City, Michigan, is a generation and transmission cooperative which has three distribution cooperative members. Northern Michigan with an estimated 1977 peak load of 116 MW, is projected to quadruple its load over the next 15 years. Northern Michigan meets its bulk power requirements through a mix of small-scale self-generation and wholesale power purchases.

Wolverine, headquartered in Big Rapids, Michigan, is a generation and transmission cooperative, which has four distribution cooperative members. Wolverine, with a 1977 estimated peak load of 90 MW, is projected to triple its load over the next 15 years. Wolverine meets its bulk power requirement through a mix of small-scale self-generation and wholesale power purchases.

We have examined the information submitted by Northern Michigan and Wolverine in connection with the application, as well as other information relevant to competitive relationships in Michigan. Our review of this information has disclosed no antitrust problems which would require a hearing by your Commission on the instant application.

Any person whose interest may be affected by this proceeding may, pursuant to section 2.714 of the Commission's "Rules of Practice," 10 CFR Part 2, file a petition for leave to intervene and request a hearing on the antitrust aspects of the application. Petitions for leave to intervene and requests for hearing shall be filed by November 10, 1977, either (1) by delivery to the NRC Docketing and Service Section at 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C., or (2) by mail or telegram addressed to the Secretary, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555. Attention: Docketing and Service Section.

Chief, Antitrust and Indemnity Group, Nuclear Reactor Regulation.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON REACTOR SAFEGUARDS -Notice of Meeting

In accordance with the purposes of Sections 29 and 182b. of the Atomic Energy Act (42 U.S.C. 2039, 2232 b.), the ACRS Subcommittee on Seismic Activity, the Skagit Nuclear Project, the Pebble Springs Nuclear Plant, and the Washington Public Power Supply System (WPPSS) Nuclear Projects, will hold a meeting on October 27 and 28, 1977 at the Rodeway Inn, 7101 NE. 82nd Avenue, Portland, Ore. 97220. The purpose of this meeting is to continue ACRS review of regional tectonics of the Pacific Northwest and of the 1872 earthquake and the implications regarding nuclear plants in the Pacific Northwest, and to continue review of (1) the application of the Portland General Electric Co. for a permit to construct the Pebble Springs Nuclear Plant, Units 1 and 2 and (2) the application of the Puget Sound Power and Light Co. for a permit to construct the Skagit Nuclear Plant.

The agenda for subject meeting shall be as follows:

THURSDAY OCTOBER 26 AND FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1977

8:30 A.M. UNTIL 9:00 A.M. EACH DAY (OPEN)

The Subcommittee, with any of its consultants who may be present, will meet in Executive Session to explore their preliminary opinions regarding matters which should be considered in order to formulate a report and recommendations to the full Committee.

9:00 A.M. UNTIL CONCLUSION OF BUSINESS EACH DAY (OPEN)

The Subcommittees will meet to hear presentations by representatives of the NRC Staff, the United States Geological Survey (USGS), the Portland General Electric Co., the Puget Sound Power and Light Co., the Washington Public Power Supply System, and their consultants, and will hold discussions with these groups pertinent to this review.

The Subcommittees, in connection with the above meeting, may hold one or more open Executive Sessions with their consultants in order to explore their opinions and recommendations.

At the conclusion of these sessions, the Subcommittees may caucus in an open session to determine whether the matters identified in the initial session have been adequately covered.

In addition, it may be necessary for the Subcommittees to hold one or more closed sessions for the purpose of exploring matters involving proprietary information. I have determined, in accordance with Subsection 10(d) of Public Law 92-463, that, should such sessions be required, it is necessary to close these sessions to protect proprietary information (5 U.S.C. 552b(c) (4)).

Practical considerations may dictate alterations in the above agenda or schedule. The Chairman of this meeting is empowered to conduct it in a manner that, in his judgment, will facilitate the orderly conduct of business, including provisions to carry over an incomplete open session from one day to the next.

The Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards is an independent group established by Congress to review and report on each application for a construction permit and on each application for an operating license for a reactor facility and on certain other nuclear safety matters. The Committee's reports become a part of the public record. Although ACRS meetings are ordinarily open to the public and provide for oral or written statements to be considered as a part of the Committee's information gathering procedure concerning the health and safety of the public, they are not adjudicatory type hearings such as are conducted by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's Atomic Safety & Licensing Board as part of the Commission's licensing process. ACRS meetings do not normally treat matters pertaining to environmental impacts outside the radiological safety area.

With respect to public participation in the open portion of the meeting, the following requirements shall apply:

(a) Persons wishing to submit written statements regarding the agenda may do so by providing 15 copies to Mr. Ragnwald Muller or Dr. Richard P. Savio at the beginning of the meeting. Comments should be limited to safety related areas within the Committee's purview.

Persons desiring to mail written comments may do so by sending a readily reproducible copy to Mr. Ragnwald Muller or Dr. Richard P. Savio, ACRS, NRC, Washington, D.C. 20555. Copies postmarked no later than October 20, 1977 will normally be received in time to be considered at this meeting.

Background information concerning items to be considered at this meeting can be found in documents on file and available for public inspection at the NRC Public Document Room 1717 H Street NW., Wash., D.C. 20555; the Sedro Wooley Library, 802 Ball Avenue, Sedro Wooley, Wash. 98294 (regarding the Skagit Nuclear Plant); the records Office, City Hall, Arlington, Ore. 97812 (regarding the Pebble Springs Nuclear Plant); the Richland Public Library, Swift and Northgate Streets, Richlands, Wash. 99352 (regarding WPPSS 1, 2, and 4 Nuclear Plants); and the W. H. Abel Memorial Library, 125 Main Street, South, Montesano, Wash. 98563 (regarding WPPSS 3 and 5 Nuclear Plants).

(b) Persons desiring to make an oral statement at the meeting should make a request to do so prior to the meeting, identifying the topics and desired presentation time so that appropriate arrangements can be made. The Subcommittees will receive oral statements on topics relevant to their purview at an appropriate time chosen by the Chairman.

(c) Further information regarding topics to be discussed, whether the meeting has been cancelled or rescheduled, the Chairman's ruling on requests for the opportunity to present oral statements and the time allotted therefore can be obtained by a prepaid telephone call on October 25, 1977 to the Office of the Executive Director of the Committee (Attention: Mr. Ragnwald Muller, telephone 202/634-1413 or Dr. Richard P. Savio, telephone 202/634-1919) between 8:15 a.m. and 5 p.m., EST.

(d) Questions may be asked only by members of the Subcommittees, their consultants, and the Staff.

(e) The use of still, motion picture, and television cameras, the physical installation and presence of which will not interfere with the conduct of the meeting, will be permitted both before and after the meeting and during any recess. The use of such equipment will be allowed while the meeting is in session at the discretion of the Chairman to a degree that is not disruptive to the meeting. When use of such equipment is permitted, appropriate measures will be taken to protect proprietary or privileged information which may be in documents, folders, etc. being used during the meeting. Recordings will be permitted only during those sessions of the meeting when a transcript is being kept.

(f) Persons with agreements or orders permitting access to proprietary information may attend portions of ACRS meetings where this material is being discussed upon confirmation that such agreements are effective and relate to the material being discussed.

The Executive Director of the ACRS should be informed of such an agreement at least three working days prior to the meeting so that the agreement can be confirmed and a determination can be made regarding the applicability of the agreement to the material that will be discussed during the meeting. Minimum information provided should include information regarding the date of the agreement, the scope of material included in the agreement, the project or projects involved, and the names and titles of the persons signing the agreement. Additional information may be requested to identify the specific agreement involved. A copy of the executed agreement should be provided to Mr. Ragnwald Muller or Dr. Richard P. Savio, of the ACRS office, prior to the beginning of the meeting.

(g) A copy of the transcript of the open portions of the meeting where factual information is presented and a copy of the minutes of the meeting will be available for inspection on or after November 4, 1977 and January 30, 1978, respectively, at the NRC Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20555; the Sedro Wooley Library, 802 Ball Avenue, Sedro Wooley, Wash. 98294 (regarding the Skagit Nuclear Plant); the Records Office, City Hall, Arlington, Oreg. 97812 (regarding the Pebble Springs Nuclear Plant); the Richland Public Library, Swift and Northgate Streets, Richland, Wash., (regarding WPPSS 1, 2, and 4 Nuclear Plants); and the W. Agency for International Development

PROVISION OF PESTICIDES TO SAHEL REGION OF AFRICA

Waiver of Certain Requirements

On August 22, 1977, the Agency for International Development (A.I.D.) provided notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 42272) of the intention to waive certain requirements for provision of pesticides as set forth in the Interim Pesticide Procedures ("Interim Regulations") published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 7, 1976 (41 FR 1297). The reasons for the waiver were set forth in the notice, and the public was requested to provide comments on or before September 12, 1977.

In response, the Environmental Defense Fund and the National Audubon Society objected to A.I.D.'s financing the procurement of the pesticide lindane for use on the crops sorghum and millet. No other comments have been received.

For the reasons set forth in the above mentioned notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 22, 1977 (42 FR 42272) and having taken into consideration the comments of the Environmental Defense Fund and the National Audubon Society, I approve, under section (a) of the Interim Regulations, the financing by A.I.D. of the following pesticides and uses and I determine that the benefits of using such pesticides for the purposes intended outweigh the potential adverse effects and that no preferable alternative is available:

Crop	Pesticide	Pests
Maize	Diazinon, malathion, malathion, trichlorfon	Heliothis armigera-corn ear worm, sesamia calamistis-stem borer, sesamia botropha-stem borer, chilo oryzae-cockle-bush worm of bud worm, buscola fusca-stem borer
Cowpeas	Diazinon	Acanthosoma horrida-plant bug, acanthosoma tomentosus-plant bug, helopeltis schoutedeni-plant bug, tenebrio sp. leaf-feeding beetle, Mylabris sp. leaf-feeding beetle
Groundnuts	Diazinon, malathion, trichlorfon	Spodoptera littoralis-leaf worm, Aleochara dentipes-weevil, systates spp.-weevil, Heliothis armigera-leaf worm, Maruca testulalis-stem borer
Rice	Malathion	Chaetognema pulla-beetle, sesselia pusilla-beetle, trichipsa sricana, Africa rice hispa, diopis thornia-castor-borer, chiloartellus spp.-maize borer
Sorghum	Diazinon, dinathion, malathion	Buscola spp.-stem borers, Sesamia spp.-stem borers, atherigona spp.-sorghum shoot fly, masalia species-leaf feeding caterpillars
Millet	Sesamia sorghum	Sesamia sorghum
Wasteland	Fenitrothion	African migratory locust, Grasshoppers

This determination has been made in consultation with the Environmental Protection Agency as required under Section (b) of the Interim Regulations.

Dated: September 28, 1977.

Customs Service

GRAIN ORIENTED SILICON ELECTRICAL STEEL FROM ITALY

Final Countervailing Duty Determination AGENCY: U.S. Customs Service, Treasury Department.

ACTION: Final countervailing duty determination.

SUMMARY: This notice is to inform the public that a countervailing duty investigation has resulted in a final determination that a producer and exporter to the United States of grain oriented silicon electrical steel has not received from the Government of Italy benefits which are bounties or grants under the countervailing duty statute (19 U.S.C. 1303).

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 11, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CON-TACT:

Richard B. Self, Office of Tariff Affairs, Department of Treasury, 15th & Pennsylvania Ave. NW., Washington, D.C.
20220 (202-566-8585).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On April 15, 1977, a "Preliminary Countervailing Duty Determination" was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 19934). The notice stated that it had been preliminarily determined that benefits had not been received by TERNI Società per l'Industria e l'Elettricità, S.P.A. (TERNI) which constitute bounties or grants within the meaning of section 303, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1303) (hereinafter referred to as "the Act").

Grain oriented silicon electrical steel is provided for in the Tariff Schedules of the United States under item numbers 608.88 and 609.07.

The preliminary determination discussed the various items which were alleged to constitute bounties or grants and indicated that further inquiry would be made regarding certain of them. Interested parties were invited to submit relevant data, views or arguments in writing with respect to the preliminary determination.

After consideration of all information received, including information received since publication of the preliminary determination, it is hereby determined that TERNI has not received, directly or indirectly, bounties or grants on its exports of grain oriented silicon electrical steel within the meaning of section 303 of the Act. The alleged benefits determined not to constitute bounties or grants include:

1. STOCK PURCHASES BY THE HOLDING COMPANY

TERNI is an Italian corporation, 98 percent of whose outstanding share capital is owned by FINSIDER, S.P.A., an Italian corporation, 58 per cent of whose stock is in turn owned by the Istituto per la Ricostruzione Industriale (IRI), an agency of the Italian Government under the Ministry for State Participations. (The balance of Finsider's stock is held by otherwise unidentified parties, including non-governmental, persons and entities.)

Finsider, Terni's parent, has made substantial purchases of Terni stock in recent years. The issuance of share capital by Terni to enable necessary expansion of plant facilities has taken place during a period of substantial financial losses by the company. Only through Finsider's decisions to purchase share capital could Terni have undertaken its expansion. However, as 98 percent of Terni's stock is owned by Finsider, for the purposes of the countervailing duty law they are regarded as a single entity. The determination of whether a "bounty or grant" has been bestowed is, therefore, to be based on whether funds from the Italian Government were provided to Finsider, from which it invested in Terni's expansion. Such funds could have been provided through purchases of stock or of conversions of debt to equity by Finsider's parent, IRI. However, the available evidence indicates that no such transaction has occurred since 1965, a date deemed too remote from Terni's expansion to have impact on its current exports. The evidence indicates that to the extent Finsider has invested in Terni since 1965, it has done so from funds internally generated or raised in the capital markets on commercial terms. Therefore, even if its recent decisions to expand Terni were made at the suggestion or direction of the Italian Government, no "bounty" or "grant" within the meaning of the law exists. Of course if, in the future, the Italian Government should, either through IRI or otherwise, increase Finsider's available funds.

On other than terms that may reasonably be regarded as commercial, this conclusion may require reconsideration.

2. PREFERENTIAL FINANCING AND CREDIT AVAILABILITY

During the period of capital expansion, Terni has substantially increased its borrowings, mostly from IRI-controlled banks. A comparative analysis of the short-term rates charged by IRI banks and private lenders to Terni shows that the IRI banks gave Terni no more favorable terms. Even the interest rates charged by "ILLIC", a Finsider subsidiary, have been consistently above those imposed by private banks. While Terni may have enjoyed a greater access to credit than might normally be expected for a corporation in Italy of comparable size and recent profit performance, that, alone, is not considered to be a bounty or grant in the absence of evidence that Terni benefited from preferential or favorable terms mandated by the Government. That banks regarded Terni as credit-worthy in the absence of government direction or guarantees provides no basis for countervailing.

3. ELECTRICITY SUBSIDIES

trical corporation, ENEL, reflect the terms of a compensation agreement between Terni and ENEL concluded in 1963, when ENEL assumed ownership of Terni's electrical facilities. Terni, then a private corporation, received compensation for the government's taking of its property in the form of both cash and a commitment that it would be charged by ENEL for delivered power at a stable rate for 30 years. This compensation for an expropriated asset cannot be regarded as a bounty or grant in the absence of evidence that the compensation formula was, at the time of its negotiation, on terms significantly more generous than comparable proceedings equivalent to eminent domain takings.

Terni is also exempted from the surcharge imposed by ENEL on power users to offset fuel cost increases. The exemption is based on the fact that Terni is deemed to fall within a class of manufacturers who produce at least 70 percent of the power they consume. By Italian court ruling, Terni qualified for this exemption, since the hydroelectric power supplied by the facility Terni formerly owned, and now owned by ENEL, met this test. In view of the purpose of the surcharge and the general exemption for which Terni qualifies, this does not constitute a bounty or grant to Terni.

4. REBATES OF TAXES UNDER ITALIAN LAW 639

The relevant provision of this law grants rebates to "manufactured-products obtained from sheets, coils or pipes in either iron or steel which are neither referred to nor included elsewhere." Grain oriented silicon steel, exported in its raw form, is not a manufactured product within the meaning of Italian Law 639 and, accordingly, is not entitled to the rebate under the law. No evidence such rebates were given has been produced.

5. PREFERENTIAL SHIPPING RATES

Terni has never used the Finsider owned shipping line, Sidemar, for shipments of grain oriented silicon steel to the United States, since such shipments have been too small to justify the use of the larger Sidemar carriers. The information presently available indicated that Sidemar is not used by Terni for the shipment of raw materials to Terni's facilities. There is, thus, no evidence that Terni received benefits, directly or indirectly, from favorable shipping rates.

6. PREFERENTIAL EXPORT FINANCING TO FOREIGN PURCHASERS UNDER ITALIAN LAW 131

The available evidence indicates Terni has never utilized loans under this law for shipments to the United States.

7. PREFERENTIAL RATES OF INSURANCE PROVIDED BY THE STATE

The available evidence indicates Terni has never received preferential insurance rates from any State-participation company.

8. PRIVILEGED AVAILABILITY AND PREFERENTIAL RATE FOR SCRAP

The information available indicates that CPR, the scrap company which is part of the Finsider Group, makes sales to Terni of scrap it purchases at market prices plus commission. Sales from its own stocks to Terni are made at the prices CPR paid. It thus appears that scrap purchases by Terni from CPR represent no subsidy, since the sales are made on an intra-company transfer price at no apparent loss to the supplier.

In view of the foregoing, a final determination is hereby made in this proceeding that no bounty or grant is being paid or bestowed, directly or indirectly, within the meaning of section 303 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1303), upon the manufacture, production or exportation from Italy of grain oriented silicon steel manufactured by Terni, S.p.A.

This notice is published pursuant to section 303, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1303).

Pursuant to Reorganization Plan No. 26 of 1950 and Treasury Department Order 190 Revision 14, July 1, 1977, the provision of Treasury Department and No. 165, Revised, November 2, 1954, and 159.47(d) of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR 159.47(d)), insofar as they pertain to the issuance of a countervailing duty order by the Commissioner of Customs, are hereby waived.

OCTOBER 4, 1977.

Amendment to Treasury Decision 77-214 wherein Styrofoam trays used for the transportation of worms were designated as instruments of international traffic.

It has been established to the satisfaction of the U.S. Customs Service that the worm trays designated as instruments of international traffic in Treasury Decision 77-214 (42 FR 43470) are composed of foamed polystyrene rather than Styrofoam, a material which is subject to a trademark. MOTOR CARRIER BOARD TRANSFER PROCEEDINGS

The following publications include motor carrier, water carrier, broker, and freight forwarder transfer applications filed under section 212(b), 206(a), 211, 312(b), and 410(g) of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Each application (except as otherwise specifically noted) contains a statement by applicants that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of the application.

Protests against approval of the application, which may include a request for oral hearing, must be filed with the Commission on or before November 10, 1977. Failure seasonably to file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding. A protest must be served upon applicants' representative(s), or applicants (if no such representative is named), and the protestant must certify that such service has been made.

Unless otherwise specified, the signed original and six copies of the protest shall be filed with the Commission. All protests must specify with particularity the factual basis, and the section of the Act, or the applicable rule governing the proposed transfer which protestant believes would preclude approval of the application. If the protest contains a request for oral hearing, the request shall be supported by an explanation as to why the evidence sought to be presented cannot reasonably be submitted through the use of affidavits.

DETENTION OF MOTOR VEHICLES
Shipments of Uncrated New Furniture,
Fixtures, and Appliances

In the order of the Commission served August 31, 1977, petitions for a stay of the prescribed uniform nationwide detention rules pending reconsideration, reopening, and judicial review were denied. On September 2, 1977, the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit stayed the effectiveness of the prescribed rules.

In the order of August 31, 1977, the effectiveness of the prescribed rules was stayed with respect to "shipments of uncrated, uncartoned new furniture, fixtures, and appliances requiring inside strapping, wrapping, bracing, and other loading devices similar to those of the household goods moving industry." In staying the effectiveness of the rules, it was stated that a subnumbered proceeding would be instituted immediately "to receive evidence on the issue of an exemption or other handling." Accordingly, this proceeding will be instituted and the participants are requested to address such issues as:

(1) The current detention practices with respect to these shipments;

(2) The nature of the specific shipments and the reasons why the detention rule, in its current form, 126 MCC 803, as modified by the decision and order of the Commission served September 15, 1977, should not apply to them; and

(3) Alternative suggestions directed at modifying the prescribed rule in lieu of totally exempting specific shipments.

It is ordered: A proceeding is instituted to determine whether an exemption or other modified treatment is warranted with respect to shipments of uncrated, uncartoned new furniture, fixtures, and appliances.

This order will be served upon all interested persons and parties to Ex Parte No. MC 88, Detention of Motor Vehicles—Nationwide, North American Van Lines, Inc., Mural Transport, Inc., Office Furniture Distribution Management Association, Inc., National Furniture Traffic Conference, Inc., Hamilton Industries, The Store Kraft Manufacturing Co., Hobart Corp., Ozite Corp., Elsters, Inc., and Speed Queen, and be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

No oral hearing will be scheduled for receiving testimony in this proceeding unless a need should later appear, but any interested persons may participate in this proceeding by submitting for consideration written statements of facts, views, or arguments on the issues mentioned above, or any other subjects pertaining to those issues.

Any person intending to participate actively in this proceeding shall notify the Commission by filing the original and one copy of a statement of intent to participate, as well as the position it intends to take, with the Office of Proceedings, Room 5342, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423, on or before October 31, 1977. The Office of Proceedings shall then prepare and make available to all persons a list containing the names and addresses of all parties to this proceeding, upon whom copies of all statements must be served. At the time of transmittal of the service list, the Commission will fix the time within which initial statements and reply statements must be filed.

STANDARDS FOR DETERMINING COMMUTER RAIL SERVICE CONTINUATION SUBSIDIES AND EMERGENCY OPERATING PAYMENTS

Proposed Rulemaking and Order

AGENCY: Rail Services Planning Office, Interstate Commerce Commission.

ACTION: Proposed Rulemaking.

SUMMARY: In response to a petition of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority, the Office is reopening rulemaking in Ex Parte No. 293 (Sub-No. 8) to consider whether the commuter rail service subsidy standards should be revised to limit the subsidizer's responsibility for personal injuries and property damage.

ADDRESS: Submit statement to:

Rail Services Planning Office, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION: The Rail Services Planning Office (the Office) presently has under consideration a petition filed June 3, 1977, by the Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA) seeking a reopening of the above-referenced rulemaking proceeding to consider amendment of the Standards for Determining Commuter Rail Service Continuation Subsidies and Emergency Operating Payments (49 CFR Part 1127). On June 10, 1977, the Consolidated Rail Corporation (ConRail) filed an opposition to SEPTA's request, and on June 16, 1977, SEPTA filed a reply.

SEPTA urges reconsideration of certain aspects of the Commuter Standards on the premise that regulations "implementing a new and rather general legislative mandate, should, no matter how carefully considered and drafted, give way to later insights developed through negotiations and dealings between the parties". ConRail opposes reopening because three of the four areas of SEPTA's concern "were not only specifically considered in the proceedings leading to promulgation of the Standards, but were also expressly reaffirmed by RSPO following mediation proceedings held February 24, 1977, at the request of SEPTA and ConRail". Should the Office decide to consider SEPTA's request on its merits, ConRail does suggest two additional areas of concern which it feels should be revisited.

The Office agrees with SEPTA that the public interest will be served by reviewing the rights and responsibilities of the commuter authorities, the operator, and the Federal Government under the commuter rail service continuation program. Upon such review, the Office has concluded that rulemaking should be instituted to consider limited revision of the standards. The prospective modification and the issues raised by SEPTA and ConRail are discussed below.

I. FINANCIAL COMMITMENTS AND RESPONSIBILITY

Failure of Federal Funding. Whether the burden of financial responsibility should be shifted from the subsidizer to the operator in the event the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) fails to make advance payments under § 1127.8(h) of the Standards.

SEPTA observes that it is entirely dependent on Federal, State, and local grants for funds to continue subsidizing commuter rail service; that it has no taxing authority or other assured source of revenue; that it provides transportation services (bus, trolley, and subway) besides commuter rail; that in the event of default under its commuter rail agreement, the assets, grant moneys and revenues pertaining to these other services would be subject to levy by ConRail; and that at least in the event of a failure of Federal funding "it is simply impossible to believe that Congress could have intended such a result."

SEPTA, therefore, proposes to qualify the subsidizer's obligation to make monthly payments by amending § 1127.8(h) of the standards as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, in the event that the Secretary (of Transportation) shall fail to pay any such monthly amount in advance to the subsidizer, the subsidizer's obligation to make monthly payments to the railroad for continuation of commuter rail service shall be reduced by the amount of, and for the duration of, said non-payment, unless said non-payment is occasioned by a default by the subsidizer under any Federal agreement.

There is considerable merit to SEPTA's proposed amendment of § 1127.8(h). The difficulty is that the RRR Act confers upon ConRail the right to discontinue commuter service if "an applicable rail service continuation payment . . . is not paid when it is due" (Section 304(e)(2)(C) (emphasis supplied)). The Office is concerned about the propriety of insulating the subsidizer from service discontinuance when payments are not made on time. On the other hand, the Office recognizes that in conferring this discontinuance right on ConRail, Congress also imposed a parallel obligation on the Secretary to reimburse subsidizers for the additional costs they incur in continuing the commuter service. The Office agrees that it is patently unfair to penalize the subsidizer solely because the Federal Government does not fulfill its statutory responsibility, and in a recent ruling (Interpretation No. 5) has affirmed that UMTA is obligated to reimburse the subsidizer for the interest payable to the railroad on overdue Federal assistance.

The Office also recognizes that the statute does not call for monthly payments, much less payments in advance of service. Thus, it would arguably be a reasonable exercise of administrative discretion to excuse the subsidizer from making monthly payments solely because UMTA had not met its advance payment obligation. On balance, however, the Office believes that the public interest will best be served by preserving the existing rights and responsibilities of the parties. To date, ConRail has not elected to assert its discontinuance rights although the Federal Government has not dispersed emergency assistance funds for nearly a year. The Office presumes that ConRail has sufficient working capital to await compensation (with interest) from UMTA and that if its circumstances materially change, it will afford the subsidizers and UMTA a reasonable opportunity to bring the subsidy payments up to date. The Office also reiterates its belief expressed in the mediation summary that the public interest will be disserved unless the subsidizers and ConRail resolve their differences by spelling out mutually satisfactory discontinuance procedures in the subsidy agreement.

Failure of Local Funding. Whether the funds and assets necessary to the continuation of SEPTA's transportation services other than commuter rail should be insulated from judgment and levy if there is a failure of local funding.

SEPTA in effect acknowledges that in the event of a default in payments, ConRail is entitled to pursue its discontinuance rights and to obtain a judgment and levy against any funds which SEPTA "may have received for the continuation of commuter rail service and which SEPTA is legally authorized to pay over to ConRail . . ." (emphasis supplied). SEPTA asserts, however, that to avoid adverse impact upon public health and safety, the funds and assets necessary to the continuation of its other transportation services should not be jeopardized by judgment and levy. SEPTA suggests that the Office has reached a contrary conclusion in its summary of the mediation session and has ruled that ConRail is entitled to judgment and levy in the event of a failure of local funding. SEPTA argues that Congress contemplated offers of financial assistance from subsidizers which are unable to pledge the full faith and credit of a governmental body with taxing authority and that this decision is "tantamount to a recognition that ConRail might have to bear some risk of loss." It further argues that by permitting entities such as SEPTA to offer subsidy, Congress did not intend to jeopardize the other facets of SEPTA's regional transportation system or to permit commuter rail service to be subsidized by other services. SEPTA, therefore, proposes that § 1127.3(e) be amended by adding the following clause at the end of the first sentence:

• • • Provided, however, That the liability of the subsidizer for any payment to (the railroad) shall be limited to the funds which the subsidizer shall have received for the continuation of rail service and which the subsidizer shall be legally authorized to pay to (the railroad).

Upon consideration of the contentions of the parties, the Office has concluded that it would be inappropriate to insulate by administrative regulation SEPTA's non-rail commuter assets and revenues from levy and judgment in the event of default. Section 304(e) contemplates that commuter rail service will be continued without the consent of ConRail only upon offers to make subsidy payments by financially responsible persons. Congress did not limit the liability of these persons in any respect, but on the contrary, affirmatively obligated them to make the subsidy payments when due. The statute (Section 205(d)) also directed the Office to adopt regulations "which avoid cross subsidization among commuter, intercity, and freight rail services." A regulation which effectively shifts the ultimate liability for commuter service from SEPTA to ConRail would be facially inconsistent with this statutory principle.

Contrary to SEPTA's contention, the Office did not rule in its summary of the mediation session that ConRail was entitled to judgment and levy on all its revenues and assets. This is a question of state law on which the Office expresses no opinion. The Office does believe that the parties could fashion reasonable restrictions on their judicial remedies in negotiating the operating agreement. However, in the absence of a statutory directive, the Office does not view SEPTA's proposed regulation as consistent with rail continuation provisions of the RRR Act.

SEPTA's Underlying Financial Commitments. Whether the responsibility for determining the validity of a subsidy offer should in effect be shifted from the Office to the subsidizer.

SEPTA asserts that in negotiating the operating agreement, ConRail has insisted upon receiving specific written commitments from each and every one of the state and local governments upon which SEPTA relies for funds. SEPTA argues that ConRail has effectively required commitments guaranteeing payment by the subsidizer, whereas § 1127.3(c) only requires subsidy offers to contain "information demonstrating that the prospective subsidizer has or will have the financial resources to subsidize the service and otherwise fulfill its contractual obligations." SEPTA expresses the belief that its latest subsidy offer, on which the operating agreement was negotiated, went well beyond the information required by RSPO regulations. Acknowledging, however, that ConRail apparently disagrees, SEPTA proposes to eliminate any uncertainty by amending § 1127.3(e)(3) to require that the subsidy offer contain:

• • • Information supporting the prospective subsidizer's reasonable belief that it has or will have available financial resources adequate to pay the rail service continuation subsidy, as reasonably estimated by the subsidizer (emphasis supplied).

PROPOSED RULES

In its opposition, ConRail disputes SEPTA's claim that it has insisted upon "guarantees" from SEPTA's constituent governments, asserting that the letters of commitments themselves refute such an assertion. The Office will not undertake to construe the commitments made by SEPTA's constituent governments. It does reiterate the opinion expressed in the summary of the mediation session "that ConRail cannot dictate the nature and extent of SEPTA's underlying financial commitments." Thus, while SEPTA is obligated "to demonstrate through guarantees, security arrangements or other appropriate measures that it has the capacity to fulfill its commitments," ConRail has no right to dictate the form by which SEPTA manifests its financial responsibility.

The Office is also not persuaded that SEPTA's proposed amendment of § 1127.3(e)(3) is consistent with the service continuation provisions of the RRR Act. SEPTA's proposed regulation would effectively shift the duty for determining whether a person is "financially responsible" from the Office to the subsidizer. Although the Office has not been called upon to rule on the validity of any subsidy offer, under the statutory scheme, such a determination would be within its administrative discretion.

II. INTEREST AND PENALTIES

Whether SEPTA should be required to pay interest on late payments in the absence of ConRail's agreement to penalty provisions which SEPTA feels are necessary to insure a satisfactory level of service.

Section 1127.3(e) of the Commuter Standards requires the subsidized to pay interest to the railroad on overdue subsidy payments. In contrast, § 1127.5(n) permits, but does not require, the imposition of negotiated penalties for inferior performance. SEPTA asserts that during negotiations, while ConRail insisted upon its "right" to receive interest on late payments (as reflected in § 9.01(c) of the operating agreement), it refused to agree to penalties for inferior performance without cash incentives (as an addition to avoidable cost) for superior performance.

In SEPTA's view, the imposition by regulation or agreement of interest on late subsidy payments is the equivalent to a liquidated damage arrangement. SEPTA does not quarrel with the concept of liquidated damages, but believes that RSPO lacks the power to impose them, particularly upon one party only. SEPTA argues that the analogous liquidated damage provision applicable to ConRail's obligations would be a penalty clause for specified breaches of the performance standards. However, because the Standards make penalties permissive rather than mandatory, SEPTA says that it is not in a position of comparable strength with ConRail to negotiate liquidated damages provisions. Therefore, SEPTA proposes that the RSPO Standards be amended as follows:

1. Replace the third sentence of § 1127.3(e) with the following sentence:

The subsidy agreements may include reasonable provisions as agreed upon by the parties for the accrual of interest on overdue subsidy payments, at a fixed rate or a rate determinable by reference to prevailing interest rates, for such period as they remain unpaid and the railroad has not terminated the service.

2. Amend the first sentence of § 1127.5(n) to read:

The subsidy agreements may include reasonable provisions as agreed upon by the parties for penalties for service inferior to stipulated performance standards or incentive payments for superior performance, or both.

In its opposition, ConRail points out that the Standards impose interest not only on late payments by subsidizers, but also on overpayments which are to be adjusted after the end of the subsidy year. ConRail argues that "similarly, penalties should be charged to ConRail only to the extent that it may equally benefit from performance incentives" and suggests that "SEPTA's goals would be better served by the give-and-take of negotiations on appropriate penalties and incentives than by attempting to restructure the basic financial guidelines of the Standards."

The Office is sympathetic with SEPTA's desire to negotiate penalty provisions to induce a satisfactory level of service. The Office acknowledges, too, its observation during rulemaking that the assessment of interest is "in the nature of a penalty to discourage late payments, rather than a return on investment" (see 41 FR at 20108). Nevertheless, in adopting the interest provision, the final standards provided that interest on overdue payments would accrue only "for such period as the operator agrees to waive any rights to terminate service" (41 FR at 26939). Thus ConRail's forbearance from exercising its statutory right of discontinuance when payments are not made "when due" (Section 304(e)) constitutes the quid pro quo for late payment charge. The imposition of interest on late and overpayments is also consistent with the no cross subsidization principle of Section 205(d). For these reasons, the Office adheres to its conclusion that the present interest provision should be retained.

III. RESPONSIBILITY FOR PERSONAL INJURIES AND PROPERTY DAMAGE

Whether the responsibility for losses arising from personal injuries and property damage, which are not necessarily and reasonably sustained, should be shifted from the subsidizer to the railroad.

SEPTA asserts that it should not be responsible for reimbursing ConRail for losses caused by ConRail's own wilful, reckless or negligent conduct. SEPTA argues Congress did not intend that ConRail could intentionally injure persons or destroy a subsidizer's property, yet require the subsidizer to bear the consequent financial burden. It believes the concept of "avoidable cost" was not intended to protect ConRail against losses caused by ConRail's recklessness or negligence, and submits that "the absence of any incentive to operate the commuter service in the manner necessary to minimize personal injuries and property damage is plainly against public policy." It argues, therefore, that ConRail must be required to bear at least part of the financial responsibility for third party claims and damage to SEPTA's facilities which are not covered by insurance where there is good reason to believe that such costs are not "reasonably and necessarily sustained." To implement this principle, SEPTA recommends that the first section of § 1127.5 (b)(13) be replaced with the following sentences:

The subsidizers shall be responsible for costs incurred under these accounts resulting from the operation of the commuter service up to a level determined by reference to past loss experience in the operation of the commuter service. The level determined, expressed as a percentage of total costs, shall be equal to the losses experienced, expressed as a percentage of costs, for the reference period, except to the extent that adjustments are appropriate to reflect changes in the character of the service, the type of equipment used, or similar factors. The railroad shall be responsible for all costs in excess of the level so determined.

Under this approach, while the casualty reserve fund would continue to serve as a "savings account," the existence of such savings would have no effect in determining whether SEPTA or ConRail would ultimately bear a particular loss. Rather, the fund would only be available for reimbursement to the extent that aggregate losses did not exceed past losses for the level of service provided.

The necessity for such a provision has, in SEPTA's view, already been demonstrated by an accident in May 1977, when a three-car commuter train was derailed after having struck a car door which had fallen from a ConRail freight train. There were no personal injuries, but damage to the three cars is estimated at $50,000, none of which is covered by insurance. SEPTA asserts that this is obviously a case in which at least an inference of ConRail negligence can be drawn from the presence of a freight car door on the tracks.

ConRail opposes any change in the casualty loss regulations, relying upon the following ruling of the Director during the mediation proceedings:

This matter was exhaustively considered by the Office in the rulemaking in which the regional freight standards were adopted (41 FR at 3402). In my opinion, no casualties would occur, or liabilities accrue, but for the provision of subsidized commuter or freight service. In these circumstances, the ultimate responsibility for personal injury and property damage must be borne by the subsidizer and, in the absence of ConRail's consent, cannot be shifted to the operator of the contract service. This is not to say that ConRail is entitled to an indemnification provision in its Subsidy Agreement with SEPTA; however, under the standards, (§ 1127.5(k)(13)), SEPTA is responsible for any costs incurred for personal injury and property damage resulting from the operation of its commuter service. The standards make provision for insurance to underwrite these losses, and, at SEPTA's option, require ConRail to establish a casualty reserve fund for the purpose of holding SEPTA harmless for personal injury and property liability. Should, however, insurance and or such fund prove insufficient, SEPTA must bear ultimate responsibility for these liabilities. See Rulings, p. 7.

The casualty loss issue, which arises under both the Commuter and Freight Standards, has been a serious and difficult one to resolve. Under both standards, the ultimate responsibility for personal injury and property damage is imposed upon the subsidizer on the premise that no casualties would occur, or liabilities accrue, but for the provision of subsidized service (see 41 FR at 32533 and 41 FR at 3402). At the present time, subsidizers are acting as self-insurers for per claim casualty liabilities under $2,000,000 and ConRail has obtained insurance protecting them against claims between $2,000,000 and $50,000,000. ConRail has no insurance for catastrophic losses in excess of $55,000,000. Thus, in the event of catastrophe, claims over $50,000,000 would have to be paid out of the casualty reserve fund, and, if the fund were exhausted, must be borne ultimately by the subsidizer. To ameliorate this problem, Senator Harrison A. Williams, Jr., has introduced the Commuter Rail Passenger Service Continuation Act of 1977 (S. 1890), Section 301 of which would reduce the subsidizers' ultimate exposure to claims under $2,000,000 and over $50,000,000 by authorizing the United States Railway Association to reimburse them for uninsured casualty losses in amounts not to exceed $50,000,000 for any single occurrence.

In view of the pending legislation, the Office believes that the public interest would be served by soliciting the views of the parties on the casualty loss issue. Those desiring to express their views should brief the following questions:

1. Whether the railroad should be responsible for its own wilful, reckless or negligent conduct.
2. Whether Issue 1 should be resolved differently, if the railroad's conduct causes direct personal injury or property damage to the subsidizer, as distinguished from third parties.
3. Whether the railroad should be responsible for excess losses as measured by past loss experience in the operation of a similar level of commuter service.
4. Whether the railroad or the subsidizer should be responsible for losses arising from unintentional accident or act of God.
5. Whether the ultimate responsibility for catastrophic loss should be shifted from the subsidizer to the federal government.

IV. REQUIRED DETAIL IN SUBMITTING SUBSIDY ESTIMATES AND FINANCIAL STATUS REPORTS

Whether the Standards should be amended to require more detail regarding the subsidy estimate and the revenues earned and expenses incurred in the actual commuter operation.

SEPTA asserts that ConRail's subsidy estimate cannot be meaningfully assessed because ConRail is not required to elucidate, and the subsidizer is not permitted to evaluate, the factual assumptions on which the estimate is based. SEPTA further asserts that the financial status report is not sufficiently detailed to enable it to make a reasonably competent determination that the reported costs reflect ConRail's actual experience in the operation of the commuter service. SEPTA says the Standards become meaningless if a subsidizer is required to rely entirely not only upon ConRail's good faith, but also upon the accuracy of ConRail's bookkeeping and calculations.

SEPTA urges that the subsidy estimate and financial status report be more detailed, so that it will be in a better position to explain and justify the levels of funding to its financial sources and so it will be in a position to determine how the operation of the commuter service may be made more efficient. SEPTA, therefore, proposes the following changes in § 1127.3 (d) and (f):

- (1) An explanation of how the "projected" amounts in the financial status reports are arrived at, i.e., whether by proration of the amounts in the annual estimate or otherwise;
- (2) Under passenger revenues, amounts attributable to fare increases and to pass rider allowances;
- (3) Under other revenues, amounts attributable to leases, parking lots, advertising, lockers, telephones, and other concessions;
- (4) Under costs for maintenance of way and structures, maintenance of equipment, and transportation, separate amounts for material, labor and any other cost category;
- (5) Inclusion of fringe benefits under the various "labor" amounts, rather than as a separate item;
- (6) Under transportation, an amount for the cost of power (electric power and diesel fuel); and
- (7) Under the labor amounts, numbers of employees utilized, as compared to the Manpower Utilization Plan.

ConRail opposes the foregoing revisions, believing that specific informational requests should be handled individually during the course of the negotiation of the subsidy agreements, rather than attempting through rulemaking to harmonize the disparate information demands of the several subsidizers. ConRail affirms that it is willing to confer with subsidizers and to provide them such additional financial information they may deem necessary, subject only to the receipt of appropriate reimbursement therefor. And, although it opposes the attempt to utilize the subsidy estimate and quarterly financial status reports to assess the efficiency of particular commuter lines, it is prepared to cooperate with the subsidizer in developing information designed to quantify real cost savings.

Section 1127.9 of the Standards provides that the subsidizer shall have reasonable access, at a time and a place mutually agreeable to the parties, to inspect, audit and copy the records of the railroad. SEPTA has not asserted that its right of access is in any way deficient or that ConRail has refused to cooperate in supplying information. Hence, the Office cannot agree that SEPTA must rely not only upon ConRail's good faith but the accuracy of its bookkeeping and calculations.

It should be recognized that the initial subsidy estimates were necessarily based on "best available data" (§ 1127.3(b)). Future estimates will, however, be predicted on actual operating experience under the subsidy program; therefore, by instituting the appropriate auditing procedures, SEPTA should be in a position to make a meaningful assessment of future subsidy estimates. In any event, the Office assumes that ConRail would respond to reasonable requests to explain the factual basis upon which future estimates are based. If this assumption proves incorrect, the subsidizer can petition the Office for relief.

V. ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF DISCONTINUANCE RIGHT

Whether a subsidizer must acknowledge the exclusivity of the railroad's Federal discontinuance rights in the subsidy agreement.

ConRail argues that in its petition SEPTA has asserted that "ConRail be required to choose between alternative remedies of discontinuance of service or actual reimbursement of cost." In such circumstances ConRail believes that the subsidizer must acknowledge that ConRail's right of discontinuance is exclusively governed by Section 304(e and a) of the RRR Act.

The Office perceives no reason to change the opinion expressed by its Director in the summary of the mediation session:

ConRail correctly perceives Congressional intent to set forth exclusive discontinuance procedures in Section 304(a) of the RRR Act for rail passenger service mandated under Section 304(e). Nevertheless, I do not believe that an acknowledgment by SEPTA of this statutory interpretation is an integral provision of the Subsidy Agreement. I firmly believe, however, that the public interest will be disserved unless the parties resolve this issue, and strongly recommend that the parties spell out mutually satisfactory discontinuance procedures in the Subsidy Agreement.

VI. RESPONSIBILITY FOR PERFORMANCE BY AMTRAK

ConRail asserts that in its petition SEPTA is urging that ConRail be required to accept penalties for inferior service without being entitled to parallel incentives in the event of superior performance. ConRail argues that should "such a one-sided provision" be adopted, those commuter services necessarily delegated to Amtrak should not be included within any such mandatory penalty provisions.

ConRail's arguments regarding its responsibility for performance by Amtrak were carefully considered in the mediation session and the Office perceives no reason to change its view. In any event, contrary to ConRail's belief, SEPTA has not asserted in its rulemaking petition that penalty provisions should be made mandatory.

Persons interested in expressing their views on the casualty loss issues (Part III above) should submit an original and six copies of their statements on or before November 10, 1977 to:

Pub. L. 94-482, The Education Amendments of 1976, amended Title IX-B of the Higher Education Act of 1965, to enlarge the scope of the program to provide fellowships for graduate study to permit the award of fellowships for professional study as well. The Commissioner is proposing regulations to govern the award of those fellowships. Conjointly, the Commissioner is also proposing regulations to govern the award of institutional grants authorized under Title IX-A to strengthen and improve the quality of graduate and professional programs.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS AND RESPONSES

In the Notice of Intent to issue regulations published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 22, 1976 (41 FR 55749), the Commissioner invited comments on several issues arising from the 1976 Education Amendments concerning the graduate and professional study programs. The following is a summary of the comments received and the responses of the Office of Education:

Comment. The statute requires that the State Commission have an opportunity to comment on an application for an institutional grant. One respondent recommended that the State Commission have the right to comment after the application is received in Washington but before a decision is made on funding. Another suggested that an applicant provide assurances that it has sent a copy of the application to the State Commission. The Commission could then provide comments to the institution and the Commissioner.Response. The Commissioner proposes that an applicant provide assurances in the application that the State Commission has been given an opportunity to offer recommendations on the application to the applicant and to the Commissioner.Comment. The statute requires that a program described in an application for an institutional grant be consistent with State, regional, or national priorities. One commenter recommended that the applicant assume the burden of demonstrating consistency with priorities. Another person suggested that the panels reviewing the applications should be familiar with State, regional, and national priorities and that their judgment about consistency should be accepted.Response. The Commissioner agrees that the applicant should demonstrate consistency with State or regional, or national priorities and that the reviewing panels should consider the degree of consistency when evaluating applications. The proposed criterion in § 179.26 (b) (4) and (b) (5) reflects this decision.

Comment. The statute authorizes grants for the development of proposed graduate and professional programs. One person recommended that the Commissioner give highest priority to proposals for innovation in existing programs or for re-direction of those programs. Another commenter advised caution in allocating funds for new, innovative, and expanded graduate programs since there are already a large number of strong graduate programs. One respondent urged that a substantial portion of the funds be used to enhance and maintain the quality of traditional programs, but that some funds be used to develop or revise doctoral programs to prepare students for nonacademic or nontraditional employment.Response. The Commissioner agrees that a balance is required among awards and criteria will be developed which will assure this result in the light of national needs as determined, from time to time, by the Commissioner, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.Comment. Section 923 of the Higher Education Act, as amended, requires the Commissioner to award fellowships only to individuals who are enrolled in a course of study leading to a doctor of philosophy, doctor of arts, or an equivalent degree. One respondent suggested that "equivalent degree" means the terminal degree that is appropriate and acceptable for senior faculty appointment in a field of study. Another suggested that the Commission adopt the definition used by the Association of Graduate Schools or the Council of Graduate Schools. One commenter contended that the juris doctor (J.D.) should be considered as equivalent to a Ph. D. Another person suggested that the regional accrediting associations certify to the equivalence of the professional degree work in question.Response. The Commissioner will interpret "equivalent degree" to mean the usual terminal degree awarded in a discipline or a professional field. However, the Commissioner will not award fellowships to individuals pursuing a degree from which funds from other Federal programs are available, or to those pursuing a degree from a school or department of divinity.Comment. Several commenters offered suggestions about how the Commissioner should award the fellowships. Most of those who commented recommended that the Commissioner allocate the fellowships to institutions.

The institution would recommend to the Commissioner qualified students to receive the fellowships. One person recommended that at least one-third of the fellowships be awarded on the basis of merit in a national competition. Another suggested that ten percent of the fellowships be awarded through national competition.

Response. The Commissioner believes that the statutory requirements intend that fellowships be awarded to individuals with varied backgrounds and experiences; therefore that by allocating fellowships to institutions, this requirement can better be fulfilled. The Commissioner believes this method will provide greater opportunity for more students from traditionally underrepresented groups and in different areas of the country, since the Commissioner can allocate fellowships to those institutions, which demonstrate an ability to provide training for those students. This process will also encourage the development of strong graduate and professional programs in all geographical areas of the United States, making programs more accessible to most students.

Comment. The statute requires the Commissioner to determine present and projected personnel needs in all areas of education beyond the high school and in other career fields of high national priority. The majority of respondents stated that there is no need for further manpower studies. Some suggested that the Commissioner obtain information from the Department of Labor, the National Science Foundation, the Research Council's Commission on Human Resources, and various professional associations. One commenter contended that there should be a balance between training for immediate national needs and training in the traditional basic academic fields. Another contended that there is a strong national interest in training professionals to serve in certain areas of the law.Response. The Commissioner will use all available information on manpower needs from appropriate organizations, associations, and government agencies. The Commissioner also plans to convene a broad-based group of knowledgeable individuals from inside and outside of the Federal government to assist in determining those academic and other career fields "of importance to the national interest," and to publish these priorities in the FEDERAL REGISTER.Comment. When awarding fellowships the Commissioner must consider the need to prepare a larger number of individuals from minority groups which have been traditionally underrepresented in colleges and universities. However, a graduate or professional institution may not grant preference or disparate treatment to minorities in the administration of the fellowship program. Regarding the definition of minority groups, one respondent noted that Federal agencies had already established a definition. Another wrote that the term should not be defined since the law prohibits preferential or disparate treatment and that financial need should be an eligibility criterion. Another suggested that minority status should be one factor in a weighted formula for allocation of fellowships. One person recommended that women be considered as a minority.Response. The Commissioner will be guided by current practices in programs in the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for special groups. When evaluating an application from an institution for an allotment of fellowships, the Commissioner will consider the institution's plans for considering the needs of the traditionally underrepresented.

Comment. The statute requires the Commissioner to set rates for fellowship stipends and institutional allowances which are comparable to those prevailing under other Federal fellowship programs. Two commenters suggested that the rates paid by the fellowship program under the National Institutes of Health and the National Science Foundation serve as a guide.Response. The Commissioner will consider the rates paid by those programs and others in making his final decision. The maximum amount which a student may receive and the amount of the institutional allowance are announced in the attached Notice of Proposed Rule Making and in the application materials.

(3) The estimated budget is sufficient in relation to the project objectives and is adequate to support its successful completion (10);

(4) The project is consistent with State or regional priorities (10);

(5) The project includes new programmatic arrangements related to the thrust of the program. These may be arrangements involving undergraduate, professional, or other graduate units within the institution, or arrangement with outside institutions or agencies (10);

(6) The educational and other related experiences of the personnel conducting the project qualify them to participate, and the director is given clear responsibility, ample time, and sufficient authority (15);

(7) The project provides activities as part of the course of studies which are innovative or clearly enhance the program emphasis (5); and

(8) The overall graduate or professional academic program of the institution is strong enough to assure the success of the project when measured by criteria such as the following:

(i) The academic requirements are sufficient to support a high quality program (10);

(ii) Institutional resources such as facilities, equipment, and libraries are adequate (5);

(iii) The program offers opportunities for relevant, supervised practicums or other comparable experiences (10).

(20 U.S.C. 1134b)

§ 179.27 Duration of program assistance.

(a) Grant awards made pursuant to this subpart will be for a period of one year.

(b) A grant application may be filed proposing a program with a duration in excess of one year. This application must be accompanied by an explanation of the need for multi-year support, an overview of the objectives and activities proposed for each year, and budget estimates to attain these objectives in any subsequent year. If the Commissioner finds that the application demonstrates that multi-year support is needed to carry out the proposed program, he may, in the initial notification of grant award, indicate an intention to assist the program on an appropriate multi-year basis through continuation grants.

(c) Continuation grants are subject to availability of funds and, consequently, are made only in response to an application in each subsequent fiscal year and upon a determination by the Commissioner that:

(1) The grantee has complied with the grant terms and conditions, the Act, and the regulation;

(2) The program has met its original goals to date; or will do so as the result of constructive changes proposed by the on-going evaluation.

(20 U.S.C. 1134)

§ 179.28 General provisions regulations.

Assistance under Title IX-A for institutional grants for graduate and professional study programs is subject to provisions contained in Subchapter A of this chapter (relating to fiscal, administrative, property management, and other matters).

(20 U.S.C. 1134-1134b)

Subpart C—Graduate and Professional Fellowship Program

§ 179.11 Purpose.

The purpose of this program is to award fellowships for study leading to an advanced degree in a graduate or professional study program approved by the Commissioner.

(20 U.S.C. 1134e and 1134f)

§ 179.12 Approved programs.

The Commissioner allocates fellowships to institutions of higher education which have programs approved by the Commissioner. The Commissioner approves a program if:

(a) The program enables persons to prepare for academic careers, or for other careers in professional fields of importance to the national interest, and

(b) The institution:

(i) Gives consideration, in accepting persons into the program, to meeting the need to prepare a larger number of individuals from minority groups, especially from among such groups who have been traditionally underrepresented in colleges and universities; and

(ii) Offers satisfactory assurance that the institution will provide special orientations and practical experiences designed to prepare fellowship recipients for academic careers or for other professional careers in fields of importance to the national interest, as noted in § 179.43.

§ 179.13 Fellowship award procedures.

(a) The Commissioner, from time to time, identifies and publishes in the FEDERAL REGISTER a list of academic and professional career fields of high national priority in which he proposes to award fellowships.

(b) Institutions of higher education may apply for an allocation of fellowship awards for graduate and professional programs in these fields.

(c) Institutions receiving an allocation (usually 5-15 fellowships) recommend eligible students to the Commissioner for the award of fellowships.

(20 U.S.C. 1134e)

§ 179.14 Criteria for allocating fellowships to institutions of higher education.

The Commissioner evaluates applications for fellowship allocations in accordance with the following considerations:

(a) The extent to which an application requests fellowships for continuation of support for individuals awarded fellowships in a previous year;

(b) The extent to which funding the application will assist in attaining a wider distribution of graduate and professional study programs throughout the United States; and

(c) The extent to which the program for which an allocation of fellowships is requested ranks high, based on the maximum point scores as shown, on the following criteria:

(1) The objectives of the program clearly meet the requirements of § 179.12 and are justified in the application (15);

(2) Procedures are planned to measure the effectiveness and success of the program (5);

(3) Institutional resources such as facilities, equipment, and libraries are adequate to support the program (5);

(4) The director of the program is given clear responsibility, ample time, and sufficient authority (5);

(5) The academic requirements are sufficient to support a high quality program (10);

(6) The institution provides sufficient evidence that it gives consideration, in accepting persons into the program, to meeting the need to prepare a larger number of individuals from minorities which have been traditionally underrepresented in colleges and universities (15);

(7) The institution's plan for recruiting individuals for fellowships will provide opportunities to persons who:

(i) Have demonstrated their competence outside of higher education for at least two years subsequent to the completion of their undergraduate studies; or

(ii) Have varied backgrounds and experiences from other than academic settings (10);

(8) The likelihood that the institution's plan to nominate fellowship candidates will enable these students to overcome financial hardship and other barriers (10);

(9) The relevant aspect of the special orientations and practical experiences to be provided the fellows; (15) and

(10) The background, education, research interests, and experiences of the faculty qualify them to design, implement, and carry on a successful program (10).

(20 U.S.C. 1134f)

§ 179.15 Length of fellowships.

(a) Fellowship awards are for a period not in excess of twelve months.

(b) Fellows who maintain satisfactory proficiency in their course of study may have their fellowships renewed subject to the availability of funds, but no fellow may receive more than 36 months of support except as noted in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) The Commissioner may award a fellowship for an additional 12 month period beyond the initial 36 months in special circumstances when the Commissioner determines that the extension would serve the purposes of the fellowship programs.

§ 179.16 Eligibility for fellowships.

A recipient of a fellowship under this part must:

(a) Have been accepted or enrolled for post-baccalaureate study leading to an advanced degree of doctor of philosophy, doctor of arts, or an equivalent degree, or a terminal post-baccalaureate professional degree, at an institution of higher education that has received an allocation of fellowship;

(b) Plan to pursue an academic career or some other professional career of importance to the national interest as determined by the Commissioner; and

(c) Be a national of the United States or be in the United States for other than a temporary purpose and intend to become a permanent resident, or be a permanent resident of the Trust Territories of the Pacific Islands.

(20 U.S.C. 1134f(a))

§ 179.17 Fellowship conditions.

In order to continue to receive payments under a fellowship, a fellow must:

(a) Maintain satisfactory proficiency as determined by the institution;

(b) Devote essentially fulltime to study or research in the field in which the fellowship was awarded; and

(c) Not engage in gainful employment during the period of the fellowship, except on a part-time basis in teaching, research, or similar activities approved by the Commissioner.

(20 U.S.C. 1134h)

§ 179.18 Interruption of fellowship tenure.

(a) A fellow may take a leave of absence for a period up to 12 months for the purpose of work, travel, or independent study away from the campus, if:

(1) The leave of absence is approved by the institution at which the fellow is enrolled and by the Commissioner; and

(2) The work, travel, or independent study is supportive of the fellow's academic program.

(b) The Commissioner makes no payments to the fellow or the institution during this period.

(20 U.S.C. 1134e(c))

§ 179.19 Vacated fellowships.

(a) If a fellowship is vacated prior to the end of a period for which it was awarded, the institution to which the fellowship is allocated may recommend to the Commissioner another individual to receive the fellowship. This individual must meet all the eligibility requirements and be chosen in accordance with the institution's fellowship award procedures.

(b) The duration of the reawarded fellowship shall be for the completion of the period remaining in the vacated fellowship.

(c) A fellow awarded a vacated fellowship may apply for renewal of the fellowship in the same manner and to the same extent as the original fellow.

(20 U.S.C. 1134e (a) and (b))

§ 179.50 Amount of the fellowship.

(a) The maximum stipend to any fellow is $3900 for a twelve month year payable at the monthly rate of $325 for any period the fellow is enrolled in the program.

(b) The fellow earns entitlement to the stipend on a monthly basis. A fellow who is enrolled in the program for less than twelve months receives a pro rata share of the stipend. A fellow who is enrolled in the program for the entire academic year (including summer sessions) shall be considered to be enrolled in the program for the full twelve months.

§ 179.51 Institutional allowance.

(a) The Commissioner pays an institutional allowance to an institution of higher education that is equal to the total sum of stipends paid to fellows attending that institution.

(b) This allowance is intended to pay for the instructional costs of the fellows.

PROPOSED RULES

The institution may not charge fellows tuition or nonrefundable fees. If the institution charges a fellow for tuition or nonrefundable fees which are required by the institution as part of the fellow's instructional program, the Commissioner will deduct that amount from the institutional allowance.

(c) Although the institutional allowance accrues on a monthly basis, the institution is entitled to claim one-half of this amount as soon as the fellow has been enrolled for two weeks. It is entitled to claim the remaining amount when the fellow has been enrolled for six and one-half months.

(20 U.S.C. 1134g(b))

§ 179.52 Payment procedures.

(a) The Commissioner pays to the institution the fellowship stipends and the institutional allowances. The institution is responsible for disbursing stipends to the fellows.

(b) The institution determines the frequency with which payments of the stipend will be made to fellows, except that no fewer than two payments a year shall be made.

(c) If a fellow, for any reason, fails to complete the period of study for which any payment under the fellowship has been made, the institution is responsible for recovery of excess payments.

(d) If a vacated fellowship is not re-awarded to another qualified student, the institution must refund to the Federal government the pro rata share of the institutional allowance.

§ 179.53 Records and reports.

(a) Each institution of higher education which receives an allocation of fellowships under this part shall make such reports as are required by 45 CFR 100a.-432.

(b) Each individual who is awarded a fellowship shall keep such records and submit such reports as are required by the Commissioner. Such reports shall include a certificate from an appropriate official at the institution of higher education, library, archive, or other research center approved by the Commissioner, stating that the fellow is making satisfactory progress in and is devoting essentially full time to the program for which the fellowship was awarded.

NOTE.—Such certification from the institution should indicate that the fellow is not engaging in gainful employment other than part-time employment (approved by the institution) in teaching, research, or similar activities.

Title 7—Agriculture

CHAPTER IX—AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE (MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND ORDERS; FRUITS, VEGETABLES, NUTS), DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

PART 966—TOMATOES GROWN IN FLORIDA

Expenses and Rate of Assessment

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This regulation authorizes expenses of $119,500 and establishes a rate of assessment of 0.35 cent ($0.0035) per 30-pound equivalent of tomatoes for the functioning of the Florida Tomato Committee. The regulation will enable the committee to collect assessments from first handlers on all assessable tomatoes handled and to use the resulting funds for its expenses.

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 1, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, AMS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Telephone: 202-447-3545.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Marketing Agreement No. 125 and Order No. 966, both as amended, regulate the handling of tomatoes grown in designated counties in Florida. It is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674). The Florida Tomato Committee, established under the order, is responsible for its local administration.

Notice was published in the September 20 FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 47209) regarding the proposals. It afforded interested persons an opportunity to file written comments not later than October 4, 1977. None was filed.

After consideration of all relevant matters, including the proposals in the notice, it is found that the following expenses and rate of assessment should be approved.

It is further found that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) because this part requires that the rate of assessment for a particular fiscal period shall apply to all assessable tomatoes from the beginning of such period.

The regulation is as follows:

§ 966.214 Expenses and rate of assessment.

(a) The reasonable expenses that are likely to be incurred during the fiscal period ending July 31, 1978, by the Florida Tomato Committee for its maintenance and functioning and for such other purposes as the Secretary may determine to be appropriate will amount to $119,500.

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler in accordance with this part shall be 0.35 cent ($0.0035) per 30-pound container or equivalent quantity, of tomatoes handled by him as the first handler thereof during the fiscal period.

(c) Unexpended income in excess of expenses for the fiscal period may be carried over as a reserve.

(d) Terms used in this section have the same meaning as when used in the marketing agreement and this part.

(Secs. 1-19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601-674.)

Dated: October 5, 1977.

CHARLES R. BRADER,
Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service.

CHAPTER I—FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

SUBCHAPTER D—APPROVED FORMS, FEDERAL POWER ACT

[Docket No. RM77-19; Order No. 554-A]

PART 141—STATEMENTS AND REPORTS (SCHEDULES)

Parallel Reporting Extension

AGENCY: Federal Power Commission.

ACTION: Final Rule.

SUMMARY: On September 15, 1976, the Commission issued Order No. 554 in Docket No. RM76-16, 41 FR 41687, requiring a limited period of parallel reporting of Form No. 3-P or other electric bill data used to compute the Consumer Price Index (CPI) in both a format existing at that time and in a new format. The parallel reporting is to insure continuity in data at a time when the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) is revising the Consumer Price Index. In September 1976 it was expected that parallel reporting would be terminated in September 1977. Due to delays in implementing the revised CPI, BLS asked the Commission to order an additional fifteen months of parallel reporting from September 1977 through December 1978. Order No. 554-A implements BLS' request.

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 30, 1977.
FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

William Graban, Bureau of Power,
 202-275-4731.

This order amends Order No. 554¹ by directing an addition in the length of time certain information is to be reported to the Commission monthly on Form No. 3-P. The amendment does not involve altering 18 CFR 141.28 which specifies the information to be completed on Form No. 3-P.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) is revising the Consumer Price Index (CPI). The revisions include some changes in the information to be collected as well as some changes in the individual utilities required to submit reports. To insure continuity, in April, 1976 BLS requested the Commission to institute a parallel reporting system. Utilities previously submitting CPI data on the existing schedule of Form No. 3-P were to continue submitting that information through September 1977. At the same time, utilities chosen to submit data for the revised CPI were to commence reporting on the revised schedule of Form No. 3-P immediately. Because some of the utilities already submitting CPI data on the existing schedule were also to submit data to the revised CPI, a certain amount of parallel reporting was expected to occur. The Commission ordered such parallel reporting in Order No 554.

KENNETH F. PLUMB,
 Secretary.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

BACKGROUND

On August 13, 1976, a notice of proposed rulemaking which would revise the Customs Regulations setting forth general provisions relating to the operation of the Customs Service was published in the Federal Register (41 FR 34261). The revision is part of the general revision of the Customs Regulations, and replaces Part 1 with a new Part 101. Part 101 follows a new format, and contains changes or additions to language to clarify the former provisions. No substantive changes were proposed. Interested parties were given until October 12, 1976, to submit data, views, or arguments in regard to the proposal.

DISCUSSION OF COMMENTS

The Customs Service received comments which pointed out several clerical or typographical errors. These have been corrected. Other comments involved substantive changes to the Customs Regulations and, consequently, were beyond the scope of this revision. These comments will be considered separately at a later time as possible amendments to new Part 101.

After review of the proposed revision, the following changes have been made:

1. The table in § 101.3 is updated to include the following changes in Customs regions, districts, and ports: Orlando, Fla., Battle Creek, Mich., and Grand Rapids, Mich., have been designated ports of entry; the port limits of Charleston, S.C., Mobile, Ala., Progreso, Tex., Dayton, Ohio, and Erie, Pa., have been extended; Richmond County, N.J., has been transferred from Region III to Region II; and the district of St. Albans, Vt., has been reorganized.

2. The table in § 101.4 is updated to reflect the transfer of supervision over the Customs station at Los Ebanos, Texas, from Hidalgo to Rio Grande City, and the reorganization of the St. Albans, Vt., district.

3. Sections 101.6 (Assignment of Customs regions to regional directors, internal affairs), 101.7 (Office of Investigations), and 101.8 (Customs laboratories) of the proposed revision are deleted. The matter formerly contained in these sections will be published annually in a notice in the Federal Register in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552(a)(1).

4. Section 101.0, relating to the scope of this part of the Customs Regulations, is changed to eliminate references to the subject matter of the deleted sections referred to in the previous paragraph.

5. Sections 101.9, 101.10, and 101.11 of the proposed revision are respectively redesignated §§ 101.6, 101.7, and 101.8. The index and Appendix I to Part 101 are changed to reflect these deletions and redesignations. Appendix I is further changed by adding a parallel reference table listing in order the old section numbers and their corresponding new section numbers.

In addition to the above changes, a number of editorial corrections have been made to the text of the provisions originally proposed. Further, conforming changes have been made to other sections of the Customs Regulations necessitated by this revision.

Accordingly, Part 1 is deleted, conforming changes are made to Parts 4, 18, and 24, and new Part 101 is adopted, as set forth below.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The primary author of this revision was Richard M. Belanger, Attorney, Regulations and Legal Publications Division, Office of Regulations and Rulings, United States Customs Service (202-566-8237). However, personnel from other offices of the United States Customs Service participated in the development of the revision, both in matters of substance and style.

 Acting Commissioner of Customs.

Hdnote 11), 1624, Reorganization Plan 1 of 1965; 3 CFR 1965 Supp. Additional authority and statutes interpreted or applied are cited in the text or following the section affected.

§ 101.0 Scope.

This part sets forth general regulations governing the authority of Customs officers, and the location of Customs regions, districts, and ports of entry, and of Customs stations. It further sets forth regulations concerning the entry and clearance of vessels at Customs stations and a listing of Customs preclearance offices in foreign countries. In addition, this part contains provisions concerning the hours of business of Customs offices, the Customs seal, and the identification cards issued to Customs officers and employees.

§ 101.1 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, the following terms shall have the meanings indicated unless either the context in which they are used requires a different meaning or a different definition is prescribed for a particular part or portion thereof:

(a) Area. "Area" refers to any of the three administrative areas created in the Customs district of New York City, New York, which is coextensive with Customs Region II, New York City, New York, and identified as Kennedy Airport Area, Newark Area, and New York Seaport Area, each of which is under the jurisdiction of an area director of Customs.

(b) Customs district. A "Customs district" is the geographical area under the jurisdiction of a district director of Customs.

(c) Customs region. A "Customs region" is the geographical area under the jurisdiction of a regional commissioner of Customs.

(d) Customs station. A "Customs station" is any place, other than a port of entry, at which Customs officers or employees are stationed, under the authority contained in article IX of the President's Message of March 3, 1913 (T.D. 33249), to enter and clear vessels, accept entries of merchandise, collect duties, and enforce the various provisions of the Customs and navigation laws of the United States.

(e) Customs territory of the United States. "Customs territory of the United States" includes only the States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

(f) Date of entry. The "date of entry" or "time of entry" of imported merchandise shall be the effective time of entry of such merchandise, as defined in § 141.68 of this chapter.

(g) Date of exportation. "Date of exportation" or "time of exportation" shall be as defined in § 152.1(c) of this chapter.

(h) Date of importation. "Date of importation" means, in the case of merchandise imported otherwise than by vessel, the date on which the merchandise arrives within the Customs territory of the United States. In the case of merchandise imported by vessel, "date of importation" means the date on which the vessel arrives within the limits of a port in the United States with intent then and there to unload such merchandise.

(i) Duties. "Duties" means Customs duties and any internal revenue taxes which attach upon importation.

(j) Entry or withdrawal for consumption. "Entry or withdrawal for consumption" means entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption.

(k) Importer. "Importer" means the person primarily liable for the payment of any duties on the merchandise, or an authorized agent acting on his behalf. The importer may be:

- (1) The consignee, or
- (2) The importer of record, or
- (3) The actual owner of the merchandise, if an actual owner's declaration and superseding bond has been filed in accordance with § 141.20 of this chapter, or
- (4) The transferee of the merchandise, if the right to withdraw merchandise in a bonded warehouse has been transferred in accordance with subpart C of Part 144 of this chapter.

(l) Port and port of entry. The terms "port" and "port of entry" refer to any place designated by Executive order of the President, by order of the Secretary of the Treasury, or by Act of Congress, at which a Customs officer is authorized to accept entries of merchandise to collect duties, and to enforce the various provisions of the Customs and navigation laws. The terms "port" and "port of entry" incorporate the geographical area under the jurisdiction of a port director when such port is one other than a district headquarters port. (The Customs District of the Virgin Islands, although under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Treasury, has its own Customs laws (48 U.S.C. 1406(i)). This district, therefore, is outside the Customs territory of the United States and the ports thereof are not "ports of entry" within the meaning of these regulations.)

(m) Principal field officer. A "Principal field officer" is an officer in the field service whose immediate supervisor is located at Customs Service Headquarters.

§ 101.2 Authority of Customs officers.

(a) Supremacy of delegated authority.

Action taken by any person pursuant to authority delegated to him by the Secretary of the Treasury, whether directly or by subdelegation, shall be valid despite the existence of any statute or regulation, including any provision of this chapter, which provides that such action shall be taken by some other person. Any person acting under such delegated authority shall be deemed to have complied with any statute or regulation which provides or indicates that it shall be the duty of some other person to perform such action.

(b) Consolidation of functions. Any reorganization of the Customs Service or consolidation of the functions of two or more persons into one office which results in the failure of a designated customs officer to perform an action required by statute or regulation, shall not invalidate the performance of that action by any other Customs officer.

§ 101.3 Customs regions, districts and ports.

(a) Redesignation of Customs districts and ports of entry. The Under Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to authority delegated by the Secretary of the Treasury, is authorized from time to time, as the needs of the Customs Service may require, to rearrange or consolidate the Customs districts, to discontinue ports of entry by abolishing them and establishing others in their place, and to change the location of the headquarters in any Customs district as the needs of the Customs Service may require.

(b) Customs regions, districts and ports of entry listed. The following is a list of Customs regions and districts, with a list of the ports in each district. (The Customs region of New York City, New York, is coextensive with the Customs district of New York City, New York). The first-named port in each district, listed in capital letters, is the headquarters port. Many of the ports listed were created by the President's message of March 3, 1913, concerning a reorganization of the Customs Service pursuant to the Act of August 24, 1912 (37 Stat. 434; 19 U.S.C. 1). Subsequent orders of the President or of the Secretary of the Treasury which affected these ports, or which created (or subsequently affected) additional ports, are cited following the name of the ports.

§ 101.6 Hours of business.

Except as specified in paragraphs (a)-(g) of this section, each Customs office shall be open for the transaction of general Customs business between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. on all days of the year:

(a) Saturdays, Sundays and national holidays. In addition to Saturdays, Sundays, and any other calendar day designated as a holiday by Federal statute or Executive order, Customs offices shall be closed on the following national holidays:

- (1) The first day of January.
- (2) The third Monday of February.
- (3) The last Monday of May.
- (4) The fourth day of July.
- (5) The first Monday of September.
- (6) The second Monday of October.
- (7) The fourth Monday of October.
- (8) The fourth Thursday of November.
- (9) The twenty-fifth day of December.

If a holiday falls on Saturday, the day immediately preceding such Saturday will be observed. If a holiday falls on Sunday, the day immediately following such Sunday will be observed. (5 U.S.C. 6103(b) (1); (E.O. No. 11582, January 1, 1971; 34 FR 2957; 3 CFR Ch. 11)

(b) Local conditions requiring different hours. If, because of local conditions, different but equivalent hours are required to maintain adequate service, such hours shall be observed provided the Commissioner of Customs approves them and provided further that a notice of business hours is prominently displayed at the principal entrance and in each public room of the Customs office.

(c) Firing of hours. At each port or station where there is no full-time Customs employee, the appropriate district director shall, with the approval of the regional commissioner of Customs, fix the hours during which the Customs office will be open for the transaction of general Customs business. Notice of such hours shall be prominently displayed at the principal entrance of the office.

(d) State and local holidays. Each Customs office shall be open for the transaction of business on all state and local holidays occurring on days other than Saturdays, Sundays, and national holidays listed in paragraph (a) of this section. The appropriate principal field officer may excuse any employee(s) without charge to leave when a state or local holiday interferes with the performance of his work in a Customs office.

(e) Services performed outside a Customs office. Customs services required to be performed outside a Customs office shall be furnished between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. (or between the corresponding hours at ports where different but equivalent hours are required for the maintenance of adequate service and are approved by the Commissioner of Customs) on all days when the Customs office is open for the transaction of general Customs business. The regional commissioner of Customs shall, from time to time, and upon reasonable advance notice to the principal local officer concerned, issue instructions for the furnishing of such services on Saturdays.

(f) Customs services not within prescribed hours. Where there is a regularly recurring need for Customs services outside the hours prescribed in paragraphs (a)-(e) of this section and the volume and duration of the required services are uniformly such as to require, of themselves or in immediately consecutive combination with other essential Customs activities of the port, the full time of one or more Customs employees, the necessary number of regular tours of duty to furnish such services on all days of the year except Sundays and national holidays may be established with the approval of the Commissioner of Customs.

(g) Customs services furnished private interests. Other than as specified in this section, Customs services shall be furnished private interests only in accordance with the provisions of section 24.16 of this chapter.

§ 101.7 Customs seal.

(a) Design. According to the design furnished by the Department of the Treasury, the Customs seal of the United States shall consist of the seal of the Department of the Treasury surrounded by an outer circle in which appear the words "Treasury" at the top and "U.S. Customs Service" at the bottom.

(b) Use of the Customs seal. The Customs seal currently in official use, including the dies, rolls, plates, and like devices now in the possession of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, shall continue to be equally effective as the official seal of the United States Customs Service and shall continue to be so used by each Customs officer and employee having possession of the seal until that particular device requires replacing and is replaced. Use of the United States Customs seal shall be restricted in the following manner:

(1) The Customs seal of the United States shall be impressed upon all official documents requiring the impress of a seal. It shall be impressed upon all marine documents and landing certificates, certificates of weight, gauge, or measure, and similar classes of documents for outside interests.

(2) The impress of the seal is not necessary on documents passing within the Customs Service nor shall the seal be used in the manner of a notary seal to indicate authority to administer oaths.

§ 101.8 Identification cards.

Each Customs employee shall be issued an appropriate identification card with that employee's photograph and signature, signed by the appropriate issuing officer.

SUMMARY: The effect of this order is to limit the authority of the Drug Enforcement Administration, in granting confidentiality of identity of research subjects, to those areas specified in 21 U.S.C. 872(a), and to provide discretionary authority in granting exemption from prosecution for researchers as provided in 21 U.S.C. 872(d). In addition, more detailed information is required of petitioners under both sections to better enable the Drug Enforcement Administration to evaluate requests received pursuant to these sections.

DATES: Effective date, October 12, 1977.
FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Craig E. Richardson, Attorney, Office of Chief Counsel, Drug Enforcement Administration, telephone 202-633-1404.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A notice was published in the Federal Register on Tuesday, June 21, 1977, proposing the amendment of §§ 1316.21 and 1316.22 of Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations. All interested persons were given until July 18, 1977, to submit their comments or objections in writing regarding this proposal.

One comment was received in response to the proposal from the Director of the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Institute of the University of Washington, Seattle, Wash. The comment was considered and in light of its contents no changes were made in the proposed regulations. No further comments or objections were received, nor were there any requests for a hearing, and in view thereof, the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration finds that:

1. The regulations as amended will limit the authority of the Drug Enforcement Administration to grant confidentiality of identity of research subjects to those areas of research specified in 21 U.S.C. 872(a) (2-6).

2. The regulations as amended will provide the Drug Enforcement Administration with more detailed information to better enable DEA to evaluate requests received pursuant to these sections.

3. The regulations as amended will provide the Drug Enforcement Administration with discretionary authority to grant exemption from prosecution for researchers in accordance with 21 U.S.C. 872(d).

Therefore, under the authority vested in him by the Act and by the regulations of the Department of Justice, the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration hereby orders that §§ 1316.21 and 1316.22 of Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) be amended to read as follows:

§ 1316.21 Confidentiality of identity of research subjects.

(a) Any person conducting a bona fide research project directly related to the enforcement of the laws under the jurisdiction of the Attorney General concerning drugs or other substances which are or may be subject to control under the Controlled Substances Act (84 Stat. 1242; 21 U.S.C. 801) who intends to maintain the confidentiality of the identity of those persons who are the subjects of such research may petition the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration for a grant of confidentiality; Providing, That: (1) The Attorney General is authorized to carry out such research under the provisions of Section 502(a) (2-6) of the Controlled Substances Act of 1970 (21 U.S.C. 872(a) (2-6)); and the research is being conducted with funds provided in whole or part by the Department of Justice; or

(2) The research is of a nature that the Attorney General would be authorized to carry out under the provisions of Section 502(a) (2-6) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 872(a) (2-6)), and is being conducted with funds provided from sources outside the Department of Justice.

(b) All petitions for Grants of Confidentiality shall be addressed to the Administrator, Drug Enforcement Administration, 1405 I Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20537, and shall contain the following:

(1) A statement as to whether the research protocol requires the manufacture, production, import, export, distribution, dispensing, administration, or possession of controlled substances, and if so the researcher's registration number or a statement that an application for such registration has been submitted to DEA;

(2) The location of the research project;

(3) The qualifications of the principal investigator;

(4) A general description of the research or a copy of the research protocol;

(5) The source of funding for the research project;

(8) A specific request to withhold the names and/or any other identifying characteristics of the research subjects; and

(c) The grant of confidentiality of identity of research subjects shall consist of a letter issued by the Administrator, which shall include:

(1) The researcher's name and address.

(2) The researcher's registration number, if applicable.

(3) The title and purpose of the research.

(4) The location of the research project.

(5) An authorization for all persons engaged in the research to withhold the names and identifying characteristics of persons who are the subjects of such research, stating that persons who obtain this authorization may not be compelled in any Federal, State, or local civil, criminal, administrative, legislative, or other proceeding to identify the subjects of such research for which this authorization was obtained.

(6) The limits of this authorization, if any.

(7) A statement to the effect that the grant of confidentiality of identity of research subjects shall be perpetual but shall pertain only to the subjects of the research described in the research protocol, the description of the research submitted to DEA, or as otherwise established by DEA.

(d) Within 30 days of the date of completion of the research project, the researcher shall so notify the Administrator. The Administrator shall issue another letter including the information required in paragraph (c) of this section and stating the starting and finishing dates of the research for which the confidentiality of identity of research subjects was granted; upon receipt of this letter, the researcher shall return the original letter of exemption.

§ 1316.22 Exemption from prosecution for researchers.

(a) Upon registration of an individual to engage in research in controlled substances under the Controlled Substances Act (84 Stat. 1242; 21 U.S.C. 801), the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration, on his own motion or upon request in writing from the Secretary or from the researcher or researching practitioner, may exempt the registrant when acting within the scope of his registration, from prosecution under Federal, State, or local laws for offenses relating to possession, distribution or dispensing of those controlled substances within the scope of his exemption. However, this exemption does not diminish any requirement of compliance with the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 301).

(b) All petitions for Grants of Exemption from Prosecution for the Researcher shall be addressed to the Administrator, Drug Enforcement Administration, 1405 I Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20537 and shall contain the following:

taken to protect the interests of society:

(8) A specific request for exemption from prosecution by Federal, State, or local authorities for offenses related to the possession, distribution, and dispensing of controlled substances in accord with the procedures described in the research protocol;

(9) A statement establishing that a grant of exemption from prosecution is necessary to the successful completion of the research project.

(c) Any researcher or practitioner proposing to engage in research requesting both exemption from prosecution and confidentiality of identity of research subjects may submit a single petition incorporating the information required in §§ 1316.21(b) and 1316.22(b).

(d) The exemption shall consist of a letter issued by the Administrator, which shall include:

(1) The researcher's name and address;

(2) The researcher's registration number for the research project;

(3) The location of the research project;

(4) A concise statement of the scope of the researcher's registration;

However, the protection afforded by the grant of exemption from prosecution during the research period shall be perpetual.

(e) Within 30 days of the date of completion of the research project, the researcher shall so notify the Administrator. The Administrator shall issue another letter including the information required in paragraph (d) of this section and stating the date of which the period of exemption concluded; upon receipt of this letter the researcher shall return the original letter of exemption.

Title 26—Internal Revenue

CHAPTER I—INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

SUBCHAPTER A—INCOME TAX [T.D. 7512]

PART 1—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1953

Deduction for Alimony in Determining Adjusted Gross Income

AGENCY: Internal Revenue Service, Treasury.

ACTION: Final regulation.

SUMMARY: This document contains amendments to the income tax regulations relating to the allowance of deductions for alimony. Changes in the applicable tax law were made by the Tax Reform Act of 1976. These regulations affect taxpayers who are making deductible alimony payments and provide them with the guidance needed to comply with the law.

DATE: The amendment applies to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1976.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Kyllikki Kusma of the Legislation and Regulations Division, Office of the Chief Counsel, Internal Revenue Service, Attention: CC:LR:T, 202-566-3671, not a toll-free call.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

BACKGROUND

This document contains amendments to the Income Tax Regulations (26 CFR Part 1) under section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 in order to conform such regulations to the provisions of section 502 of the Tax Reform Act of 1976 (90 Stat. 1559).

Under prior law a deduction for qualifying alimony payments was to be taken in the year paid as an itemized deduction from adjusted gross income in arriving at taxable income. Section 502(a) of the Tax Reform Act of 1976 changes the deduction for qualifying alimony payments from an itemized deduction to a deduction from gross income in arriving at adjusted gross income. Therefore, a deduction for alimony will be available to taxpayers who do not elect to itemize their deductions because their zero bracket amount is more than their itemized deductions as well as those who elect to itemize their deductions. In addition, section 502(b) of the Tax Reform Act of 1976 enables the taxpayer to take qualifying alimony deductions into consideration in estimating withholding allowances.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal author of this regulation was Kyllikki Kusma of the Legislation and Regulations Division of the Office of Chief Counsel, Internal Revenue Service. However, personnel from other offices of the Internal Revenue Service and Treasury Department participated in developing the regulation, both on matters of substance and style.

ADOPTION OF AMENDMENTS TO THE REGULATIONS

Accordingly, the regulations under section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 CFR Part 1) are amended as follows:

§ 1.62 [Deleted]

Paragraph 1. Section 1.62 is deleted. Par. 2. Section 1.62-1 is amended by inserting a new paragraph (c) (16) after paragraph (c) (15), to read as follows:

§ 1.62-1 Adjusted gross income.

(16) For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1976, the deduction for alimony and separate maintenance payments allowed by section 215.

Because this amendment merely conforms the regulations to changes in the Code made by section 502 of the Tax Reform Act of 1976, no notice of proposed rulemaking need be made prior to the promulgation of the proposed Treasury decision.

(Sec. 7805, Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; (26 U.S.C. 7805)).)

Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

CHAPTER VI—DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY

SUBCHAPTER B—NAVIGATION

PART 706—CERTIFICATIONS AND EXEMPTIONS UNDER THE INTERNATIONAL REGULATIONS FOR PREVENTING COLLISIONS AT SEA, 1972

Miscellaneous Amendments

AGENCY: Department of the Navy, DOD.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The purpose of this rule is to amend Part 706 to reflect that the Secretary of the Navy has determined that USS Memphis (SSN 691) and USS Omaha (SSN 692) are vessels of the Navy which, due to their special construction and purpose, cannot comply fully with certain provisions of the International Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea, 1972 (72 COLREGS) without interfering with their special functions. The intended effect of this rule is to warn mariners on international waters.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 5, 1977.

vessels of the Navy which, due to their special construction and purpose, cannot comply fully with 72 COLREGS: Rule 21(a) regarding the arc of visibility of the masthead light; Rule 21(b) regarding the arc of visibility and location of sidelights; Rule 21(c) regarding the arc of visibility and location of the stern light; Annex I, section 2(a) (i), regarding the height of the masthead light; and Annex I, section 2(k), regarding the height of the anchor lights, without interfering with their special functions. The Secretary of the Navy has also certified that the above-mentioned lights are located in closest possible compliance with the applicable 72 COLREGS requirements.

This amendment also provides notice that the Secretary of the Navy has exempted USS Memphis and USS Omaha from full compliance with certain provisions of the 72 COLREGS pursuant to 72 COLREGS Rule 38. The Secretary of the Navy has determined that the keels of these ships were laid prior to July 15, 1977, and that the ships comply with the requirements of the International Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea, 1960. These ships are members of the SSN 688 class; therefore, the exemptions granted for that class in the existing tables in § 706.3 are applicable.

Since this amendment pertains to a military and foreign-affairs function of the United States, the rule making requirements of 5 U.S.C. 553 do not apply.

Accordingly, 32 CFR Part 706 is amended as follows:

§ 706.2 [Amended]

1. The third Table One of § 706.2 is amended by inserting the following between "USS Philadelphia SSN-690 6.10" and "USS George Washington SSN-598 4.11":

U.S.S. Memphis	SSN-691	6.10

2. The fourth Table Three of § 706.2 is amended by inserting the following between "USS Philadelphia SSN-690 236° 115' 552° 4.2 6.1 2.0 1.6 below" and "USS George Washington SSN-598 240° 118° 255° 3.8 46.0 2.1 0.6 below":

FILBERT IMPORTS

Proposed Grade and Size Standard Requirements

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Proposed regulation.

SUMMARY: This proposal would require that all filberts imported into the United States meet the same grade and size standards required of filberts grown in Oregon and Washington. This regulation would implement a recent amendment to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937.

DATES: Written comments to this proposal must be received by December 16, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Written comment should be submitted in duplicate to the Hearing Clerk, Room 1077, South Building, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. All written submissions will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250 (202-447-3545).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This proposal would regulate the importation of filberts as required by section 8e (7 U.S.C. 608e-1) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674; and as further amended by Public Law 95-113 approved September 29, 1977), hereinafter referred to as the "act".

Section 8e of the act provides, in part, that whenever a marketing order issued by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to section 8c of the act (7 U.S.C. 608c) contains any terms or conditions regulating the grade, size, quality, or maturity of filberts produced in the United States, the importation of filberts into the United States shall be prohibited during the period of time the order is in effect, unless the imported commodity complies with the grade, size, quality, and maturity provisions of the order or comparable restrictions promulgated under section 8e. Order No. 982, as amended (7 CFR Part 982), regulating the handling of filberts grown in Oregon and Washington (hereinafter referred to as the "order"), contains terms and conditions regulating the grade and size of filberts. Virtually all commercially produced U.S. filberts are grown in these two States.

The proposal contains grade and size requirements identical to those for filberts grown in Oregon and Washington and handled under the order. All inshell filberts shall be of a quality equal to or better than the requirements of U.S. No. 1 grade and medium size as defined in the U.S. Standards for Filberts in The Shell. This requirement is identical to Oregon No. 1 grade and medium size as defined in the Oregon Standards Filberts In Shell and prescribed for inshell filberts under the order.

All shelled filberts shall be of a quality equal to or better than the requirements prescribed in Exhibit A of the import regulation. These requirements are identical to the requirements for Oregon No. 1 whole and broken grade for shelled filberts as contained in Oregon Grade Standards for Filbert (Hazelnut) Kernels, and prescribed for shelled filberts under the order.

Also included in the proposal are other requirements which pertain to the importation of filberts (e.g., inspection and certification, reconditioning, exemptions and compliance).

The proposal is as follows:

§ 999.400 Regulation governing the importation of filberts.

(a) Definitions.—(1) "Filberts" means filberts or hazelnuts.

(2) "Inshell filberts" means filberts, the kernels or edible portions of which are contained in the shell.

(3) "Shelled filberts" means the kernels of filberts after the shells are removed.

(4) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business unit.

(5) "USDA inspector" means a Federal or Federal-State inspector, Fruit and Vegetable Quality Division, Food Safety and Quality Service, United States Department of Agriculture, or any other duly authorized employee of the USDA.

(6) "Importation" means release from custody of the United States Bureau of Customs.

(b) Grade and size requirements.—Except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section, no person shall import into the United States any lot of filberts unless the filberts meet the following requirements, which are identical to those for filberts grown in Oregon and Washington and handled pursuant to Order No. 982, as amended (7 CFR Part 982):

(1) Inshell filberts. All inshell filberts shall be of a quality equal to or better than the requirements of U.S. No. 1 grade and medium size as defined in the U.S. Standards for Filberts in The Shell (7 CFR 51). The U.S. No. 1 grade, medium size is identical to the Oregon No. 1 grade, medium size (as defined in the Oregon Grade Standards Filberts in Shell) and prescribed for inshell filberts under Order No. 982, as amended.

(2) Shelled filberts. All shelled filberts shall be of a quality equal to or better than the requirements prescribed in Exhibit A of this section. These requirements are identical to the requirements for Oregon No. 1 whole and broken grade for shelled filberts (as contained in Oregon Grade Standards for Filbert (Hazelnut) Kernels and prescribed for shelled filberts under Order No. 982, as amended).

(c) Inspection and certification requirements.—(1) General. Compliance with the grade and size requirements of paragraph (b) of this section shall be determined on the basis of an inspection and certification by a USDA inspector.

(2) Inspection. Inspection shall be performed by USDA inspectors in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Inspection and Certification of Fresh Fruits and Vegetables and Related Products (7 CFR Part 51). The cost of each such inspection and related certification shall be borne by the applicant. Whenever filberts are offered for inspection, the applicant shall furnish any labor and pay any costs incurred in moving and opening containers as may be necessary for proper sampling and inspection. The applicant shall also furnish the USDA inspector the entry number and such other identifying information for each lot as he may request. Inspection must be completed prior to the importation of filberts. The applicant should make advance arrangements with the USDA inspection office to avoid delay in scheduling the inspection.

(3) Certification. Each lot of filberts inspected in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall be covered by an inspection certificate. Each such certificate shall set forth, among other things, the following:

(i) The date and place of inspection.
(ii) The name of the applicant.
(iii) The name of the importer.
(iv) The quantity, and identifying marks of the lot inspected.

(v) The statement, if applicable: "Meets U.S. import requirements under section 8e of the AMA Act of 1937".

(vi) If the lot fails to meet the import requirements, a statement to that effect and the reasons therefor.

(d) Exemptions. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the importation of any lot of filberts which does not exceed 115 pounds in net weight shall be exempt from the requirements of this section.

(e) Reconditioning prior to importation. Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to preclude reconditioning filberts prior to importation, in order that such filberts may be made eligible to meet the applicable grade and size regulations prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section.

(f) Other restrictions. The provisions of this section do not supersede the Federal Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, or any other applicable laws or regulations or the need to comply with applicable food and sanitary regulations of city, county, State, or Federal agencies.

(g) Compliance. Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be subject to a forfeiture in the amount prescribed in section 8a(5) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (Secs. 1-19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601-674), or, upon conviction, a penalty in the amount prescribed in section 8c(14) of said act, or to both such forfeiture and penalty. False representations to any agency of the United States on any matter within its jurisdiction, knowing it to be false, is a violation of 18 U.S.C. 1001 which provides for a fine or imprisonment or both.

EXHIBIT A

GRADE REQUIREMENTS FOR SHELLED FILBERTS

Filbert kernels or portions of filbert kernels shall meet the following requirements:

- (1) Well dried; and
- (2) Clean.
- (3) Free from:
 - (i) Foreign material;
 - (ii) Mold;
 - (iii) Rancidity; or
 - (iv) Insect injury
- (4) Free from serious damage caused by:
 - (i) Serious shriveling; or
 - (ii) Other means.
- (5) Size; No size requirements.

TOLERANCES

In order to allow for variation incident to proper grading and handling the following tolerances, by weight, are permitted as specified:

- (1) For foreign material: 0.02 of one percent, for foreign material.
- (2) For defects: Five percent for kernels or portions of kernels which are below the requirements of this grade; including not more than one percent for moldy, rancidity or insect injury.

APPLICATION OF STANDARDS

The grade of a lot of filbert kernels shall be determined on the basis of a composite sample drawn from containers in various locations in the lot. However, any container or group of containers in which the filberts are obviously of a quality, type, or size materially different from that in the majority of containers shall be considered a separate lot, and shall be sampled separately.

DEFINITIONS

Similar type

"Similar type" means that the kernels are of the same general type and appearance. For example, kernels of the round type shall not be mixed with those of the long type. Color of the kernels shall not be considered, since there is often a marked difference in skin color of kernels of similar type.

Well dried

"Well dried" means that the kernels are firm and crisp, not containing more than 6 percent moisture.

Clean

"Clean" means practically free from plainly visible adhering dirt or other foreign material.

Foreign material

"Foreign material" means any substance other than the filbert kernel, or portions of kernels. (Loose skins, pellicles or corky tissue which have become separated from the kernels shall not be considered as foreign materials; provided that this material does not exceed .02 of one percent by weight).

Serious damage

"Serious damage" means any specific defect described in this section; or an equally objectionable variation of any one of these defects, or any other defect, or any combination of defects, which seriously detracts from the appearance or the edible or marketing quality of the individual portion of kernel or of the lot as a whole. The following defects shall be considered as serious damage:

(a) "Serious Shriveling" means when the kernel is seriously shrunken, wrinkled and tough.

(b) "Moldy" means that there is a visible growth of mold either on the outside or inside of the kernel.

(c) "Rancidity" means that the kernel is noticeably rancid to the taste. An oily appearance of the flesh does not necessarily indicate a rancid condition.

(d) "Insect injury" means that the insect, frass or web is present, or the kernel or portion of kernel show definite evidence of insect feeding.

TOBACCO LOAN PROGRAM

1977 Burley Tobacco Grade Loan Rates

AGENCY: Commodity Credit Corporation, USDA.

PROPOSED RULES

ACTION: Proposed Rule.

SUMMARY: This proposal would establish the grade loan rates to be applied to the various grades of 1977 crop burley tobacco to provide price support as required by the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended. This action will provide producers with appropriate levels of support for the various grades of tobacco.

DATES: Comments must be received by November 11, 1977, to be sure of consideration.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to the Director, Price Support and Loan Division, ASCS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Robert P. Hieronymus, 202-447-5753.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 106 of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, requires that the 1977 crop of burley tobacco be supported at the level of 117.3 cents per pound. The average level of support for burley tobacco is increased by 7.3 percent over the 1976 level. It is anticipated that price support will be provided through loans to producer associations which will receive the tobacco from the producers and advance to the producers the support price for the tobacco received. In accordance with Section 403 of the Act, the price support advances will be based on grade loan rates which will average the required level of support when weighted by the anticipated grade percentages.

The public is invited to submit written data, views and recommendations to the Director, Price Support and Loan Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, USDA, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the Office of the Director during regular business hours (8:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.).

PROPOSED RULE

Under the Tobacco Loan Program published in this Part, Commodity Credit Corporation proposes to establish loan rates by grades for the 1977 crop of burley tobacco, type 31, as set forth herein. These proposed rates are calculated to provide the level of support of 117.3 cents per pound as determined under Section 106 of the Agricultural Act of 1949 (7 U.S.C. 1445). Accordingly, it is proposed that 7 CFR 1464.21 be revised to read as follows:

¹ Only the original producer is eligible to receive advances. Tobacco graded "U" (unsound), "W" (wet), "No-G" (no-grade), or scrap will not be accepted. Cooperatives are authorized to deduct $1 per hundred pounds to apply against overhead costs.

[7 CFR Part 2852]

PREPARATION FOR UPDATING THE U.S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF GRAPEFRUIT JUICE

AGENCY: Food Safety and Quality Service, USDA.

ACTION: Solicitation of Views and Comments.

SUMMARY: Take notice that the Fruit and Vegetable Quality Division of the Food Safety and Quality Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, is encouraging citizens' participation in updating the standards for grapefruit juice. These standards are used to assign a quality grade (A, B or Substandard) to grapefruit juice. The quality grade is based on three factors: (1) Color of the juice; (2) absence of defects (seed particles, specks, membrane particles, core and peel); and (3) flavor of the juice (naturally occurring sugar, added sugar, naturally occurring acid, sugar-acid balance and bitterness).

DATE: Comments must be received on or before January 10, 1978.

ADDRESS: Send comments to: Chief, Processed Products Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Quality Division, Food Safety and Quality Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Comments will be available for public inspection at the same address during regular business hours.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Dale C. Dunham, Processed Products Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Quality Division, Food Safety and Quality Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250 (202-447-4693).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Two color types of grapefruit are grown in the United States—white (white-fleshed grapefruit) and pink (pink or red-fleshed grapefruit). Each color type is used in the commercial production of grapefruit juice.

Grapefruit juice varies in color because: (1) The juice is made from all white-fleshed grapefruit; (2) the juice is made from all pink-fleshed grapefruit; (3) the juice is made from mixed white-fleshed grapefruit and pink-fleshed grapefruit; or (4) the juice is processed from grapefruit harvested in the fall, winter or spring months (natural pigments in grapefruit change color as the fruit ripens).

Good color does not necessarily indicate good flavor in grapefruit juice. Just the opposite occurs in fully-ripened white-fleshed grapefruit—the juice is more amber color and less bright while the flavor is generally considered at its peak. Currently, the U.S. standards assign a lower quality grade to grapefruit juice which is amber color and somewhat dull. The color is usually the only reason for the lower quality grade. There is reason to believe that the standards should be changed if this is a fault.

On the other hand there is also reason to believe that if color is reduced in importance for determining the quality grade, less desirable fruit such as hybrids (cross between grapefruit and other citrus fruits), could be added in small amounts and receive a "grade A" quality grade. The possibility that this situation could occur would be greatest during the fall crop. There would be less chance of it occurring during the winter and spring crops because of availability of the hybrid fruit.

The USDA has been requested to update the U.S. standards for grades of grapefruit juice. The following are options relative to the grapefruit juice standards:

PROPOSED RULES

Choice	Suggested advantages	Suggested disadvantages
Retain the current U.S. standards unchanged.	Either poor color or poor flavor limits juice to lower quality grades.	Color is given too much importance. Mixed juice (white and pink) is limited to a lower quality grade. Juice from properly ripened grapefruit may be assigned a lower quality grade only because of color. Hybrid fruit could be added in small amounts.
Option No. 1—Revise the current U.S. standards by making color non-limiting in grade A and grade B.	More accurately evaluate the quality of juice from ripe grapefruit by putting more emphasis on flavor and less emphasis on color. Permits blending of juice from white grape fruit and pink grapefruit.	Only flavor would limit juice which has both poor color and poor flavor to lower quality grades. Hybrid fruit could be added in small amounts.
Option No. 2—Revise current U.S. standards by partial limiting rule for color (permits top grade B color in "grade A" quality grade).	do	Difficult to determine top "grade B" color from bottom "grade B" color with the trained eye. Only an instrument can make the determination.
Option No. 3—Revise the current U.S. standards by partial limiting rule for color and flavor (permits poorer color only when accompanied by better flavor).	do	The critical cutoff point between low A and high A flavor is difficult to judge.
Option No. 4—Revise current U.S. standards by eliminating color as a quality factor.	Color could be determined by an instrument and reported as either white or pink. Very equitable.	Ignores color as a factor in the quality grade of grapefruit juice.

Comments, suggestions, and recommendations will be welcome until January 10, 1978, and should be sent to:

Chief, Processed Products Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Quality Division, FSQS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

The response would be used to develop a formal notice of proposed rulemaking at a later date.

Dated: October 3, 1977.

Administrator.

SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME FOR THE AGED, BLIND, AND DISABLED

Referral of Blind and Disabled Individuals For Appropriate Rehabilitation Services

AGENCY: Social Security Administration, HEW.

ACTION: Notice of Proposed Rule Making.

SUMMARY: This proposed rule implements amendments to the Social Security Act which were enacted and effective October 20, 1976 relating to the supplemental security income for the aged, blind, and disabled program. This legislation requires the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to (1) refer blind or disabled individuals age 16 or over and under age 65 who are receiving Supplemental Security Income benefits to the appropriate State Agency administering the State plan for vocational rehabilitation, and (2) to refer blind and disabled children under age 16 who are receiving Supplemental Security Income benefits, to the agency administering the State plan for crippled children's services under title V of the Social Security Act or to another agency (which administers programs providing services to disabled children and which the Governor of the State has determined is capable of administering the State plan in a more efficient and effective manner) for appropriate services. Also, the law as amended no longer requires that all blind and disabled persons must accept vocational rehabilitation services in order to be eligible for benefits. Under the amended law, this requirement applies only to persons age 16 or over. The proposed amendments to the regulations reflect these changes in the law.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before November 28, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Prior to final adoption of the proposed amendments to the regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Commissioner of Social Security, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, P.O. Box 1585, Baltimore, Md. 21203. Copies of all comments received in response to this notice will be available for public inspection during regular business hours at the Washington Inquiries Section, Office of Information, Social Security Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, North Building, Room 5131, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20201.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Prior to passage of Pub. L. 94-566, title XVI of the Social Security Act (Supplemental Security Income For The Aged, Blind, and Disabled (SSI)) provided for referral of all individuals (including children) receiving SSI benefits because of blindness or disability, to the State agency administering the State plan for vocational rehabilitation services approved under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. Chapter 16). There was no provision in the law for rehabilitation services specifically suitable for children.

As required by section 501(b) of Pub. L. 94-566, medical criteria for determining disability (as defined in section 1614(a)(3) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1382c)) of children under age 18 were published as final regulations on March 16, 1977, in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 14705). Regulations relating to vocational rehabilitation services for children under age 16 and the criteria for approval of State plans and any other regulations necessary to the proper administration of the program will be issued at a later date.

The proposed amendments are to be issued under the authority of sections 1102 and 1615 of the Social Security Act, as amended; 49 Stat. 647, as amended; 86 Stat. 1474, as amended; 42 U.S.C. 1302, and 1382d.

1. Section 416.1703 is revised to read as follows:

§ 416.1703 Referral of blind and disabled individuals for appropriate services.

(a) Individuals age 16 or over. A disabled or blind individual age 16 or over and under age 65 who is receiving benefits under this part is referred to the appropriate State agency administering the State plan for vocational rehabilitation services approved under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (see also 45 CFR 401.120ff published at 39 FR 25436, July 10, 1974) for a review of that individual's need for and utilization of available vocational rehabilitation services.

(b) Individuals under age 16. A disabled or blind individual who has not attained age 16 is referred for appropriate services to (1) the State agency administering the State plan for crippled children's services under title V of the Social Security Act, or (2) another agency providing services to disabled children which the Governor of the State has determined is capable of administering the State plan in a more efficient and effective manner.

(c) Such referrals are made:

(1) At the time it is determined that an individual is eligible for benefits based on disability or blindness; and

VETERANS EDUCATION

Prompt Refunds

AGENCY: Veterans Administration.

ACTION: Proposed Rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment is intended to provide a definition of "prompt refund" to correct a problem arising from unreasonable delay by some schools in making refunds. It is hoped that the schools will be more expeditious and uniform in their refunds.

An error is also corrected which has erroneously told the schools to refund the portion of the tuition earned and to keep the portion not earned. The rule is correctly stated in all places except one where this erroneous phrasing is longstanding.

The Veterans Administration also makes editorial changes which reflect the agency's policy of using precise terms for gender in its regulations.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before November 11, 1977. It is proposed to make this amendment effective the date of final approval.

ADDRESSES: Send written comments to: Administrator of Veterans Affairs (271A), Veterans Administration, 810 Vermont Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20420.

Comments will be available for inspection at the address shown above during normal business hours until November 21, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

June C. Schaeffer, Assistant Director for Benefits and Facilities, Education and Rehabilitation Service, Department of Veterans Benefits, Veterans Administration, 810 Vermont Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20420 (202-389-2092).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 21.4255 is based upon an earlier Korean Conflict regulation. At some point in time in the past the Korean Conflict regulation contained the language regarding refunds currently found in § 21.4254(c) (13). It was then amended to include elsewhere in its provisions, the same principles stated in § 21.4255(e), at which time the author apparently mistakenly referred to the "refund" rather than "charge" to be made upon pro rata refund determinations. The effect of the shift in language is to require the school to refund to the student the amount of tuition earned by the school and to keep the amount of the tuition not earned by the school. Obviously, this is the reverse of the correct result.

A new paragraph (f) is added to provide for nonaccredited courses the same definition of "prompt" refund provided in § 21.4256 for correspondence courses. The same problem regarding delay in the payment of refunds to the students as existed in correspondence courses exists in the case of nonaccredited courses. The intent is to make clear to the parties involved what minimum delay will be acceptable.

ADDITIONAL COMMENT INFORMATION

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposal to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs (271A), Veterans Administration, 810 Vermont Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20420. All written comments received will be available for public inspection at the above address only between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday (except holidays), until November 21, 1977. Any person visiting Central Office for the purpose of inspecting any such comments will be received by the Central Office Veterans Services Unit in room 132. Such visitors to any VA field station will be informed that the records are available for inspection only in Central Office and furnished the address and the above room number.

ECONOMIC IMPACT: The Veterans Administration has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and OMB Circular A-107.

Approved: October 4, 1977.

By direction of the Administrator.

RUFUS H. WILSON,
Deputy Administrator.

It is proposed to amend 38 CFR Part 21 as follows:

In § 21.4255, paragraphs (d) and (e) are revised and paragraph (f) is added so that the revised and added material reads as follows:

§ 21.4255 Refund policy; nonaccredited courses.

A refund policy will meet the requirements of § 21.4254(c) (13), if it provides that the amount charged for tuition, fees, and other charges for a portion of the course does not exceed the approximate pro rata portion of the total charges for tuition, fees, and other charges that the length of the completed portion of the course bears to the total length when the school makes provision for refund within the following limitations:

(d) Books, supplies, and equipment. Where the veteran or eligible person purchases his or her books, supplies, and equipment from a bookstore or other source, and the cost of such items is separate and independent from the charge made by the school for tuition and fees, he or she may retain or dispose of such items at his or her own discretion. Where the school furnishes the books, supplies, and equipment, with the cost thereof included in the total charge payable to the school for the course, and the veteran or eligible person withdraws or is discontinued prior to the completion of the course, refund will be made in full for the amount of the charge for the unissued books, supplies, and equipment. Issued items may be disposed of at the discretion of the veteran or eligible person.

(e) Tuition and other charges. Where the school either has or adopts an established policy for the refund of the unused portion of tuition, fees, and other charges subject to proration, which is more favorable to the veteran or eligible person than the approximate pro rata basis as provided in this section, such established policy will be applicable. Otherwise, the school may charge a sum which does not vary more than 10 percent from the exact pro rata portion of such tuition, fees, and other charges that the length of the completed portion of the course bears to its total length. The exact proration will be determined on the ratio of the number of days of instruction completed by the student to the total number of instructional days in the course.

(f) Prompt refund. In the event that the veteran, spouse, surviving spouse or child fails to enter the course or withdraws or is discontinued therefrom at any time prior to completion of the course, the unused portion of the tuition, fees and other charges paid by the individual shall be refunded promptly. Any institution which fails to forward any refund due within 40 days after such a change in status, shall be deemed, prima facie, to have failed to make a prompt refund, as required by this section.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Commodity Credit Corporation UNIFORM GRAIN STORAGE AGREEMENT

Proposed Uniform Storage and Handling Rate System

AGENCY: Commodity Credit Corporation, USDA.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: Notice is given that The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) is considering returning to a National uniform rate system for handling and storage of grain under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement (UGSA) and rice under The Uniform Rice Storage Agreement (URSA) for the 1978-79 contract year beginning July 1, 1978. The proposed uniform rate system which was used from 1940 to 1974 would replace the offer rate system now in use under the UGSA and the URSA. The proposal is prompted by problems encountered in the administration of the Department's loan and inventory management programs through use of the offer rate system.

DATES: Comments must be received by November 11, 1977.

ADDRESS: Written comments should be directed to Paul W. King, Acting Director, Inventory Management Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Tyrus Matsuoka (ASCS), 202-447-4068 P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The uniform rate or rates would be based on current costs of storage and handling of grains and rice throughout the United States, and updated by taking into consideration known indices which reflect changes in the cost of doing business. CCC would pay receiving, loadout, and storage charges on CCC-owned, forfeited and extended loan grain and rice based on uniform rates incorporated into the UGSA and the URSA. The uniform rate(s) will continue in effect until superseded at a subsequent renewal date (July 1) as provided in sections 31 of the UGSA and the URSA. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Acting Director (Room 5768 of South Building) during regular business hours, 8:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Signed at Washington, D.C., on October 5, 1977.

RAY FITZGERALD,
Executive Vice President,

Manufacturer: Carl Zeiss, West Germany. Intended use of article: the article is intended to be used in the study of the morphology and function of structures involved in meiotic crossing-over by comparing wild-type (crossover proficient) and crossover deficient mutants in Drosophila melanogaster females. Specific experiments to be conducted involve reconstruction analysis of the synaptonemal complex of the recombination nodule performed in wild-type and in each of the 10 crossover defective mutants. Various crossover-defective mutants are being used as probes into the function of the two known structures involved in meiotic crossing-over by determining whether and how these mutants alter the quantitative and qualitative parameters; they are also being used as probes for other structures by asking whether they affect any structures not presently thought to be involved in meiotic crossing-over. COMMUNITY SERVICES ADMINISTRATION PUBLIC POLICY FORUMS Future Programs and Priorities in CSA's War Against Poverty; Notice of Hearing, Roanoke, Va.

Roanoke, Va. will be the site of a Public Policy Forum held by the Community Services Administration, the Federal anti-poverty agency.

CSA's legislation, the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 as amended, requires that CSA be an advocate on behalf of the poor; that it be a "national laboratory" for developing new or more effective ways to combat poverty in America; and that it provide direct services to poor people who are not served, or who are under-served, by other agencies.

Through the Public Policy Forum CSA wants to learn, especially from the poor themselves, what people believe the Agency should do to meet its legislative mandate in the future. For example, what should CSA do differently which will help poor people in such areas as housing, energy, economic development, and aging? What should CSA's priorities be in the next three years?

CSA wishes to hear from its constituents on these questions. Therefore, the public residing within the area of Federal Region III (Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia) is invited to participate in these public hearings to be held October 14 and 15, 1977, in Roanoke, Va. Anyone interested can participate by registering and speaking or submitting a written statement if unable to appear personally. Each participant will have an opportunity to make a five minute statement which will be followed by a short discussion with the CSA panel which will be chaired by CSA's Deputy Director, William W. Allison.

CSA also invites and welcomes the attendance of the general public at this hearing.

If you wish to present your views and ideas to the panel, please call Ted Edlich or Charlene Chambers, Total Action Against Poverty in Roanoke Valley (TAP), Roanoke, Va., 703-345-6781.

STATE OF MINNESOTA

Determination of Primary Enforcement Responsibility

This public notice is issued under section 1413 of the Safe Drinking Water Act, Pub. L. 93-523, December 16, 1974, and § 142.10 of the National Interim Primary Drinking Water Regulations, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 20, 1976.

A submission, dated May 20, 1977, has been received from the Commissioner of Health, requesting a determination that the Minnesota Department of Health has met requirements for primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems in the State of Minnesota, in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

In response, I determined on July 22, 1977, that the Minnesota Department of Health has met all conditions of the Safe Drinking Water Act and subsequent regulations for the assumption of primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems in the State of Minnesota. The State—

(1) Has adopted drinking water regulations which are no less stringent than the National Interim Primary Drinking Water Regulations;

(2) Has adopted and will implement adequate procedures for the enforcement of such State regulations, including adequate monitoring and inspections;

(3) Will keep such records and make such reports as required;

(4) Will issue variances and exemptions in accordance with the provisions of the National Interim Primary Drinking Water Regulations;

(5) Has adopted and can implement an adequate plan for the provision of safe drinking water under emergency circumstances.

A copy of my preliminary determination was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 5, 1977. At that time I asked for public comment and scheduled a public hearing to consider this application. The hearing was held on August 31, 1977. No comments adverse to my preliminary decision have been received, either during the public comment period or at the public hearing.

Therefore, I am affirming my determination that the Minnesota Department of Health has met all conditions of the Safe Drinking Water Act and subsequent regulations for the assumption of primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems in the State of Minnesota.

Dated: September 26, 1977.

RESOURCE CONSERVATION COMMITTEE Public Meeting

The Resource Conservation Committee is the cabinet level interagency committee set up under Section 8002(j) of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act. The Committee is responsible for studying and making recommendations on a wide range of resource conservation policies.

This Committee is attempting to gather public comments and input on the issue of Federal legislation for beverage container deposits. It is charged with the responsibility of reporting to the President and the Congress late this year on the subject. Input from the public is solicited to assist and guide this committee in reaching a position on beverage container deposit legislation. As one method of gathering pertinent information, a public meeting has been scheduled on October 19, 1977, 9 a.m. at the Department of Commerce, 14th and Constitution Avenue, NW., Main Auditorium.

This meeting will provide an opportunity for a brief oral presentation. The following questions highlight the issues for which public input is sought:

1. What should the Resource Conservation Committee recommend regarding the development of Federal beverage container legislation? Should the Federal Government set general guidelines or develop specific container legislation?
2. What alternatives to beverage container deposit legislation will accomplish similar results and what are their relative impacts on pollution and energy and materials consumption?
3. Should there be more guidelines for the States to develop their own respective legislation? If Federal legislation were developed, should it supersede State and local laws?

4. What are the economic consequences, both positive and negative, of resource conservation as it relates to beverage container legislation or guidelines? Should there be compensation for economic losses and, if so, how should this be accomplished? Should any requirements be levied on unrefunded deposits?
6. What are the environmental impacts, both positive and negative, which may occur as a result of beverage container legislation or guidelines?
7. Is additional research on this subject necessary prior to a legislative proposal or the promulgation of guidelines? What should such research focus upon?
8. What are the key elements that should appear in beverage container guidelines or legislation?
9. To what extent should this committee consider the type of beverage container charge? Should charges be focused upon the type of beverages or should they be focused on the type of container? Should the Committee consider containers other than beverage containers?

10. What should be the limits on the deposits considered? Should they focus upon the size, the value of the container, the solid waste management costs, including litter pickup, the incentive necessary to assure high rates of return, or other factors? To what degree should container guidelines or legislation develop requirements on issues such as pull-top containers, or the standardization of containers? Where in the distribution chain is the best point for a deposit to originate?
11. If beverage container deposit legislation is to be considered by the committee, how should its implementation be developed? To what extent are cost data available for the variety of State and local programs addressing beverage container legislation?

Interested parties who are unable to attend or wish to make more extended comment, are encouraged to submit written comments, with the assurance that they will receive equally complete consideration by the Committee. Written comments must be received by Susan Mann by November 2, 1977.

Comments and questions should be directed to Susan B. Mann, Public Participation Liaison, Resource Conservation Committee (WH-463), 401 M Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20460 (202) 755-9145.

INTERAGENCY TESTING COMMITTEE REPORT

Receipt and Request for Comments

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

SUMMARY: EPA has received from the Interagency Testing Committee established under section 4(e) of the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) a report identifying chemical substances and mixtures which the Committee recommends that EPA give priority consideration for promulgation for testing rules under section 4 of the Act. This report appeared October 12, 1977, in the Federal Register. In accordance with section 4(e)(1)(B), the Agency is providing a 90-day period in which interested persons are invited to submit comments on the Committee's report.

BACKGROUND: Section 4 of TSCA authorizes the EPA Administrator to promulgate regulations requiring testing of chemicals in order to develop data relevant to a determination of the risks which such chemicals may present to human health and the environment.

Section 4(e) establishes an Interagency Testing Committee and requires the Committee to submit its initial recommendations as to testing priorities by October 1, 1977. These recommendations are required to be in the form of a list of chemicals or groups of chemicals, together with the Committee's reasons for each recommendation. The Agency is required to initiate rulemaking for these chemicals within 12 months of their inclusion on the priority list or to publicly state its reasons for not doing so.

AVAILABILITY: The Committee's report appeared October 12, 1977, in the Federal Register. Persons wishing to receive additional copies should call or write to:

Mrs. Phyllis Tucker, Council on Environmental Quality, 722 Jackson Place NW., Washington, D.C. 20006, 202-633-7074.

In developing its report, the Testing Committee relied almost exclusively on published or other generally available information. A number of general references are given in the report; references for specific chemicals are expected to be included in the dossiers which the Testing Committee plans to provide to EPA in the next few weeks. Results of the Testing Committee's scoring of chemicals for their exposure and biological activity are available for public inspection at the EPA library, 401 M Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20460, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays. Public comments on the Testing Committee's preliminary list, published in July 1977, are also available at the EPA library.

REQUEST FOR COMMENTS: EPA invites all interested persons to submit comments on all aspects of the Testing Committee's report, including its recommendations. In view of the statutory deadline for initiating rulemaking (or stating reasons for not doing so), the Agency requests that comments be submitted no later than January 12, 1978.

Comments should bear the identifying notation OTS-040002 and should be submitted in triplicate to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Office of Toxic Substances (WH-557), Federal Register Section, 401 M Street, SW., Washington, D.C. All written comments will be available for public inspection in Room 619, East Tower, at the same address, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

Dated: October 7, 1977.

DOUGLAS M. COSTLE,
Administrator.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[FCC 77-664; CSR-1095, etc.]

FREMONT CABLE TV, INC.

Declaratory Ruling and Order

Adopted: September 21, 1977.

Released: October 5, 1977.

In re: Fremont Cable TV, Inc., Fremont, Calif., CSR-1095, CSC-174 (CA010), petition for special relief, petition for order to show cause.

1. Section 76.55 of the Commission's rules provides, in part:

(a) Where a television broadcast signal is required to be carried by a community unit, pursuant to the rules in this subpart:

(2) The signal shall, on request of the station licensee or permittee, be carried on the system on the channel number on which the station is transmitting, except where technically infeasible;

At issue in the above-captioned matters is whether the arrangement of the channel selector provided by Fremont Cable TV, Inc. to the subscribers of its cable television system at Fremont, Calif., is in compliance with this rule.

2. The cable television system has a 30-channel capacity. Subscribers select the desired signal to view by using a channel selector provided by the cable system, rather than using the channel selector on their television receivers. The face of this channel selector is rectangular in shape and includes 15 channel selection buttons arranged horizontally. In order to utilize 30 channels using only 15 selector buttons, two signals are controlled by each button. Above the buttons is a label indicating in two rows the channel numbers and call signs of the stations which may be received. Another switch determines whether the subscriber will view the signals designated on the top row of the label or the signals designated on the bottom row of the label. (Although not so designated on the channel selectors, petitioners refer to these as the A and B banks or bands.) Thus, to select a particular signal to view, the subscriber depresses the appropriate one of the 15 buttons and adjusts a second switch, in either order. (See appendix)

3. Petitioners are two television broadcast stations each of whom contends that it is not located at the appropriate position on the channel selector. In CSR-1095, Miami Valley Broadcasting Corp., licensee of Station KTVU (Ind., Channel 2), Oakland, Calif., requests a ruling that it is entitled to be carried at the second position on the "A" (top) band, rather than elsewhere. In CSC-174, Chronicle Broadcasting Co., licensee of Television Broadcast Station KRON (NEC, Channel 4), San Francisco, Calif., requests that the cable system be ordered to cease and desist from violation of the Rules because the signal of Station KRON is not located on the channel selector at the fourth position on the "A" (top) band. In each proceeding, Fremont Cable TV filed opposition comments to which petitioner replied. KTVU also filed a statement in support of KRON's petition.

ARGUMENTS

4. Station KTVU, Channel 2, appears at the first position of the second row of the label on the channel selector. It requests to be carried on channel "2A" rather than channel "1B." KTVU argues that its current carriage position thwarts its interest in developing and maintaining its identity and results in viewer confusion as to its channel identity. Its concern is in possible audience error in identifying KTVU in audience surveys. Moreover, it argues that carriage of its signal on channel "2B" would also violate the rule. It contends that the rule was designed to make channel configurations on cable systems resemble off-air configurations. It notes that the other market VHF stations, its competitors, are carried on the "A" band; yet its signal is relegated to the "B" band along with specialty stations whose programming is of limited appeal and less attractive. Thus, it states that it is at a competitive disadvantage. The rule, it argues, was designed to maintain the same local competitive situation; "on channel carriage" includes "on band" carriage. Therefore, it argues that its signal is carried off-channel contrary to the rule.

5. Station KRON, Channel 4, appears at the 12th position of the first row of the label on the channel selector ("12A"). Since it is not being carried on channel "4A," it contends that it is being carried off-channel; thus an order to show cause should be issued.

6. Fremont Cable TV argues that it is in strict compliance with § 76.55(a)(2). The cable system has done specifically what the rule required. The signal is available to all subscribers. Every station is labeled as clearly as possible. The channel selection buttons are not identified by number. It argues that there is no possible confusion for any subscriber. The cable system states that no subscriber, if asked, would suggest that he was watching "channel 1B."

7. Fremont Cable TV further argues that petitioners have not shown themselves adversely affected by the status quo. Yet granting the petitions would impose a substantial burden on the cable system. Change might require relicensing the microwave facilities which use AML-delivered frequencies. Also, the existing channel traps, used to prevent non-paying subscribers from receiving the pay-TV signal, can be used on only one channel. Redesignating the channel used for pay-TV would necessitate the purchase and installation of 4,000 new traps (at $8 each), and pay-TV operations would have to cease during the conversion period due to agreements with pay-TV program suppliers.

8. In reply, Station KTVU stresses that the cost of complying with the rule does not excuse non-compliance, and thus provides no basis for denial of the request. Yet the status quo places KTVU at a competitive disadvantage with its VHF market competitors. KTVU again argues that § 76.55(a)(2) requires on-channel on-band carriage. The "B" band is less attractive and can result in viewer confusion and a decline in KTVU's local channel identity. The purpose of the rule is to maintain off-air channel configurations.

9. In its reply, Station KRON states that there is no factual dispute, nor is there controlling Commission precedent. KRON notes that the first four channel positions are reserved for use by the cable system. Two stations on the top row are not in normal sequence: Station KCRA-TV, Channel 3, is at the sixth position; Station KRON, Channel 4, is at the 12th position. It states that there is no technical reason for KRON to be at the 12th position rather than the fourth position. It summarizes Fremont's argument to be that compliance with the rule exists upon the posting of a channel number and call sign on any button, irrespective of where the button is located on the converter. Yet, KRON argues, the sequence followed by the ordinary viewer in selecting a program would be like that used in reading or writing, i.e., proceeding from left to right on the first row before repeating the procedure for the second row.² KRON contends that, were the Commission to agree with the cable system's argument, then a cable system using a circular dial could rearrange the channel numbers out of sequence and in any manner, so long as the correct channel number appeared. Such an argument, it suggests, would quickly be rejected.

DECISION

10. The cable television system has complied with the rule. The purpose of the rule was to assure, wherever possible, that the channel number indicated on the channel selector corresponded with the number designation of the channel whose signal appeared on the screen of the television receiver. Here, the selection buttons are not numbered. The only numbers on the channel selector are those of the corresponding television channels. The rules does not refer to sequence of numbering. What one station might believe to be the proper layout for numbering on a particular channel selector might be inappropriate to another station. Here, others may believe the preferred location to be that nearest the selection buttons. Moreover, here the channel selector not only indicates the correct corresponding channel number as provided by the rule, but also the call sign of the station. It serves little purpose for the Commission to examine each type of channel selector which may appear when the purpose of the rule has been met. In discussing the language of this rule in regard to rules which preceded the current rule, the Commission stated: "So long as the requirements of the rules are met, the CATV operator should be free to decide how the channels on its cable are to be utilized." Para. 70, "Second Report and Order in Docket 14895," FCC 66-220, 2 FCC 2d 725, 754 (1966); see also paras. 133-35, "First Report and Order in Docket 14895," 38 FCC 683, 732-33 (1965). The cable operator should, of course, exercise good faith to assure that the purpose and spirit of the rule are met. The petitions will be denied.

In view of the foregoing, a grant of the petitions would not be consistent with the public interest.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That the petition (CSR-1095) filed by Miami Valley Broadcasting Corp. on December 21, 1976, is denied.

It is further ordered, That the "Petition for Order to Show Cause" (CSC-

UB FINANCIAL CORP.

Order Approving Retention of an Office of H. S. Pickrell Co.

UB Financial Corp., Phoenix, Ariz., a bank holding company within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act, has applied for the Board's approval, under section 4(c)(8) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)) and § 225.4(b)(2) of the Board's Regulation Y (12 CFR 225.4(b)(2)), to retain an office of H. S. Pickrell Co., Phoenix, Ariz., located in Mesa, Ariz., and continue to engage in mortgage banking activities, including originating, selling, and servicing mortgage loans. Such activities have been determined by the Board to be closely related to banking (12 CFR 225.4(a)(1) and (3)).

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views on the public interest factors, has been duly published (42 FR 39478). The time for filing comments and views has expired, and the Board has considered the application and all comments received in the light of the public interest factors set forth in section 4(c)(8) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)).

Applicant is the fourth largest banking organization in Arizona and controls one bank, United Bank of Arizona. H. S. Pickrell Co. ("Pickrell") is engaged in the mortgage banking business and makes, sells, and services loans secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on real property, and arranges for such loans by insurance companies, savings and loan associations, commercial and savings banks, pension funds, and other institutional investors. Pickrell has its main office in Phoenix and maintains other offices in Tucson and Mesa, Ariz., and Albuquerque, N. Mex.

By Order of March 28, 1972, Applicant received the Board's approval to retain Pickrell. In April 1972, Pickrell opened a new office in Mesa, Ariz., without the prior approval of the Board. Applicant has indicated that it was in the process of completing its assimilation of Pickrell and was unaware that the Mesa office had been newly established. Thus, Applicant's approval from the Board to retain Pickrell did not include the Mesa office and the operation of that office would constitute a violation of the Board's Regulation Y.

In acting on applications pursuant to section 4(c)(8) of the Act to retain offices in situations where the necessary prior approval of the Board was not obtained for such offices, the Board applies the same standards as it does to applications to establish such offices initially. In addition, the Board considers the competitive effects of such proposals as of the time that the offices were established.

At the time that it approved Applicant's application to retain Pickrell, the Board noted that only a slight amount of existing competition existed between Applicant and Pickrell. Neither Applicant nor Pickrell had more than a minor share of the mortgage banking business in any local market in Arizona, or in the State as a whole. The Board concluded at that time that Applicant's acquisition of Pickrell would have no adverse effects on competition and would strengthen Pickrell's competitive position in the State. Inasmuch as the Mesa office of Pickrell that is the subject of this application was opened de novo, it appears that Applicant's retention of that office would likewise have no adverse effects upon either potential or existing competition. Moreover, there is no evidence in the record indicating that retention of this office would result in any undue concentration of resources, unfair competition, conflicts of interests, unsound banking practices or other adverse effects on the public interest.

As indicated above, the subject application is an after-the-fact request for the Board's approval to conduct operations at an office that was opened in violation of the Board's Regulation Y. It is the Board's view, on the basis of the facts and circumstances of the subject application, that the violation was inadvertent. In acting on this application the Board has taken into consideration the fact that Applicant, upon becoming aware of the existence of the violation, took steps to conform its operations to the Act by filing the subject application. In addition, Applicant's management has taken steps to prevent violations from occurring in the future, including the initiation of an affirmative program under the direction of one of its officers to ensure that the management of Applicant's subsidiaries is aware of its responsibilities under the Bank Holding Company Act. The Board expects that these actions will assist Applicant in avoiding a recurrence of similar violations. In light of the above and other information in the record evidencing Applicant's intent to comply with the requirements of the Bank Holding Company Act, the Board has determined that the circumstances of the above violation do not warrant denial of the application.

Based upon the foregoing and other considerations reflected in the record, the Board has determined that the balance of the public interest factors the Board is required to consider under section 4(c)(8) is favorable. Accordingly, the application is hereby approved. This determination is subject to the conditions set forth in § 225.4(c) of Regulation Y and to the Board's authority to require such modification or termination of the activities of a holding company or any of its subsidiaries as the Board finds necessary to assure compliance with the provisions and purposes of the Act and the Board's regulations and orders issued thereunder, or to prevent evasion thereof.

By order of the Board of Governors,² effective October 3, 1977.

Deputy Secretary of the Board.

UB FINANCIAL CORP.

Order Approving Credit-Related Insurance Activities

UB Financial Corp., Phoenix, Ariz., a bank holding company within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act, has applied for the Board's approval, under section 4(c)(8) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)) and § 225.4(b)(2) of the Board's Regulation Y (12 CFR 225.4(b)(2)), to recommence through its subsidiary, H. S. Pickrell Co., the activity of acting as broker or agent for the sale, by mail solicitation, of credit-related life and accident and health insurance, solely in connection with extensions of credit by H. S. Pickrell Co. Such activities have been determined by the Board to be closely related to banking (12 CFR 225.4(a)(9)).

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views on the public interest factors, has been duly published (42 FR 39478). The time for filing comments and views has expired, and the Board has considered the application and all comments received in the light of the public interest factors set forth in section 4(c)(8) of the Act (12 USC 1843(c)(8)).

² Voting for this action: Chairman Burns and Governors Gardner, Wallach, Coldwell, Jackson, Partee, and Lilly.

Applicant is the fourth largest banking organization in Arizona and controls one bank, United Bank of Arizona. H. S. Pickrell Co. ("Pickrell") is engaged in the mortgage banking business and makes, sells, and services loans secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on real property, and arranges of such loans by insurance companies, savings and loan associations, commercial and savings banks, pension funds, and other institutional investors. Pickrell has its main office in Phoenix and maintains other offices in Tucson and Mesa, Ariz., and Albuquerque, N. Mex.

By Order of March 28, 1972, the Board approved Applicant's application to retain Pickrell. The Board's Order was limited to an approval for Applicant to acquire Pickrell and engage in mortgage banking activities. It appears that in addition to mortgage banking activities, Pickrell has participated in certain credit life and credit accident and health insurance activities which were not included in Applicant's application to retain Pickrell.

Pickrell provided lists of its mortgagees to an unaffiliated third party insurance company which solicited the purchase of credit life insurance. In those instances where a mortgagor elected to purchase such insurance, the insurance company forwarded the necessary forms to Pickrell to allow Pickrell to impound and pay the insurance premiums out of the mortgagor's monthly payment. Pickrell received a share of the premiums for handling the payments. Pickrell also mailed material prepared by the insurance company to the mortgagor describing the availability of credit accident and health insurance. If the mortgagor elected to purchase that insurance, Pickrell again handled the premium payments in return for a share of the premium.

In the Board's view, Pickrell's actions constitute engaging in credit insurance activities. Since Applicant's approval from the Board did not include engaging in insurance activities, Pickrell's participation in those activities constituted a violation of the Board's Regulation Y.¹

In acting on applications pursuant to section 4(c)(8) of the Act to continue to engage in activities in situations where the necessary prior approval of the Board was not obtained for such activities, the Board applies the same standards as it does to applications to commence such activities initially. In addition, the Board considers the competitive effects of such proposals as of the time that the activity was commenced.

The credit insurance Pickrell offers is a supplementary service and has no competitive significance independent of the mortgage credit extended by Pickrell. Credit insurance is readily available from other financial institutions in the market. It does not appear that Applicant's engaging in insurance activities would have any significant adverse effect on existing or future competition. Moreover, there is no evidence in the record indicating that approval of this proposal would result in any undue concentration of resources, unfair competition, conflicts of interests, unsound banking practices or other adverse effects on the public interest.

As indicated above, the subject application is an after-the-fact request for the Board's approval to engage in activities that were commenced in violation of the Board's Regulation Y. It is the Board's view, on the basis of the facts and circumstances of the subject application, that the violation was the result of a misinterpretation of the Act. In acting on this application the Board has taken into consideration the fact that Applicant, upon becoming aware of the existence of the violation, immediately ceased the activity and took steps to conform its operations to the Act by filing the subject application. In addition, Applicant's management has taken steps to prevent violations from occurring in the future, including the initiation of an affirmative program under the direction of one of its officers to ensure that the management of Applicant's subsidiaries is aware of its responsibilities under the Bank Holding Company Act. The Board expects that these actions will assist Applicant in avoiding a recurrence of similar violations. In consideration of the above and other information in the record evidencing Applicant's intent to comply with the requirements of the Bank Holding Company Act, the Board has determined that the circumstances of the above violation do not warrant denial of the application.

Based upon the foregoing and other considerations reflected in the record, the Board has determined that the balance of the public interest factors the Board is required to consider under section 4(c)(8) is favorable. Accordingly, the application is hereby approved. This determination is subject to the conditions set forth in § 225.4(c) of Regulation Y and to the Board's authority to require such modification or termination of the activities of a holding company or any of its subsidiaries as the Board finds necessary to assure compliance with the provisions and purposes of the Act and the Board's regulations and orders issued thereunder, or to prevent evasion thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Drug Enforcement Administration

[Docket No. 77-14]

DAVID BROTHERS, T/A BLUE HILL DRUG CO.

Revocation of Registration

On March 28, 1977, the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), directed to Mr. David Brothers, as pharmacist and owner of Blue Hill Drug Co. (Respondent) an Order to Show Cause requesting the Respondent to show why his DEA registration AB-1949809 should not be revoked for the reason that on December 15, 1976, in the Municipal Court of Dorchester District within the County of Suffolk, Mass., David Brothers was convicted of a violation of 94(c) Section 32, of the Massachusetts General Laws a felony relating to the distribution of controlled substances. On April 4, 1977, the Respondent, through his attorney, requested a hearing on the proposed revocation. At the conclusion of prehearing matters, a formal hearing was conducted on July 28, 1977, before Administrative Law Judge Francis L. Young.

Judge Young certified the entire record with his recommended findings of fact and conclusions of law and decision to the Administrator pursuant to 21 CFR 1316.65 on September 20, 1977. The Administrator, pursuant to 21 CFR 1316.66, hereby publishes the final order in this matter.

Judge Young found, inter alia, that Respondent pleaded guilty to a felony offense, as alleged in the Government's Order to Show Cause dated March 28, 1977, which provided a lawful basis for revoking Respondent's DEA registration pursuant to 21 U.S.C. 824(a)(2). Judge Young also found that on March 18, 25, May 28, July 2, August 19, and September 14, 1977, Respondent dispensed controlled substances without a prescription in violation of Massachusetts General Laws. Furthermore, he found that an audit supervised by Special Agent Robert Sampson of the Drug Enforcement Administration during an accountability investigation at Blue Hill Drug Co. on October 28, 1976, revealed shortages of Dexamyl spansules No. 2, Biphentamine 20 caps, Dexamyl tablets, Eskatrol spansules, Tylenol with codeine No. 3 tabs, Doriden tablets, Noludar caps, Tussar II SF pints, and Tussar II pints.

Judge Young stated in his discussion that Respondent's illegal sales of controlled substances to Detective Jackson were not isolated incidents. This was evidenced by Respondent's conduct during the drug purchases and the shortages in controlled substances revealed in the accountability investigation at Blue Hill Drug Co. He concluded that Respondent had flagrantly violated his trust and responsibility as a pharmacist registered to handle and dispense controlled substances and recommended to the Administrator that Respondent's registration be revoked.

The Administrator adopts the findings and recommendations of the Administrative Law Judge and upon consideration of the entire record and pursuant to the authority vested in the Attorney General and redelegated to the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration, the Administrator hereby orders that the registration issued to Blue Hill Drug Co., David Brothers, Proprietor, under registration No. AB1949809 be revoked, effective November 11, 1977.

Dated: October 6, 1977.

PETER B. BENSINGER,
Administrator.

[Docket No. 76-36]

ROBERT O'NEAL MOODY

Denial of Application for Registration

On September 15, 1976, the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) directed to Robert O'Neal Moody, trading as Moody Drugs, Florence, Ala. (hereinafter, "Respondent"), an Order to Show Cause why Respondent's application should not be denied, pursuant to 21 U.S.C. 823, for the reason that on January 27, 1975, in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Alabama, Respondent was convicted on three counts of violations of 21 U.S.C. 841(a)(1); all felonies relating to distributing, dispensing, and possessing with the intent to distribute, controlled substances. By an undated correspondence posted on September 29, 1976, addressed to and received by the Administrator on October 4, 1976, Respondent, through his attorney, requested a hearing on the Order to Show Cause.

After various preliminary activities, including preparation of prehearing statements and their submission, and the holding of a prehearing conference by telephone and the making of various disclosures and inspection of documents by both sides, a hearing was held on May 24, 1977, in the United States Tax Court Courtroom, Memphis, Tenn. Administrative Law Judge Francis L. Young presiding. On September 14, 1977, Judge Young certified to the Administrator, pursuant to 21 CFR 1316.65, his recommended findings of fact and conclusion of law, a recommended decision, and the record of the proceedings in this matter. The Administrator has fully considered the foregoing and, pursuant to 21 CFR 1316.66, hereby publishes his final order in this proceeding based upon the record, and upon the findings of fact and conclusion of law set forth below.

The Administrative Law Judge found, inter alia, that Respondent was convicted, on his plea of guilty, of all three counts of a three count indictment of unlawfully distributing or dispensing controlled substances, to wit: Phentermine, cocaine, and sodium pentobarbital. Accordingly, Judge Young concluded that there was a lawful basis for denying Respondent's pending application for registration. The Administrative Law Judge further found that an audit of Respondent's pharmacy, conducted by DEA compliance investigators and other drug law enforcement officials subsequent to Respondent's arrest for the above-referred crimes, disclosed significant shortages and overages in Respondent's controlled substance inventory, and that this audit further disclosed that Respondent failed to record "loans" of controlled substances made by him to others, contrary to applicable regulations.

The Administrator adopts these findings of fact and conclusion of law and, therefore, concludes that the registration of Robert O'Neal Moody, trading as Moody Drugs, should be denied.

In so concluding, the Administrator is mindful of the entire record in this matter. In it, the evidence most favorable to Respondent appears as numerous affidavits by his townspeople which purport to relate how they and the community regard Respondent. The frequent refrain in these affidavits and included in the Administrative Law Judge's findings of fact was that Respondent's arrest was the work of an overzealous drug abuse agent, and that despite Respondent's arrest for selling drugs he was a good citizen and pharmacist and should be allowed to continue to operate his pharmacy business as before.

While the sentiment of Respondent's hometown community may be helpful in appropriate cases where that is an overriding concern, in the present matter it offers no help in predicting whether Respondent will now comply with drug control regulations and abstain from further criminal drug activities. What does help in forecasting Respondent's future controlled substance activities is his past experiences; in the present matter they include numerous significant overages and shortages in his controlled substance inventory; occasions where, in violation of the Act and DEA regulations, he supplied controlled substances to others while retaining no adequate records reflecting the transactions; and, most importantly, he has on three separate occasions personally sold cocaine and other controlled substances in illegal drug deals.

Thus, there is evidence that Respondent not only lacks the ability to prevent diversion, but that he has actually created it through his direct criminal involvement in illegal drug sales.

In light of the record in this matter, Respondent does not appear to be an acceptable applicant for the granting of a DEA registration to dispense controlled substances in compliance with the law, and accordingly, under the authority vested in the Attorney General and delegated to the Administrator of DEA, the Administrator hereby orders that the application for registration dated December 4, 1975, submitted by Respondent be, and the same hereby is, denied, effective immediately.

Dated: October 6, 1977.

PETER B. BENSINGER,
Administrator, Drug Enforcement Administration.

tracts of each such class comprising the long position, short position and uncovered short position, in such account, established an aggregate position of 200 or more option contracts (whether long or short) of the put class and the call class on the same side of the market covering the same underlying security, combining for purposes of this rule (i) long positions in put options with short positions in call options, and (ii) short positions in put options with long positions in call options. STATEMENT OF BASIS AND PURPOSE

The purpose of the proposed rule change, and Amendment No. 1 thereto, is to change the manner in which certain information is reported to the Exchange by Amex member firms pursuant to Amex Rule 906. Under its proposals, the Amex seeks to require its members to report options positions of accounts utilizing "same side of the market" computations. Reporting of positions would be required initially when an account establishes a position of 200 or more put and/or call contracts in an underlying stock on the same side of the market. Additional information with respect to underlying stock positions will also be required to be filed with the Exchange for accounts which need to file options positions reports.

Amendment No. 1 is comprised of proposed changes in Amex Rule 906 designed to conform the text of Rule 906 to the new reporting forms proposed previously pursuant to Commission Rule 19b-4.

The basis for the proposed rule change and Amendment No. 1 thereto is found in Section 6(b)(5) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("the 1934 Act"), as amended, which provides, in pertinent part, that the rules of the Exchange be designed to promote just and equitable principles of trade and protect investors and the public interest.

No comments were received or solicited with respect to the proposed change.

The Amex has determined that neither the proposed rule change nor Amendment No. 1 impose any burden on competition.

On or before November 16, 1977, or within such longer period (i) as the Commission may designate up to 90 days of such date if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding or (ii) as to which the above-mentioned self regulatory organization consents, the Commission will:

(a) By order approve such proposed rule change; or (b) Institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be disapproved.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons desiring to make written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary of the Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. Copies of the filing with respect to the foregoing and of all written submissions will be available for inspection and copying in the Public Reference Room, 1100 L Street NW., Washington, D.C. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization. All submissions should refer to the file number referenced in the caption above and should be submitted on or before November 2, 1977.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

APPALACHIAN POWER CO.

Proposed Issue and Sale of First Mortgage Bonds at Competitive Bidding

OCTOBER 5, 1977.

In the matter of Appalachian Power Co., 40 Franklin Road, Roanoke, Va. 24009.

Notice is hereby given that Appalachian Power Co. ("Appalachian"), an electric utility subsidiary company of American Electric Power Co., Inc. ("AEP"), a registered holding company, has filed an application with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), designating Section 6(b) of the Act and Rule 50 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transaction. All interested persons are referred to the application, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transaction.

Appalachian proposes to issue and sell, subject to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule 50 under the Act, up to $26,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds (the "new bonds"), to mature in not less than 5 years and not more than 30 years. The interest rate (which will be a multiple of 1/8 of 1%) and the price (which will be not less than 100%, unless Appalachian shall authorize a lower percentage not less than 99%, and shall not exceed 102.75% of the principal amount of the bonds thereof) will be determined by competitive bidding. The terms of the bonds will preclude Appalachian from redeeming any such bonds prior to November 1, 1982, if such redemption is for the purpose of refunding such bonds with proceeds of funds borrowed at a lower effective interest cost. The bonds will be issued under and secured by the Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of December 1, 1940, to Banker Trust Co., and a new Supplemental Indenture thereto which will be dated as of the first day of the month in which the Bonds are to be issued. Appalachian shall notify prospective bidders no later than 72 hours prior to the time designated for the submission of bids of the maturity date of the bonds.

The proceeds of the offering will be used to pay at maturity, or to reimburse Appalachian's treasury for the payment at maturity of, Appalachian's 3 1/8% Series Bonds, due December 1, 1977, of which $26,586,000 was outstanding on August 31, 1977. It is stated that since the proceeds of sale will aggregate less than the principal amount of said 3 1/8% Series, Appalachian will utilize other funds, to the extent required, to provide for such payment at maturity.

The fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed issue and sale of the new bonds and the fees and expenses of counsel for the underwriters, to be paid by the successful bidders, will be supplied by amendment. It is stated that the State Corporation Commission of Virginia and the Tennessee Public Service Commission have jurisdiction over the proposed transaction and that no other state commission and no federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transaction.

Note is further given that any interested person may, not later than October 31, 1977, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by said application which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail upon the applicant at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the application, as filed or as it may be amended, may be granted as provided in Rule 23 of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive any notices and orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporate Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

BOSTON STOCK EXCHANGE INC.

Order Approving Proposed Rule Change

OCTOBER 3, 1977.

In the matter of Boston Stock Exchange, Inc., 53 State Street, Boston, Mass. 02109.

On June 9, 1977, the Boston Stock Exchange, Inc. filed with the Commission, pursuant to Section 19(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Act"), as amended by the Securities Acts Amendments of 1975, and Rule 19b-4 thereunder, copies of a proposed rule change to amend a number of its Constitutional provisions concerning its Board of Governors (Art. II), Exchange committees (Art. IX), transfer of membership (Art. XIII), Exchange Presidents' duties (Art. XV), the binding effect of its rules (Art. XVII), meetings (Art. XXI), associate membership (Art. XXII), and market maker membership (Art. XXV).

Notice of the proposed rule change together with the terms of substance of the proposed rule change was given by publication of a Commission Release (Securities Exchange Act Release No. 13642 (June 14, 1977)) and by publication in the Federal Register (42 FR 32598 (June 27, 1977)).

The Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to national securities exchanges, and in particular the requirements of Section 6, and the rules and regulations thereunder.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the ¹ The BSE filed Amendment No. 1 to this rule filing on August 17, 1977. That amendment adds in several provisions a general cross-reference to the provisions of the Act concerning disciplinary actions and also deletes BSE Article XVII, Section 3 (concerning the binding effect of the Bylaws and Rules of the Boston Stock Exchange Clearing Corporation).

² The Commission notes that minor changes are being made in BSE Article XXII, Section 1 which currently provides for a limited class of membership without voting rights, known as associate members. This class of membership is created through reciprocal agreements between the BSE and the Philadelphia Stock Exchange, Inc., and the BSE and the Montreal Stock Exchange. The Commission has raised questions as to the consistency of this provision with the Act. (See Securities Exchange Act of 1934 Rel. No. 13027, December 1, 1976.) In addition, the Commission at some future date may, in its continuing review of self-regulatory rules, determine that this provision does not provide "fair representation" for associate members in accordance with Section 6(b)(3) of the Act, or that this class of membership is too limited. Accordingly, the Commission finding that the amendments to Article XXII, Section 1 which are contained in this proposal are consistent with the requirements of the Act is subject to such limitations.

above-mentioned proposed rule change be, and it hereby is, approved.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

CHICAGO BOARD OPTIONS EXCHANGE, INC.

Self-Regulatory Organization; Proposed Rule Change

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1) as amended by Pub. L. No. 94-29, 16 (June 4, 1975), notice is hereby given that on September 12, 1977, the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a proposed rule change as follows:

STATEMENT OF THE TERMS OF SUBSTANCE OF THE PROPOSED RULE CHANGE

(Brackets indicate deletions; italicizing indicates additions)

REPORTS RELATED TO POSITION LIMITS

Rule 4.13(a). Each member shall file with the Department of Compliance on each business day a report, in such form as may be prescribed, giving the name, address, and social security or tax identification number of any customer who, on the previous business day, held (aggregate long or short positions of 100 or more options of any single class of options dealt in on the Exchange) an options position in excess of such number of options contracts as shall be fixed by the Board from time to time. [The report shall indicate for each such class of option contracts the number of option contracts comprising each such position and, in the case of short positions, whether covered or uncovered.]

(b) No change.

(c) No change.

• • • Interpretations and Policies:

.01 The Exchange has determined that an aggregate position of 400 option contracts for the same underlying security on the same side of the market (combining for this purpose long positions in put options with short positions in call options, and short positions in put options with long positions in call options) shall be reported pursuant to paragraph (a) of this Rule.

EXCHANGE'S STATEMENT OF BASIS AND PURPOSE

The purpose of the proposed rule change is to make the reporting requirements of this rule consistent with recent changes in the position limits rule which make that rule applicable to positions on the "same side of the market." This change will also eliminate the necessity for additional changes in the text of the rule should the language of the position limits rule again be modified.

Additionally, it has become apparent to the Exchange that the position reporting level as previously set resulted in a volume of reports so high as to be of little surveillance value. Therefore, the reporting level specified in Interpretation .01 has been adjusted based on careful study and consideration of the Exchange's experience with the past reporting level, the potential surveillance value of new reporting levels and the effect of put option trading on such reporting.

The basis for the proposed rules change is contained in those provisions of Section 6(b)(5) of the Act which require that the Exchange's rules provide for the promotion of just and equitable principles of trade, and protection of investors and the public interest.

Comments have not been solicited regarding these proposed rules change.

The Exchange believes that no burden will be imposed upon competition by this proposed rule change.

On or before November 16, 1977, or within such longer period (i) as the Commission may designate up to 90 days of such date if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding or (ii) as to which the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization consents, the Commission will:

(A) By order approve such proposed rule change, or

(B) Institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be disapproved.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons desiring to make written submissions should file 6 copies thereof with the Secretary of the Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. Copies of the filing with respect to the foregoing and all written submission will be available for inspection and copying in the Public Reference Room, 1100 L Street NW., Washington, D.C. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization. All submissions should refer to the file number referenced in the caption above and should be submitted on or before November 2, 1977.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

[Rel. No. 20195; 70-6060]

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC CO.

Proposed Agreement With Municipal Authority for Construction of Pollution Control Equipment Financed by Sale of Revenue Bonds

OCTOBER 4, 1977.

Notice is hereby given that Indiana & Michigan Electric Company ("I&M"), an electric utility subsidiary company of American Electric Power Company, Inc., a registered holding company, has filed an application-declaration with this Commission designating Sections 9(a) and 12(d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act") and Rule 44(b)(3) promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions. All interested persons are referred to the application-declaration, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transactions.

I&M states that in order to comply with prescribed environmental quality control standards of the State of Indiana it has been and will be necessary to construct certain high efficiency electrostatic precipitators ("Project") for particulate emission control and related facilities at its Breed Plant. By resolution of December 5, 1973, the City of Sullivan, Indiana ("City"), determined that it would authorize and issue one or more series of its pollution control revenue bonds ("Revenue Bonds") to finance the cost of engineering, design, acquisition, and construction of the Project and to reimburse or repay I&M in connection with I&M's expenditures relating to the Project.

I&M proposes to enter into an agreement of sale ("Agreement") with the City whereby the City will construct and equip the Project. To finance the Project, the City will issue Revenue Bonds in an initial principal amount of up to $25,000,000 ("Series A Bonds") and additional Revenue Bonds in principal amounts presently estimated not to exceed $20,000,000, sufficient to cover construction costs of the Project. The proceeds from the sale of the Series A Bonds will be deposited by the City with the Trustee ("Trustee") under an indenture to be entered into between the City and such Trustee (the "Indenture") pursuant to which the Series A Bonds are to be issued and secured. Such proceeds will be applied to payment of the cost of construction of the project. The Agreement also will provide for the sale of the Project to I&M, the payment by I&M of the purchase price of the Project in semi-annual installments over a term of years, and the assignment and pledge to the Indenture Trustee of the City's interest in, and of the monies receivable by the City under, the Agreement.

The Agreement will provide that each installment of the purchase price for the Project payable by I&M will be in such an amount (together with other monies held by the Trustee under the Indenture for that purpose) as will enable the City to pay, when due, (i) the interest on the Revenue Bonds, any additional bonds and any refunding bonds, (ii) the principal amount of the Revenue Bonds, any additional bonds and any refunding bonds payable at the time of their respective stated maturities and (iii) amounts, including any accrued interest, payable in connection with any mandatory redemption of the Revenue Bonds, any additional bonds or any refunding bonds. The Agreement also obligates I&M to pay the fees and charges of the Trustee, as well as certain administrative expenses of the City. The Agreement further provides that I&M may prepay the purchase price of the Project (i) by paying, under certain conditions, amounts sufficient to redeem all the Revenue Bonds then outstanding and all other amounts payable under the Indenture or (ii) at any time by depositing in the Indenture's Bond Fund or delivering to the Trustee amounts sufficient to provide for the release of the Indenture. Upon prepayment, I&M may terminate the Agreement.

I&M proposes to convey equipment previously constructed (the "Existing Facilities"), subject to I&M's First Mortgage Lien to the City and I&M will receive out of the Revenue Bond proceeds, an amount equal to I&M's original cost of the Existing Facilities. The Existing Facilities will be included in the Project which I&M will repurchase from the City pursuant to the Agreement. The proceeds realized from the sale of the Existing Facilities will be used to retire unsecured short-term debt of I&M, including the financing of part of its construction program. As of August 31, 1977, there were notes payable to banks and commercial debt outstanding in the amount of $49,100,000 and it is expected that I&M will have short-term debt outstanding not to exceed $65,000,000 at the time of the transfer of the Existing Facilities. The estimated cost of I&M's construction program for 1977 is $146,000,000, exclusive of construction costs in connection with the Donald C. Cook Nuclear Plant by I&M's wholly owned subsidiary, Indiana & Michigan Power Company. Said costs for the Cook plant are estimated at $84,000,000 for 1977. I&M had expended $14,250,000 for the Existing Facilities as of June 30, 1977; and it is estimated that it will have expended $19,000,000 at the time of the transfer of these facilities. It is estimated that the Project will in the aggregate cost approximately $46,000,000.

It is contemplated that the Revenue Bonds will be sold by the City pursuant to arrangements with a group of underwriters represented by E. F. Hutton & Company, Inc. In accordance with the laws of the State of Indiana, the interest rate to be borne by the Revenue Bonds will be fixed by the common council of the City. While I&M will not be a party to the underwriting arrangements for the Revenue Bonds, the Agreement will provide that the terms of the Revenue Bonds and their sale by the City shall be satisfactory to I&M.

I&M has been advised that the annual interest rates on obligations, interest on which is tax exempt, historically have been and can be expected at the time of issue of the Revenue Bonds to be 1½ percent to 2½ lower than the rates on obligations of like tenor and comparable quality, interest on which is fully subject to federal income tax.

MAJOR RESOURCES, INC.

Order Temporarily Suspending Exemption Statement of Reasons Therefor, and Notice of Opportunity for Hearing

OCTOBER 4, 1977.

I

Major Resources, Inc. ("Major") is a Florida corporation located at 9700 Gandy Boulevard, Suite 311, St. Petersburg, Florida, 33702. It was organized on June 17, 1976. It plans to engage in the business of acquiring businesses or situations with a large growth potential that requires capital and management. The company has acquired an 80 percent interest in Rhenium Corporation, a Florida corporation which owns or has mineral rights to two contiguous mine properties located in Octane, Arizona.

On April 29, 1977, Major filed a Notification pursuant to Regulation A in connection with the proposed public offering of 100,000 shares of its 5 cent par value Class B common stock at $1.25 per share with the Los Angeles Regional Office. The filing has not been cleared by the Los Angeles Office.

II

The Commission, on the basis of information reported to it by its staff, has reasonable cause to believe:

A. The Regulation A exemption is not available to the Issuer because an Order of Permanent Injunction in connection with the purchase or sale of securities was issued by the 6th Circuit Court of Miami, Pinellas County, Florida on January 12, 1968 against Robert C. Miller ("Miller"), a promoter, affiliate, predecessor, officer, director, and principal shareholder of the Issuer, who continues to be active in its affairs.

B. The Notification and Offering Circular of Major Resources contain untrue statements of material facts and omit to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading in the following respects:

1. Item 6(b) of the Issuer's Notification contains false statements with respect to actions against the Issuer, its predecessor or Affiliated Issuers, and actions against directors and officers.

2. The failure to disclose that Miller is the subject of an injunction involving violations of the Florida securities laws.

C. The offering would be made in violation of Section 17 of the Securities Act of 1933.

III

It appearing to the Commission that it is in the public interest and for the protection of investors that the exemption of Major Resources, Inc. under Regulation A be temporarily suspended:

The Series A bonds will be dated on or about the first day of the month in which they are issued, will bear interest semi-annually and will mature at a date or dates not more than 30 years from the date of their issuance. It is expected that the Series A bonds will not be redeemable at the option of the City within 10 years from their issue date except under certain circumstances and terms specified in the Indenture.

The application-declaration states that the fees and expenses incident to the proposed disposition of the Existing Facilities and the acquisition of the Project (as distinguished from and excluding fees and expenses incident to the sale of the Revenue Bonds by the City payable out of the proceeds of such sale) will be supplied by amendment. It is stated that the execution of, delivery of and performance under the Agreement of I&M, the disposition of the Existing Facilities and the acquisition of the Project is possibly subject to the jurisdiction of the Michigan Public Service Commission and the Public Service Commission of Indiana, and that no other state commission and no federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than October 28, 1977, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the application-declaration which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail upon the applicant-declarant at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the application-declaration, as filed, or as it may be amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive any notices and orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporate Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

[FR Doc.77-29805 Filed 10-11-77; 8:45 am]

It is order, pursuant to Rule 261 of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that the exemption of the issuer under Regulation A be, and hereby is temporarily suspended.

It is further ordered, pursuant to Rule 7 of the Commission's Rules of Practice, that the issuer file an answer to the allegations contained in the order within thirty days of the entry thereof.

Notice is hereby given that any person having any interest in the matter may file with the Secretary of the Commission a written request for a hearing within thirty days after the entry of this order; that within twenty days after receipt of such request, the Commission will, or at any time upon its own motion may, set the matter down for hearing at a place to be designated by the Commission for the purpose of determining whether this order of suspension should be vacated or made permanent, without prejudice, however, to the consideration and presentation of additional matters at the hearing; and that notice of the time and place for the said hearing will be promptly given by the Commission. If no hearing is requested and none is ordered by the Commission, the order shall become permanent on the thirtieth day after its entry and shall remain in effect unless it is modified or vacated by the Commission.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

MPB CORP.

Application and Opportunity for Hearing OCTOBER 5, 1977.

Notice is hereby given that MPB Corporation ("Applicant") has filed an application pursuant to Section 12(h) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "1934 Act"), that Applicant be granted an exemption from the provisions of Sections 13 and 15(d) of that Act.

Sections 13 and 15(d) of the 1934 Act require that issuers of securities registered pursuant to Section 12 or issuers that have filed a registration statement that has become effective pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933, must file certain periodic reports with the Commission for the protection of investors and to insure fair dealing in the security.

Section 12(h) of the 1934 Act empowers the Commission to exempt in whole or in part, any issuer or class of issuers from the provisions of Sections 13 and 15(d), if the Commission finds, by reason of the number of public investors, amount of trading interest in the securities and nature and extent of the activities of the issuer, income or assets of the issuer or otherwise, that such exemption is not inconsistent with the public interest or the protection of investors.

The Applicant states, in part: 1. Applicant is subject to the reporting provisions of Sections 13 and 15(d) of the 1934 Act.

2. On November 16, 1976, the Applicant became a wholly-owned subsidiary of Wheelabrator-Frye Inc. As a result, all of Applicant's outstanding securities are now owned by Wheelabrator.

In the absence of an exemption, Applicant would be subject to the periodic reporting requirements of Sections 13 and 15(d) of the 1934 Act through March 27, 1977.

The Applicant contends that there would be no useful purpose served by the filing of continued reports for the fiscal year ending March 27, 1977, in view of the fact it has but one stockholder.

For a more detailed statement of the information presented, all persons are referred to the Application which is on file in the offices of the Commission at 500 North Capitol Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20549.

Notice is further given that any interested person not later than October 31, 1977 may submit to the Commission in writing his views or any substantial facts bearing on this Application or the desirability of a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed to: George A. Fitzsimmons, Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 500 North Capitol Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20549, and should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting the hearing, the reason for such request, and the issues of fact and law raised by the Application which he desires to controvert. At any time after that date, an order granting the Application in whole or in part may be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

MONONGAHELA POWER CO., ET AL.

Proposed Issuance of Promissory Notes to County in Connection With Financing of Pollution Control Facilities

OCTOBER 3, 1977.

Monongahela Power Co. ("Monongahela"), 1310 Fairmont Avenue, Fairmont, W. Va. 26554, The Potomac Edison Co. ("Potomac"), Downsville Pike, Hagerstown, Md. 21740, and West Penn Power Co. ("West Penn"), 800 Cabin Hill Drive, Greensburg, Pa. 15601, each wholly owned electric utility subsidiaries of Allegheny Power System, Inc., a registered holding company, have filed a declaration and amendments thereto with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act") designating Sections 6(a) and 7 of the Act and Rule 50 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the following proposed transactions. All interested persons are referred to the declaration, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transaction.

Monongahela, Potomac, and West Penn (collectively, the "Companies") propose to finance certain air and water pollution control equipment and facilities including a flue gas desulfurization system, associated sludge disposal and handling facilities, lime unloading handling and storage facilities, precipitators, fly ash handling systems, cooling water facilities, waste water treatment facilities and associated land, interests in land and equipment (collectively, the "Facilities") now under construction at the Pleasants Power Station ("Pleasants") located in Pleasants County, W. Va. The Facilities are required to meet air and water quality standards in effect under federal and state regulations. Pleasants will have, when completed, two 626,000 kw (net) steam electric generating units which are scheduled for commercial operation in March of 1979 and March of 1980. Pleasants is owned jointly by Monongahela, Potomac, and West Penn as tenants in common. Monongahela owns 25%, Potomac owns 30%, and West Penn owns 45% of Pleasants. It is stated that the estimated cost of the Facilities, when completed, is expected to be in excess of $200 million. As of December 31, 1977, the Companies expect to have expended approximately $70 million in connection with the Facilities.

To finance construction of the Facilities, the Companies propose to issue nonnegotiable secured pollution control notes (collectively, the "Notes") pursuant to a Pollution Control Financing Agreement ("Agreement") with Pleasants County, W. Va. ("County"). The County will issue and sell its tax-exempt pollution control revenue bonds (the "Bonds") in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $100,000,000 and the issues in respect of Monongahela's, Potomac's, and West Penn's interest in Pleasants will not exceed $25,000,000, $30,000,000, and $45,000,000, respectively. The Bonds will be issued and sold in one or more series with a maturity of not less than five nor more than forty years. The Bonds in respect of each Company's interest will be issued under separate trust indentures (collectively, the "Indentures") between the County and a trustee, and will be sold in one or more series, at such times, in such principal amounts, at such interest rates, and for such prices as shall be approved by that Company. The Indentures provide that the proceeds of the sale of the Bonds shall be applied to the cost of the Facilities. The proceeds to be received by each Company from the sale of the Bonds will be added to each Company's general funds to reimburse the treasury of each Company for expenditures made or to be made in connection with the Facilities.

It is stated that concurrently with the issuance of each series of Bonds, each Company will execute and deliver its nonnegotiable pollution control note or notes corresponding to such series of Bonds with respect to principal amount, interest rate and redemption provisions. Installments of principal on such notes will correspond to mandatory sinking fund payments and stated maturities with respect to the Bonds. Payments on the Notes will be made to the trustees under the Indentures and applied by the trustees to pay the maturing principal, interest, redemption prices and other costs on the Bonds as the same become due. The Companies also propose to pay trustees fees or other expenses incurred by the County. Each Company's notes will provide for prepayment of principal corresponding with the redemption provisions of the related bonds. The obligations of each Company to pay for its interest in the Facilities is several and not joint, and the notes delivered by each Company are the obligations solely of that Company. Each Company's notes will be secured by a lien on that Company's portion of the Facilities. Said lien will be created by a separate Deed of Trust and Security Agreement ("Deed of Trust") between each Company and a trustee, will be for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds, and will be subject to the lien of such Company's first mortgage, as supplemented and amended.

It is stated that the Bonds will bear interest semi-annually at rates to be determined. The Bonds will be secured by the Notes and by the assignment, pursuant to the Indentures, of the County's right, title and interest in the Agreement. The Bonds will be issued pursuant to the Indentures. It is proposed that the Bonds will be subject to redemption at any time on or after 10 years from the date of issuance, in whole or in part, at the option of the Companies, initially with a premium of 3% of the principal amount and declining by 1/2 of 1% thereafter. The Bonds will be entitled to the benefit of mandatory redemption sinking funds calculated to retire prior to maturity not less than 25% of the aggregate principal amount of the bonds in respect of each Company.

It is not possible to ascertain in advance precisely the interest rate which may be obtained in connection with the issuance of the Bonds. However, the Companies have been advised that tax-exempt bonds such as these have historically carried an annual interest rate approximately two percent lower than comparable taxable long-term corporate bonds. The maximum amount of Bonds that are expected to be sold to finance the Facilities and, consequently, the principal amount of the pollution control notes may be adjusted downward prior to the date of issue.

It is expected that the County will engage Goldman, Sachs & Co. to provide financial advice and, together with such other underwriters as may be designated, underwrite the sale of the Bonds. Fees, commissions, and expenses of the underwriters and legal counsel will be included in the total cost of the Facilities. The Companies have been informed that the County has legal authority to issue tax exempt revenue bonds in accordance with the proposed documents.

The Companies request exception from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule 50 for the proposed issuance of the Notes pursuant to paragraph (a)(5) thereof.

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has jurisdiction over the proposed issuance of the pollution control notes by Monongahela; the Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania has jurisdiction over the proposed issuance of the pollution control notes by West Penn; the State Corporation Commission of Virginia and the Public Service Commission of Maryland has jurisdiction over the proposed issuance of the pollution control notes by Potomac; the Public Service Commission of West Virginia has jurisdiction over the proposed execution and delivery of a Deed of Trust by Monongahela and Potomac. The Air Pollution Control Commission of the State of West Virginia will be required to certify that the Facilities are being constructed and installed for water and air quality purposes. No other State or Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

A statement of the fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions will be supplied by amendment.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than October 28, 1977, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail upon the declarant at the above stated addresses, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in the case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the declaration, as filed or as it may be amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the General Rules and Regulations permitted under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive any notices and orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporate Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

Sec. 7. (a) Each member organization shall file with the Exchange a report with respect to each account in which a member organization has an interest, each account of a partner, officer, director, or employee of such member organization, and each customer account which has (i) an aggregate long position, or (ii) an aggregate uncovered short position or (iii) an aggregate uncovered short position, in option contracts of any class of options dealt in on the Exchange in excess of 100 contracts, an aggregate position on the same side of the market (long call and/or short put or short call and/or long put) in option contracts on the same underlying security dealt in on the Exchange in such number of option contracts as shall be determined from time to time by the Exchange. Such report shall identify the person or persons having an interest in such account, and shall identify separately the total number of option contracts of each such class comprising the (long position, short position and uncovered short position in such account.) reportable position in such account, and any other information requested by the Exchange. The report shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Exchange and shall be filed no later than the close of business on the next business day following the day on which the transaction or transactions requiring the filing of such report occurred. Whenever a report shall be required to be filed with respect to an account pursuant to this paragraph, the member organization filing the same shall file with the Exchange such additional periodic reports with respect to such account as the Exchange may from time to time prescribe.

(b) No change.
(c) No change.

Commentary: 01. [The Exchange will notify member organizations of the reporting limits established pursuant to this Section.] The Exchange has determined that a report shall be filed pursuant to this Section for any account which has 200 or more option contracts on the same side of the market in the same underlying security.

02 No change.
03 No change.
04 with respect to open exercise positions see reporting requirements under Section 33.1

EXCHANGE'S STATEMENT OF BASIS AND PURPOSE

The basis and purpose of the foregoing proposed rule change is as follows:

The purpose of the proposed rule change in reporting requirements for options positions was prompted by the commencement of put option trading.

Under current rules, accounts are limited to maximum positions of 1,000 call and/or put contracts on the same side of the market on the same underlying security and reports are required when an account establishes an option position of 100 or more contracts. The Exchange now proposes to obtain similar useful information with respect to such call and/or put positions by establishing initial reporting requirements when an account establishes a position of 200 or more contracts on the same side of the market. Thus, the Exchange will obtain, in some cases, information with respect to accounts that it otherwise would not obtain under the present requirements. For example, if an account has a long position of 500 put options and a short position of 60 call options on the same underlying security, such account would be in violation of the position limits rule since the total number of contracts on the same side of the market exceeded 1,000. Today a firm need only report the long put position. Under the new reporting requirements, the total long put/short call positions indicated in the above example would be reported to the Exchange. Thus, the proposed rule change would enable the PSE to more effectively monitor current position limits, and potential position limits violations.

It should be noted that under the prior position limit rule concerning 500 contracts of the same class and the same expiration month, a firm was required to report to the Exchange all accounts which had options positions of 100 contracts or more, in essence, a 20 percent report-to-limit ratio. Under the new position limits rule (1,000 option contracts on the same side of the market in the same underlying security) an increase in the reporting requirements to 200 contracts would maintain the same 20 percent report-to-limit ratio.

The basis for the proposed rule change is to enable the PSE to promote just and equitable principles of trade and to protect investors and the public interest.

Comments have neither been solicited nor received from members on the proposed rule change.

The proposed rule change imposes no burden upon competition.

On or before November 16, 1977, or within such longer period (i) as the Commission may designate up to 90 days of such date if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding or (ii) as to which the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization consents, the Commission will:

(A) By order approve such proposed rule change, or

(B) Institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be disapproved.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons desiring to make written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary of the Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. Copies of the filing with respect to the foregoing and of all written submissions will be available for inspection and copying in the Public Reference Room, 1100 L Street NW, Washington, D.C. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization. All submissions should refer to the file number referenced in the caption above and should be submitted on or before November 2, 1977.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

[Rel. No. 20196; 70-6032]

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES CO. AND PUBLIC SERVICE CO. OF OKLAHOMA

Proposed Purchase of Computer Services From Associate Company

OCTOBER 5, 1977.

Notice is hereby given that West Texas Utilities Co. ("WTU"), P.O. Box 841, Abilene, Tex. 79604, and Public Service Co. of Oklahoma ("PSO"), P.O. Box 201, Tulsa, Okla. 74102, electric utility subsidiaries of Central and South West Corp. ("CSW"), a registered holding company, have filed an application-declaration and an amendment thereto with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), designating sections 12(b) and 13 of the Act and rules 86, 87, 90, and 91, promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transaction. All interested persons are referred to the application-declaration, as amended, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transaction.

WTU proposes to purchase, at a cost determined in accordance with section 13 of the Act and the applicable rules thereunder, electronic data processing services from PSO by using the excess capacity of automatic computing facilities which PSO already operates and by paying PSO an allocated cost which reflects WTU's use.

The computer services proposed to be provided by WTU by PSO include processing of customer billing, revenues and statistics, payroll, property accounting, general accounting and load flow, and cash forecasts. WTU will continue to perform all of its own keypunch and printing operations, maintain and revise its programs and contract with nonaffiliates, when necessary, for the processing of its urgent load flow studies. PSO and WTU state that the computing equipment involved in the proposed transaction will not be used in the dispatch of electric power or energy.

In order to compute the cost of services purchased by WTU, PSO has identified the sources of its overall costs, including (a) personnel; (b) rental of software, services and hardware; (c) prices for purchased hardware; and (d) general supplies. These sources are combined in varying proportions in each of the services which PSO would supply to WTU.

Each service has been analyzed to determine its cost components and their relative significance. WTU and PSO state that they have designated the "computer resource unit" ("CRU") as a dimensionless measurement which will relate all the various services on a single scale. For example the following table illustrates the CRU equivalents of computer services:

Service	CRU equivalent
1 CPU-second (one second of use of the central processing unit) -----	1
1 CPU-minute (or sixty CPU-seconds) -----	60
1 kilobyte of memory times CPU-minute -----	1262
1 Disc EXCP (where EXCP is a unit of execution; here, one occasion of withdrawal of data from a disc of data) -----	0.00309
1 Tape EXCP -----	0.01162
1 Tape mount -----	124
1 Print EXCP (where EXCP is a unit of execution; here, one line of print) -----	0.0442
1 Card read EXCP (here, reading one card) -----	0.209
1 Approximate.

Each CRU has an initial value of $0.02065. WTU and PSO state that this value is based on budgeted 1977 costs and that billings will be adjusted retroactively on the basis of actual costs. PSO states that its billings to WTU will reflect the relevant cost components of each service provided, measured on a common basis, while also ensuring that WTU will pay only the costs of the services provided it. The billing procedure will also enable PSO to retain a means for monitoring the efficiency of the work performed.

PSO and WTU that the computer sharing will permit both companies to process information at a lower cost than would be possible were WTU to maintain its own smaller-scale data processing facilities or to purchase such services from outside the CSW System. PSO and WTU state that they selected the arrangement proposed herein based on anticipated mutual savings forecast by the results of a joint study conducted by FAIM Information Services, Inc., a non-affiliated consulting firm, which compared the costs and benefits of prior computer operations with the alternatives of (i) time-sharing and (ii) consolidation of the two companies hardware and software.

PSO and WTU further state that the annual savings of this proposed consolidation arrangement is estimated to be initially at least $50,000 for WTU and $50,000 for PSO.

It is stated that no State commission and no Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction with respect to the proposed transaction. Fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transaction are estimated at $2,500, including $450 in legal fees.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than October 31, 1977, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by said application-declaration, as amended, which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail upon the applicants-declarants at the above-stated addresses, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the application-declaration, as amended, or as it may be further amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rule 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive any notices and orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporate Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GEORGE A. FITZSIMMONS,
Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Agency for International Development HOUSE GUARANTY PROGRAM FOR THE REPUBLIC OF KOREA

Information for Investors

The Agency for International Development (AID) has authorized a guaranty of an amount not to exceed $15,000,000 for a housing guaranty program for the Republic of Korea to be carried out by the Korea National Housing Corporation (KNHC). KNHC desires to receive proposals from eligible U.S. investors, as defined below, for a loan to KNHC not to exceed $15,000,000, the repayment of which would be guaranteed by AID as to the principal and interest on such loan. The KNHC desires to discuss with interested eligible U.S. investors, the terms on which such a loan investment would be made. The eligible U.S. investor and the terms of the loan must be acceptable to AID and disbursements of the loan would be subject to certain conditions required of KNHC by AID. The guaranty will be backed by the full faith and credit of the United States of America and would be issued pursuant to authority in section 221 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended. Proceeds of the loan will be used for the financing of lower income housing projects in the Republic of Korea. This project is referred to as 489-HG-007.

Eligible investors are invited to submit proposals for the project. However, proposals should state clearly the project number to which a specific proposal relates.

Eligible investors interested in extending a guaranteed loan to KNHC should communicate promptly with counsel for KNHC:

Duncan Cameron, Esq., Cameron, Hornbostel, and Adelman, 1707 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20006.

Investors eligible to receive a guaranty are those specified in section 238(c) of the Act. They are: (1) U.S. citizens; (2) domestic corporations, partnerships, or associations substantially beneficially owned by U.S. citizens; (3) foreign corporations whose share capital is at least 95 percent owned by U.S. citizens; and (4) foreign partnerships or associations wholly owned by U.S. citizens.

To be eligible for a guaranty, the loan must be repayable in full no later than the thirtieth anniversary of the first disbursement of the principal amount thereof and the interest rate may be no higher than the maximum rate to be established by AID.

The KNHC projects a schedule of disbursements covering approximately 12 months from the date of the loan agreement and prospective investors should consider this in proposing a guaranteed loan to the KNHC. In addition, the investor must provide for the servicing of his loan, i.e., recordation and disposition of loan payments received from the KNHC.

Information as to eligibility of investors and other aspects of the AID housing guaranty program can be obtained from:

Director, Office of Housing, Agency for International Development, Room 625, SA-12, Washington, D.C. 20523.

This notice is not an offer by AID or by the KNHC. The KNHC and not AID will select an investor and negotiate the terms of the proposed plan.

Dated: October 4, 1977.

PETER M. KIMM,
Director, Office of Housing.

Office of Education

DIRECT, DISCRETIONARY GRANT
PROGRAMSClosing Dates for Receipt of Applications for Fiscal Year 1978

The purpose of this notice is to inform potential applicants of closing dates for the receipt of applications for grants by the U.S. Office of Education. For the convenience of potential applicants, this notice includes most programs for which grant applications are filed with the Office of Education. Closing dates are also included for the limited number of programs in which non-procurement contracts are awarded on the basis of applications. The only programs omitted from this notice are those for which it is not yet possible to specify a closing date because program regulations governing the award of grants are still being developed. Closing dates for these programs will be published as soon as possible.

Closing dates for a limited number of programs listed in this notice have been published previously. These closing dates are being republished in this notice, without change, so that potential applicants will be provided a single, comprehensive listing of as many program closing dates as possible. Under heading I, programs listed that have previously published their closing dates are designated by an asterisk.

Program closing dates are set forth in this notice in chronological order.

Applicants which decide to apply under one or more programs covered by this notice should take care to follow the instructions set forth under the closing date for each program, under heading III below. Closing dates and specific procedures vary from program to program. The instructions under each program's closing date inform applicants of (1) how to obtain application forms; (2) the regulations which govern the program; (3) whom to contact for additional information; and (4) other procedures to follow.

The Office of Education suggests that applicants consider sending applications by registered or certified mail. Under heading III below, separate dates are specified under each program for the use of registered or certified mail. Each of these dates is in advance of the regular closing date (specified under heading I, below) for each program. If the application is sent by registered or certified mail by the appropriate advance date specified for the use of registered or certified mail for each program under heading III below, the applicant is protected from unexpected circumstances causing the application to arrive late. If registered or certified mail is not used, and a new application arrives late, it cannot be accepted, no matter what unforeseen circumstances may have caused its lateness.

Under heading I below, a list is set forth of all closing dates contained in this notice. Specific instructions related to each of these closing dates are set forth under heading III below, with programs listed in the same order as under heading I. Under heading II is a list of programs for which closing dates are not being announced at this time because program regulations governing applications are still being developed. Closing dates for these programs will be published as soon as possible.

The U.S. Office of Education is publishing this single notice of closing date to make it easier for applicants to submit their applications. In connection with this attempt to simplify its procedures, OE is also concerned with removing some of the often burdensome reporting requirements placed on grantees. Consequently, the Commissioner of Education has established a policy which limits the frequency of reporting in 108 of the Office of Education's discretionary programs to one annual fiscal report, one annual program report, and one final report, except where otherwise specifically required by statute or regulation. A study will be undertaken in FY 1978 to determine if any programs should be given an exemption to this policy. Upon its conclusion, OE will publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER any necessary regulation amendments and a list of all programs authorized for annual data collection only, accompanied by the approved form numbers, as well as a list of the authorized exemptions stipulating how frequently those exempted programs are authorized to collect fiscal and/or program data. The authorized forms associated with these exemptions will also be published at the same time. In a further effort to reduce reporting burdens to local educational agencies, State educational agencies, and institutions of higher education, the Commissioner has also directed a study of the most appropriate dates for requesting this information. Reporting dates determined as a result of this study will also be published in the subsequent announcement. Fiscal and program reports provided for in the subsequent notice will be the only such reports authorized by the Office of Education, and educational officials who are asked to provide information which is inconsistent with the notice should immediately contact the Executive Deputy Commissioner for Support Services to determine whether the additional data and information requested has been authorized by the Commissioner of Education.

The Office of Education anticipates that the second announcement will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER in the second half of FY 1978.

CFDA-13.443A—HANDICAPPED RESEARCH AND DEMONSTRATION

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the authority contained in Sections 641 and 642 of Part E of the Education of the Handicapped Act (20 U.S.C. 1441, 1442), applications are being accepted for support for research and related purposes related to education of the handicapped. This announcement covers applications for new awards only for the Student Research program.

Under the Student Research program, the Office of Education is interested in a broad range of student initiated and directed research and research-related projects focusing on the education of handicapped children. Two award cycles are planned for Fiscal Year 1978. Proposals received for the first cycle will not be held over for the second cycle, but may be resubmitted.

Applications must be received by the U.S. Office of Education Application Control Center on or before the following dates: First Cycle, November 8, 1977; and for the Second Cycle, March 17, 1978.

A. Availability of funds and estimated number and amount of awards. The estimated total amount of funds available for support of Student Research projects is $250,000. Based on a median grant amount in recent years of approximately $5,000, we anticipate that about 33 new grants will be awarded. The range of funding for student projects has been from $350 to over $20,000. However, the large majority of awards have been for under $7,500.

B. Multiple year awards. While there is no legal limit on the duration of projects, the vast majority of student directed projects are for one year or less due to the limited tenure of students at applicant institutions. In the event that assistance is provided for multiple year projects, grant awards will be made for budget period of a single year's duration with continuation awards made on a non-competitive basis subject to satisfactory performance as determined pursuant to 45 CFR 121h.4(b) and the availability of funds in future fiscal years.

C. Applications sent by mail. An application sent by mail should be addressed as follows: U.S. Office of Education, Application Control Center, Washington, D.C. 20202. Attention: 13.443A. An application sent by mail will be considered to be received on time by the Application Control Center if:

(2) The application is received on or before the closing date by either the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, or the U.S. Office of Education mailrooms in Washington, D.C. (in establishing the date of receipt, the Commissioner will rely on the time-date stamp of such mailrooms or other documentary evidence or receipt maintained by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, or the U.S. Office of Education.)

D. Hand-delivered applications. An application to be hand delivered must be taken to the U.S. Office of Education Application Control Center, Room 5673, Regional Office Building Three, 7th and D Streets SW., Washington, D.C. (c) Hand-delivered applications. An application to be hand-delivered must be taken to the U.S. Office of Education, Application Control Center, Room 5673, Regional Office Building Three, 7th and D Streets SW., Washington, D.C. Hand-delivered applications will be accepted daily between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Washington D.C. time except Saturdays, Sundays, or Federal holidays. Applications for new awards will not be accepted after 4 p.m. on the closing date.

(d) Program information. Applications are being accepted from schools located on or near reservations which are not local educational agencies, or have not been local educational agencies for more than 3 years. A nonlocal educational agency is defined in 45 CFR 186.2. Eligibility factors, found in 45 CFR 186.32(a) are: (1) Whether the governing body of the school or school system was selected by, is representative of, and is solely responsible to the Indian tribe or Indian community which that school or school system serves; and (2) whether the governing body derives authority from such community to carry out such functions as: (i) employing, managing, and terminating personnel; (ii) developing and revising curricula; (iii) establishing attendance, academic, and other relevant standards; (iv) developing and approving budgets; (v) establishing operational policies; and (vi) raising funds.

Section 303(b) authorizes the Commissioner to provide financial assistance to support applicants for programs designed to meet the special educational needs of Indian students. Assistance may be used for the purposes of planning and developing elementary and secondary school programs and for meeting costs incurred in connection with the establishment, maintenance, and operation of such programs.

(e) Awards. Applicants who received assistance last fiscal year for a project period of one year and eligible applicants for new grants will compete for funds appropriated by Congress. Applicants who wish to continue their multiyear programs will submit applications for continuations which will not compete against other applications for new awards. Approximately $3,531,818 is available of which approximately $3,380,000 will be for the continuation of present multiyear awards. Approximately two grant awards for an average amount of $125,500 will be made for new grants, continuation of 1 year awards or expansions of multiyear awards.

This statement on the availability of funds does not bind the Office of Education to any particular pattern of distribution except as required by the Indian Education Act, applicable regulation and appropriations. Rather, actual figures may vary widely from those given.

CFDA-13.535G—RIGHT TO READ READING IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS (NEW AWARDS)

Closing Date—February 3, 1978

Applications must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the regulations, instructions, and forms included in the program information packages.

(b) Applications sent by mail. An application sent by mail should be addressed to: U.S. Office of Education, Application Control Center, Attention: 13.533G, Washington, D.C. 20202. Applications must be received by the Application Control Center on or before the closing date.

An application sent by mail will be considered to be received on time by the Application Control Center if:

(1) The application was sent by registered or certified mail not later than January 30, 1978, as evidenced by the U.S. Postal Service postmark on the wrapper or envelope, or on the original receipt from the U.S. Postal Service; or,

(2) The application is received on or before the closing date by either the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare or the U.S. Office of Education mail rooms in Washington, D.C. In establishing the date of receipt, the Commissioner will rely on the time-date stamp of these mail rooms or other documents.

tary evidence of receipt maintained by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, or the U.S. Office of Education.

(c) Hand-delivered applications. An application to be hand-delivered must be taken to the U.S. Office of Education, Application Control Center, Room 5673, Regional Office Building Three, 7th and D Streets SW., Washington, D.C. Hand-delivered applications will be accepted daily between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Washington, D.C. time except Saturdays, Sundays, or Federal holidays. Applications for new awards will not be accepted after 4 p.m. on the closing date.

(d) Program information. Applications are being accepted for new, competing grants under the Right to Read Reading Improvement Program (45 CFR Part 162, Subpart B).

In accordance with § 162.11 of the program regulations, eligible applicants for elementary projects are local educational agencies, State educational agencies, or both. Eligible applicants for preelementary projects are local educational agencies, State educational agencies, and other nonprofit, educational, or child care institutions. Any current grantee under the program which is not eligible to receive a noncompeting, continuation grant may compete for a new grant award.

Current grantees are eligible to receive a noncompeting continuation award if their grant award in fiscal year 1977 indicated the Commissioner's intention to fund them for a 24-month project period. A notice of closing date for noncompeting, continuation applications is being published separately.

Based on the fiscal year 1977 grants competition experience (when 29 preelementary projects and 75 elementary projects were funded out of 572 applications with a total of $6 million for new projects), it is anticipated that competition for the Federal funds under the Reading Improvement Program will be stiff.

Section 162.15 of the program regulations provides that, in approving applications, the Commissioner will, to the maximum extent feasible, assure an equitable distribution of funds throughout the United States and among urban and rural areas.

It is estimated that, for fiscal year 1978, approximately $3.9 million will be available for new grant awards in the Reading Improvement Program. For elementary projects, it is anticipated, as provided in § 162.18(a), that most grants will range between $15,000 and $125,000, with most of the awards made at the lower half of this range. In conformity with § 162.11(b)(1), elementary schools in the project must have large numbers of students or 50 percent or more of students in grades two through eight, or in project classes, reading 1 or more years below appropriate grade level. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the size of any particular grant award.

As stated in § 162.18(a), it is anticipated that most pre-elementary grants will be awarded in the range between $5,000 and $25,000, with most of the awards made at the lower half of this range. The attention of prospective applicants is directed to § 162.11(b)(1)(ii) of the program regulations which provides that Federal funds for preelementary projects will be awarded to schools located in geographic areas where there are elementary schools with large numbers or 50 percent or more of the students in grades two through eight reading 1 or more years below appropriate grade levels.

The Office of Education found, in reviewing applications in fiscal year 1977, that many applicants had failed to address, or address adequately, one or more of the requirements for grant awards, and their applications were disqualified. Therefore, the Office of Education cautions applicants to review carefully each of the requirements in the regulations and to address each in the application.

The Commissioner wants to bring special attention to the statement of objectives in the application. Applicants are strongly urged to see that each project objective specify (1) what is to be done, (2) how it is to be done, (3) who is to do it, (4) when it is to be done, and (5) how the activities will be measured. Also, applicants are urged in accordance with the criterion in § 162.14(b)(2)(i), to carry out the program with existing staff rather than hiring additional staff members with Federal funds. The reason the Office of Education suggests this is that often, when Federal funds are withdrawn, the additional personnel are not continued with local funds, and the program is not carried on.

In accordance with § 162.17(b), if an applicant wishes to propose a 2-year project, the applicant must explain in the application the need for 2-year Federal support, provide an overview of the objectives and activities proposed for 2 years, and budget estimates for a 24-month period.

Approximately 60 new grants will be awarded nationally under this program. Budget periods are tentatively scheduled for projects commencing no earlier than July 1, 1978, and terminating no later than June 30, 1979.

(e) Guidance to applicants. Based upon the experience of the Office of Education in reviewing applications under this program in fiscal year 1977, special guidance has been given in this notice on the preparation and submission of applications and in their review by State educational agencies. In particular, the attention of prospective applicants has been directed to application requirements in the program regulation which may not have been adequately addressed in a number of fiscal year 1977 applications.

However, this notice does not cover all application requirements in the regulation, nor does it state fully the specific regulation provisions which it does mention. Applicants are responsible for reading and complying with all requirements in the program regulation. Guidance in this notice relating to the regulation is given for the purpose of directing applicants to the regulation; not for the purpose of being used in place of the regulation.

Applicants and State educational agencies should also understand that provisions in this notice which involve suggestive language (e.g., "It is suggested," "Applicants are urged") are only suggestions given for the purpose of guidance or to facilitate review of applications. These suggestive provisions are not requirements, and failure of an applicant or SEA to follow them will not in any way prejudice the application.

(f) State review and approval. In accordance with § 162.13(b) of the program regulation, an applicant other than the State educational agency (SEA) must provide a copy of the completed application (and, it is suggested, two additional copies) to the State educational agency for the State within which the applicant agency is located on or before January 19, 1978. Unless the State educational agency has specified differently, it is suggested that these copies be submitted to the State Right to Read Director's office within the respective State educational agency. For verification of submission to the SEA, the applicant agency is encouraged to submit a copy of the dated cover letter used to forward its application to the SEA or to submit some other piece of verification in its application to the Commissioner. Under § 162.13, the Commissioner is not authorized to approve a Reading Improvement Project application unless the State educational agency has (1) established an advisory council on reading, (2) authorized and provided the opportunity to the council to receive and designate priorities among applications for grants, and (3) first approved the application.

Section 162.13(c) provides that failure by the SEA to indicate its approval in writing to the Commissioner within a period specified by the Commissioner shall be deemed a disapproval of the application by the SEA, and the application will not be considered for funding by the Commissioner.

(g) Cut-off date for receipt of SEA approval of applications. The cut-off date established for receipt by the Commissioner of written approval by the SEAs of applications within their State is February 15, 1978. These written approvals should be forwarded to: Program Operations Branch, Right to Read Office, U.S. Office of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue SW., (Room 1169, Donohoe Building), Washington, D.C. 20202. In addition to the approval list, the SEA must also send by that date the information required by 45 CFR 162.13(d)(2)(i) and (ii). In accordance with 45 CFR 162.14(a)(11), the Commissioner may attribute as many as 50 points (out of 195 total points for elementary projects and 230 for pre-elementary projects) to the ranking of an application by the State advisory council. It should be made clear, however, that high rankings by the State advisory council do not assure an automatic selection for funding by the Commissioner.

It is suggested that SEA's judge and rank the pre-elementary applications separately from the elementary ones, and that they forward copies of any written reviews of the applications.

As indicated in § 162.13(e), State educational agencies are strongly urged to approve no more than ten applications.

(h) For further information and forms contact: Program Operations Branch, Right to Read Office, U.S. Office of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue SW., (Room 1187, Donohoe Building), Washington, D.C. 20202 (202-245-7950).

(i) Applicable regulations. The regulations applicable to this program include the Office of Education General Provisions Regulations (45 CFR Parts 100, 100a). The regulation governing the Reading Improvement Projects was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 26, 1976 (General Provisions, 45 CFR Part 162, Subpart A, and Reading Improvement Projects, 45 CFR Part 162, Subpart B) and will govern the operations of this program.

During the 1977-78 academic year, 424 one-year fellowships and 76 two-year fellowships at 52 participating institutions will be supported by a Fiscal Year

NOTICES

1977 appropriation of $4,500,000. Though there is no final appropriation for Fiscal Year 1978, currently we expect an appropriation of $4,500,000. This would again permit a number of similar awards for both one-year and multi-year fellowships for the 1978-79 academic year. An applicant institution will apply for an allocation of a specified number of fellowships. Only one application per institution will be accepted. Students currently receiving assistance under this program who were making satisfactory progress in their courses of study will be given high priority for reaward of a fellowship for the 1978-79 fellowship year. It is expected that about half of the 500 fellows supported in 1977-78 will continue on into 1978-79.

(d) Program information. Non-competing applications are being accepted from current grantees who submitted applications for multi-year funding in Fiscal Year 1977 for continuation grants under the Right to Read Reading Improvement Program. This program is authorized to make grants to State educational agencies (SEAs) and to local educational agencies (LEAs), or both, to encourage SEAs and LEAs to undertake projects to strengthen reading instructional programs in elementary grades. In addition, the program is authorized to make grants to SEAs, LEAs, or non-profit educational or child care institutions to establish and improve pre-elementary school programs in language arts and reading.

In accordance with § 162.17(c) of the program regulations, Subpart B of 45 CFR Part 162, only those current grantees who in Fiscal Year 1977 received written notice on their notification of grant award to the effect that the Commissioner intended a twenty-four month project period may apply for a non-competing continuation grant award.

In accordance with § 162.18(a), it is expected that most continuation awards will range between $15,000 and $125,000, with most awards made at the lower half of this range. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to limit the size of any particular grant award.

NOTICES

Continuation grant awards will be made under this notice for projects commencing no earlier than September 1, 1978, and terminating no later than August 31, 1979. Since continuation applicants are applying for the last half of their twenty-four-month project, applicants may apply for a non-competitive continuation award for the indicated remaining project period of only twelve months. It is estimated that, for Fiscal Year 1978, approximately $4.2 million will support the non-competing grants under section 705, Reading Improvement Projects.

(e) Guidance to applicants. In particular, the attention of non-competing applicants is directed to § 162.17(e) which describes the basis on which a continuation application will be reviewed.

Unless the State educational agency has specified differently, it is suggested that these copies be submitted to the State Right to Read Director's office within the respective State educational agency. For verification of submission to the SEA, the applicant agency is encouraged to submit a copy of the dated cover letter used to forward its application to the SEA or some other piece of verification in its application to the Commissioner.

Under § 162.13, the Commissioner is not authorized to approve a Reading Improvement Project application unless the State educational agency has (1) established an advisory council on reading, (2) authorized and provided the opportunity to the council to receive and designate priorities among applications for grants, and (3) first approved the application.

Section 162.13(c) provides that failure by the SEA to indicate its approval in writing to the Commissioner within a period specified by the Commissioner shall be deemed a disapproval of the application by the SEA, and the application will not be considered for funding by the Commissioner.

(g) Cut-off date for receipt of SEA approval of applications. The cut-off date established for receipt by the Commissioner of written approval by the SEAs of applications within their State is April 12, 1978. NATIONAL VOLUNTARY LABORATORY ACCREDITATION PROGRAM

Final Finding of Need To Accredite Testing Laboratories That Test Thermal Insulation Materials

AGENCY: Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Science and Technology, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of final finding of need.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the Procedures for a National Voluntary Laboratory Accreditation Program (15 CFR Part 7), this notice announces the Secretary's final finding of need to accredit testing laboratories that test thermal insulation materials, and thereby establishes a voluntary laboratory accreditation program to accredit such laboratories. The notice also sets out the basis for the finding of need and identifies applicable product standards, test methods and recommended practices for which testing laboratories would be required to demonstrate competence in order to be accredited. In addition, the notice advises that a separate notice is being published simultaneously with this notice announcing the establishment by the Secretary of Commerce of a National Laboratory Accreditation Criteria Committee for Thermal Insulation Materials to develop and recommend general and specific criteria for use in accrediting testing laboratories that test thermal insulation materials.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 12, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Dr. Howard I. Forman, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Product Standards, Room 3876, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230 (202-377-3221).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On March 10, 1977, the Department announced in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 13326-13336) the issuance of a preliminary finding of need to accredit testing laboratories that test thermal insulation materials as required by the 45 specification standards set out in Appendix 3 to that notice. The test methods, including recommended practices, which were referenced in those 45 specification standards, were those listed in Appendix 9 to that notice. These standards include only those sections of such standards concerned with thermal, mechanical, vapor barrier, or fire properties of thermal insulation materials.

The notice invited interested persons desiring to comment on the preliminary finding of need to submit their comments to the Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology by April 11, 1977. Further, the notice advised that any person desiring to express his or her views in an informal hearing relative to the mentioned preliminary finding should communicate that desire by March 25, 1977, to the Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology.

Following publication of the March 10 notice, written statements were received from six respondents, none of whom objected to the preliminary finding of need. Of the written comments received, two were from individual producers, one was from an association of commercial, independent testing laboratories, one was from an individual testing laboratory, one was from a technical association representing the pulp and paper industry, and one was cosigned by the three trade associations who submitted the initial request that resulted in the issuance of the preliminary finding of need in this matter and who represent approximately 90 percent of the producers of thermal insulation materials. The written comments of these six respondents are part of the public record which is available for inspection and copying in the Department's Central Reference and Records Inspection Facility, Room 5319, Main Commerce Building, 14th Street between E Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20230. The Department received no requests for an informal hearing.

The comments on the preliminary finding of need have been carefully considered and evaluated. In addition, the Department re-examined the preliminary finding and the basis on which it was issued. A summary and analysis of the public's comments and recommendations for a final finding of need has been prepared by the Department. The summary and analysis document also reflects the Department's internal review of the preliminary finding of need. This document, which lists those members of the public that provided written comments, also is available for inspection and copying at the Department's Central Reference and Records Inspection Facility mentioned above.

Of the six written comments received from the public, only two raised substantive points. These are discussed below.

In connection with the first of the substantive points raised, it should be noted that Appendix 3 to the preliminary finding of need lists 45 thermal insulation material specifications that would serve as a basis of reference for the program for which a preliminary finding of need was made. Testing of thermal, mechanical, fire, and vapor barrier properties of thermal insulation material, as required by these specifications, would comprise the scope of the accreditation program. The applicable test methods and recommended practices are listed in Appendix 9 to the preliminary finding.

Dow Chemical U.S.A. contends that the testing of moisture and freeze-thaw resistance of thermal insulation materials is also important and the accreditation of such testing service should be added to the scope of the proposed program. This respondent proposes one additional test method (ASTM C666), but indicates that there is no existing product specification that requires such a freeze-thaw test. Dow contends, however, that a requirement for freeze-thaw testing will become a part of various specifications in the near future.

Inclusion of a freeze-thaw test within the scope of the accreditation program without reference to an existing specification that requires such testing would be contrary to the provisions of the NVLAP procedures for such action would constitute the development of a product standard or the modification of an existing product standard. Section 7.7 (e) (2) and (3) of the NVLAP procedures prohibit such action. Accordingly, this respondent's proposal cannot be considered until such time as product specifications are developed that require the testing of freeze-thaw properties of thermal insulation materials.

The Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry (TAPPI) commented regarding several tests for paper as listed in Appendix 9 to the preliminary finding of need; namely, ASTM standards D591, D826, D781, D828, D2020, and D777. TAPPI states that it is the recognized primary source for test methods in the pulp and paper area and recommends that its standards be referenced, or that both TAPPI and ASTM standards be jointly referenced in the final finding of need.

Although there are certain exceptions, it is generally agreed that existing TAPPI standards are essentially equivalent to the cited ASTM standards listed in the preceding paragraph. However, TAPPI's recommendation that its standards be referenced instead of ASTM standards is not feasible. The ASTM standards listed in Appendix 9 to the preliminary finding of need are those required by the product specification standards proposed for the accreditation program (listed in Appendix 3 to that preliminary finding). Referencing other test standards in lieu of those required by the product specifications would constitute a modification of the product standards which is prohibited by section 7.7(e)(3) of the NVLAP procedures.

TAPPI's alternate recommendation that its standards be referenced jointly with the ASTM standards cited above would seem reasonable, as long as the standards jointly referenced continue to be equivalent. As pointed out in the summary and analysis document referenced earlier herein, users of standards (and thus potential users of an accreditation program) generally use, or reference, the current issues of such documents. Therefore, it is essential that the product specification and test standards to be included in this final finding of need be referenced without dates. In this way, the accreditation program will continually be based upon referenced standards currently in effect. At this time, there is no assurance that reissues of TAPPI standards will remain essentially equivalent to reissues of ASTM standards. Accordingly, only ASTM test standards required by the product specifications are being listed in this final finding of need.

In addition to the two substantive points discussed above, several relatively minor corrections and clarifications have been made relative to the preliminary finding of need. One such correction requires the deletion of ASTM Specification C391 (Amosite Asbestos Thermal Insulation for Pipes) in Appendix 3 to the preliminary finding for the reason that this specification will be withdrawn by ASTM in November 1977. This deletion reduces the number of product standards that were set out in that Appendix 3 from 45 to 44. The list of the 44 product standards included in the scope of this program is set out in Appendix 1 to this notice. Another correction pertains to the deletion and replacement of Federal Specification HH-C-561 (Cork, compressed (corkboard) for thermal insulation) in Appendix 3 to the preliminary finding for the reason that it has been superseded by Federal Specification HH-I-525 (insulation board, thermal, cork).

There also was a need to include two test methods, ASTM method C136 (Sieve or Screen Analysis of Fine and Coarse Aggregates) and ASTM method C356 (Test for Linear Shrinkage of Preformed High Temperature Thermal Insulation Subjected to Soaking Heat) which were inadvertently omitted from Appendix 9 to the preliminary finding. A final correction results from a conclusion that ASTM test method C168 (Definition of Terms Relating to Thermal Insulating Materials) and ASTM test method C390 (Preformed Thermal Insulation Sampling) listed in Appendix 9 to the preliminary finding are not test methods or recommended practices and are not appropriate to serve as a basis for development of accreditation criteria. Therefore they are deleted from this final finding of need.

With respect to the matter of clarification, one of the items relates to whether there is a need to date product specification and test standards. It is concluded that the referenced standards indicated in the final finding of need would be the current standards in issue on the effective date of this final finding of need. Thereafter, the dates of the referenced standards would be those currently in issue.

The various corrections and clarifications referred to above are discussed in some detail in the summary and analysis document which, as was stated earlier, is available for inspection and copying at the Department of Commerce. One of the issues addressed in the summary and analysis document concerns the limitations of ASTM Test Method E84 in its ability to test the fire hazards of thermal insulation materials. Although E84 is commonly used to test the fire properties of thermal insulation materials, it is generally considered inadequate for measuring the fire hazards of such materials. Accordingly, the accreditation criteria promulgated under this program to accredit testing laboratories that test thermal insulation materials will include a statement concerning the limitations of E84 that accredited testing laboratories will be required to use in reporting E84 test results.

FINAL FINDING OF NEED

The joint request of Thermal Insulation Manufacturers Association, Inc., Mount Kisco, N.Y.; the National Mineral Wool Insulation Association, Inc., Summit, N.J., and the National Cellulose Insulation Manufacturers Association, Inc., Elk Grove Village, Ill., that the Secretary of Commerce find that there is a need to accredit testing laboratories which render services in the field of thermal insulation has been carefully examined and evaluated. Moreover, the earlier issued preliminary finding of need in this matter, together with the written comments submitted by interested parties in response thereto, have been carefully reviewed and analyzed. On the basis of that review and analysis, including the corrections and clarifications that have been made as a result thereof, it is hereby found that a need exists to accredit testing laboratories that test thermal insulation materials. The basis for this finding is as follows:

(a) Thermal insulation materials production exceeds $1 billion in value of annual shipments. A large percentage of this output is produced to meet requirements of 44 product standards included in the scope of this program. These product standards specify the physical properties that thermal insulation materials must have to be acceptable for insulation purposes. In addition, these product standards identify the test methods and recommended practices that laboratories will use to determine that the physical properties of thermal insulation materials meet the specified requirements. Therefore the product standards included in the scope of this program are important to commerce and consumer well-being.

(b) The 37 test methods and recommended practices included in the scope of this program are specified for use by the product standards noted above. These standard methods and practices are important to energy conservation efforts. They are used to measure those physical properties of thermal insulation materials necessary for determination of insulation effectiveness and compliance with building code requirements. Thus they serve energy conservation purposes. To the extent that they serve such purposes, the test methods and recommended practices are valid and theoretically sound. No claim is made or implied that the methods and practices are valid for serving other needs, such as health, safety, and noise abatement.

(c) Measurement of the physical properties of thermal insulation materials are prone to significant error unless the test methods and recommended practices noted above are carefully and expertly employed. As reliance is placed on such measurements for determination that the physical properties of thermal insulation materials meet requirements, such errors result in the production and use of inadequate thermal insulation materials that adversely affect the public.

(d) Increased assurance that testing laboratories correctly employ such test methods and recommended practices can be realized by the establishment of an accreditation program for laboratories that test thermal insulation materials. No accreditation program having this purpose exists either in the government or the private sector. Under procedures of the National Voluntary Laboratory Accreditation Program, a mechanism now exists to develop and promulgate nationally recognized criteria for evaluation and accreditation of testing laboratories that test thermal insulation materials, using as a basis of reference the requirements of the important product and test standards included in the scope of this program. Furthermore, experience of on-going laboratory evaluation activities in other areas indicates that site inspection and proficiency test sample services that may be required can be provided to large numbers of testing laboratories on a continuing basis, and that laboratories do request and pay costs for such services. It has also been ascertained that the costs to the government and the participating laboratories would have no major inflationary impact. Therefore it is concluded that it is practical and feasible to establish this accreditation program for the purpose of increasing assurance that testing laboratories have the competence and capability to properly conduct the test methods and recommended practices required by product standards important to the production and use of thermal insulation materials. As there is a public tendency to utilize accredited services when such services are available, it is concluded that this increased assurance of adequate testing capability will lead directly to increased availability in the marketplace of thermal insulation materials having reliably known properties.

(e) Residential and industrial use of thermal insulation materials is increasing significantly due to increasing fuel costs and interest in energy conservation. Federal and State governments are promoting increased use of thermal insulation materials through energy conservation legislation, aid to low-income families, tax rebate plans and requirements of building codes and home loan guarantee programs. Availability of competent testing services, which in turn will result in increased availability in the marketplace of thermal insulation materials with accurately stated properties, will benefit the public interest. Availability of thermal insulation materials having properties as specified will assist consumer information and guideline programs, aid the professional installer and designer of insulation systems, promote equitable trade conditions for producers and distributors, and help assure value received for expenditure of public funds. The resultant enhancement of energy conservation efforts, fuel cost savings and advantages to commerce and consumer well-being constitute the benefit to the public interest.

In view of the above finding of need, the Department hereby establishes a voluntary laboratory accreditation program to accredit testing laboratories that test the product, thermal insulation materials. The purpose of this accreditation program is presently limited to evaluating and accrediting testing laboratory facilities to determine their capability to conduct tests required by the applicable product standards, only to the extent that such requirements concern the acceptability and effectiveness of thermal insulation materials for use in conserving energy. The fire property test, ASTM E84, is included as a reference test method, not because it may or may not serve the needs of the public safety, but because its test results are commonly required by authorities who establish rules for the acceptability and use of thermal insulation materials. To the extent that E84 test ratings serve this latter purpose, the test method is important to the objective of conserving energy.

The applicable standards are those 44 product standards set out in Appendix 1 to this notice. The 37 test methods, including recommended practices, are those set out in Appendix 2. The applicable product standards, test methods and recommended practices included in this finding are those which are in effect on the date on which this final finding of need is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Thereafter, such applicable product standards, test methods and recommended practices shall be those versions that are then currently in effect. The applicable product standards include only those sections of such standards concerned with thermal, mechanical, vapor barrier or fire properties of thermal insulation materials.

The applicable test methods and recommended practices include only those sections required by the applicable product standards. Other product standards, test methods and recommended practices, not specifically referenced in this final finding of need, are part of this finding to the extent that they are referenced by and are essential to the requirements of the applicable product standards, test methods and recommended practices.

The specific sections of the applicable product standards, test methods and recommended practices, as well as those other product standards, test methods and recommended practices not specifically referred to in this final finding of need, as noted above, that will be pertinent to this accreditation program, will be set out when accreditation criteria are published in the FEDERAL REGISTER in accordance with section 7.8 of the NVLAP procedures.

Being published simultaneously with this notice is a separate notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER which announces the establishment by the Secretary of a National Laboratory Accreditation Criteria Committee for Thermal Insulation Materials pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App. 1 (Supp. V, 1975)). The function of that Committee will be to develop and recommend to the Secretary general and specific criteria for use in accrediting testing laboratories that test thermal insulation materials.

NOTE.—The Department of Commerce has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-107.

Issued: October 6, 1977.

NATIONAL VOLUNTARY LABORATORY ACCREDITATION PROGRAM

Establishment of Criteria Committee for Thermal Insulation Materials

In a separate notice appearing in this issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER, the Department of Commerce announced the issuance of a final finding of need to accredit testing laboratories that test thermal insulation materials. Accordingly, pursuant to paragraph (h) (3) of section 7.4 of the Procedures for a National Voluntary Laboratory Accreditation Program (15 CFR Part 7) and the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App. I (Supp. V, 1975)) notice is hereby given that the Secretary of Commerce has determined, after consultation with the Office of Management and Budget, that the establishment of the National Laboratory Accreditation Criteria Committee for Thermal Insulation Materials is in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on the Department by law.

The Committee's duties will be to develop and recommend to the Secretary general and specific criteria to accredit testing laboratories that test thermal insulation materials. The factors to be considered by the Criteria Committee in the development of such recommended criteria will be those set forth in paragraphs (a) (1) and (2) of section 7.7 of the referenced Procedures. The criteria developed by the Committee will be in accordance with the terms and conditions set out in subsections (b), (c), and (d) of section 7.7 of the Procedures. Furthermore, in accordance with subsection 7.8(c) of the referenced Procedures, the Committee will provide to the Secretary its evaluation and recommendations regarding written and oral comments submitted by interested parties on the proposed criteria published by the Secretary in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The Committee will consist of twenty-one members from the government and private sectors. For balanced membership the Committee will have the following composition:

Federal agency interests.....	6

COMMITTEEInitial Report to the Administrator,
Environmental Protection Agency

As required by section 4(e) of the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA), presented herein is the first official report of the Interagency Testing Committee. The Committee has the statutory responsibility to identify and recommend to the Administrator of EPA chemical substances which should be tested to determine their hazard to human health or the environment.

This report reflects the consensus of representatives from all eight member agencies: ten substances and categories of substances are recommended as high priority for testing and designated for consideration by EPA within twelve months.

As required by the statute, the Committee will continue its review process, reporting to the EPA Administrator within six months from the date of this report such additional recommendations as the Committee finds desirable during that period.

Dated: October 5, 1977.

WARREN R. MUIR,
Chairman TSCA Interagency
Testing Committee.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT, COUNCIL ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY,
Washington, D.C., October 4, 1977.

Hon. DOUGLAS M. COSTLE,
Administrator,
Environmental Protection Agency,
Washington, D.C.

DEAR MR. COSTLE: The enclosed document is the first official report submitted to you by the Interagency Testing Committee pursuant to Section 4(e) of the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA). It reflects the consensus of representatives from all eight member agencies: that the ten listed substances and categories of substances be recommended as high priority for testing under TSCA and designated for consideration by EPA within twelve months.

The report describes the process employed by the Committee in making its recommendations and the rationale for each designation. A supporting dossier for each designation will be forwarded to the Office of Toxic Substances in the next few weeks.

Only a portion of the compounds identified in the July preliminary report has been considered to date. The first revision of our recommendations will be based largely upon further review of those chemicals previously identified. Because this is a continuing process, we will, of course, identify additional chemicals for such review as information becomes available to us.

The Committee has been hampered in its deliberations by the lack of a readily available and consolidated source of data on the many chemicals to which man and the environment are exposed. Other activities under TSCA, e.g., development of coordinated data systems, inventory reporting, and other information collection under Section 8, should be of considerable value in future Committee efforts. Therefore, we expect that a number of additional substances will be listed and integrated in our future reports.

We hope our analysis and recommendations will be helpful to EPA in its implementation of the Toxic Substances Control Act.

Sincerely,

WARREN R. MUIR, Ph. D.,
Chairman, TSCA Interagency
Testing Committee.

SUMMARY

The Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA) established the TSCA Interagency Testing Committee, giving it the continuing responsibility to identify and recommend to the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency chemical substances and mixtures which should be tested to determine their hazards to human health and the environment. The Committee's initial recommendations are to be published in the Federal Register and transmitted to the EPA Administrator within nine months of the effective date of TSCA. The Committee is to consider additions to its recommendations at least every six months.

In meeting its charge, the Committee has, with the assistance of a technical support contractor, carried out a multi-step screening procedure to identify for its detailed review a limited number of substances and categories of substances likely to have priority for testing to determine their effects on human health and the environment. A number of substances and categories identified by this process have been reviewed by the Committee, which has given careful consideration to each of the eight factors specified in Section 4(e)(1)(A) of TSCA. The Committee has also considered such factors as test programs currently in progress, the current status of regulatory action with respect to a substance, and the need for test data on all members of certain categories rather than on one or more individual members of the category.

In July, 1977, the Committee published a Preliminary List of 330 substances and categories of substances along with a background document describing the methods used by the Committee in making those selections. The Preliminary List included substances and categories selected primarily on the basis of potential for human exposure and environmental release. Public comments received on the Preliminary List were reviewed by the Committee and considered in the development of the Committee's initial recommendations.

Subsequently, the chemicals on the Preliminary List and chemicals added to the Preliminary List based on the public comments were further screened by the Committee based primarily on their potential for adverse human and/or environmental effects, but also continuing to consider their exposure potential. Available data on and potential for carcinogenic, mutagenic, teratogenic and chronic toxic effects, as well as their ability to bioaccumulate or cause deleterious environmental effects were considered. A scoring system which took into account both available information and the lack of it for these factors was used in this process. Using these scoring results and its scientific judgment, the Committee further narrowed the list under consideration to about 80 substances and categories. Aided by information dossiers prepared by its contractor, the Committee reviewed about half of these compounds and has selected for inclusion in its initial recommendations to the EPA Administrator four individual substances and six categories of substances. Each is being designated by the Committee for consideration by EPA within the next 12 months. They are (arranged alphabetically):

Alkyl Phthalates	Environmental effects
Chlorinated Benzenes, Mono- and Di-	Carcinogenicity, mutagenicity, teratogenicity, other chronic effects, environmental effects, and epidemiological study

The Committee's reasons for each recommendation and a more detailed definition of each of the categories are presented in Section 3.2. The Committee expects that the precise definition of each category will be considered further by EPA in the course of developing testing rules. The Committee also recognizes that certain members of a category may already have been adequately tested for one or more of the effects for which testing of the category has been recommended. In that case, no further testing for that combination of substance and effect would be needed.

A dossier summarizing the information considered by the Committee in selecting each substance or category will be forwarded to EPA in the next few weeks. The Committee will continue its review of the remaining substances and categories already selected for detailed review, and may identify and review others, in anticipation of its next report.

INITIAL REPORT OF THE TSCA INTERAGENCY TESTING COMMITTEE TO THE ADMINISTRATOR, ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

October 1, 1977

CHAPTER 1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 BACKGROUND

Section 4(e) of the Toxic Substances Control Act (P.L. 94-469, hereafter referred to as TSCA) established the TSCA Interagency Testing Committee. That Committee has the continuing responsibility to identify and recommend to the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency chemical substances or mixtures which should be tested to determine their hazard to human health or the environment. The statute provides that the Committee shall make its initial recommendations to EPA by October 1, 1977.

To carry out this responsibility, the Committee has developed and executed a multi-step screening procedure to identify for its detailed review a number of chemical substances and categories of chemical substances expected to have a high priority for testing based on the criteria set forth in Section 4(e)(1)(A) of TSCA. The Committee received extensive technical support in this screening, and in the gathering of data on substances and categories selected for detailed review, from Clement Associates, Inc. under a contract with the National Science Foundation. After reviewing the information available to it on each candidate, including public comments submitted in response to the Committee's July, 1977, publication of a preliminary list of substances under consideration, the Committee has selected the ten substances and categories being recommended to the EPA Administrator in this report. As required by the statute, the Committee will continue its review process, reporting to the EPA Administrator within six months from the date of this report such additional recommendations as the Committee finds desirable during that period.

This report documents the procedures used by the Committee in selecting those substances and categories now being recommended for testing, and, as required by the statute, provides the Committee's reasons for making each such recommendation. In addition to the material contained in this report, the Committee is now finalizing a series of dossiers developed by its technical support contractor which will summarize all of the non-confidential information considered by the Committee in deciding to recommend each substance or category for testing. These dossiers will be transmitted to the EPA in a few weeks.

1.2 COMMITTEE ESTABLISHMENT AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Committee, as established by Section 4(e) of TSCA, has eight members, appointed by the eight Federal agencies identified for membership in Section 4(e)(2)(A) of the Act. In addition, a number of alternates have been designated as permitted by Section 4(e)(2)(B)(i). The Committee has adopted the name "TSCA Interagency Testing Committee", which is frequently shortened in this report to "Committee". As provided by Section 4(e)(2)(B)(iii), it has selected a chairman from among its members. The Committee has also invited several other Federal agencies with programs related to the control of toxic substances, but which were not included in the statutory membership of the Committee, to designate liaison representatives to attend Committee meetings. Current Committee members, alternates, and liaison representatives are identified in the frontispiece.

The Committee's testing priority recommendations are required by Section 4(e) to be published in the Federal Register and transmitted to the EPA Administrator within nine months of the January 1, 1977, effective date of TSCA. At least every six months thereafter, the Committee is required to review its recommendations and make such revisions as are necessary.

The Committee's recommendations are to be in the form of a list of chemical substances or mixtures set forth, either individually or in groups, in the order in which the Committee determines the EPA Administrator should consider taking action under Section 4(a) in developing and promulgating testing regulations. The Committee is authorized to designate up to 50 of these substances or groups for which the EPA Administrator must within 12 months either initiate rulemaking requiring their testing or publish reasons for not taking such action.

In developing its recommendations, the Committee is directed by Section 4(e)(1)(A) of TSCA to consider, along with all other relevant factors: the production volume, environmental release, occupational exposure, and non-occupational human exposure to the substance or mixture; the similarity of the substance or mixture in question to others known to present unreasonable risk of injury to health or the environment; the extent of data on the effects of the substance or mixture in question on health or the environment and the extent to which additional testing of the substance or mixture may produce data from which effects can reasonably be determined or predicted; and the reasonably foreseeable availability of facilities and personnel for performing the testing being recommended. The Committee is also directed by Section 4(e) to give priority attention in establishing its list of recommendations to substances or mixtures which are known or suspected to cause or contribute to cancer, gene mutations, or birth defects.

The Committee's specific reasons for including each substance or mixture in its recommendations are required to be published in the Federal Register and transmitted to the EPA Administrator along with the priority list.

While Section 4(e) refers to the Committee's recommendations as a list of "chemical substances and mixtures", Section 26(c)(1) authorizes the EPA Administrator to take actions (including the promulgation of Section 4(a) testing regulations) with respect to categories of chemical substances or mixtures as well. A category is defined in TSCA as a group whose members are similar in molecular structure; in physical, chemical, or biological properties; in use; in mode of entrance into the human body or into the environment; or in any other way, so long as the grouping is not based solely on its members being "new chemical substances" as defined in the Act. Since the EPA Administrator is authorized to promulgate testing regulations for categories of chemical substances or mixtures, the Committee has concluded that its recommendations to the EPA Administrator may also include categories (or groups) of chemical substances or mixtures, as well as individual substances and mixtures. This conclusion is consistent with Section 4(e) which states that the Committee's recommendations for testing "shall be in the form of a list of chemical substances and mixtures which shall be set forth, either by individual substance or mixture or by groups of substances or mixtures... ."

In order to maintain consistency in this report and in keeping with its meaning in TSCA, the term "category" will be used to reflect groupings of substances. "Substance" will be used to refer to both individual chemicals as well as mixtures.

CHAPTER 2. DEVELOPMENT OF THE COMMITTEE'S INITIAL RECOMMENDATIONS

2.1 SELECTION OF THE COMMITTEE'S BASIC APPROACH

Estimates of the number of chemical substances and mixtures subject to TSCA range from tens of thousands to over 100,000; the number and identities of these substances and mixtures will not be established until after the completion of the chemical inventory under Section 8(b) of TSCA. Nevertheless, all of these substances and mixtures, together with others which may be manufactured in the future, are subject to the promulgation of testing rules under Section 4(a) and are thus within the purview of the Interagency Testing Committee.

At the same time, Section 4(e) of TSCA specifies a number of factors which the Committee is to consider in determining whether to recommend a substance for testing. Careful consideration of these factors requires the collection and review of a substantial amount of data concerning the production, use, chemical and biological activity, and previous testing of each substance or category of substances under consideration.

As a result, because of the lack of a comprehensive and readily accessible data base on current chemicals, the large number of potential candidates for the Committee's consideration, and the statutory deadline for the Committee's initial recommendations to EPA, the Committee has had to select for its detailed consideration only a small subset of the possible candidates.

In considering alternative approaches to selecting a limited number of substances for detailed review, the Committee met with a number of experts on chemical data systems and chemical characterization. Several possible approaches were identified. One was a nomination approach in which Committee members or other experts would nominate specific chemicals for consideration. Another was to use structure-activity relationships to identify for review substances chemically similar to others of known hazard. Yet another approach was to focus the Committee's attention on those substances known to have high levels of production volume, environmental release, or human exposure.

After considering these alternatives, the Committee decided to adopt a combined strategy employing features of each. This resulted in a multi-step screening process wherein a relatively large number of substances were considered initially and at each subsequent step a smaller subset was selected for collection of more data and more intensive review.

The basic steps in the process adopted by the Committee, which are illustrated in Figure 1 and are described in more detail in subsequent sections, were as follows:

- a. Establishment of an INITIAL LISTING of about 3,650 substances and categories of substances previously identified as potential hazards to human health or the environment,
- b. Compilation of a smaller MASTER FILE (about 1,700 substances and categories) through elimination from the INITIAL LISTING of substances not in commercial production or used predominantly as pesticides, food additives, or drugs,
- c. Selection of a PRELIMINARY LIST of about 330 substances and categories for further consideration based on evaluation of the production volume, environmental release, occupational exposure, and general human exposure levels of the substances in the MASTER FILE,
- d. Selection of about 80 substances and categories for detailed review based on evaluation of the potential biological activity and need for health and ecological effects testing of substances appearing on the PRELIMINARY LIST,
- e. Selection of substances and categories recommended for testing after review of preliminary dossiers prepared by the Committee's contractor, public comments on the PRELIMINARY LIST, and other pertinent information available to the Committee from various agencies,
- f. Documentation of the Committee's reasons for including each substance or category in its list of recommendations and completion of a final dossier summarizing the information considered by the Committee in reaching its decision.

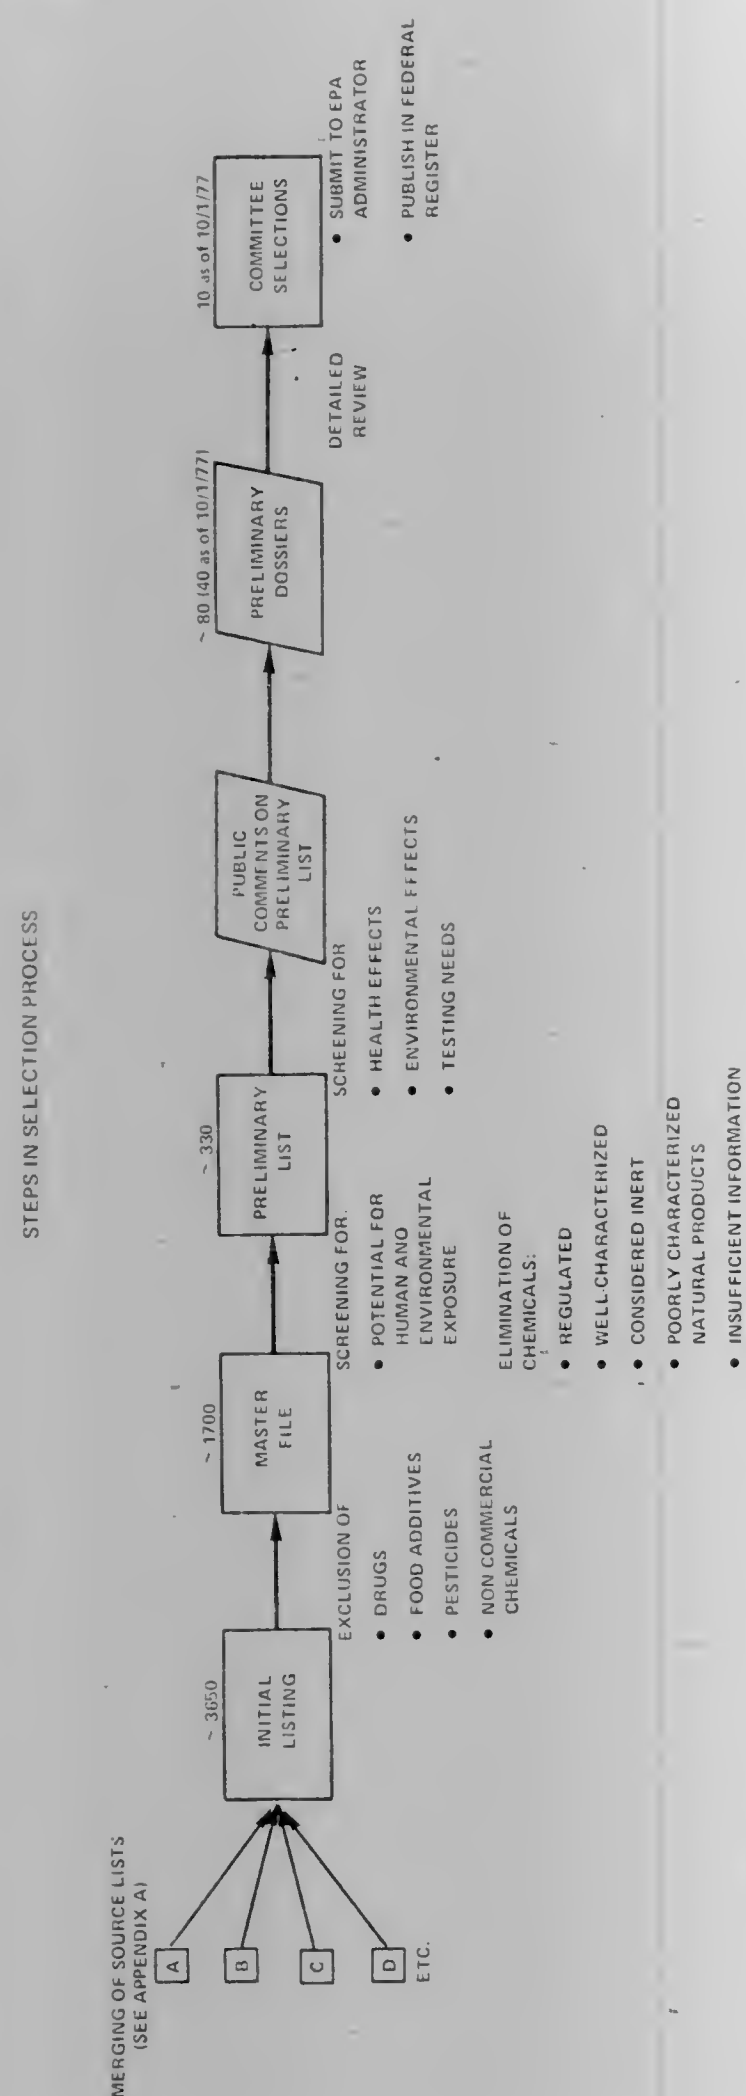

FIGURE 1. SELECTION SCHEME USED BY THE TSCA INTERAGENCY COMMITTEE IN SELECTING ITS INITIAL RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE EPA ADMINISTRATOR (OCTOBER 1977)

FEDERAL REGISTER, VOL. 42, NO. 197—WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1977

Carrying out this multi-step process required the collection, review, coding, and analysis of data on a large number of chemical substances, as well as the application of scientific judgment in many areas where adequate data were unavailable. The Committee was supported extensively in these efforts by Clement Associates, Inc. under a contract with the National Science Foundation (Contract No. NSF ENV77-15417 with partial funding by the NIEHS and NCI. The contractor employed expert consultants from a variety of disciplines in carrying out its tasks under the contract. In addition, many U.S. Government agencies made data and expertise of their employees available to the Committee for these efforts.

Several of the steps of the Committee's procedure employed quantitative scoring of the substances under consideration. Members of the Committee used their professional expertise and judgment in applying these scores to the decisions at each step.

2.2 ESTABLISHMENT OF THE INITIAL LISTING

In order to focus its initial attention on substances likely to require health and/or ecological effects testing, and for which sufficient preliminary data were likely to be available to permit more detailed reviews at later steps, the Committee chose to limit its initial consideration to substances or categories of substances which had already been identified in previous reviews as being of concern because of potential adverse effects on human health or the environment or as having large production volumes and a potential for substantial human exposure or environmental release. Nineteen separate source lists of this type were identified by the Committee and pooled to produce the INITIAL LISTING of about 3,650 substances, mixtures, and categories. The individual source lists are identified and described briefly in Appendix A.

2.3 REDUCTION TO THE MASTER FILE

The INITIAL LISTING included a number of substances having pesticide, food additive, or drug uses, all of which are regulated under other Federal statutes and are exempted from regulation by TSCA. To identify them, the INITIAL LISTING was compared with lists of pesticides prepared by the EPA and lists of food additives and drugs prepared by the Food and Drug Administration, using Chemical Abstracts Service (CAS) Registry Numbers. This initial purge of substances subject to other statutes was incomplete, since some entries on source lists did not include CAS numbers. To compensate for this, a further manual purging was required. Consideration was also given to the fact that a substance used as a pesticide, food additive or drug may also have other uses that are subject to the authority of TSCA. Since pesticides, food additives, and drugs are generally produced in limited volumes, substances identified as such but having annual production over 10 million pounds were considered likely to have other uses as well and were retained on the truncated list for further review of their uses. Substances identified as pesticides, food additives, or drugs but known to the Committee or its contractor to have other uses within the jurisdiction of TSCA were also retained.

NOTICES

The resulting file was reduced further by the elimination of chemicals which were judged not likely to be in commercial production. This was accomplished by comparing the file against EPA's Candidate List of Chemical Substances, prepared by the Office of Toxic Substances (dated April 1977). Again, the basis of comparison for this purge was an assigned CAS number. Consequently, this purge did not affect those chemicals on source lists for which no CAS number was given. In an attempt to eliminate substances which are not in commercial production, the following rule was adopted: any substance not identified by a CAS number which appeared on the NIOSH Registry (Source List 13 of Appendix A) and on none of the other source lists was judged not likely to be in commercial production. This decision was based on the fact that the NIOSH Registry lists any substance for which toxic effects have been reported, including research chemicals. A scan of the substances eliminated by the application of this rule demonstrated its usefulness: few of the purged substances were recognized to be in commercial production.

As a result of the purges described above, a MASTER FILE of approximately 1700 substances emerged.

2.4 SELECTION OF THE PRELIMINARY LIST

Having developed a MASTER FILE of substances to be considered for possible recommendation to EPA for testing, the Committee began to apply the eight factors explicitly identified for its consideration in Section 4(e)(1)(A). While recognizing that there would be advantages to applying all of the first seven factors* simultaneously in evaluating the relative priorities for detailed review of the substances under consideration, the Committee concluded that assembling and evaluating the necessary data for all substances on the MASTER FILE would not be feasible within the time schedule established by statute, considering the limitations of current chemical information systems and the number of professional judgments which would have to be made. Evaluation of the fifth, sixth, and seventh factors (relating to chemical similarity to substances of known hazard, existing health and environmental effects data, and need for testing) was anticipated to require more independent review and judgment and to be the more time-consuming portion of the task. Hence, the Committee decided to further reduce the number of substances under consideration before explicitly evaluating those factors which had, to some extent, already been reflected in the choice of source lists.

* The eighth factor, the reasonably foreseeable availability of facilities and personnel for performing the needed testing, was considered principally by the Committee in terms of the aggregate facilities and personnel needs for carrying out all of the Committee's recommendations. See Section 2.8 for further discussion of this factor.

NOTICES

This reduction, which resulted in the selection of the PRELIMINARY LIST, was based principally on evaluation of the first four factors identified for the Committee's consideration in Section 4(e)(1)(A) of TSCA. These are:

- (i) quantity of the substance produced annually
- (ii) amount of the substance released into the environment
- (iii) number of individuals occupationally exposed and duration of their exposure
- (iv) extent to which the general population will be exposed.

Using a combination of published data and judgment, the Committee's contractor made an attempt to score each substance in the MASTER FILE for these four factors. Appendix B describes in more detail how scores were assigned to substances. Information on the use or uses of a substance was critical to the assignment of scores for environmental release and general population exposure, and scores for those factors could not be assigned if use information could not be found by the contractor. For about 1,000 of the 1,700 substances in the MASTER FILE this was the case; as a result, for only about 700 of the substances was it possible to assign scores. By combining the scores for the four factors, as described in Appendix C, a rank-ordered list of the scored substances was prepared for the Committee's consideration.

In selecting the approximately 330 substances and categories included on the PRELIMINARY LIST, the Committee considered all of the scored substances and eliminated from current consideration a number of them which in the Committee's professional judgment were found to be:

- a. Currently under stringent regulation or of lower priority for the Committee's purposes because their hazard is reasonably well characterized (e.g., vinyl chloride and mercury);
- b. Essentially inert materials (e.g. certain polymers) or substances reasonably well characterized as having low toxicity (e.g., methane);
- c. Covered by testing requirements under food, drug and cosmetic or pesticide legislation (e.g., citric acid); or
- d. Certain natural products (e.g., asphalt) whose consideration should be deferred pending better characterization for testing purposes.

Others of the scored substances were specifically selected by the Committee for inclusion on the PRELIMINARY LIST based on judgment of members that further review was needed. The remainder of the scored substances were considered for inclusion on the PRELIMINARY LIST based on their relative ranking in the scoring process.

In addition to the scored substances, the Committee also considered in selecting the PRELIMINARY LIST the unscored substances from the MASTER FILE and a limited number of additional substances recommended by Committee members or the Committee's contractor. A number of substances from these sources were included on the PRELIMINARY LIST based on the Committee's knowledge of the substance and its uses or the Committee's professional judgment that the substance should be further evaluated.

In reviewing substances for possible inclusion on the PRELIMINARY LIST, the Committee also considered the desirability of grouping substances into categories. In several cases the Committee grouped chemically-related substances from the MASTER FILE while in other cases the Committee retained groups which had already appeared in one of the source lists. About 15% of the entries on the PRELIMINARY LIST were categories.

2.5 PUBLIC COMMENT ON THE PRELIMINARY LIST

The PRELIMINARY LIST, together with a background document describing its development, was published by the Committee in July, 1977. Notice was published by the Committee in the Federal Register (42 FR 30531 and 42 FR 40756) announcing the availability of the list and background document and requesting public comment. Comments were specifically requested on:

- a. The methodology used by the Committee in developing the PRELIMINARY LIST;
- b. Substances not appearing on the PRELIMINARY LIST which commentators might recommend for consideration by the Committee and the commentator's reasons for the recommendation;
- c. Substances appearing on the PRELIMINARY LIST which commentators might recommend that the Committee not consider further and the reasons for that recommendation; and
- d. Comments on the needs for and relative priority of testing of the substances being considered by the Committee.

As an additional aid to commentators and others interested in the Committee's activities, copies of the list of substances comprising the MASTER FILE and a tabulation of the scores for production volume, environmental release, and occupational and general population exposure considered by the Committee in selecting the PRELIMINARY LIST were made available for public inspection at the headquarters and regional offices of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Comments on the PRELIMINARY LIST were received from about 65 industrial firms, trade associations, environmental organizations, government agencies, and individuals. About two-thirds of the commentators recommended deletion from the Committee's further consideration of one or more substances or categories appearing on the PRELIMINARY LIST, while four commentators recommended additional substances for the Committee's consideration. About one-fifth of the commentators included comments on the methodology employed by the Committee in developing the PRELIMINARY LIST and about one-third included comments on other issues related to the Committee's activities. Such issues were the use of categories in the Committee's recommendations to EPA, documentation of the Committee's reasons for its decisions with respect to specific substances, and provision of opportunity for public comment on the Committee's actions.

Public comments on the PRELIMINARY LIST have been reviewed by the Committee and considered in the development of the Committee's initial recommendations. Four of the seven additional substances recommended by commentators were added to the PRELIMINARY LIST for consideration in selecting substances and categories for detailed review. Because of the large number of comments recommending deletions of substances from the Committee's consideration and the limited time available under the statutory deadline, pertinent comments were considered on a substance-by-substance or category-by-category basis during the Committee's review of preliminary dossiers and consideration of reasons for and against recommending testing. Comments on the Committee's methodology have been reviewed and will be considered in subsequent activities of the Committee. In the Committee's judgment, the recommended changes in methodology would not, if implemented, alter its initial recommendations. Comments dealing with use of categories, documentation of the Committee's reasons for actions, and other more general issues were also reviewed and considered in the development of the Committee's recommendations.

2.6 SELECTION OF SUBSTANCES FOR DETAILED REVIEW

This step of the Committee's procedure extended the scoring of the substances under consideration to factors (v) through (vii) of Section 4(e)(1)(A). These factors are:

- (v) the extent to which the substance or mixture is closely related to a chemical substance or mixture which is known to present an unreasonable risk of injury to health or the environment;
- (vi) the existence of data concerning the effects of the substance or mixture on health or the environment; and
- (vii) the extent to which testing of the substance or mixture may result in the development of data upon which the effects of the substance or mixture on health or the environment can reasonably be determined or predicted.

NOTICES

To accomplish this, each substance on the PRELIMINARY LIST was scored for each of seven biological activity factors by a number of experts available through the Committee's contract. The factors were: carcinogenicity, mutagenicity, teratogenicity, acute toxicity, other toxic effects such as reproductive effects or organ-specific toxicity, bioaccumulation, and ecological effects. After reviewing a summary of information on the biological activity of the substance developed by the contractor based on the open literature, each of the contractor's scorers assigned a score to the substance for the effect(s) for which that scorer was responsible.

A total of nine scorers was used by the contractor, with two or three scorers separately evaluating each effect in most cases. Each scorer considered both the summary information provided by the contractor and his personal knowledge of the substance and chemically-related substances in assigning scores. Any substantial discrepancies among individual scorers were identified, discussed among the scorers, and a consensus reached; in the case of minor discrepancies in the scores for any factor, the scores of the several scorers were averaged.

In addition, three of the effects (carcinogenicity, mutagenicity, and ecological effects) were separately scored by government experts from the National Cancer Institute, National Center for Toxicological Research, and Department of Interior, respectively. These scores were averaged with those of the contractor's scorers.

Scores assigned for the various effects took the form of either a numerical score (generally 0, 1, 2, or 3) or a letter score (generally x, xx, or xxx). Assignment of a numerical score indicated a judgment that further testing of the substance is not needed for the effect under consideration, while the magnitude of the score indicated the degree to which the effect had been confirmed or the dose level at which it had been found. Assignment of a letter score, on the other hand, indicated a judgment that further testing should be carried out, with the number of "x's" assigned reflecting a judgment as to the level of numerical score that might be anticipated after testing. For example, in scoring a substance for carcinogenicity a score of 3 meant that the substance is well established as a carcinogen in humans or experimental animals, while a score of xxx meant that the substance is strongly suspected of carcinogenic activity but has not been adequately tested. In averaging the scores assigned to a substance by the several scorers for a given factor, no mixing of numerical and letter scores was permitted. Any discrepancies between scorers in choosing the numerical or letter scale were discussed among the scorers and resolved. The criteria applied by the scorers in assigning scores for the various factors are described in more detail in Appendix D.

Categories of substances appearing on the PRELIMINARY LIST were not generally scored as entities, but rather, scores were assigned separately for each of the example substances listed under the category heading in the list.

NOTICES

Using these scores, the contractor provided the Committee a series of lists of the substances appearing on the PRELIMINARY LIST ranked according to various criteria. These included separate lists for each factor ranked by the average score a substance received for that factor (identifying those substances judged most in need for testing for a single effect) and a list ranked by the sum of the letter scores received by a substance for all factors (identifying substances requiring testing for a number of effects). Also tabulated on each list was an exposure index for each substance which was derived from the earlier scoring of production volume, environmental release, and occupational and general population exposure. For the human health effects factors and total letter score lists the exposure index used was the sum of the production volume, occupational exposure, and general population exposure scores, while for the bioaccumulation and ecological effects factors, the exposure index was the sum of the production volume and environmental release scores. The Committee also received from its contractor a list of those substances evaluated by the scorers which were known or might be anticipated to have additional adverse health or environmental effects as a result of contaminants appearing in the commercial product or degradation products of the substance under consideration.

The Committee's selection of substances and categories from the PRELIMINARY LIST to be carried forward for detailed review used the various lists provided by its contractor as guides, but reflected the independent judgments of the members of the Committee. First, the scores themselves were reviewed, with any major discrepancies between the contractor's scores and those of the government scorers or the judgments of individual Committee members being considered. Then, the Committee turned to the various ranked lists, reviewing in turn the substances ranked most in need of testing on the sum-of-letter-scores list or the lists for the individual factors. Each substance appearing in the top 75 to 100 positions on one or more of these lists was considered by the Committee and a decision made whether to select it for detailed review.

Particular attention was paid by the Committee to substances known or suspected to be carcinogens, mutagens, or teratogens, in keeping with the statutory guidance provided the Committee in Section 4(e)(1)(A) of TSCA. This emphasis was reflected not only in the Committee's consideration of individual substances and categories, but also in its structuring of the review process, since these effects were scored individually and, in effect, received greater attention than did other effects scored in groups (e.g., other toxic effects or ecological effects).

Categories of substances appearing on the PRELIMINARY LIST were also reviewed in terms of the scoring of their example members and the Committee's judgment as to retaining them. A number of decisions to modify previous categories or define new categories were made by the Committee during this review process.

In reviewing these lists, more than two-thirds of the individual substances scored by the contractor were explicitly considered by the Committee. Approximately eighty substances and categories were selected by the Committee for the drafting of preliminary dossiers and further detailed review. Of these, about half were individual substances and half categories.

2.7 CONSIDERATION FOR LISTING AND DESIGNATION

For each of the approximately eighty substances and categories selected for detailed review, preliminary dossiers have been (or are being) prepared by the Committee's contractor. Within the time period allowed by the statute for development of the Committee's initial recommendations, preliminary dossiers were drafted for about one-half of the substances and categories for detailed review. Consideration of these and other information resulted in the initial recommendations transmitted by this report. Consideration of the remaining substances and categories already selected for detailed review, and others which may subsequently be selected, will continue and will be reflected in subsequent recommendations to EPA by the Committee.

The preliminary dossiers summarized information obtained from the open literature relating to the identification, relevant chemical and physical properties, production volume, uses, environmental release, and exposure to the substance under consideration as well as information on the nature and findings of previous studies of its human health and environmental effects. Information on the biological activity of other chemically similar substances was also included where available. Preliminary dossiers for categories of substances included these types of information for specific members of the category, generally the example members identified in the PRELIMINARY LIST.

Using the information summarized in the preliminary dossier, together with information submitted in public comments on the PRELIMINARY LIST, information available to the Committee from various Federal agencies, and the members' individual knowledge, the Committee reviewed each substance or category. Each of the factors specified in Section 4(e)(1)(A), as well as any other relevant factors identified by the Committee on a case-by-case basis, was considered. In particular, in considering factor (vi) of Section 4(e)(1)(A), the existence of data concerning the effects of the substance on health or the environment, the Committee considered test programs currently in progress, as well as data already generated. Another factor considered in certain instances was the status of current regulatory action relative to the substance. In each case where a category of substances was under consideration the appropriate definition of the category and the need for data on all members of the category were considered. Where relevant to the particular type of testing under consideration for a substance or category, factor (viii) of Section 4(e)(1)(A), the availability of test facilities and personnel, was discussed on a case-by-case basis. In general, however, this factor was considered in the aggregate after the Committee's tentative recommendations for all substances and categories had been identified. The Committee's consideration of this factor is discussed further in section 2.8 of this report.

After reviewing and thoroughly discussing the information available to the Committee on the substance or category under consideration, a decision was made regarding whether to recommend the development of test rules by EPA and, if so, for which effects. Subsequently, one or more Committee members participated in the drafting of the supporting reasons for each recommendation and these reasons were again reviewed by the Committee. A final decision to recommend the substance or category for testing represents a consensus by the Committee members that such testing is needed to evaluate the effects of the substance (or of each individual substance falling within the definition of a category) on human health and the environment, and that priority attention should be given by EPA to requiring the conduct of such testing. The Committee recognized, of course, that some members of recommended categories may have already been adequately tested for the effects of concern and would not require further testing.

Several substances and categories reviewed by the Committee were deferred for further consideration because of insufficient information to adequately define the categories or to determine the needs for testing.

Assignment of priority order to the substances and categories recommended for testing was also considered. The Committee concluded that all of the substances and categories being recommended at this time should be given equal priority in EPA's development of test rules. Factors contributing to this decision were the limited number of recommendations being made, the Committee's decision to designate all recommended substances and categories for consideration by EPA within 12 months, and the Committee's understanding of EPA's plans to develop its test rules for various effects, e.g., carcinogenicity, rather than for individual substances or categories. The Committee recommends that these substances and categories be included in the first applicable "effects rule".

2.8 CONSIDERATION OF AVAILABILITY OF TESTING FACILITIES AND PERSONNEL

One of the criteria listed in Section 4(e)(1)(A), that the Committee was required to consider, is the reasonably foreseeable availability of facilities and personnel for performing the testing it recommends. The Committee reviewed the results of recent surveys of toxicology testing capabilities conducted by the Society of Toxicology (SOT) and the DHEW Committee to Coordinate Toxicology and Related Programs (CCTRP). While the SOT surveyed general toxicology testing capabilities, the CCTRP specifically assessed inhalation test capabilities. The Committee also reviewed the capabilities and plans of the National Center for Toxicological Research (NCTR), the possible impact of the FDA's Good Laboratory Practices, and the logistics and practical considerations for carcinogenicity, mutagenicity, and reproductive effects testing. It also was briefed on ecological test capabilities and needs in that area.

Based upon these reviews, the Committee has concluded that there are sufficient toxicology testing capabilities in the U.S. to carry out the health effects testing recommended by the Committee in this report.

A more difficult area to assess was that of environmental or ecological testing. Capabilities for acute studies are probably adequate, but the National capability for conducting long-term tests of chemical pollution on the environment will be less certain until the test standards and protocols are defined through the rulemaking process. The Committee feels, however, that the testing burden likely to result from recommendations in this report is reasonable.

CHAPTER 3. RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE COMMITTEE

3.1 SUBSTANCES AND CATEGORIES OF SUBSTANCES RECOMMENDED FOR TESTING

As described in Chapter 2 of this report, the Committee has, with the assistance of a technical support contractor, carried out a multi-step screening procedure to identify for its detailed review a limited number of substances and categories of substances likely to have priority for testing to determine their effects on human health and the environment. A number of substances and categories identified by this process have been reviewed by the Committee, which has given careful consideration to each of the eight factors specified in Section 4(e)(1)(A) of TSCA. The Committee has also considered such other factors as it judged relevant on a case-by-case basis. Such additional factors have included test programs currently in progress, the current status of regulatory action with respect to a substance, and the need for test data on all members of certain categories rather than on one or more individual members of the category.

The eighth factor specified in Section 4(e)(1)(A) for the Committee's consideration, the reasonably foreseeable availability of facilities and personnel for performing the recommended testing, has (as described in Section 2.8 of this report) been considered by the Committee with respect to the aggregate requirements of all of the testing recommendations made here, as well as for each individual testing recommendation. In the Committee's judgment there are, or can be made available within the next few years, adequate facilities and personnel for conducting the testing now being recommended by the Committee. Furthermore, any specific limitations of facilities or personnel which cannot now be identified by the Committee would be expected to be short-term in nature and can be taken into account by EPA in establishing the time periods for submission of the test data under Section 4(b)(1).

In selecting substances and categories for inclusion in its initial recommendations, the Committee has also given priority attention to substances known or suspected to cause cancer, gene mutations, or birth defects.

Based on its consideration of the factors identified in Section 4(e)(1)(A) and all other relevant factors identified by the Committee, and using all of the information available to it, including the knowledge and professional judgment of its members, it is the consensus of the TSCA Interagency Testing Committee that the ten substances and categories of substances listed in the accompanying table should be given priority consideration by the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency for the promulgation of regulations under Section 4(a) requiring the conduct of the types of testing specified. Each of these substances and categories is designated by the Committee for consideration by EPA within the next 12 months.

In listing and designating these ten substances and categories, the Committee has decided that all should be given equal priority by EPA in the development of test rules under Section 4(a) of TSCA. All are of high priority and should be included in the first applicable "effects rule" (e.g., carcinogenicity) developed by EPA.

In selecting categories of substances for inclusion in its recommendations, the Committee recognizes that some members of a category may have already been adequately tested for one or more of the effects listed; in such cases no additional testing would be required. The Committee also recognizes that the precise definition of each category will have to be considered and decided by EPA in developing its test rules.

The Committee's reasons for including each substance or category of substances on its list of recommendations, which are required by Section 4(e)(1)(B) to be submitted with the Committee's recommendations, are presented in the following section. In addition, the Committee will forward to EPA in the next few weeks a dossier on each substance or category included on the Committee's list of recommendations. These dossiers will summarize the information pertaining to each substance or category which was considered by the Committee in making its decision to recommend testing.

3.2 REASONS FOR RECOMMENDING TESTING OF THE SUBSTANCES AND CATEGORIES

The ten substances and categories which the Committee has designated for consideration by the EPA Administrator for development of test rules within twelve months are listed below with the Committee's reasons for recommending them.

3.2.A ALKYL EPOXIDES

TESTING RECOMMENDATIONS:

Carcinogenicity
Mutagenicity
Teratogenicity
Other Chronic Effects
Environmental Effects
Epidemiology

CATEGORY IDENTIFICATION: This category includes all noncyclic aliphatic hydrocarbons with one or more epoxy functional groups.

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS:

Production, Release and Exposure: Although these compounds are generally used as industrial intermediates, several alkyl epoxides are produced in very large quantities (e.g., ethylene oxide at over 4 billion pounds per year). The vast amounts produced thus raise concerns primarily with respect to workplace exposure. The reactivity of these compounds is such that environmental persistence is not anticipated; however, their reaction products may be of significance.

EFFECTS OF CONCERN: The epoxy structure is a relatively reactive functional group which is believed to be the source of the carcinogenic and mutagenic activity which is well characterized for several members reviewed (particularly the diepoxides). Thus, while some members of the group appear to be relatively well characterized as potential mutagens and/or carcinogens, these results and the presence of the epoxy functional group raise the need for testing other compounds in this group for these and other effects.

Carcinogenicity: Diepoxides are demonstrated carcinogens in animal studies. Ethylene oxide proved inactive while propylene oxide showed carcinogenic activity in mice. Other alkyl epoxides are less well tested. Because of the alkylating properties of these compounds it is recommended that alkyl epoxides be tested for carcinogenic potential. Mutagenicity of most members of this group tested provides further concern for carcinogenic potential.

Mutagenicity: Because most members of this group which have been tested proved to be mutagenic; other members of this group should be tested for this effect.

Teratogenicity: In general, these compounds have not been adequately tested for teratogenicity but should be, considering the reactivity of the epoxy group toward biological materials.

Other Chronic Effects: Because of the reactivity of epoxides with biological materials, they should be tested for specific chronic organ effects and behavioral changes.

Environment Effects: While the persistence of these compounds as epoxides is not great, concern is expressed for reaction products. In view of this possibility, the fate of epoxides in the environment should be determined through testing.

Epidemiology: Because of the large scale production of several of these compounds, and because of the strong toxicological evidence of possible carcinogenic and mutagenic effects, the Committee recommends that retrospective epidemiologic studies be required for two or three of the highest exposure compounds when suitable cohorts can be identified.

3.2.B ALKYL PHTHALATES

TESTING RECOMMENDATIONS:

Environmental Effects

CATEGORY IDENTIFICATION: This category consists of all high production (e.g., 10 million lbs/yr or greater) alkyl esters of 1,2-benzene dicarboxylic acid (orthophthalic acid).

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS:

Production, Release, and Exposure: Many of these compounds are produced in large volume, some of them over one hundred million pounds per year. Their use as plasticizers in a wide variety of products results in large volumes of alkyl phthalates reaching the aquatic environment either as wastes from formulating plants or from use and disposal of end products.

Effects of Concern:

Environmental Effects: Many of the alkyl phthalates are quite stable, breaking down only slowly to monophthalates or phthalic acid.

There has been a great deal of information published on their environmental fate and toxicity to aquatic organisms. Some are known to have considerable toxicity to fresh water fish. In view of the large volume in which they can be expected to reach the aquatic environment and persist and accumulate in aquatic organisms, it is important to have data on the toxicity to aquatic organisms of all high production alkyl phthalates. Each such compound should be tested for chronic toxicity to typical aquatic organisms, especially fish. Effects on reproduction (or population) should be included in this testing.

3.2.C CHLORINATED BENZENES, MONO- AND DI-

TESTING RECOMMENDATIONS:

Carcinogenicity
Mutagenicity
Teratogenicity
Other Chronic Effects
Environmental Effects
Epidemiology

CATEGORY IDENTIFICATION: This category consists of four closely-related chemical substances: monochlorobenzene (CAS No. 108-90-7), and ortho-, meta-, and paradichlorobenzene (CAS Nos. 95-50-1, 541-73-1, and 106-46-7).

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS:

Production, Release and Exposure: The chlorobenzenes are produced in large quantities, monochlorobenzene over 300 million pounds/year and ortho- and para-dichlorobenzene approximately 50 million pounds each. These chemicals are widely used in industrial processes, as solvents, and in many consumer products. Therefore, the exposure and potential for hazard is great, particularly in light of their high release rate and anticipated persistence in the environment.

NOTICES

Effects of Concern:

Carcinogenicity: One very limited animal study suggested the induction of sarcomas following subcutaneous injections of para-dichlorobenzene. A possible association of several cases of leukemia with human exposure to mixtures of ortho- and para-dichlorobenzenes has also been reported. These studies, as well as other animal toxicity experiments, do not provide sufficient data on which to assess the carcinogenic potential of members of this class.

Mutagenicity: While a study has demonstrated back mutations in yeast exposed to ortho-dichlorobenzene, the data are inadequate to assess the potential mutagenic hazard. Additional testing is needed in view of the widespread release and exposure. The other chemicals in this class should also be tested for mutagenicity.

Teratogenicity: While teratogenic effects are suspected for certain higher chlorobenzenes, the mono- and dichlorobenzenes have not been adequately tested.

Other Chronic Effects: Liver, kidney, respiratory and neurological effects have been observed with high level exposures. Effects at lower levels cannot be characterized from existing data. Chronic studies should be undertaken.

Environmental Effects: The environmental fate of these compounds should be determined. Evidence exists for environmental pollution and bioaccumulation in aquatic life. The effects are unknown. Studies should be initiated to assess the impact of these chemicals on terrestrial and aquatic systems.

Epidemiology: A possible link has been made between exposure to ortho- and para-dichlorobenzene and leukemia. Further efforts to evaluate chronic effects should be made by the identification and evaluation of specific populations who are or have been exposed to either ortho- or paradichlorobenzene.

3.2.D CHLORINATED PARAFFINS, 35-64% CHLORINE

TESTING RECOMMENDATIONS:

Carcinogenicity
Mutagenicity
Teratogenicity
Other Chronic Effects
Environmental Effects

CATEGORY IDENTIFICATION: This category is comprised of a series of mixtures of chlorination products of materials known commercially as paraffin oils or paraffin waxes; those having a chlorine content of 35% through 64% by weight are included.

NOTICES

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS:

Production, Release, and Exposure: The 1972 annual production of chlorinated paraffins was about 80 million pounds. The use of these materials in a wide variety of household and paint products, as well as adhesives and flame retardants, results in an estimated release rate of about 50 million pounds per year.

Effects of Concern:

Human Health Effects: A chronic study in mice showed evidence of degenerative changes in the liver and spleen; no data are available on the carcinogenicity, mutagenicity, teratogenicity, or other chronic effects of these mixtures. The Committee recommends that commercial products in this category be tested for such effects.

Environmental Effects: The occurrence of residues of chlorinated paraffins in fish indicates the need for critical assessment of the biological significance of this contamination of the aquatic environment. The persistence, environmental fate, and chronic effects on aquatic organisms of the chlorinated paraffins should be determined by appropriate testing.

3.2.E CHLOROMETHANE

TESTING RECOMMENDATIONS:

Carcinogenicity
Mutagenicity
Teratogenicity
Other Chronic Effects

SUBSTANCE IDENTIFICATION: CAS No. 74-87-3

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS:

Production, Release, and Exposure: The 1974 U.S. production of chloromethane was over 350 million pounds, most of this being used as a synthetic intermediate. However, it is estimated that about 5% of the annual production (over 15 million pounds per year) is released into the environment. NIOSH estimates that the number of workers exposed to chloromethane numbers about 31,000.

Effects of Concern:

Carcinogenicity: To date, chloromethane has not been the subject of a carcinogenicity study, although it is structurally related to chloroform, carbon tetrachloride, and iodomethane, all of which have been reported as being carcinogenic. Moreover, chloromethane has recently been reported as exhibiting mutagenic properties in the Salmonella mutagenic test with microsomal activation.

V 42-197

12

77

Mutagenicity: The initial positive results in the Salmonella mutagenic test with microsomal activation should be supplemented with test data regarding chromosomal aberrations.

Teratogenicity: The absence of data in this area, coupled with known toxic effects, calls for the initiation of studies to determine the extent of the potential hazard to the reproductive system and the fetus.

Other Chronic Effects: Exposure to chloromethane has been implicated in damage to the central nervous system, liver, kidneys, bone marrow and cardiovascular systems. Effects on these systems should be examined in chronic toxicity tests.

3.2.F CRESOLS

TESTING RECOMMENDATIONS:

Carcinogenicity
Mutagenicity
Teratogenicity
Other Chronic Effects
Environmental Effects

CATEGORY IDENTIFICATION: This category consists of the three isomers of methyl phenol: ortho-cresol (CAS No. 95-48-7), meta-cresol (CAS No. 108-39-4), and para-cresol (CAS No. 106-44-5).

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS:

Production, Release, and Exposure: Cresols are produced in large quantities, having a combined U.S. production in 1975 of about 90 million pounds. An annual release rate of about 45 million pounds has been estimated. Their wide use as industrial solvents leads to substantial occupational exposure. NIOSH estimates that roughly two million workers are exposed to cresols. In addition, cresols are used in many consumer products, resulting in a large general exposure.

Effects of Concern:

Carcinogenicity: Cresols have not been evaluated for carcinogenicity. Because of widespread exposure and suggestive evidence of mutagenic effects in certain plants, cresols should be tested for carcinogenicity.

Mutagenicity: There is some suggestion of the mutagenic potential of cresols in certain plants, but its potential as a human mutagen has not been assessed. It is, therefore, recommended that further mutagenic studies be conducted.

Teratogenicity: The teratogenicity of the cresols has not been assessed, but such testing is needed in view of the evidence of biological activity of cresols (see Other Chronic Effects, below) and their widespread exposure.

Other Chronic Effects: Although toxic effects involving the central nervous system, lungs, kidneys, liver, pancreas, and spleen have been observed following acute exposure to cresol-containing products, adequate testing of cresols for chronic effects following prolonged exposure has not been reported and should be conducted.

Environmental Effects: There is evidence that creosote oils containing cresols are acutely toxic to fish and taint fish flesh at low concentrations. Because of their substantial release into the aquatic environment, cresols should be tested for chronic effects on fish and other aquatic organisms.

3.2.G HEXACHLORO-1,3-BUTADIENE

TESTING RECOMMENDATIONS:

Environmental Effects

SUBSTANCE IDENTIFICATION: CAS No. 87-68-3

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS:

Production, Release, and Exposure: Although the most recent (1974) data available indicate that this compound is no longer commercially manufactured in the U.S., it continues to be produced as a waste byproduct of various chlorination processes and is also imported into the U.S. for industrial solvent use. The release of hexachlorobutadiene into the environment has not been quantified, but there is good evidence of widespread distribution in the aquatic environment.

Effects of Concern:

Environmental Effects: Hexachlorobutadiene's human health effects are being studied in depth. It is a stable substance which is widely distributed in the aquatic environment and has been reported to bioaccumulate in fish and other aquatic organisms. These factors indicate that hexachlorobutadiene should be tested to determine its fate in aquatic systems and its effects on invertebrates, fish, higher vertebrates, and plant life in aquatic systems. Its appearance in some European agricultural products suggests that its uptake by plants and/or foraging species should also be studied.

V 4 2 - 1 9 7

O C T 1 2

7 7

3.2.H NITROBENZENE

TESTING RECOMMENDATIONS:

Carcinogenicity
Mutagenicity
Environmental Effects

SUBSTANCE IDENTIFICATION: CAS No. 98-95-3

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS:

Production, Release, and Exposure: U.S. production of nitrobenzene in 1975 was about 400 million pounds. Its release to the environment has been estimated to be about 20 million pounds annually. Although its predominant use (97 percent of production) is in closed systems in aniline manufacture, nitrobenzene is also an industrial solvent and dye intermediate. General population exposure can arise from environmental release, and from dispersive uses such as perfume in soap; cleaner for woodwork, wood flooring and paneling; ingredient of metal polishes and shoe blacking. Nitrobenzene liquid and vapor penetrate intact skin readily, and the efficiency of vapor absorption by inhalation is high.

Effects of Concern:

Carcinogenicity: No information is available on the carcinogenicity of nitrobenzene. Since it is biologically active, producing cellular changes, nitrobenzene should be tested for carcinogenicity.

Mutagenicity: Although there is evidence of its biological activity, no mutagenicity testing has been reported for nitrobenzene. Mutagenicity testing should be performed.

Environmental Effects: Nitrobenzene is a relatively persistent substance in the environment. Its low volatility, stability to light, and low water solubility indicate that bioaccumulation is possible. Acute effects have been demonstrated in fish. Nitrobenzene inhibits oxygen utilization and hydrogen sulfide production in sewage microorganisms, inhibits growth in yeast, and is toxic to various soil bacteria and microorganisms. Additional data are needed to adequately characterize the persistence and fate of nitrobenzene and its metabolites in the aquatic environment. Testing is needed for such characteristics as well as to determine the effects of chronic exposure to nitrobenzene on fish, aquatic invertebrates, aquatic plant life, and waterfowl.

3.2.I TOLUENE

TESTING RECOMMENDATIONS

Carcinogenicity
Teratogenicity
Other Chronic Effects
Epidemiology

SUBSTANCE IDENTIFICATION: CAS No. 108-88-3

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS:

Production, Release and Exposure: Toluene is produced in large quantities with an annual production rate in excess of 5 billion pounds. Because of its widespread use as a solvent, as well as a multiplicity of other uses, toluene has an unusually high occupational exposure (over 1 million workers). Its presence in many consumer products leads to a large general exposure. Toluene is currently being substituted for many benzene-uses and has an annual release rate exceeding 1 billion pounds.

Effects of Concern:

Carcinogenicity: Previous studies based solely on skin application techniques in animals have demonstrated a carcinogenic potential for toluene. Some of these studies were limited in design and prevented an appropriate appraisal of the carcinogenic hazard of toluene. It is, therefore, recommended that testing be conducted in long-term animal experiments taking into consideration the appropriate route of exposure.

Teratogenicity: Information is lacking on the teratogenic hazard of this chemical, thus necessitating the initiation of studies to determine if toluene is teratogenic.

Other Chronic Effects: Liver, central nervous system and hematopoietic effects have been observed at high level exposures. Effects at lower levels cannot be characterized from existing data. Chronic studies to evaluate the effects of prolonged exposures are recommended.

Epidemiology: Occupational studies have been conducted predominantly on the acute toxic effects of toluene. There is little information on chronic effects in humans from exposure to low levels of toluene over an extended period of time. Because of its long-term use, high human exposure, and demonstrated effects in animals, epidemiological studies may be particularly important in assessing the human health effects of toluene.

3.2.J XYLENES

TESTING RECOMMENDATIONS:

Mutagenicity
Teratogenicity
Epidemiology

CATEGORY IDENTIFICATION: This category consists of the three isomers of dimethyl benzene: ortho-xylene (CAS No. 95-47-6), meta-xylene (CAS No. 108-38-3), and para-xylene (CAS No. 106-42-3)

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDATIONS:

Production, Release, and Exposure: In the aggregate, approximately 8 billion pounds of xylenes are produced each year. Approximately 900 million pounds are released to the environment each year. Mixed xylenes were ranked by NIOSH 13th out of approximately 7000 agents in terms of the number of workers exposed. Xylenes are also used in a wide variety of consumer products, resulting in general population exposures.

Effects of Concern:

Mutagenicity: Mutagenesis tests have not been reported for any of the xylenes, but should be conducted in view of widespread exposure and evidence of toxic effects to several organ systems.

Teratogenicity: Xylenes cross the placental barrier and, according to two Russian studies, are embryotoxic. Therefore, they should be tested for teratogenicity.

Epidemiology: Because of their long-term use, high human exposure, and demonstrated effects in animals, epidemiological studies may be particularly important in assessing the human health effects of xylenes and should be conducted.

APPENDIX B

PRODUCTION, RELEASE, AND EXPOSURE SCORES

- A. The production, environmental release, occupational exposure, and general population exposure factors described in the text were scored in the following manner:

Factor 1: Production

Annual production data were collected from a number of sources:

- a. Scoring of Organic Air Compounds (Source List 02 of Appendix A)
- b. A Study of Industrial Data on Candidate Chemicals for Testing (Source List 22 of Appendix A)
- c. EPA/OR&D Chemical Production (Source List 23 of Appendix A)
- d. Synthetic Organic Chemicals, United States Production and Sale, 1975, United States International Trade Commission
- e. Chemical Economics Handbook, 1975 Stanford Research Institute
- f. Chemical and Engineering News: Vol. 52, No. 51, dated 12/23/74; Vol. 55, No. 18, dated 5/2/77; Vol. 55, No. 24, dated 6/13/77

The Factor 1 score assigned to a chemical was the common logarithm of the highest annual production value (in millions lbs/yr) found in any of the above sources. If an annual production value was not available for a chemical in any of these sources, a Factor 1 score of -0.5229 (corresponding to an assumed annual production of 300,000 pounds) was assigned.

NOTICES

Factor 2: Quantity Released into the Environment

The quantity of chemical released into the environment was scored on a scale from 0 to 3 as follows:

Score	Release Rate	Estimate Based on Uses
3	30 percent	Mostly dispersive uses
2	3 to 30 percent	Some dispersive uses
1	.3 to 3 percent	Few dispersive uses; or primarily industrial chemical with propensity for leaks
0	.3 percent	Well contained industrial chemical

Estimates of release rates for a number of chemicals are given in Source List 22 of Appendix A. For those chemicals for which no release rates were given, an estimate was made on the basis of the dispersive nature of the chemical's uses as indicated in the above table.

An estimate was also made of the chemical's persistence according to the following table:

Score	Lifetime	Example
3	Infinite (years or greater)	Compounds of metals, freons, CCl ₄ , N ₂ O, SF ₆ , many polymers
2	Order of 1 year	Tetrachloroethylene, flame retardants, phthalate esters, silicones
1	Order of a few days	SO ₂
0	Hours or less	Reactive compounds

The sum of the scores of the two subfactors, release quantity and persistence, was taken as an indication of the environmental burden posed by the chemical.

Factor 3: Occupational Exposure

The source of data on occupational exposure to chemicals was the National Occupational Hazard Survey (NOHS) conducted by the National Institute for

NOTICES

Occupational Safety and Health. In this survey, the approximately 7000 most common hazards occurring in the working place were rank ordered. To achieve an occupational exposure score with a range and direction similar to those of the other factors, the Factor 3 score assigned to a chemical was 3.8451 minus the common logarithm of its rank on the NOHS list. (3.8451 is the logarithm of 7000.) Chemicals which did not appear on the NOHS list were given a score of zero, equivalent to having been ranked number 7000 on the survey.

Factor 4: Extent to Which the General Population is Exposed

Four individual subfactors were scored and then summed to measure the general population exposure. The four subfactors were scored as follows:

SUBFACTOR 1 Number of people exposed to the chemical (exclusive of a workplace environment)

Score	No. of People	Example
3	20 X 10	Widely used household products (e.g., wearing apparel, shoe polish, certain surface coatings, common paints and their solvents, common plastics and their additives, detergents, furnishings and carpets, wood cleaning products, refrigerants, natural gas, nonfood packaging materials, flame proofers) General air, food and water contaminants Automotive products (e.g., gasoline and additives, rubber, surface coatings, plasticizers, flame proofers) Products used widely in commercial buildings (mostly same as household, including commercial cleaners, disinfectants)

NOTICES

Score	No. of People	Example
2	2-20 X 10	Less widely used household products (e.g., uncommon paints, specialty apparel such as baby wear, hobby uses, arts and crafts, tools) Regional air and water pollutants, farm chemicals (exclusive of pesticides)
1	0.2-2 X 10	Specialty hobbies (e.g., photography), specialty products Neighborhood air and water pollutants from local industries
0	2 X 10	Chemical intermediates rarely found outside the workplace

SUBFACTOR 2 Frequency of exposure (to the typical person in ranking number of people exposed under Subfactor 1)

Score	Frequency	Examples
3	Daily or more often	General air, food and water contaminants, household products in regular use, material used inside automobiles, clothing
2	Weekly	Hobby crafts, household products used intermittently (e.g., certain cleaners), bleaches, gardening products
1	Monthly	Dry cleaning, certain solvents, house maintenance (e.g., polishes, certain cleaning agents), automobile maintenance
0	Yearly or less frequently	Application of household paints, specialty products

SUBFACTOR 3 Exposure intensity. This is intended to reflect the total amount of material that comes into contact with the average or typical person whose exposure has been scored under subfactors 1 and 2. Scoring of this factor considered the number of grams of the material that makes contact with the average person in the course of one exposure (daily, weekly, monthly or yearly as scored in subfactor 2). Thus, for example, a trace pollutant may lead to exposure of a typical person of the order of micrograms per day every day; use of a specialty solvent might lead to exposure of a typical person of the order of grams per day once a year: these would be scored 3,0 and 0,3 respectively on subfactors 2 and 3.

Score	Intensity	Examples
3	High (10 or more grams per exposure)	Plastics, fabrics, surface coatings, volatile solvents in closed spaces, liquids contacting skin, high concentration gases
2	Medium (10 to 10 g per exposure)	Fabric additives, solvents in open spaces or outdoors, dusts, solutes, transitory exposures to vapors or aerosols
1	Low (10 to 10 g per exposure)	Low level indoor exposure, volatile substances from home furnishings and building materials (e.g., plasticizers, flame proofers), low volatility solvents, pigments
0	Very low (less than 10 g per exposure)	Environmental contaminants (low level air, food, and water contaminants), monomers in polymers

SUBFACTOR 4 Penetrability. This is a measure of the material that comes into contact with a person (whether by dermal, inhalation, or ingestion exposure) and that is expected to be absorbed into the body (even transitorily) with potential for interaction with cells.

NOTICES

Score	Penetrability	Examples
3	High (10 to 100% absorption)	Organic solvents in liquid, mist, or aerosol form, vapors and gases if likely to be soluble in body fluids, respirable-sized particles, surface active agents, materials known to have high dermal systemic toxicity
2	Medium (1 to 10% absorption)	Solvents with low volatility and/or larger molecules, organic materials in water solution, waxes and polishes, coarse dusts
1	Low (0.01 to 1% absorption)	Certain solids, dermal exposure to most inorganic materials in water solution
0	Negligible (less than 0.01% absorption)	Polymers, metals

APPENDIX C

ORDERING THE CHEMICALS BASED ON PRODUCTION, RELEASE, AND EXPOSURE

A linear weighting scheme was used to rank order the chemicals. The rank of the j th chemical, r_j , was computed by the formula:

$$r_j = \sum_{i=1}^4 w_i \frac{f_{ij}}{s_i},$$ where w_i is the weight assigned to the i th factor, f_{ij} is the i th factor score of the j th chemical, and s_i is a scaling factor chosen to normalize the assigned scores.

The four scaling factors employed were:

$s_1 = \log 20,850 - 4.3191$; 20,850 million lb/yr being the maximum of all Factor 1 chemical production quantities.

$s_2 = 6$; 6 being the maximum of all Factor 2 environmental release scores.

$s_3 = 3.8451 - \log 3 = 3.3680$; third being the highest NOHS rank among the scored chemicals. (Ranked first and second on the NOHS list were continuous noise and mineral oil, the former not being a chemical hazard and the latter not being among the scored chemicals.)

$s_4 = 12$; 12 being the maximum of all Factor 4 general population exposure scores.

This choice of s_1, s_2, s_3, s_4 , guaranteed that for all i and j , and furthermore, that for each i ,

$$\frac{f_{ij}}{s_i} = 1 \quad \text{for at least one chemical } j.$$

APPENDIX D

BIOLOGICAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCORES

A. The five human health effect factors and two environmental effect factors mentioned in the text were scored in the following manner:

Factor 1: Carcinogenicity

a. Numerical Scores Assigned:

- 3 Established carcinogen in humans or in 2 animal species, or in one animal species in well-replicated experiments
- 2 Established carcinogen in 1 animal species
- 1 Insufficient or inadequate experimental data for definite conclusions, but either (a) no experimental or structural reason for suspicion, or (b) good negative mutagenicity tests, or (c) low biological activity. (Note: some inert compounds -- examples, argon, nitrogen -- were given a score of zero on this factor despite not having been tested.
- 0 Adequately tested in animals with negative results in each of two species

b. Letter Scores Assigned*:

- xxx Needs testing, strongly suspect (close structural relationship to known carcinogen, positive result in validated in vitro test, inconclusive but suspicious positive animal test, etc.)
- xx Needs testing, suspect (structural resemblance to known carcinogen, etc.)
- x Needs testing, some reason for suspicion (potent organ-specific toxin, enzyme inducer, suspect co-carcinogen, etc.)

*Chemicals presently undergoing testing for carcinogenicity in the framework of the NCI bioassay program were scored as suspect carcinogens. Their special status was documented for the members of the Committee.

c. Criteria for Accepting Positive Test Results (scores 2 or 3)

Validated positive findings in animal studies consisted of any test results which clearly indicated treatment-related carcinogenicity or tumorigenic effects. This was based on the criteria set out in the report of the National Cancer Advisory Board, Subcommittee on Environmental Carcinogenicity, "General Criteria for Assessing the Evidence for Carcinogenicity of Chemical Substances (1976)".

d. Criteria for Accepting Negative Test Results (including zero scores)

In general, the protocol of the test conformed to, or was reasonably consistent with the current NCI Guidelines (J.M. Sontag et al., Guidelines for Carcinogen Bioassay in Small Rodents, DHEW 76-801). It was recognized that many older tests do not conform to these guidelines. Therefore, good scientific judgment was applied to the evaluation of these tests in order to determine whether differences in protocols significantly weakened confidence in the reported negative results. In assigning a zero score, the guiding principle was the judgment that further testing was unnecessary.

Factor 2: Mutagenicity

a. Numerical Scores Assigned:

- 2 Mutagen in two or more test systems*
- 1 Mutagen in one test system
- 0 Tested in more than one system with negative results and no reason for suspicion (similar to inactive compounds, etc.)

*These and other scores were normalized to the 0-3 scale or x-xxx scale respectively for all factors involved.

b. Letter Scores Assigned:

- xxx Needs testing, strong reason for suspicion (structural similarity to known mutagen, reported carcinogenicity, teratogenicity, or other cellular toxicity)
- xx Needs testing, some reason for suspicion (structural similarity to known mutagens and/or carcinogens)
- x Needs testing, no reason to assign high priority

c. Examples of Short-Term Test Systems Considered for Scoring Were:

The Salmonella/microsome test, (Ames), E. coli WP2 uvr A, etc. test (Bridges, Witkin), B. subtilis M45 Rec⁻, etc. test (Kada), E. coli pol A+/pol A1- test (Rosenkranz), Yeast test (Zimmerman), Neurospora test (de Serres) and Drosophila test (Vogel). Mammalian cells in culture and in vitro transformations were also considered.

NOTICES

Factor 3: Teratogenicity

a. Numerical Scores Assigned:

- 3 Confirmed teratogen in humans or in two appropriate animal species
- 2 Confirmed teratogen in 1 animal species
- 1 Insufficient or inadequate experimental data for definite conclusions, but either (a) no experimental or structural reason for suspicion, or (b) low biological activity
- 0 Adequately tested in two suitable animal species with negative findings for teratogenic activity

b. Letter Scores Assigned:

- xxx Needs testing, strongly suspect (close structural relationship to known teratogen, inconclusive but suspicious positive animal tests, etc.)
- xx Needs testing, suspect (equivocal result in animal test, etc.)
- x Needs testing, some reason for suspicion

c. Criteria for Acceptance of Teratogenicity Tests

Accepted teratogenicity tests conformed reasonably to the recommendations and principles outlined in "Principles for Evaluating Chemicals in the Environment," National Academy of Sciences, pp. 173-182, 1975; and "The Testing of Chemicals for Carcinogenicity, Mutagenicity, Teratogenicity," Department of Health and Welfare, Canada, pp. 137-176, March 1973.

Factor 4: Acute Toxicity

a. Numerical Scores Assigned:

- 3 extremely toxic: < 50 mg/kg
- 2 very toxic: 50-500 mg/kg
- 1 moderately toxic: 0.5-5 g/kg
- 0 very slightly toxic: > 5 g/kg

NOTICES

b. Letter Scores Assigned:*

xx not tested, but suspected to be in range 2-3

x not tested, but suspected to be in range 0-1

*See factor 2 for normalized scored.

c. Criteria for Quantitation of Acute Toxicity

Standard systems of toxicity rating based on probably lethal dose in humans were used when available. Lowest lethal doses and LD50 values in various animal systems were also widely used.

Factor 5: Other Toxic Effects

a. Numerical Scores Assigned:

3 Effects at low doses (Guidelines: < 1 mg/kg/day)

2 Effects at moderate doses (Guidelines: 1-10 mg/kg/day)

1 Effects at high doses (Guidelines: > 10 mg/kg/day)

0 Very low or negligible biological activity (e.g., nitrogen, argon, etc.)

b. Letter Scores Assigned:

xxx Needs testing (structural similarity to another chemical which rates 2 or 3; questionable reports of effects which need confirmation, etc.)

xx Needs testing, some reasons for suspicion x Needs testing, inadequate information available to give high priority

c. Criteria for Scoring

This factor includes both reversible and irreversible effects, delayed or cumulative toxicity, organ-specific effects, effects on reproduction, behavior, etc. The score entered reflects the toxic effects noted in animals (or in humans if data were available) at the lowest dose-range. If the chemical was reported or suspected to have more than one toxic effect, xxx or xx for one type of toxic effect superseded any numerical score for another. Also, x for one type of toxic effect superseded 2 or 1 for another. In many cases, reports of one type of effect at low doses engendered suspicion of the likelihood of others; in such cases the chemical was scored with the appropriate number of x's, unless thoroughly tested.

NOTICES

Factor 6: Bioaccumulation

a. Numerical Scores Assigned:

3 High ($>10^4$)*

2 Appreciable (10^2 - 10^4)

1 Low ($<10^2$)

0 Experimental evidence for non-accumulation (<1); water soluble compounds

*The degree of bioaccumulation (more precisely, the tissue-specific storage factor) is defined as the concentration of the chemical in the tissues (at "steady state" or after prolonged exposure) divided by the concentration of the chemical in the ambient medium.

b. Letter Scores Assigned:

xxx Testing important, judged likely to be high xx Testing important, judged not likely to be high, but likely to be appreciable x Needs testing, little or no experimental data

c. Criteria for Scoring

Bioaccumulation is used here in its broad sense of the accumulation of a chemical in one or more tissues of an animal (or plant) to levels higher than those in the ambient medium. For purposes of screening chemicals, it was considered significant primarily in cases in which the accumulation in tissues represented an enhanced probability of effects, either on the organ in which the chemical was concentrated, or on animals which feed on the organism which accumulated the chemical. High degrees of bioaccumulation are usually found only in aquatic organisms. For these organisms, bioaccumulation is known to be dependent primarily on water solubility and it is empirically predicted by the octanol/water partition coefficient. Zero scores were assigned to completely water soluble organic chemicals.

Substances which are easily metabolized will not be bioaccumulated even if they have a high partition coefficient (example, chloroform). Thus ease of metabolism was a factor considered in evaluating the potential for bioaccumulation.

Factor 7: Ecological Effects

a. Numerical Scores Assigned:

- 3 Effects at low concentrations (10^{-9} or less in air or water)*
- 2 Effects at moderate concentrations (10^{-7} - 10^{-9} in air or water)
- 1 Effects at high concentrations (10^{-6} or greater in air or water)
- 0 No reported effects that could justify priority for testing

*In air for gases or vapors: 1 part of chemical per billion parts air by volume (ppb). In water for liquids and solids: 10^{-9} gram per cubic meter (ng/m^3)

b. Letter Scores Assigned:*

- xx Testing needed, possibility of major or widespread effects
- x Testing needed, possibility of minor or local effects

*See factor 2 for normalized scores.

c. Criteria for Scoring:

Ecological effects considered included beside toxic effects on non-human animals and plants, ecosystem effects, effects on atmosphere and climate, ozone depletion, etc. Generally, numerical scores (established hazard) were assigned only to a limited number of thoroughly tested chemicals (e.g., pesticides, some metal containing compounds, or some specific chemicals). In other cases, the potential for ecological effects was judged according to availability of data on toxicity in particular, published information on specific tests, structural similarity to compounds of better known eco-toxicity, published data on depletion potential for stratospheric ozone. Zero scores were assigned only to compounds with low biological activity ($\text{LD}_{50} > 1 \text{ g/kg}$ or $\text{AQTR} > 100 \text{ ppm}$).

- B. An extra factor was scored if the presence of a contaminant in a commercial product was the major reason for concern, or if a trace degradation product was the major reason for concern (examples: dioxin, methyl mercury).

NOTICES

Factor 8: Contaminants and Environmental Degradation or Conversion Products

a. Numerical or Letter Scores Assigned:

- 1 Contaminants, etc., known to be important
- 0 Contaminants, etc., not suspected, or known to be of no importance.
- x Contaminants, etc., suspect, needs testing

b. Criteria for Scoring:

The scores for this factor were not averaged. A letter score took priority over a numerical score at any time; if no letter score was assigned to a chemical, the numerical score 1 was overriding. A zero score was assigned only if it was scored unanimously by all scorers. The score for this factor was not added: (1) if the principal breakdown product was the major problem and it was the basis for scores on other criteria such as persistence and toxicity (examples: DDE, PAN); (2) for in vivo metabolism of carcinogens to active forms (e.g., arene oxides, activated nitrosamines, etc.).

- C. It is of relevance for the scoring method to add that in order to facilitate the inclusion of a zero score in a letter score average, the zero score was changed into 0.1X. Also, in some instances fractional numerical or letter scores were assigned by scorers.

- D. The following literature sources were extensively used by the scorers:

Title 3—The President

Memorandum of September 20, 1977

Decision on Cast-Iron Stoves Under Section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974

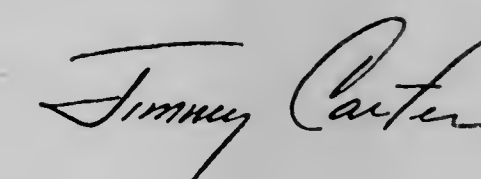

Memorandum for the Special Representative for Trade Negotiations

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, September 20, 1977.

Pursuant to section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-618, 88 Stat. 1978), I have reviewed the Report of the U.S. International Trade Commission (USITC) dated July 25, 1977, concerning the results of its investigation of a petition for import relief filed by several independent firms producing cast-iron stoves, parts and fireplace grates in the United States.

I have accepted the finding of Commissioners Bedell and Ablondi that cast-iron stoves are not being imported into the United States in such quantities as to be a substantial cause of serious injury, or the threat thereof, to the domestic industry producing an article like or directly competitive with the imported article.

This decision is to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

SUBCHAPTER C—FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN SYSTEM

[No. 77-599]

PART 545—OPERATIONS

Service Corporations

OCTOBER 6, 1977.

AGENCY: Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Board recently imposed restrictions on land acquisition and development activities by service corporations in which Federal savings and loan associations may invest. Ques-

This rule clarifies the Board's intention that these restrictions apply to construction as well as preparation of land for construction.

Harry W. Quillian, Associate General Counsel, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, 320 First Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20552, (202-376-3556).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: By Board Resolution No. 77-337, dated June 1, 1977, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 9, 1977, (42 FR 29512), the Federal Home Loan Bank Board proposed to amend § 545.9-1 of the rules and regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System (12 CFR 545.9-1) for the purpose of clarifying the Board's intention regarding restrictions on land acquisition and development activities. Present § 545.9-1 places certain cost and time restrictions on land acquisition and development activities by service corporations in which Federal associations may invest. It was the Board's intention in imposing such restrictions that they apply to construction as well as preparation of land for construction.

Although only 1 of 20 public comments received favored the proposal, the Board has decided that the amendments should be adopted as proposed, since they merely clarify the Board's intent regarding existing limitations which the Board believes are necessary and appropriate.

DISCUSSION OF MAJOR COMMENTS

Respondents opposing the proposed amendments generally found too restrictive and inflexible the requirement that a project be completed within 3 years after commencement of development and 5 years after acquisition of the land, and predicted that obtaining an extension of the time period by written application to the Board will prove to be an unnecessary nuisance for the Board and the applicant. Nine respondents argued that basing the pace of development on a regulatory deadline could hinder the success of a project. Respondents stated that management decisions should be based on market conditions rather than compliance with government regulations. Others stated that service corporations should not be required to force the market or carry expensive inventory needlessly.

The Board believes the prescribed time limits provide sufficient time for completion of a project while limiting the likelihood that a service corporation may become overextended in its acquisition of land for development. The time limitations are intended to limit the duration of a service corporation's involvement in a single project and to encourage prior planning based on such limitations.

Six respondents expressed concern about the effect of the proposal in view of increasing project delays caused by growing governmental requirements prior to commencement of development.

The Board believes that the 2 year period prior to commencement of development permitted by the regulation is normally sufficient to satisfy such government requirements.

Five respondents stated that the regulations force a service corporation into smaller projects regardless of its size and strength. Respondents asserted that smaller projects are potentially less desirable than projects large enough to create their own environment and that dealing with smaller builders may result in higher risks.

Although the regulations do not specifically limit the size of a project, but only the time permitted for completion, the Board believes that if a project is so large that it cannot be completed within the prescribed time period the potential loss from a failure of the project is unacceptable.

Four respondents objected to the regulation because it limits the flexibility of a service corporation during the various steps of development. Respondents argued that the regulations require decisions regarding the ultimate use of the land, before acquisition and without regard to later opportunities presented by changing economic conditions. Respondents also stated that the regulations prevent development in phases.

The intent of the limitations on land acquisition and development by service corporations is to encourage thorough investigation and planning prior to acquisition of land.

Respondents suggested various changes regarding the time limitations on development and construction, e.g., that a period of 5 years be allowed for completion of a project after commencement and that only some part of a project be required to be completed within the prescribed time period. One respondent suggested that projects expected at the outset to take longer than five years from the date of land acquisition to complete be submitted to the Board for approval.

The Board finds the period of time prescribed for completion reasonable and believes that a prescribed maximum is preferable to a determination by the Board on a case basis.

Ten respondents objected to the requirement that a service corporation report any project if the cost of the project to the service corporation will exceed 20 percent of its assets. Respondents asserted that practically all projects must be reported and that the paperwork burden is excessive.

The Board believes that providing the small amount of information required by the regulation should not place an excessive burden on any service corporation, and any inconvenience is outweighed by the value of having information available early in the development process.

One respondent urged that debt of a joint venture in which a service corporation is a limited partner be attributed to the service corporation only to the extent of its investment and, together with another respondent, urged that, since all debt of a partnership or joint venture in which a service corporation is a general partner or owns over 25 percent interest is presently attributed to the service corporation, assets should also be attributed to the service corporation on that basis.

The Board recently amended the service corporation debt limitations (12 CFR 545.9-1(b)(3)) to clarify that debt of service corporation subsidiaries must conform to such limitations and that consolidated debt of a service corporation must also so conform (42 FR 9386). The Board does not deem it advisable at this time to reverse the thrust of that amendment by, in effect, increasing debt limitations of service corporations. The Board also believes that interpretation of the term "assets" to include all assets of a joint venture would reduce the number of projects on which a service corporation would report and that such an interpretation would therefore be contrary to the Board's intention that all significant projects be reported.

The Board also takes this opportunity to delete from paragraph (a) of § 545.9-1 the obsolete reference to forms of charter.

Accordingly, the Board hereby amends § 545.9-1, effective November 14, 1977, to read as follows:

§ 545.9-1 Service corporations.

(a) General service corporations. Subject to the provisions of this section, a Federal association may invest in the capital stock, obligations, or other securities of any service corporation organized under the laws of the State, District, Commonwealth, territory, or possession in which the home office of such association is located if:

(4) Substantially all of the activities of such service corporation, performed directly or through one or more wholly-owned subsidiaries or joint ventures, consist of one or more of the following:

(iv) Acquisition of unimproved real estate lots, and other unimproved real estate, for the purpose of prompt development and subdivision, principally for construction of housing or for resale to others for such construction, or for use as mobile home sites. However, if the total cost to the service corporation to purchase, develop, subdivide, and construct improvements on such real estate exceeds 20 percent of the assets of such service corporation, the service corporation shall notify the District Director-Examinations in whose district the parent association of the service corporation is located not later than 30 days after such acquisition. Such notification shall include the name and location of the project, the number of lots or acres involved, the total projected cost of the project including dollar involvement of the service corporation, and the estimated date of completion of the project.

(v) Development and subdivision of, and construction of improvements (including improvements to be used for commercial or community purposes, when incidental to a housing project) for sale or for rental on, real estate referred to in subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph. However, such development, subdivision, and construction of improvements must be completed within three years after commencement of development of such real estate and not later than five years after acquisition of such real estate, unless such period is subsequently extended by the Board upon written application by the service corporation. Acquisition of an option to purchase is not an acquisition for the purpose of determining such period.

(Sec. 5, 48 Stat. 132, as amended (12 U.S.C. 1464). Reorg. Plan No. 3 of 1947, 12 FR 4981, 3 CFR, 1943-48 Comp., p. 1071.)

By the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Secretary.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document are Wilbur F. Wells, Aerospace Engineer, Flight Standards Division, and Joseph A. Kovarik, Regional Counsel, Southwest Region, FAA.

ADOPTION OF THE AMENDMENT

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

BELL HELICOPTER TEXTRON: Applies to all Model 47 helicopters with tail rotor gear boxes, part number 47-640-075-1 or 47-640-075-5, installed.

NOTE: Retrofit kits incorporating these gear boxes or the associated internal gears and bearings delivered from Bell Helicopter Textron after December 1, 1976, have been verified to be in compliance with this airworthiness directive and will not require inspection and/or further retrofit.

Compliance is required within the next 100 hours time in service after the effective date of this Airworthiness Directive, unless already accomplished.

To minimize the possibility of loss of directional control of the helicopter resulting from failure of the bearing, part numbers 47-620-529-3 or 47-620-629-5, or failure of the input pinion shaft, part number 47-645-205-3, located in the all rotor gear box, part number 47-640-075-1 or 47-640-075-7, conduct the inspection and replacement activities prescribed by paragraphs 1, 2, 2a, 2b, 3, and 4 of Bell Helicopter Textron Service Bulletin No. 47-77-1, dated February 14, 1977, or later FAA approved revision. Comments in paragraphs 5 and 6 of this bulletin involving warranties, replacement part sources, or reporting activities, are not a part of this Airworthiness Directive.

After accomplishment of paragraphs 1, 2, 3, and 4 of Service Bulletin No. 47-77-1, reassemble and reinstall the tail rotor gear box in accordance with the Maintenance and Overhaul Instruction for the applicable model helicopters.

The manufacturer's specifications and procedures identified and described in this directive are incorporated herein and made a part hereof, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(a)(1). All persons affected by this directive, who have not already received these documents from the manufacturer, may obtain copies by requesting same from Service Manager, Bell Helicopter Textron, PO Box 482, Fort Worth, Texas, 76101. Messerschmitt-Bolkow-Blohm (MBB) Model BO-105A and BO-105C Helicopters

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new airworthiness directive (AD) which requires replacement of three cable assemblies on certain Messerschmitt-Bolkow-Blohm (MBB) Model BO-105A and BO-105C helicopters. This modification is required in order to prevent a failure in the electrical system which has resulted in fire in these type rotorcraft.

EFFECTIVE DATE: November 14, 1977.

ADDRESSES: The applicable service bulletin may be obtained from: Messerschmitt-Bolkow-Blohm (MBB), Helicopter Division, 8000 Munchen-Ottobrunn, Federal Republic of Germany; or Boeing Vertol Company, Mail Stop P31-69, P.O. Box 16858, Philadelphia, Pa. 19142, telephone 215-522-2755.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A proposal to amend Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations to include an airworthiness directive requiring replacement of three cable assemblies on certain Messerschmitt-Bolkow-Blohm (MBB) Model BO-105A and BO-105C helicopters was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER at 42 FR 37416 on July 21, 1977. The proposal was prompted by reports of high contact resistance in connector plugs of the electrical power supply system that resulted in electrical fire, failure of the electrical system, and unscheduled landing of the helicopter.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the amendment. No objec-

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES
Piper Aircraft

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new airworthiness directive (AD) applicable to Piper PA-36-285 type airplanes, which requires a repetitive inspection for cracks and replacement where necessary of the rudder assembly. Progression of such cracks could lead to loss of directional control through separation of the rudder.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 18, 1977. Initial compliance is required within 50 hours of service and 100 hours thereafter.

ADDRESSES: Piper Service Bulletins may be obtained from the manufacturer at Piper Aircraft Corp., 820 East Bald Eagle Street, Lock Haven, Pa. 17745. A copy of the pertinent Service Bulletin is contained in the docket in the Office of Regional Counsel, Federal Building, J.F.K. International Airport, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

J. Maher, Airframe Section, AEA-212, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, Federal Building, J.F.K. International Airport, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430. Telephone 212-995-2875.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: There had been reports of a few incidents of cracks occurring in the rudder spar at the hinge attachment points. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in aircraft of similar type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued which requires an inspection of the area within 50 hours of service of the effective date and thereafter at intervals of 100 hours. An option for a permanent correction is included which terminates the need for further inspections. Since a situation exists which requires the immediate adoption of this regulation, notice or public procedure hereon are impractical and good cause exists for making the amendment effective in less than 30 days.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal authors of this document are J. Maher, Flight Standards Division, and Thomas C. Halloran, Office of the Regional Counsel.

It has been determined that the expected impact of the proposed regulation is so minimal that the proposal does not warrant an evaluation.

ADOPTION OF THE AMENDMENT

Accordingly, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, § 39.13 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) is amended, by a new airworthiness directive as follows:

Piper: Applies to Model PA-36-285, Serial Nos. 36-7360001 through 36-7760003 certificated in all categories

To prevent hazards in flight associated with rudder spar cracks, accomplish the following:

(a) Within the next 50 hours in service from the effective date of this AD unless previously accomplished within the past 50 hours in service and at intervals not to exceed 100 hours in service from the last inspection, inspect the rudder spar at hinge attachment points for cracks using a magnifying glass of at least ten power.

(b) If cracks exist replace the rudder assembly with a new rudder assembly Piper Part No. 98125-04 or equivalent.

(c) Upon the incorporation of rudder assembly, Piper Part No. 98125-04 or equivalent, compliance with the requirements of this AD may be dispensed with.

(d) Equivalent inspections and repairs must be approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, FAA, Eastern Region.

(e) Upon submission of substantiating data by an owner or operator through an FAA Maintenance Inspector, the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, FAA, Eastern Region may adjust the inspection intervals specified in this AD.

(Piper Service Bulletin No. 518 refers to this subject.)

Effective date: This amendment is effective October 18, 1977.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1423); sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); 14 CFR 11.89.)

NOTE.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and OMB Circular A-107.

Issued in Jamaica, New York on October 4, 1977.

Alteration of an Area High Route

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment will alter Area High Route (J832R) in part by correcting the geographic location of the Whitman, Mass., waypoint to Lat. 42°03'46" N., Long. 70°59'01" W. This action is necessary in order to insure accurate waypoint definition for aircraft using this area high route.

and Air Traffic Rules Division, Air Traffic Service, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591. Telephone 202-426-8530.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The purpose of this amendment to Subpart D of Part 75 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 75) is to alter Area High Route (J832R) in part by correcting the geographic location of the Whitman, Mass., waypoint to Lat. 42°03'46" N., Long. 70°59'01" W. Subpart D of Part 75 of the Federal Aviation Regulations was republished in the Federal Register on January 3, 1977 (42 FR 722).

A recent review of airway accuracies has determined that the Whitman, Mass., waypoint description was erroneous in relation to its actual geographic location, thereby necessitating this corrective amendment.

Under the circumstances presented, the FAA concludes that this action is of benefit to the flying public and a minor matter on which the public would have no particular desire to comment. Therefore, notice and public procedure thereon are unnecessary.

The principal authors of this document are Mr. David F. Solomon, Air Traffic Service, and Mr. Jack P. Zimmerman, Office of the Chief Counsel.

ADOPTION OF THE AMENDMENT

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, § 75.400 of Part 75 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 75) as republished (42 FR 722) is amended, effective 0901 G.m.t., December 1, 1977, as follows: In J832R, the Whitman, Mass., location "42°03'28" N. 70°59'13" W." is deleted and "42°03'46" N. 70°59'01" W." is substituted therefor.

NOTE: The FAA has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended by Executive Order 11949, and OMB Circular A-107.

Title 7—Agriculture

CHAPTER XVIII—DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION

SUBCHAPTER E—ACCOUNT SERVICING

[FmHA Instruction 451.1]

PART 1861—ROUTINE

Subpart A—Account Servicing Policies
Moratorium on Payments, Sections 502 and 504 Rural Housing Loans

AGENCY: Farmers Home Administration.

ACTION: Interim Rule.

SUMMARY: In the December 2, 1976, issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER (41 FR 52888), the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) published a notice of proposed rulemaking regarding § 1861.10 in 7 CFR 1861, "Account Servicing Policies," authorization for moratoria on principal and interest payments and cancellation of interest accrued during such moratoria to borrowers who, due to circumstances beyond their control, are unable to continue making payments when due, without unduly impairing their standard of living. This document supplements the notice by notifying the public that due to numerous comments received and considered as a result of the initial proposal, FmHA again presents for public participation revision of its regulation pertaining to moratoria on payments as an interim rule.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 13, 1977. Comments must be received on or before November 14, 1977.

ADDRESSES: Submit written comments, to the Office of the Chief, Directives Management Branch, Farmers Home Administration, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 6316, Washington, DC 20250. All written comments made pursuant to this notice will be available for public inspection at the address given above.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Wesley L. Harris (202-447-4295).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) of the Department of Agriculture proposes additional changes in § 1861.10 of Subpart A of Part 1861, Chapter XVIII of Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations (37 FR 13703; 39 FR 25313). The proposed changes now issued as an interim rule include additions and revisions and editorial changes as indicated; however, the major changes are as follows:

A. Paragraph (a)(2) definition of "unduly impaired standard of living" is broadened.

B. A new paragraph (b)(1) is added to indicate when a borrower should be advised of the right to request a moratorium on payments.

C. Paragraphs (b)(1)(iii) and (d) are added to provide for a procedure for an appeal of any adverse action on a request for a moratorium on payments. Paragraph (b)(3) is also revised to replace Exhibits A and B (initially available in any FmHA office) with Forms FmHA 451-22 and 451-23, respectively.

D. A new paragraph (b)(4) is added to allow a retroactive period of up to 90 days for the effective date of the moratorium.

E. A new paragraph (b)(5) is added to authorize more than one moratorium on payments for a borrower.

F. Paragraph (c) is revised to provide that County Office personnel may assist the borrower in completing the application for a moratorium on payments.

G. Paragraph (e) is revised to clarify procedure for cancellation of interest accrued during the moratorium period, and to discontinue the quarterly report on moratoria granted.

It is the policy of this Department that rules relating to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or contracts shall be published for comment notwithstanding the exemption in 5 U.S.C. 553 with respect to such rules. These amendments, however, are being published effective on an interim basis. This action is being taken to implement the amendment in the field and at the same time permit public participation in the rulemaking process. Any delay in implementing this amendment would be contrary to the public interest because the changes insure early notification to eligible borrowers of their right to request a moratorium on their sections 502 and 504 Rural Housing loans. Comments made pursuant to this notice will be considered in the development of the final rule.

Accordingly, § 1861.10 as proposed, reads as follows:

§ 1861.10 Moratorium on principal and interest payments on Sections 502 and 504 loans.

A moratorium on principal and interest payments shall be granted on sections 502 and 504 RH loans, as authorized under section 505 of the Housing Act of 1949, upon determination that, due to circumstances beyond the borrower's control, the borrower is unable to continue making scheduled payments without unduly impairing his or her standard of living. Cancellation of interest accrued during the moratorium period is also authorized in cases of extreme hardship.

(a) Definitions. As used in this paragraph:

(i) "Scheduled payments" means the amount of monthly or annual installment on a Rural Housing loan required by the promissory note as this amount may be modified by any outstanding Interest Credit Agreement, Supplementary Payment Agreement, Additional Partial Payment Agreement, or other written agreements between FmHA and the borrower.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

(2) "Unduly impaired standard of living" means that condition whereby the borrower due to circumstances beyond his/her control is unable to pay normal living expenses and scheduled payments as provided by the loan documents. The borrower must present evidence that the inability to repay the loan will probably last for a period of 6 months or more and that he/she will be able to resume payments after the moratorium period. The circumstances include but are not limited to the following:

(i) A substantial reduction of income which as a result will cause the payments for principal and interest on the Rural Housing loan, and the taxes and insurance on the dwelling to exceed the borrower's ability to make such payments after all interest credits authorized have been granted. (A moratorium based on loss or reduction of income will not be granted if the sum of the principal, interest, real estate taxes, and insurance payments is less than 30 percent of the borrower's adjusted income based on the next 12 months projected earnings. The fact that such payments would exceed 30 percent of the borrower's projected annual income does not by itself mean that the borrower is eligible for a moratorium.) Such reduction may result from:

(A) Unemployment or underemployment caused by circumstances beyond the borrower's control; or

(B) Loss or reduction in benefits which constituted a substantial part of the income as defined in § 1822.3(n) of this Chapter; or

(C) Illness, injury or death of the borrower or other adult who contributed to the annual income; or

(D) A situation in which a spouse is living apart from the borrower's family and away from the RH financed dwelling and legal papers have been filed with the appropriate court to commence divorce or legal separation proceedings provided: The remaining spouse is occupying the dwelling, owns a legal interest in the property, is liable for the debt, and the loan account is put in the remaining spouse's name only; or

(E) A situation in which a spouse has lived apart from the borrower's family and away from the RH financed dwelling for 6 months or longer and legal papers have not been filed to commence divorce proceedings, provided the conditions of paragraph (a)(2)(i)(D) of this section are met. (For purposes of the retroactive provisions of paragraph (b)(4), the moratorium may be effective 90 days prior to the end of the 6-month period or the filing of a request for moratorium, whichever is later.)

(ii) The need to pay certain essential family expenses which have or may become a lien on the borrower's dwelling, and which if not paid will likely result in loss of the dwelling. Such expenses may result from:

(A) Accident, illness or injury to the borrower or dependent member of the borrower's family; or

(B) Death of a member of the borrower's family; or

(C) Cost of repairs for uninsured damage to the security property if the loss occurred because adequate insurance coverage was not available.

(3) "Extreme hardship" means that condition as described in paragraph (a)(2) of this section, which has continued until interest accruing on the loan causes the amount of monthly or annual payments required on the unpaid balance of the debt to exceed the borrower's repayment ability if the debt is reamortized over the remaining term of the loan plus any extension authorized in paragraph (e)(1)(iii) of this section unless all or part of the interest which accrued during the moratorium period is cancelled.

(b) Policy guidelines in granting moratorium. (1) Applicants and borrowers will be advised of the moratorium provisions as follows:

(i) The interviewer during the interview required by § 1822.11(c) of this Chapter will inform the applicant(s) of moratorium provisions under this regulation.

(ii) The County Supervisor will advise borrowers in writing of the possible availability of a moratorium when any of the following conditions exist:

(A) The County Supervisor becomes aware of a change in the borrower's circumstances which likely would justify the granting of a moratorium; or

(B) The borrower fails to make payments as agreed and the County Supervisor sends a collection letter or writes to schedule an appointment to develop a new repayment agreement. The letter will include the following statement: "You may be interested in knowing that you may apply for a moratorium on payments if due to circumstances beyond your control you are unable to continue making scheduled payments on your Rural Housing loan account without unduly impairing your standard of living. Some of these circumstances are: Loss of your job, or sudden reduction of income from other sources; a loss of income or a substantial increase in expenses due to injury, illness or death in the family; or, under certain conditions, in cases of separation, when your spouse is living apart from the family and the RH financed dwelling."

(iii) A notice of acceleration and demand for payment (Exhibit C of Subpart A of Part 1955 of this Chapter) is sent to a borrower whose loan has been approved for forced liquidation because of monetary default. Paragraph 10 of the notice will be revised as follows: "HOWEVER, YOU HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO HAVE A MEETING BEFORE THIS FORECLOSURE TAKES PLACE. If you wish to make use of this opportunity to meet because you believe that the United States is in error in accelerating your account(s) and proceeding with the foreclosure, or because you have not been advised of your rights to request a moratorium on payments on your Rural Housing loan account, you should IMMEDIATELY contact the District Director."

RULES AND REGULATIONS

tor of the Farmers Home Administration in writing at the following address:

(2) Moratorium on principal and interest payments on an RH loan account may be granted provided:

(i) The borrower: (A) Has before experiencing the hardship, had a good repayment record, paid real estate taxes and property insurance premiums when due, and has complied with the other conditions of the loan documents; and

(B) Requests a moratorium on payments in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section and appropriately documents the conditions causing his unduly impaired standard of living.

(ii) The County Supervisor: (A) Has verified the accuracy of the information received with the request for a moratorium on payments from the borrower; and

(B) Has determined, after using all other alternatives such as granting all authorized interest credits, that a moratorium on payments is still necessary and the borrower is eligible for such moratorium on payments.

(3) The County Supervisor is authorized to approve or disapprove a request for a moratorium. The borrower will be notified of the action taken within 15 days after his request for a moratorium has been received in the County Office. The decision relative to a moratorium is made on Form FmHA 451-23, "Moratorium on Payments" (Section 502-504 RH Loans). The reasons and justification for approval or disapproval of the moratorium will be noted or attached as additional information. An original and two copies will be prepared and distributed in accordance with the Forms Manual Insert (FMI) for the form. If the moratorium is denied, the borrower will be notified by letter which will include the following:

(i) A statement of the action taken, a recitation of the facts upon which the decision is based and the specific reason(s) for the decision denying the moratorium; and

(ii) An invitation to call at the County Office to discuss the decision with the County Supervisor. If the borrower wishes to bring additional information or a representative to the meeting, he or she may do so.

(iii) A statement that the borrower may appeal the decision directly to the State Director instead of meeting with the County Supervisor. The statement should read as follows: "You may appeal the action concerning your eligibility for a moratorium on payments by writing to the FmHA State Director within 30 days of the receipt of this letter, giving the reasons why you believe your case should be reviewed. His address is, _____." The State Director will handle the appeal in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section.

(4) A moratorium may be granted for 6 months. The moratorium may be retroactive for up to but not more than 90 days prior to the date the request for a moratorium was received in the County Office if the circumstances for which the moratorium is to be granted existed during that time.

(5) Immediately before the end of each 6-month period, or sooner if the County Supervisor becomes aware of the facts that substantially change the borrower's repayment ability, the justification for a moratorium will be reviewed by the County Supervisor and the moratorium terminated or extended for another 6-month period if the facts so warrant. The extension will be processed in accordance with paragraph (b) (3) of this section prior to the expiration date of the current moratorium. No moratorium plus extensions may exceed 3 years, and 5 years from the end of the moratorium plus extensions must elapse before another moratorium may be granted unless prior approval is received from the State Director. If the situation creating a hardship continues after 3 consecutive years of moratorium and the borrower is still unable to make scheduled payments even if the account were reamortized, all authorized interest credits were granted, and interest accrued during the moratorium were cancelled, the account must be liquidated in accordance with applicable FmHA regulations. If, at the end of the moratorium period and any extensions thereof, it is determined that the account will be continued (as modified by any interest credit or interest cancellation assistance), it will then be handled in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section.

(6) Interest will accrue during the moratorium at the rate shown on the promissory note as modified by any Interest Credit Agreement. Interest credits will be granted and renewed throughout the period a moratorium is in effect for all loans eligible for interest credits under Exhibit E of Subpart A of Part 1822 of this Chapter.

(7) Cancellation of any part or all of the interest accrued during the moratorium plus any extension thereof, will be granted only in cases of extreme hardship as defined in paragraph (a) (3) of this section. Cancellation will be made in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section.

(c) Request for moratorium. The County Supervisor will provide the borrower who wishes to apply for a moratorium on payments with two copies of Form FmHA 451-22. The borrower, who may be assisted by County Office personnel, will complete the applicable spaces on the form, and sign and return the original to the County Supervisor. The County Supervisor will retain the original in the borrower's case folder.

(d) Borrower's appeal for review of adverse action. The borrower may appeal to the State Director for review of adverse action taken by the County Supervisor within 30 days after the action was taken on the request for moratorium, extension, or cancellation of interest accrued during the moratorium. On receipt of a request for review from a borrower:

(1) The State Director will have a member of his Staff (usually the District Director) arrange for a meeting to be held within 30 days of the receipt of the borrower's request for review. If the borrower is unable to meet with the staff member within a 30 day period, a meeting will be arranged at some other time and place as is mutually convenient for the borrower and the Agency. The meeting will be an informal proceeding at which the borrower will be given an opportunity to provide whatever additional information he or she believes should be considered in reaching a decision concerning the case. The borrower may have an attorney or any other person at the meeting if desired.

(2) The staff member will submit the additional information provided by the borrower to the State Director with his recommendation concerning the case within 10 days of the meeting.

(3) Within 10 days of receipt of the staff member's report, the State Director will determine what action to take with regard to the borrower's appeal and:

(i) If the State Director determines that the decision should be reversed or modified, he will inform the borrower by letter of the action to be taken. He also will advise the County Supervisor.

(ii) If the State Director determines that the decision should be affirmed, he will inform the borrower by letter of his decision giving the reasons. He will send the County Supervisor a copy of the letter. The letter must contain the following statement:

"If you wish to have the decision on your eligibility for (a moratorium on payments) (a renewal of moratorium) (cancellation of interest accrued during the moratorium) reviewed, you may write to the Administrator of the Farmers Home Administration within 30 days explaining why you believe the decision is wrong. His address is: Administrator, Farmers Home Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250."

(4) Upon receipt of a request from a borrower that the decision of the State Director be reconsidered, the Administrator will obtain a comprehensive report on the matter from the State Office. He will consider this information together with any additional information that may be provided by the borrower; and

(i) If the Administrator determines that the decision should be reversed or modified, he will inform the borrower of his determination. He will advise the State Director of the action taken.

(ii) If the Administrator determines that the State Director's decision was correct, he will inform the borrower by letter of his decision giving the reasons. He also will send the State Director a copy of the letter.

(iii) If no decision is reached within 30 days of the receipt of the request for review by the Administrator, the borrower will be informed that his request is being considered and given a specific date by which a decision will be made.

(e) Action at the expiration of the final moratorium period. (1) The County Supervisor at the end of the moratorium period will verify the borrower's annual income and obtain a current financial statement to determine the borrower's ability to repay the unpaid balance of the Rural Housing indebtedness. Interest cancellation, reamortization of the account, and repayment schedules will be determined in accordance with the following provisions:

(i) Borrowers who can repay within 2 years any principal and interest which were deferred during the moratorium period in addition to the regular scheduled installments, will execute Form FmHA 451-37 "Additional Partial Payment Agreement" to establish such a new repayment schedule.

(ii) For borrowers who cannot meet the repayment requirements of paragraph (e) (1) (i) of this section, the unpaid principal and interest balance of the loan will be reamortized within the remaining term of the loan.

(iii) For borrowers who cannot meet the repayment requirements of paragraph (e) (1) (ii) of this section, the loan account will be reamortized and the remaining term of the loan may be increased to the maximum legal term for the loan (33 years from the date of the note for a section 502 RH loan, or 20 years from the date of the note for a section 504 RH loan) plus a period not to exceed the time the moratorium was in effect. State regulations will be issued for extending the term of the loan or advice will be obtained from the Office of the General Counsel on a case by case basis. The borrower must pay for title clearance and legal-services needed to assure that the Government's lien priority is retained.

(iv) If he determines that the borrower cannot make the scheduled payments on the balance owed under the terms of paragraph (e) (1) (iii) of this section without cancellation of part or all of the interest which accrued during the moratorium, the County supervisor will determine how much interest must be cancelled to enable the borrower to repay the loan during the time authorized in paragraph (e) (1) (iii) of this section. The County Supervisor will complete Section II of Form FmHA 451-23 indicating the amount of interest cancelled. Such amount will be deducted from the balance owed in determining a new repayment schedule.

(v) The borrower will be advised by letter of the action taken and the reasons for the action, the new repayment schedule, and that if the borrower does not agree with the action taken, that the borrower may appeal the action to the State Director as provided in paragraph (d) of this section.

(2) The County Supervisor, after a determination concerning the cancellation of interest has been made, will prepare and submit to the Finance Office Form FmHA 451-21, "Request for Reamortization of Real Estate Loan," if the account is to be reamortized or Form FmHA 451-37 if reamortization is not planned.

(i) If Form FmHA 451-21 is submitted to the Finance Office for an insured loan, the account will be reamortized and a new promissory note will be executed in accordance with § 1861.9(e) (1) (ii) (a). For a direct loan, only an approved Form FmHA 451-21 will be sent to the Finance Office in accordance with § 1861.9(e) (1) (ii) (b).

(ii) If Form FmHA 451-37 is submitted, the County Supervisor will appropriately change his records to reflect the amount of the new installments.
